Introduction to the University

QUICK OVERVIEW

Statement of Nondiscrimination

Dallas Baptist University complies with all applicable federal and state nondiscrimination laws and does not engage in unlawful discrimination on the basis of age, gender, disability, veteran status, genetic information, race, color, national or ethnic origin in any employment practice, admissions, education program, or educational activity. Under state and federal law, the University may discriminate on the basis of religion in order to fulfill its purposes.

Dallas Baptist University offers an exciting variety of options for graduate study to qualified applicants. To accommodate the growing number of graduate students who pursue degrees part time while continuing full-time employment, our graduate programs are tailored to fit a busy schedule. Courses are primarily offered in the evenings and on weekends, with classes meeting once each week or every other week in a hybrid format.

At Convenient Times, in Convenient Places

In addition to the main campus, selected courses are offered at a number of corporations and schools throughout the Dallas/Ft. Worth Metroplex. Our online campus features a dynamic combination of the newest Internet technologies from streaming media to threaded discussions. Online courses offer students a convenient way to learn subject material, do research, take tests and communicate with professors and other students.

Graduate degrees available completely online include the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.), Master of Arts in Christian Education (M.A.C.E.), Master of Arts in Christian Education: Childhood Ministry (M.A.C.H.), Master of Arts in Christian Education: Student Ministry (M.A.S.T.), Master of Arts in Management (M.A.M.), Master of Arts in Professional Development (eight concentrations), Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.), Master of Arts in Worship Leadership (M.A.W.L.), the Master of Education in Educational Leadership, Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction (M.Ed.), the Master of Education in Higher Education (Administration Track) (M.Ed.), and Master of Liberal Arts (M.L.A.). Also, a number of Accelerated Bachelor's/Master's degrees and Dual Master's degrees are offered online.

In addition to these degrees, DBU Online offers the Advanced Certificate Program in Childhood Ministry Leadership, Higher Education Administration, Human Resource Management, Management, Marketing, Ministry Leadership in either Business Ministry or Education Ministry, and School Principalship.

Mission Statement

The purpose of Dallas Baptist University is to provide Christ-centered quality higher education in the arts, sciences, and professional studies at both the undergraduate and graduate levels to traditional age and adult students in order to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings.

History of the University

Decatur Baptist College, established in 1898 and the forerunner of Dallas Baptist University, had the distinction of being the first two-year institution of higher education in Texas. The Baptist General Convention of Texas had purchased land in 1897 from Northwest Texas Baptist College. The school enjoyed a rich, full history in Decatur until 1965 when it moved to Dallas, at the invitation of the Dallas Baptist Association. Dallas Baptist University was established in Dallas in 1965 as Dallas Baptist College. The initial 100 acres of land for the campus, overlooking Mountain Creek Lake in the hill country of southwest Dallas, were donated by John Stemmons, Roland Pelt, and Associates. An interested group of businessmen donated an additional 100 acres, and in 1994 a donation by the Louis Hexter family added another 88 acres. More recent additions have increased the current size of the DBU campus to 293 acres.

Beginning with the fall semester of 1968, the college moved from junior college to senior college status. The junior year of academic work was added that year, the senior year in June of 1969. The first Bachelor's degrees were awarded in May 1970.

In 1985, the college name officially became Dallas Baptist University and significant changes were made. The new structure consisted of the College of Arts and Sciences, the Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith, the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, and the College of Business. In 1988, the College of Adult Education was added, and in 1989 and 1990 three new colleges were added by dividing the College of Arts and Sciences into the College of Fine Arts, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics. In 2004, the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership was established.

Graduate studies began in 1981 with the initiation of the Master of Business Administration program. Master's programs were later added in Christian Education, Christian Education in Student and Childhood Ministry, Christian Ministry, Counseling, Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Leadership, Global Leadership, Higher Education, Kinesiology, Liberal Arts, Management, Professional Development, Reading and ESL, School Counseling, Special Education, Teaching, Theological Studies, and Worship Leadership, for a total of 20 master's programs. In December 2004, Dallas Baptist University was advanced from Level III to a Level V institution by the Commission on Colleges and authorized to begin the Ph.D. in Leadership Studies and Ed.D. in Educational Leadership.

Indeed the future is bright at Dallas Baptist University where a commitment to providing quality, Christian higher education through the integration of faith and learning in order to produce servant leaders, gives clear direction and purpose to the entire educational enterprise.

Traditions

Dallas Baptist University's mascot is the Patriot, which symbolizes the love and enthusiastic support the students, faculty, staff, and alumni have for the University — just as the early American founders had for the establishment of our new nation. Continuing the patriotic theme are our colors of red, white, and blue. The Official DBU Cross Ring serves as a symbol of the Christ-centered education students experience at DBU. Students receive the Official DBU Cross Ring during a Ring Commissioning Ceremony just prior to commencement services. Through the hymn To God Be The Glory, DBU is able to thank God for all of His blessings and His guidance throughout our history.

Financial Assistance

Seventy-three percent of master's students and 70% of doctoral students receive federal, state, or institutional financial aid. Students who may qualify for state and federal financial assistance programs can request specific information by contacting the Office of Financial Aid at 214.333.5363.

A Word From the DBU President

"We hope you will choose to attend Dallas Baptist University. Those of us on the faculty and administrative staff are here to teach you, to encourage you along the way, and to challenge you to become all that you can be — all that God intended you to be. We want you to find academic challenge here. We want you to find joy in learning. We want you to find the Spirit of Christ in all that we do. We would be so pleased to have you as a part of the family of Dallas Baptist University."

Dr. Gary Cook

This catalog has been prepared to introduce you to Dallas Baptist University. Through it, you will learn about the opportunities, activities, services, and academic programs provided. This resource will help you gain an understanding of the philosophy and mission of the University, as well as our commitment to students. You are encouraged to examine our excellent programs, broad curriculum, and high quality faculty in comparison to your own personal expectations.

LOCATIONS

Dallas Baptist University Campus. Although Dallas Baptist University is located in the thriving urban area of Dallas/Fort Worth, which holds a population of more than 6 million people, the almost 300-acre campus seems secluded in its picturesque, hill-country location and provides the opportunity to be a part of a small community. The campus conveniently sits only 13 miles from downtown Dallas, 29 miles from downtown Fort Worth, and is centrally located near Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport and Love Field with ready access to Dallas and Fort Worth. DBU is an excellent place to enjoy your university years.

Extension Sites. Dallas Baptist University holds undergraduate and graduate courses in classrooms at local area corporations near and select school districts near where students live and work in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex. Although students are unable to earn all credits toward their degrees at extension sites, these sites do provide many of the courses that fulfill undergraduate and graduate degree plans. There are two types of extension sites: open and closed. Open sites are available to all DBU students while closed sites are open only to the employees of the site or school district where classes are being held. For a complete listing of the sites that are offering classes for the current semester, please refer to the current Schedule of Classes.

DBU North. Dallas Baptist University maintains a regional academic center in the northern area of the Metroplex to provide services and course opportunities to students in the North Dallas/Collin County communities. DBU North allows students convenient access to services such as university admission, academic counseling, registration, student identification cards, cashier services, and research assistance. The site, servicing more than 800 students, offers a full rotation of courses leading towards undergraduate degrees in Business Administration, Management, Communication and Psychology, as well as master's degrees in Business Administration, Organizational Management, Education, and School Counseling. Flexible hours and a convenient location help students shorten their commute to school. Courses leading to the completion of a Master of Arts in Christian Education may also be taken at DBU North. The hours of operation are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.

DBU Hurst-Colleyville. DBU Hurst-Colleyville is a regional academic center in the western area of the Metroplex to provide services and course opportunities to students in Tarrant County, housed in the newly constructed Herman and Patsy Smith Center. With classroom space for more than 40 classes per semester, DBU Hurst-Colleyville allows students convenient access to services such as university admission, academic counseling, registration, student identification cards, cashier services, and research assistance. The site, servicing more than 400 students, offers a full rotation of courses leading towards undergraduate degrees in Business Administration and Management, as well as master's degrees in Business Administration, Education, Management, and School Counseling. In addition, courses leading to several other undergraduate and master's degrees are offered. Flexible hours and a convenient location help students shorten their commute to school. The hours of operation are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.

DBU Mansfield. DBU Mansfield is DBU's third regional academic center, located in Mansfield. DBU Mansfield exists to serve the higher education needs of adults living in southern Tarrant County, as well as Johnson and Ellis counties. A variety of courses are offered for working adults seeking to complete a bachelor's or master's degree.

FACILITIES

Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel. The new Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel, maintaining DBU's Georgian/colonial architectural style, is modeled after several classic colonial church buildings. It seats 1,450 students in the beautiful sanctuary and in addition to hosting chapel services, Pilgrim Chapel is also the new home to the Orville and Esther Beth Rogers Prayer Ministry, the Cynthia Estes Prayer Room, the Rogers Baptist Student Ministry offices, as well as the offices of The Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership. The facility also houses the campus security office, six classrooms, one seminar room, a 134-seat theater, and Jeannette and Cletys Sadler Hall that holds approximately 250 people for receptions and dinner. Special collections include the Lord Braine of Wheatley collection and the Corrie ten Boom collection.

John G. Mahler Student Center. Fashioned after Independence Hall in Philadelphia, the John G. Mahler Student Center displays exact replicas of the Liberty Bell, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution of the United States. Housed on the main floor of the Student Center are the Hoblitzelle Patriot Cafe, the Meadows Library, the Hillcrest Great Hall, the Hunt President's Dining Room, the External Affairs Office, the Center for Service-Learning, and the Spiritual Life Office. The Student Life Offices, student game room and lounge areas, the Jones Fireside Room, the SGA Office, and the Portrait Gallery are located on the second floor. The lower level of the Student Center houses campus mail services, the Registrar's Office, the DBU Veteran Services Office, the Financial Aid Office, the Cashier's Office, and the Graduate Office.

Landry Welcome Center. Named after Christian servant leaders Tom and Alicia Landry, the Landry Welcome Center houses the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Also housed here are convenient meeting rooms, a small multi-media theater, and a special suite featuring some of the Landry's professional and personal memorabilia.

Henry Blackaby Hall. Named in honor of famed Christian author and spiritual leader, Dr. Henry Blackaby, the 20,000 square-foot Henry Blackaby Hall houses the University Bookstore, Music Department classrooms and practice rooms, music faculty instructional studios, and DBU's Online Education Department. Henry Blackaby Hall sits to the south of the John G. Mahler Student Center and complements DBU's signature colonial and Georgian-style architecture. The building is a replica of the north elevation of Independence Hall in Philadelphia with its signature red brick walls and balustrades that stretch between end wall chimneys and parapets. Like Independence Hall, the front face is embellished with marble panels and belt courses, soapstone quoins, and cast stone modillion cornices, making it distinct from other DBU buildings.

Strickland Building. This building houses academic and administrative offices and the Business Office. Classrooms, University Advancement, the Development Department, the Alumni Relations Office, faculty offices and the Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith are located on the second floor in the Strickland Building. The building has two wings: Frank Durham Hall and Donald Bowles Hall.

Roberts Building. This building houses classrooms, biology laboratories, and faculty offices on the first floor and chemistry and physics laboratories, a recital hall, and faculty offices on the second floor. The College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics and the College of Fine Arts are also located in the Roberts Building.

DBU Education Building. This building houses classrooms, faculty offices for the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, and faculty offices for the Communication Department.

International Center. The International Center houses the International Office, International Admissions and Immigration Office, and classrooms.

Burg Center. This building has a 2,400 capacity gymnasium and can be converted easily into a large auditorium for assemblies. Housed on the floors beneath the gymnasium are locker rooms, intercollegiate athletics and kinesiology offices, the Fitness Center, and classrooms.

Athletic Complex. Located behind the Burg Center is the Athletic Complex. This contains tennis courts, a soccer field, a jogging track, a baseball field, a batting cage, and a frisbee golf course.

Collins Learning Center. Housed in the Collins Learning Center are the Vance Memorial Library, the Soda Shoppe, the Mary Crowley Room, the Decatur Room, the Linam Room, the Rosemary Rumbley Room, the Widner Room, the Caruth Media Center, Gaston Chapel, the University Writing Center, the Advising Center, the Counseling Center, the Marketing Department, the Information Technology Department, and the Academic Computer Lab. Special collections include the Baptist Heritage Collection, the Texana Collection, and the Bain Memorial Library. The Colleges of Business, Humanities and Social Sciences, and Professional Studies, as well as the Associate Degree Office, faculty offices, and classrooms are located in the Collins Learning Center.

Lange Hall. This dormitory houses 167 students and is equipped with laundry facilities.

Williams Hall. Williams Hall houses 164 students and is equipped with laundry facilities.

Crowley Complex. This residential complex contains three units: Calabria Hall, a dormitory housing 90 students; Sharp Hall, a dormitory housing 94 students; and Crowley Hall, a dormitory housing 90 students.

The campus dining hall, coed lounge, The General Store, Student Affairs Office, Resident Directors' Office, and Residence Life Office are also located in this complex. Each residential unit has its own laundry facility.

Spence Hall. This dormitory houses 230 students and is equipped with laundry facilities. The University Switchboard is also located in this building.

Colonial Village Apartments. Colonial Village provides Dallas Baptist University students with a new way to live on campus. Located in the picturesque Dallas hill country setting, DBU is proud to offer this luxury living arrangement with a spacious floor plan, numerous amenities, and the convenience of apartment living on campus. The Ebby Halliday Center houses the Apartment Life Office as well as classrooms and faculty offices. Health Services is also located in the Colonial Village Apartments.

Williamsburg Village Townhomes. Williamsburg Village is an on-campus town home neighborhood community that opened in the Fall of 2007. Williamsburg Village offers two-story, 3-bedroom, 3-bath town home residences designed for upperclassmen and graduate students. Contact the Apartment Life Office at 214.623.APTS (2787) or email chrisc@dbu.edu for more information.

Academic Programs Available

For administrative purposes, the University is composed of seven colleges which offer bachelor's and master's degrees: College of Business, Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith, Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, College of Fine Arts, College of Humanities and Social Sciences, College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, and College of Professional Studies. The Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership offers graduate degrees in Christian Education, Christian Education: Childhood Ministry, Christian Education: Student Ministry, Christian Ministry, Global Leadership, Higher Education, Theological Studies, Worship Leadership, and doctoral degrees in Leadership Studies and Educational Leadership. While students normally concentrate their work in the college of their major field, they may have classes in any or all.

WEEKEND COLLEGE

Dallas Baptist University's Weekend College is a part of the College of Professional Studies and offers two majors that can be completed entirely on the weekends (Friday nights and Saturdays). Specially designed to fit the busy lifestyle of working adults, this program offers many scheduling options, including some courses on an alternating weekend course schedule, as well as a schedule with classes on four weekends during the semester. The Weekend College offers the Bachelor of Business Studies degree with majors in Business Administration or Management. A Master of Business Administration in Management is also offered through the Weekend College.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Dallas Baptist University offers undergraduate, post bachelor, graduate, and post master's certificates in multiple fields of study. With the working adult in mind, certificate programs are designed for individuals who are seeking to prepare for new careers, qualify for promotions, gain or refine expertise in a particular area of study, enhance educational or professional credentials, or to pursue a course of study simply for self-enrichment.

ACCELERATED BACHELOR'S AND MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Dallas Baptist University offers several accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree programs which combine compatible bachelor and master's degrees, allowing motivated students the opportunity to complete both an undergraduate and graduate degree in a single accelerated process. In most cases, students can complete both degrees with only one additional year of study and earn two diplomas upon graduation.

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

The University offers an exciting variety of options for graduate study to qualified applicants. To accommodate the growing number of graduate students who pursue degrees part-time while continuing full-time employment, the graduate programs are tailored to fit a busy schedule. Courses are primarily offered in the evenings and on weekends, with classes meeting once each week, or every other week in a hybrid format. In addition to the main campus, DBU North, DBU Hurst-Colleyville, and DBU Mansfield, selected courses are offered at a number of corporations and schools throughout the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex. Graduate programs are available through The Graduate School of Business, the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, the Professional Studies, and the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership.

MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAMS

Master of Arts in Christian Education

The Master of Arts in Christian Education is a 42-hour graduate program designed to prepare leaders for Christian ministries and vocational work. Graduates from DBU's Master of Arts in Christian Education program will be equipped to:

- Demonstrate general biblical and theological knowledge
- Develop, organize, conduct, and evaluate Christian education ministry in various vocational assignments
- Communicate and lead effectively in a variety of church and community settings

All students will take 30 hours of core subjects, plus 12 hours in a concentration to prepare them to serve as ministers of education, ministers of adults, ministers of youth, ministers of childhood education, ministers of business administration, and other roles.

Master of Arts in Christian Education: Childhood Ministry

The Master of Arts in Christian Education: Childhood Ministry is designed to equip childhood ministers to understand the needs of children, explore the principles of the best strategies in teaching and reaching children, and implement ministry that impacts not only the child, but the family. The program provides foundations in theological, educational, and practical programming for effective childhood ministry. It combines academic training and practical ministry application that focuses intentionally on the world children live in and the faith they need to follow Christ for the rest of their lives. The program consists of 18 hours of a required Master of Arts in Christian Education core curriculum, 15 hours of childhood ministry requirements, 6 hours of childhood ministry service-learning and research, and 3 hours of childhood ministry electives for a total of 42 hours.

Master of Arts in Christian Education: Student Ministry (Youth and Collegiate)

The DBU Master of Arts in Christian Education: Student Ministry (Youth and Collegiate) is designed to equip student ministers with the foundation and skills that will enable them to minister effectively to students and their families in contemporary cultural settings. The degree program engages student ministers in a contemporary study of student ministry in order to provide a practical educational base, as well as a theological foundation and biblical leadership skills for effective transformational student ministry in the local church. This program consists of 18 hours of a required Master of Arts in Christian Education core curriculum, 18 hours of student ministry requirements, 3 hours of student ministry service-learning, and 3 hours of student ministry electives, for a total of 42 hours.

Master of Arts in Christian Ministry

The Master of Arts in Christian Ministry program is designed to help prepare students for a wide variety of ministries in churches or church-related fields. The degree plan permits students to focus on practical, biblical, historical, theological, and general ministry-related course options offered throughout the various ministry programs in the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership. In doing so, the program will offer students a broad, multifaceted exposure to Christian Ministry in the 21st century. In addition, the Master of Arts in Christian Ministry program will assist students in discerning and defining the particular direction of their call to ministry. It will also assist students in gaining additional practical and theological training while they are currently serving in churches and church-related vocations locally, nationally, and globally.

Master of Arts in Counseling

Course work prescribed by the State Licensing Board for Professional Counselors

The Master of Arts in Counseling degree offers a distinctively different approach to counseling. While there is an increasing interest in professional counseling, there is also a growing disillusionment with the "morally neutral" approach that is often practiced today. The M.A.C. prepares graduates to provide counseling services in a variety of settings by starting with Biblical presuppositions as the student develops appropriate counseling skills based on counseling theory and research.

Master of Arts in Global Leadership

The Master of Arts in Global Leadership is a 42-hour graduate program designed for a growing new breed of global-thinking leaders who aspire to serve in ways that break old paradigms and forge new ones. The Master of Arts in Global Leadership explores ways to be a leader in the rapidly-changing world of ideas, cultures, religions, and business ventures. Students are highly motivated self-starters with innovative ideas who are eager to make a difference in the world. The Master of Arts in Global Leadership is for people who are looking for ways to achieve significance by connecting positively with people in other cultures and societies around the globe.

Master of Arts in Management with concentrations in:

Business Communication, Conflict Resolution Management, General Management, Health Care Management, Human Resource Management, and Performance Management

The Master of Arts in Management degree is a 36-credit-hour program designed to provide the communication, leadership, and management skills needed in today's business organizations. Because the business environment is dynamic, special attention is given to adapting to organizational change and becoming a change agent.

Master of Arts in Professional Development with concentrations in:

Accounting, Church Leadership, Counseling, Criminal Justice, English as a Second Language, Finance, Higher Education, Leadership Studies, Management, Management Information Systems, and Marketing

The Master of Arts in Professional Development Degree adopts a unique approach to graduate studies. Designed especially for professionals who desire to expand their knowledge and credentials beyond the boundaries of their bachelor's degree, this degree enhances a broad and diverse educational experience. Students may select the single-discipline track or interdisciplinary track from business, counseling, criminal justice, higher education, leadership studies, English as a Second Language, and Missions.

Master of Arts in Sport Management

The Master of Arts in Sport Management program is designed to develop graduates who can pursue careers in sport-related professions or businesses. These might be public or private education or athletic programs at the K-12 or higher education level, or professional sports or businesses focusing on sport. It is a 36-hour program containing a 24-hour core of courses and a 12-hour concentration in leadership.

Master of Arts in Teaching with specializations in:

Early Childhood through Grade 6 Certification, Elementary, Secondary, All-Level, Montessori (Early Childhood and Elementary I), Multisensory, and Distance Learning

The Master of Arts in Teaching program has been established to enhance the professional development of teachers who are committed to excellence in the classroom. The program is designed for individuals who are interested in pursuing either a master's degree or a master's degree and teacher certification. The program is focused on improving expertise in content areas, effective teaching strategies, and enhancing the delivery of instruction to students. The goal of the program is to equip educators to become servant leaders within the school setting.

Master of Arts in Theological Studies

The Master of Arts in Theological Studies is a 42-hour graduate program that prepares servant leaders for Christian ministry by providing a broad foundation in biblical, historical, theological, and practical ministry studies. The Master of Arts in Theological Studies provides students who are preparing for careers in ministry and those seeking advanced understandings of the foundations of Christian faith the opportunity to combine classical graduate theological education with practical ministry training. Concentrations in Christian Scriptures, Christian Heritage, and Christian Ministry allow students the opportunity to adjust academic experiences to meet differing personal ministry needs.

Master of Arts in Worship Leadership

The Master of Arts in Worship Leadership program is a unique program designed to engage worship leaders in a holistic study of Christian worship in order to educate the Church both individually and corporately in the theological and practical dimensions of worship. The program provides "worship leaders"—whether they are pastoral, educational, music, student (youth), or otherwise—a sound theological, transformational, and practical program for worship formation and practice. The program consists of 42 hours, with worship media, worship ministry, and worship music concentrations.

Master of Business Administration with concentrations in:

Accounting, Business Communication, Conflict Resolution Management, Entrepreneurship, Finance, Health Care Management, International Business, Leading the Nonprofit Organization, Management, Management Information Systems, Marketing, Project Management, and Technology and Engineering Management

The Master's in Business Administration degree is for professionals who desire to enhance their leadership skills and acquire new ones for more effective service to their organizations. Students learn the strategies and technologies for the future, focusing on real-world application from a uniquely ethical approach. The Master's in Business Administration program is accredited by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs.

Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction

The Master of Education for Curriculum and Instruction is designed for teachers who are currently or aspire to be teacher leaders recognizing the importance of keeping up with the latest in best practices of curriculum development and instruction strategies in order to create effective learning environments wherever they teach. The program will benefit classroom teachers, department heads, grade-level leaders, and curriculum specialists.

Master of Education in Educational Leadership

The Master of Education in Educational Leadership is a 36-hour non-thesis program. The program is composed of nine core courses and 27 hours of specialized preparation. Students who meet additional state criteria will be qualified to sit for the state Principal TExES exam. Upon program completion, passage of the Principal TExES exam, and specific state regulations, the student will be qualified to apply for state Principal's Certificate.

Master of Education in Higher Education

Administration Track (Interdisciplinary or Distance Learning Concentrations)
Instructional Track

Studies in higher education provide individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various aspects of post-secondary institutions. This exploration is conducted from a uniquely Christian perspective. Individuals who are interested in higher education administration, student personnel work, university development/advancement, or teaching on the college level are well served by this degree. Students may choose from two different 36-hour, non-thesis degree tracks: the Administration Track or the Instructional Track. The program is available online.

Master of Education in Kinesiology

The Master of Education in Kinesiology is a 36-hour non-thesis program. The program is designed to equip candidates for Christian servant leadership in the multi-faceted areas of Kinesiology, equipping them with intercultural and leadership skills equal to integrating their Christian faith and witness as they make significant contributions to the human endeavor. This degree will prepare students to apply their studies to the design of wellness, fitness, and health promotion programs in various settings of professional interest: educational, corporate, and commercial. The Master of Education in Kinesiology with Teacher Certification will allow students to seek teacher certification in the State of Texas.

Master of Education in Reading and English as a Second Language

This program is designed for practicing teachers and administrators who desire continued growth and expertise as professionals, specializing in the areas of literacy and ESL instruction. Once teachers with their initial teaching certification have successfully completed all coursework in the program, and if they have passed the appropriate state certification (TExES) tests, they will also earn the Reading Specialist Certification, the Master Reading Teacher Certification, and the English as a Second Language Certification/Endorsement. Learning experiences and assignments in this 36-hour program are designed in order to provide the learner with sufficient theoretical and experiential knowledge to serve successfully as a literacy and ESL specialist in the role of classroom teacher, literacy coach, or administrator.

Master of Education in School Counseling

The Master of Education in School Counseling degree is designed to provide the framework for school counselor preparation and to enhance the professional development of individuals who are seeking a graduate degree in school counseling. The Master of Education in School Counseling is a 39-hour, non-thesis professional development program leading to the Professional School Counselor Certificate. The program is designed to meet or exceed the certification requirements for School Counselors as established by the State Board for Educator Certification.

Master of Education in Special Education

The Master of Education in Special Education degree prepares the master's level student with knowledge, understanding, and abilities in the field of special education, K-12. The M.Ed. in Special Education program provides the framework for effective communication and partnership, personnel management, assessment, instruction, and compliance with federal and state regulations. The 36-hour, non-thesis general Special Education program consists of 18 hours of special education academic specialization, 9 hours in the professional area, and 9 hours in the resource area. The M.Ed. in Special Education with the Diagnostician Specialization leads to Texas Diagnostician certification. This consists of 15 hours of special academic specialization, 15 hours in the professional area, and 6 hours in the resource area. Pathways to Teaching students can obtain teacher certification in special education while pursuing the M.Ed. in Special Education.

Master of Liberal Arts with concentrations in:

Art, Christian Ministry, East Asian Studies, English, English as a Second Language, Fine Arts, History, Missions, and Political Science

The Master of Liberal Arts degree is designed to meet the needs of the student who desires an interdisciplinary, broad-based graduate education. Rather than focusing in just one discipline, the student may choose to do a single concentration within this broad-based degree. This flexibility is appealing to a wide range of students and professionals who want an expanded liberal arts education and a better understanding of their heritage. With proper Prerequisites, one may take a combination of courses, including those in the Arts, Humanities, Christian Ministry, English as a Second Language, and Missions. The program is an approved member of the Association of Graduate Liberal Studies Programs and is directed neither toward professional research nor toward the achievement of a doctorate.

The M.A. in Teaching program enhances professional development of educators who are committed to excellence in the classroom through a focus on expertise in content areas, effective teaching strategies, enhanced delivery of instruction, and purposeful assessment. The program is designed for individuals who are interested in pursuing a master's degree or additional certification and to equip educators to become servant leaders within the school setting. The M.Ed. in Higher Education program is committed to fulfilling the University mission of providing Christ-centered, quality higher education in order to produce servant leaders who possess the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings and career opportunities. This program provides individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various facets of post-secondary institutions.

Master of Arts in Theological Studies/Master of Arts in Worship Leadership

The dual degree program Master of Arts in Theological Studies and Master of Arts in Worship provides Christ-centered graduate level education to prepare servant leaders for Christian ministry. Students will have opportunity to gain knowledge and skills in the areas of worship leadership ministries; and in biblical, historical, theological, and practical ministry studies. By educating their minds and kindling their hearts in a manner that promotes a life of service for Christ's kingdom, students will have opportunity to combine classical graduate theological education with practical ministry training.

Master of Business Administration/Master of Education in Educational Leadership

The Master of Business Administration and the Master of Education in Higher Education Dual Degree Program is a 54-hour program. Graduates will receive a Master of Business Administration and a Master in Education. The dual degree program will be most relevant to students who want strong understanding and skills both in developing business models and in leading educational organizations within higher education effectively from an administrative perspective.

Master of Business Administration/Master of Education in Higher Education

This dual degree will allow students who have strong interests in educational leadership to integrate their knowledge from these two disciplines – business and educational administration. Students will build a broad foundation for successful administration by gaining the understanding, competencies, and skills necessary for developing business models while leading in an educational setting. Students successfully completing this dual degree plan will receive two master's degrees while gaining a significant competitive advantage.

Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction/Master of Education in Educational Leadership

The Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction/Master of Education in Educational Leadership dual degree is a fifty-four hour, non-thesis program. The program consists of a common core curriculum along with courses in specialized preparation for Curriculum and Instruction and Principal Certification. The program provides the graduate with the foundation and preparation needed in the pursuit of two pathways to leadership in the field of education.

Master of Education in Educational Leadership/Master of Education in Reading and English as a Second Language

The dual master's program in Educational Leadership and Reading and English as a Second Language (ESL) is a 57-credit hour non-thesis program that prepares teacher candidates who wish to develop strong theoretical and experiential knowledge as well as effective skills and certification in reading, ESL, and campus leadership programs. Upon program completion, teacher candidates will receive a Master of Education in Educational Leadership and a Master of Education in Reading and English as a Second Language, along with preparation that can lead to certification as a campus administrator, Reading Specialist, Master Reading Teacher, and English as a Second Language Specialist.

Master of Education in Educational Leadership/Master of Education in School Counseling

The dual master's program in school counseling and educational leadership is a 57-credit hour program that prepares students who have strong interests in both school counseling and campus leadership positions. Upon program completion, students will receive a Master of Education degree in School Counseling and a Master of Education degree in Educational Leadership, along with having the preparation that can lead to the state certification in both areas.

Master of Education in Higher Education/Master of Education in Kinesiology

The M.Ed. in Higher Education program is committed to fulfilling the University mission of providing Christ-centered, quality higher education in order to produce servant leaders who possess the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings and career opportunities. The program provides individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various facets of post-secondary institutions.

The purpose of the M.Ed. in Kinesiology is to equip candidates for Christian servant leadership in the multi-faceted areas of Kinesiology, equipping them with intercultural and leadership skills equal to integrating their Christian faith and witness as they make significant contributions to the human endeavor. This degree will prepare students to apply their studies to the design of wellness, fitness, and health promotion programs in various settings of professional interest: education, corporate, and commercial.

DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership emphasizes a practical approach to leadership development and accentuates the servant leadership model. This degree program is for individuals who intend to put their skills into practice through positions of leadership in education ministries, higher education institutions, and K-12 school systems. DBU's purpose is to provide a transforming Christ-centered quality education, and our desire is to produce servant leaders who are trained to develop other leaders through the knowledge and skills gained in this doctoral program.

The program offers three tracks of study:

- Education Ministry Leadership – equips leaders who intend to serve in education ministry leadership through churches, denominations, or other Christian organizations.
- Higher Education Leadership - provides cognate studies in community college leadership, higher education administration and leadership, and student affairs leadership.
- K-12 Leadership - equips leaders who intend to serve in K-12 school systems.

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership program is a 60-hour program consisting of 27 hours of core studies in educational leadership, 9 hours of research studies, (assuming that a student enters with at least one master's level statistics course), 18 hours of track study, and 6 hours of dissertation research and writing.

The program is academically rigorous and is practical in design. Students from other countries, diverse cultures, different higher education institutions, and various school systems enrich this graduate program. This is an exciting and stimulating educational experience for everyone involved.

Classes are offered each fall, spring, and summer term. Students enter the program at the start of the new cohort each summer and proceed through the doctoral course work in three years. Upon successful completion of all doctoral coursework and the subsequent comprehensive exams, the student may begin the dissertation process. Some students may choose to take additional time to complete their dissertation studies. All requirements for the Ed.D. degree must be completed within a period of seven years from the date of initial enrollment in the program.

Ph.D. in Leadership Studies

The Ph.D. in Leadership Studies is an interdisciplinary degree, requiring a total of 60 hours of advanced study beyond the master's degree: 30 hours of core leadership studies; 12 hours of research and statistics (assuming that a student enters with at least one master's level statistics course); 9 hours of electives in one of four areas of concentrations (business, education, higher education, or general leadership, including a ministry specialization); a 120-hour mentored internship (3 credit hours) of eight hours of training each week for fifteen weeks; and the writing of a proposal/prospectus and dissertation, for which 6 credit hours will be awarded upon completion. Organized both systematically and thematically, the study and research of leadership derives from the biblical, classical, philosophical, historical, and global dimensions of effective leadership. It draws from, and integrates with, the fields of business, education, general leadership and higher education, including the practice of ministry. Across the curriculum, the program includes several theoretical and behavioral cognates: applied biblical ethics, motivational communication skills, issues related to conflict and change, and the value of cultural diversity.

The program centers upon a cohort of 20-25 participants who will take residential core leadership and research courses together. Non-cohort students will not be included in these courses. The cohort model allows individuals opportunities to work collaboratively toward achieving the learning outcomes of the program. The cohort model also creates communities of "scholar-fellows" – faculty and students – capable of promoting supportive, equitable conditions in which all members may flourish. Dallas Baptist University's philosophy of personalized approach encourages all candidates to complete the program within four, but not more than six, years.

Academically rigorous and creative, faculty and students engage the study of leadership as a community of scholars from business, education, government, ministry, and other disciplines. In addition to the semester courses, the program includes three summer institutes comprised of 7-14 day intensive sessions. The first summer institute is held in Dallas and focuses upon personal growth, professional development plans, and leadership courses. The second summer institute includes a trip to Washington, D.C., with a special emphasis on political leadership. The third summer institute takes place in Oxford, England, with a concentration on global and cultural leadership issues.

DISTANCE EDUCATION (ONLINE)

Distance Education is a part of Dallas Baptist University's commitment to serve its students through a variety of effective methods in instructional delivery designed to meet the needs of students at a distance. DBU's online education website, (www.dbu.edu/online) provides a cadre of student resources and provides a daily connection to the campus. Links offer opportunities for the distance education student to share in university life, including a special welcome, a look at DBU, the latest in sports, the online Dallas Baptist University Undergraduate Catalog, Graduate Bulletin, and the latest Schedule of Classes. Distance education students enjoy a full range of DBU library services to enhance learning and may connect with the DBU Library (www.dbu.edu/library) for links to personal library assistance and online databases information. In addition, the University Writing Center is also available for distance education students by contacting writectr@dbu.edu.

Online Courses

Dallas Baptist University is a pioneer in Christian online education, delivering fully accredited degree programs via the Internet since 1998 without required campus visits. Providing courses and degrees via online delivery is a part of Dallas Baptist University's commitment to serve its students through a variety of effective methods in instructional delivery designed to meet student needs for flexibility. DBU online education offers students engaging, Christ-centered content and personal connection with the professor and other class members along with convenience and flexibility, which allows students academic progress any time or any place. Each online class is limited in enrollment in order to ensure quality learning and interaction with the professor and students. The time and study requirements found in online classes are comparable with those found in classroom instruction.

The DBU Online virtual campus provides a rich online environment where students and faculty members can collaborate and interact with one another. Students receive quality services online such as the DBU Library, the DBU bookstore, advising, and course registration. Today, we offer 54 full degree programs completely online serving students anywhere in the world. With programs available anywhere with Internet access, the DBU Online Education program has been very successful delivering quality online education while maintaining a 92% student course completion rate.

Hybrid Courses

The best of both worlds ... A combination of online and traditional courses

Hybrid courses combine the flexibility of online instruction with the benefit of face-to-face instruction in the classroom. Students attend part of the usual class times in the classroom and complete the remaining course work online. Hybrid courses are comparable to those taught in the traditional classroom and are offered at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

Graduate Admission Information

If you have determined that pursuing a graduate degree is in your best interest personally and professionally, Dallas Baptist University has many advantages to offer you. Our graduate programs provide the knowledge, insights, skills, and perspectives necessary for you to succeed and excel as a leader in your field. Graduate classes are offered at times and locations that will fit your schedule, especially if you are employed full-time. You will benefit from the academic credentials and professional expertise our faculty bring to the classroom and the opportunity to interact with students of diverse ages, backgrounds, and experience.

Dallas Baptist University welcomes applications from persons seeking a Christian education with high academic standards. Individuals who have demonstrated the ability and desire to excel in their chosen field have a greater chance of successfully completing a degree. The University reserves the right to restrict or deny admission to any applicant who is not considered to be an appropriate degree candidate as determined by the University.

Admission decisions will be made in a manner consistent with state and federal non-discrimination laws. Applications for admission are considered holistically without regard to age, sex, disability, race, color, or national origin. In order to promote a broad learning environment, DBU welcomes applications from individuals of diverse backgrounds.

The applicant's academic record should show evidence of academic preparation and the ability to succeed in graduate studies. A satisfactory grade point average does not guarantee admission to graduate studies. Numerous factors are considered, including personality and character, leadership potential, professional or military experience, potential for service as a Christian professional, and results of an admissions examination such as the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), Graduate Record Examination (GRE), or Miller Analogies Test (MAT) when required for the specific program.

In certain cases, a student may be required to enroll in prerequisite courses to make up any deficiencies in the major field of study, and personal interviews may be requested prior to admission.

Students desiring admission to any degree program must apply specifically for that program. Admission to one graduate program does not guarantee admission to another.

While former DBU students are encouraged to apply, previously receiving a degree from DBU does not guarantee admission.

Master's Programs Admission Procedures

Procedure and Criteria

Applications for admission to a master's program are processed by the Office of Graduate Programs, located on the Lower Level of the John G. Mahler Student Center. All persons seeking admission must complete the graduate application forms provided by the University. Applicants seeking admission will be required to submit the following:

1. A formal Application for Admission to pursue a specified master's degree program;
2. A non-refundable application fee of $25;
3. Official transcripts for each institution attended as an undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, or graduate student;
4. Two letters of recommendation from non-family members;
5. A Statement of Purpose outlining reasons for seeking admission, answering each question with approximately 150 words, as this is considered a writing sample;
6. A current professional résumé.

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Additional conditions for continuance past the first semester of study may be specified by individual degree programs and/or the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

All materials submitted will be kept three (3) years from the date of initial receipt. Applicants are encouraged to maintain regular contact with the Graduate Programs Office to ensure that all materials have been received and the file has been prepared for submission to the Master's Programs Admission Committee. Application materials, once submitted, are the property of the University and cannot be returned.

Requirements for Full Admission

1. A Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution;
2. Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission;
3. A likelihood of academic success as demonstrated by a GPA of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale in all previous course work;
4. Two letters of recommendations from non-family members;
5. A current professional résumé.

Additional conditions of full admission may be specified by individual degree programs and/or the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

The Master's Programs Admission Committee strives to take a holistic view of the applicant in order to determine the likelihood for success in a master's program. Applicants who show potential for graduate study, but do not meet the criteria for Full Admission may be admitted for up to 12 hours under Provisional status.

Provisional Admission

Applicants admitted under Provisional Admission must fulfill the conditions of this status as identified by the Master's Programs Admission Committee in order to continue in the program past 6-12 hours, depending on the program.

Students under Provisional Admission must maintain a 3.0 GPA and receive no grades below "B."

Students admitted under Provisional Admission will be granted Full Admission upon successful completion of 12 credit hours and fulfillment of the conditions of their admission as determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

Incomplete Admission

In some instances, applicants do not have time to submit all of the items required to be considered for Full or Provisional admission before the term begins in which they desire to enroll. Some applicants may not have the opportunity to provide both letters of recommendation, a résumé, or all of their official transcripts. In these cases, the Master's Programs Admission Committee, upon receiving enough documentation (monitored by the Office of Graduate Programs), may allow the applicant to register for one term. The applicant must complete the application process during the first semester and may not register for additional courses beyond the first semester until formal admission has been granted. However, formal admission to the University is not guaranteed.

Applicants with incomplete admission files are not eligible to receive disbursement of financial aid funds.

Deferred Admission

Applicants not meeting the criteria for Full or Provisional admission may be determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee to show potential for graduate study. These applicants will be asked by the committee to complete certain requirements, such as prerequisite or foundational coursework and/or an entrance examination, before an admission decision will be made. These applicants must fulfill all requirements which are determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee as necessary prior to a final committee review and admission decision.

Note: Applicants for whom there is no evidence to demonstrate a likelihood for success in a master's program may be denied admission to the program.

Concurrent Undergraduate Coursework

Senior DBU undergraduate students who have been accepted into the graduate programs at DBU pending completion of their undergraduate degree and who possess a 3.0 or greater cumulative GPA are allowed to register for up to 12 graduate credit hours in the final semester of their undergraduate degree at DBU. Any student registering for any combination course load exceeding 12 credit hours must have the approval of the dean.

Transfer of Credit for Master's Programs

Students may transfer master's level courses from another regionally accredited institution provided: (1) a minimum grade of "B" was earned on all courses under consideration, (2) the courses are equivalent to courses in the applicable degree program at Dallas Baptist University, (3) courses were completed within a six-year period prior to enrollment in a Master's degree program at DBU, and (4) none of the transfer work consists of correspondence or workshop courses not transcribed by a regionally accredited university, or credit earned through life and work experience.

Students may petition for transfer credit completed prior to the initial enrollment, thereby reducing the number of credit hours required to be taken at DBU for the degree. Evaluation and approval of transfer of credit shall be made by the director of the appropriate master's program and the Director of Graduate Programs. A DBU graduate student may not apply for transfer of credit for classes taken at another institution after the initial enrollment at DBU except under mitigating circumstances and with evaluation and approval of the Director of Graduate Programs, the Vice President for Graduate and Corporate Affairs, and the director of the appropriate master's program.

Number of Hours Eligible for Transfer

Students may transfer to the follow DBU Master's programs no more than 12 hours of master's level courses from another regionally accredited institution.

Master of Arts in Counseling
Master of Arts in Management
Master of Arts in Professional Development
Master of Arts in Sport Management
Master of Arts in Teaching
Master of Business Administration
Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction
Master of Education in Educational Leadership
Master of Education in Higher Education
Master of Education in Kinesiology
Master of Education in Reading and English as a Second Language
Master of Education in School Counseling
Master of Liberal Arts

Students may transfer to the following DBU Master's programs no more than 50% of the individual degree program. Also, no more than one-half of the credit earned in a completed degree program at another institution can be transferred into a single degree program listed below.

Master of Arts in Christian Education
Master of Arts in Christian Education: Childhood Ministry
Master of Arts in Christian Education: Student Ministry
Master of Arts in Christian Ministry
Master of Arts in Global Leadership
Master of Arts in Theological Studies

Transfer of Credit When Changing Master's Degree Program at DBU

Master's students changing degree programs may transfer only 18 hours of applicable graduate courses to another DBU graduate program.

Transient Student Transfer of Credit Admission

Students who are currently active and in good standing in a graduate program at another regionally accredited institution may be permitted to take up to 6 hours as a transient student, when the purpose of attaining credit is for transfer back to that primary institution. Students must submit a current graduate transcript, a letter of intent, a completed application for Special Admission, the application fee, and obtain approval from both the applicable program director and the Director of Graduate Programs.

Doctoral Admissions Procedures

Procedure and Criteria

Prerequisites for Admission

Applicants must have a master's degree from an accredited college, university, or seminary. Applicants will be considered holistically for doctoral programs. The decision for admission is based on a candidate's overall qualifications on all the following criteria which include a likelihood of success in a doctoral program.

Criteria for Consideration

- A cumulative GPA of 3.2 or higher on a 4.0 scale
- A score at the 50th percentile or higher on the Graduate Records Examination (GRE) In lieu of the GRE, applicants may, upon approval, submit the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT), Miller Analogies Test (MAT), or other nationally-recognized aptitude tests with comparable scores
- An admissions assessment instrument completed and submitted with the application
- Professional experience
- Letters of recommendation from three specific sources
- An employer letter of support
- The invited applicant must be present for a personal interview during a one-day Admissions Interview Event at DBU

The Process of Application

Application for admission to the doctoral programs may be made by e-mailing doctoral@dbu.edu or calling 214.333.5454 for the Ph.D. program or 214.333.6850 for the Ed.D. program. The first step of the application process is to request an application information packet be sent to a mailing address. Several admissions forms, requests for transcripts, reference forms, return envelopes, and other helpful materials will be sent upon request. Inquirers may also make arrangements to pick up an application packet from the doctoral office of their choice and tour the campus.

Application for Admission to the Doctoral Programs

The applicants must meet specific admissions requirements for the program to which they make application for admission. The applicant must submit application packet items 1 through 8 listed below. Both the application packet items and the interview will be taken into consideration to determine if an invitation to study in the program will be extended to the applicant.

Doctoral Admissions Requirements: Admissions Packet Items

1. Official Transcripts. Official transcripts of all earned credit leading toward both baccalaureate and master's degrees must be submitted as part of the application.
2. Application Fee. A non-refundable application fee of $50 must be included with the application.
3. Entrance Examination Score. The applicant must submit as part of the application, the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) or other approved nationally-recognized aptitude test.
4. Admissions Assessment Instrument. The applicant must complete, and submit as part of the application, the written Admissions Assessment Instrument, which will evaluate the applicant's long-range professional and scholarly interests and goals, and potential for doctoral-level critical thinking and research.
5. Professional Experience. The applicant must submit, if applicable, a résumé that details the applicant's employment history. Completion of one or more years of full-time employment by the applicant is preferred.
6. Letters of Recommendation. The applicant must submit as part of the application the designated letter of recommendation from each of the following three sources: (a) character or personal recommendation from the applicant's church minister; (b) an academic recommendation from a professor with whom the applicant studied at the master's level; and (c) a professional reference from a supervisor under whose oversight the applicant worked.
7. Employment Letter of Support. If the applicant is a full-time employee, a letter from the current employer indicating support of the applicant's intent to pursue doctoral studies while the professional relationship is maintained must be included with the application.
8. English Language Requirements. All non-USA citizens, except those who received an accredited baccalaureate and/or master's degree from the United States, must take the computer form of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL), the Test of Written English (TWE), and the Test of Spoken English (TSE). The required scores are as follows: TOEFL –those who score 250 or above may be admitted (84 for the Internet version); TWE – 5; and TSE – 50. These examinations should be taken no later than the January preceding the deadline for admissions. Official Copies from the national testing centers should be sent directly to DBU's Ph.D. program office.

Admissions Application Interview

The applicant must be present for a one-day Admissions Interview Event at DBU. The applicant will provide a writing sample and participate in a personal interview to provide all parties with opportunities to assess the compatibility of the program and applicant.

Application Deadlines

The deadline for submission of the complete Ph.D. Admissions Packet is March 20 for the following summer matriculation. The priority deadline to qualify for admission into the next Ed.D. program is March 30. Acceptance is contingent upon meeting admission requirements and availability of space in the doctoral courses.

Notification Regarding Admission

An applicant's admission to either doctoral program is not based upon a single factor but on a composite of all factors relating to his or her application for admission that, in the judgment of the Ph.D. or Ed.D. program faculty and Ph.D. or Ed.D. admissions committee, shows the applicant is qualified for doctoral level work. Students will be officially notified by mail whether they have been accepted into the doctoral program for which they have applied.

In the event that the student was declined admission, the student may be allowed to resubmit his or her application for a subsequent admission. When a student chooses to reapply, no application materials must be resubmitted and no second application fee is required. The student's file is merely transferred into the applicant pool for the subsequent admission deadline. The student may, however, elect to resubmit any and all items for the application consideration process.

Traditional Ed.D. Program Transfer Credit

A maximum of twenty-four (24) comparable transfer credit hours with a grade of "B" or better may be considered by the Ed.D. Program Director and the Dean of the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership provided the following stipulations are met:

- Transfer hours must be on the doctoral level, from a regionally accredited university, and may not have been used toward another degree.
- Research and Statistics courses from other universities are accepted only as prerequisites or electives. They may not be substituted for required DBU Research or Statistics courses.
- Students wishing to obtain Texas Superintendent certification through DBU must take their Superintendent courses at DBU.
- Students who already have Texas Superintendent certification may transfer comparable courses into the Ed.D. program upon approval of the Ed.D. Program Director and Committee.

Doctoral Cohort Program Transfer Credit

Students may petition for a maximum of up to twelve (12) transfer credit hours provided the following stipulations are met:

- Transfer hours were completed on the doctoral level, from a regionally accredited university with a minimum grade of "B" and have not been used toward another awarded degree.
- The courses are deemed equivalent to courses in the Doctoral program or approved Doctoral concentration courses at Dallas Baptist University.
- Courses completed prior to initial enrollment in the Doctoral program at DBU were completed no more than five years prior to initial enrollment in the Doctoral program.
- Research and Statistics courses from other universities are accepted only as prerequisites or electives. They may not be substituted for required DBU Research and Statistics courses.

Students may petition for transfer credits completed prior to initial enrollment or for approval to complete hours up to the twelve transfer credit hour maximum during Doctoral program year three. Transfer hours completed after initial enrollment may only be in the student's area of concentration and must be successfully completed during the third year of the program. The Doctoral Program Director, the Dean of the Graduate School of Leadership, and the Doctoral Committee will consider and make decisions for all transfer credit petitions. These decisions made are considered final.

Transfer of Credit When Changing Doctoral Degree Program at DBU

Doctoral students changing degree programs may transfer only 12 hours of applicable graduate courses to DBU's Ph.D. or Ed.D. programs.

International Student Admission

Procedure and Criteria

All applicants who are not U.S. citizens, or do not possess a permanent residence card, should make application through the Department of International Admissions and Immigration (not the Graduate Programs Office). The Department of International Admissions and Immigration is located in the International Center on the east side of the campus. You may find more information regarding International Admissions at www.dbu.edu/international, by calling 214-333-6905, or emailing globalinfo@dbu.edu.

In addition to meeting the requirements outlined in the Admission Procedures, international applicants must meet the following requirements:

1. Submit the joint certificate of financial responsibility to meet the financial requirements while in attendance at Dallas Baptist University.
2. To fulfill English requirements, select one of the following: (A) Official TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score results must be submitted for the applicant to be considered for admission: a paper test score of 550, or a computer-based test score of 213 or an internet-based test score of 79 must be attained on the TOEFL, or (B) Official IELTS (International English Language-Testing System) overall band score of 6 with no individual band lower than 5, or (C) Students may complete the Intensive English Program at DBU to satisfy English requirements, thus no TOEFL or IELTS would be required, or (D) The TOEFL, IELTS or IEP program may be waived at the discretion of the program director if 24 credit hours with a GPA of 3.0 or higher have been completed at other regionally accredited institutions in the United States. International students may be interviewed and tested by DBU staff to determine their ability to communicate effectively in English.
3. An international applicant who holds an F-1 student visa is required to carry a full course of study in the fall and spring semesters. According to Immigration and Customs Enforcement regulations, a full-time load for a graduate student is nine hours. By choice, students may elect to take more hours.
4. Official transcripts must be provided. A translation of international transcript(s) to the U.S. system of grading by a recognized credential evaluation service in the U.S. may be necessary.

International students who meet all admission requirements will be eligible for full admission to the University. All others who are approved for admission will be granted provisional admission until these requirements have been met and 12 credit hours of graduate courses have been successfully completed. DBU does not issue I-20s for distance learning courses.

Dallas Baptist University understands the unique characteristics of international education and recognizes the diverse background and qualifications of our prospective students. In circumstances where an applicant has received a three-year bachelor's degree from a government recognized non-US institution, DBU will consider the three-year bachelor's degree as sufficient to meet the undergraduate degree requirement needed for application to graduate programs.

You may find more information regarding International Admissions at www.dbu.edu/international, by calling 214-333-6905 or e-mailing globalinfo@dbu.edu

This school is authorized under Federal Law to enroll nonimmigrant students.

Veteran Student Admission

Procedure and Criteria

Because of its efforts to serve the educational needs of servicemembers and their family members, Dallas Baptist University has been designated a Servicemembers Opportunity Consortium college. As a member of the SOC Consortium, Dallas Baptist University has committed itself to fully support and comply with SOC Principles and Criteria. Through this commitment Dallas Baptist University ensures that:

- Servicemembers and their family members share in the postsecondary educational opportunities available to other citizens.
- Servicemembers and their family members are provided with educational programs, courses, and student services from appropriately accredited institutions.
- Flexibility of programs and procedures, particularly in admissions, course articulation, scheduling, and course format are provided to enhance access of servicemembers and their family members to graduate education programs.

For specific admission requirements, see information on Graduate Admission Information.

Veteran's Affairs Program

The Texas Veterans Commission approves Dallas Baptist University for students who wish to receive educational benefits under various Veterans Administration programs. All students who feel they may be eligible should contact the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office.

Procedures

Eligibility of new students will be determined after the VA Certifying Official representative has received the "Application for Education Benefits" or the "Request for Change of Program" (for transfer students) form available in the DBU Veteran Services Office. Forms can also be completed at the official website of the Department of Veterans Affairs Education Service, www.gibill.gov. New students should contact the VA Certifying Official, in the DBU Veteran Services Office, one month prior to registration, to ensure completion of paperwork in a timely manner. Transcripts showing previous credit must be submitted prior to the completion of the second semester in residence. The Veterans Administration requires that each student receiving benefits must follow an approved degree plan.

Certification

A VA student may not receive payment for courses previously completed, for courses that are in excess of degree requirements, or for courses that do not apply toward the student's approved degree. A degree plan must be on file as soon as possible. A copy of your official degree plan should be given to the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office as soon as it is completed.

It is the student's responsibility to notify the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office each semester that he/she enrolls, and at any time he/she adds, drops, or withdraws from a course.

Unsatisfactory Progress:

PROBATION and SUSPENSION for Master's Programs

A student whose cumulative grade point average drops below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Probation and must raise his/her cumulative GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester. A student placed on Academic Probation for two consecutive terms or a total of three times in nonconsecutive terms will be suspended from academic studies.

Failing Grades

A student who receives a failing grade (F) must retake the failed class the first time it is offered or within the next 12 months.

Admissions Status: Full

A student granted Full Admission who receives a failing grade and/or whose cumulative grade point average (GPA) drops below 3.0, but not lower than 2.5, will be placed on Academic Probation and must raise his/her cumulative GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester. If the cumulative grade point average drops below 2.5, the student will be placed on Academic Probation, receive notice of Pending Academic Suspension, and be advised to resolve low grade(s) and raise GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester or face Academic Suspension.

Admissions Status: Provisional

A student granted Provisional Admission who receives grade(s) below "B" and/or whose cumulative grade point average drops below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Probation, receive notice of Pending Academic Suspension, and be advised to resolve low grade(s) and raise GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester or face Academic Suspension.

Academic Probation, Pending Academic Suspension and Academic Suspension Defined:

Academic Probation is defined as a conditional enrollment period wherein the student must achieve and maintain a grade point average (GPA) not less than 3.0, with no grade below "B," or face the possibility of Academic Suspension. Please note the grading system at Dallas Baptist University allots 2.67 grade points for a grade of "B-," which can result in a GPA that is below 3.0. A student placed on Academic Probation for two consecutive terms or a total of three times in nonconsecutive terms will be suspended from academic studies.

Pending Academic Suspension is defined as a probationary enrollment period of one term wherein the student must achieve and maintain a GPA not less than 3.0 or face Academic Suspension. Please note that an earned failing grade or an earned grade less than "B" during this probationary period will automatically result in Academic Suspension. The grading system at Dallas Baptist University allots 2.67 grade points for a grade of "B-," which can result in a GPA that is below 3.0.

Academic Suspension is defined as enforced academic withdrawal from all university classes due to unsatisfactory academic progress with a cumulative GPA of less than 3.0.

Academic Standards

The Office of Graduate Programs of Dallas Baptist University exists to recruit, admit and guide qualified individuals through the graduate programs. By providing services and support to prospects, students, corporations, and faculty and staff, we seek to fulfill our mission of integrating Christian faith and learning to produce servant leaders.

The University has established certain policies as the context through which the academic endeavor will be completed. These policies seek to aid students in their progress toward an academic experience that is both effective and efficient. Students should seek full understanding of, and are responsible for, adherence to the policies outlined in the catalog. It is the student's responsibility to inform himself/herself of degree requirements.

Degree Requirements

Degree requirements existing at the time of initial admission will remain in effect for a student only if the student is enrolled during at least one of the terms during the academic year and each successive academic year. Students who have not enrolled for courses during at least one calendar year must file a petition for readmission with the Office of Graduate Programs and must fulfill all degree requirements in effect at the time of readmission. Students in the traditional Ed.D. program must file petitions for readmission with the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership program office. Ph.D. in Leadership Studies and Ed.D. cohort students must maintain continuous enrollment in the summer, fall, and spring semesters each year or must file a petition for readmission with the Ph.D. in Leadership Studies program.

Graduation Requirements for Master's Programs

In order to qualify for any of the Master's degrees, a candidate must complete all of the degree requirements with a minimum grade point average of 3.0.

All requirements for a Master's degree must be completed within a period of six years from the date of initial enrollment in the program. Enrollment in the first course as a graduate student establishes the beginning of the six-year time allowance. Students who have been continually active in their program for longer than six years may seek a waiver of the six-year time allowance from their program director and the Director of Graduate Programs. However, if a student has been inactive in a program for one year or greater, the student must re-apply to the graduate program and be granted readmission. The six-year time allowance then begins again with the date of enrollment at readmission. Previously completed courses older than six years may be used to satisfy current degree requirements with the approval of the master's program director.

Graduation Requirements for Doctoral Programs

In order to qualify for the doctoral degree, a candidate must complete all the degree requirements with a minimum grade point average of 3.25.

- Procedure for Graduation

When the degree program has been approved by the Program Director, all admission requirements or other conditions have been met, all doctoral coursework has been completed with a minimum grade point average of 3.25, and the dissertation has been submitted according to procedure and cleared for graduation, the student must obtain from his or her doctoral office, complete, and submit to the appropriate Program Director and doctoral committees, an "Intention to Graduate" form. This submission for formal approval must be received by the appropriate Program Director no later than 90 days prior to the commencement date of the semester he or she intends to graduate.

- Time Limit for Completion

All requirements for the Ph.D. degree must be completed within a period of six years from the date of initial enrollment in the program. All requirements for the Ed.D. degree must be completed within a period of seven years from the date of initial enrollment in the program. Matriculation in the first seminar or courses as a doctoral student establishes the beginning of the respective time period for completion.

Doctoral Residency Requirements

Each student will fulfill residency requirements by attending the Dallas campus or travel institutes at least ten days each of three summers and three two-day weekends through each of the fall and spring semesters for three years. The summer courses will be comprised of at least thirty (30) residency class hours each, and courses offered on weekends during the long semesters will total thirty (30) residency class hours each. All of the residency courses will be three-credit-hour courses. At least thirty-six (36) of the sixty (60) degree credit hours will be required as residential, keeping the cohort members together in the same seminars throughout their core leadership and research studies.

Only in the areas of concentration will Ph.D. students be free to select courses from traditional daytime, hybrid, independent study, weekend, night, or online formats. Since DBU's Ph.D. and Ed.D. students will be primarily professionals with daytime careers, this portion of the program affords the students the flexibility to study while maintaining the obligations of careers and families.

Heuristic Skills: Research and Statistics

Doctoral students must possess proficiency in the use of all research skills necessary to complete the doctoral dissertation successfully. It is desirable for students to demonstrate these proficiencies early in their program; thus, all of the research and statistics seminars will be completed by the end of year two. Following the second full program year, all students must demonstrate such proficiency by earning a grade of "B" or higher on their Research and Statistics Competency Examination.

All research and statistics seminars must be taken in sequence (i.e., Research I should be taken before Research II). The same is true of the statistics courses. A graduate-level Statistics I course is a pre-requisite for Statistics II. If the student has not earned a grade of "B" or higher in Statistics I at the master's level, the student must take Statistics I as a designated elective prior to enrolling in the doctoral-level Statistics II course.

These requirements are to be viewed as minimal requirements. Consequently, the Director, in consultation with the Dean of the Graduate School of Leadership and the Ph.D. or Ed.D. committees, may require additional research courses either for all of the students or as a requirement for an individual student based upon specific need.

Comprehensive Examinations

- Doctoral Cohort Program Comprehensive Examinations

Doctoral cohort students are required to demonstrate competency at two points during the program. The first will be given at the end of the student's second year in the program and will test the student's knowledge of research and statistics. A student who earns a "B" or better in each of the required Research and Statistics courses, thereby demonstrating competency in the course content and application, shall be exempt from the Comprehensive Examination. If a student does not earn at least a "B" in any of the required Research and Statistics courses, the student must take the Research and Statistics Comprehensive Examination in order to demonstrate competency over the content of the course in question.

At the end of the third year, comprehensive written and oral examinations will be given over all reading lists and the seminar content portion of the student's program in order to gauge the student's breadth and depth of knowledge. Upon successful completion of the Comprehensive Examination, the student will be admitted into candidacy and the written prospectus and dissertation phase will commence.

A student who fails to pass either competency barrier may petition the Academic Director of the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program to re-take the examination. Approval may be granted by the Academic Director, in consultation with the Ed. D. or Ph.D. program faculty and the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee, for the student to re-take either examination one additional time. However, it is understood that approval is not guaranteed and a time limitation may be assigned in which to re-take the examination. A student may be disenrolled from the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program for failure to achieve satisfactory Comprehensive Examination scores.

- Ed.D. Traditional Program Comprehensive Examinations

Ed.D. students are required to complete and pass written examinations at two points during the program. The Competency Examination will be given at the end of the student's research courses in the program and will assess the student's knowledge and proficiency of the research content in the program. If the student earns a "B" or greater grade in each research course, then the student will be exempt from taking the Competency Examination.

Upon completion of all academic courses, a comprehensive, written examination will be given over all academic course content of the student's program in order to gauge the student's breadth and depth of knowledge of their field. The Comprehensive Examination will include questions specific to the student's field of study. There are no exemptions from taking the Comprehensive Examination. All students are required to take the written Comprehensive Examination prior to becoming candidates for the Ed.D and moving into the dissertation phase of the program. Both exams will be offered to qualifying students at the conclusion of the third year.

Successful Completion of Doctoral Cohort Program Dissertation

- Evaluation of the Dissertation

The dissertation will be submitted to members of the candidate's Dissertation Committee and one additional reader, chosen from among the Ed.D. or Ph.D. faculty by the Academic Director in consultation with the candidate's supervisor, the Ed.D. or Ph.D. faculty, and Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee. After evaluating the dissertation, it will be awarded a grade based on its scholarship, accuracy, grammar, form, style, adherence to APA, and interpretations. The candidate will receive formal notification of the committees' decisions according to the schedule determined and published each academic year by the Ed.D. or Ph.D. office.

If the candidate's dissertation fails to meet acceptable standards for the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program at Dallas Baptist University, the student will receive official notification that it has been deemed unacceptable. In this case, the candidate may petition for the opportunity to resubmit his or her dissertation a second time with revisions as indicated by the committees' evaluation. The candidate may not resubmit the dissertation until the following semester's deadline and must follow all instructions as outlined by the Ed.D. or Ph.D. office.

If the candidate's dissertation has met or exceeded the standards for the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program according to the committees' evaluation, the candidate will receive official notification of the decision and may therefore proceed to request a date from the Ed.D. or Ph.D. office for the defense of the dissertation.

- Defense of the Dissertation

The dissertation phase requires an oral defense of the student's dissertation findings and a public presentation of the work. The candidate will defend the completed dissertation and respond to any questions related to his or her program of study before the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee in a session open to all Ed.D. or Ph.D. faculty, University faculty, Ed.D. or Ph.D. students, and the invited public. The Academic Director or designated representative will attend the defense in order to assure that general doctoral standards relating to format and quality are upheld. Upon successful completion of this defense, the candidate will receive official notification by mail that he or she has completed all requirements leading to the doctoral degree.

If, in the opinion of the evaluating team, the candidate does not successfully defend the dissertation, he or she may petition for the opportunity to re-defend the dissertation an additional time. Approval may be granted the candidate to re-defend the dissertation by the Academic Director in consultation with the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program faculty and the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee. However, it is understood that approval is not guaranteed and a time limitation may be assigned in which to re-defend the dissertation. A candidate may be disenrolled from the Ed.D. or Ph.D. program for failure to defend his or her dissertation satisfactorily.

Successful Completion of Ed.D. Traditional Program Dissertation

- Evaluation of the Dissertation

The dissertation will be submitted to members of the candidate's Dissertation Committee and one additional reader, chosen from among the Ed.D. faculty by the Program Director in consultation with the Ed.D. faculty and Ed.D. Council. After evaluating the dissertation, it will be awarded a grade based on its scholarship, accuracy, grammar, form, style, adherence to APA, and interpretations. The candidate will receive formal notification of the committees' decisions according to the schedule determined and published each academic year by the Ed.D. office.

If the candidate's dissertation has met or exceeded the standards for the Ed.D. program according to the committees' evaluation, the candidate will receive official notification of the decision and may therefore proceed to request a date from the Ed.D. office for the defense of the dissertation.

If the candidate's dissertation fails to meet acceptable standards for the Ed.D. program at Dallas Baptist University, the student will receive official notification that it has been deemed unacceptable. In this case, the candidate may petition for the opportunity to resubmit his or her dissertation a second time with revisions as indicated by the committees' evaluation. The candidate may not resubmit the dissertation until the following semester's deadline and must follow all instructions as outlined by the Ed.D. office.

- Defense of the Dissertation

The dissertation phase requires an oral defense of the student's dissertation findings and a public presentation of the work. The candidate will defend the completed dissertation and respond to any questions related to his or her program of study before the Ed.D. Committee in a session open to all Ed.D. faculty, University faculty, Ed.D. students, and the invited public. The Program Director or designated representative will attend the defense in order to assure that general doctoral standards relating to format and quality are upheld. Upon successful completion of the defense, the candidate will receive official notification by mail that he or she has completed all requirements leading to the Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership degree.

If, in the opinion of the evaluating team, the candidate does not successfully defend the dissertation, he or she may petition for the opportunity to re-defend the dissertation an additional time. Approval may be granted for the candidate to re-defend the dissertation by the Program Director in consultation with the Ed.D. program faculty and the Ed.D. Committee. However, it is understood that approval is not guaranteed and a time limitation may be assigned in which to re-defend the dissertation. A candidate will not graduate until his or her dissertation is defended satisfactorily and all rewrites, if any, are appropriately completed.

Program Requirements

Upon acceptance into a graduate program, a degree plan will be prepared by the Academic or Program Director for review by the student. In some instances, prerequisite requirements may be waived based on previous course work, or additional courses may be required based on deficiencies. Courses cannot be waived for credit earned through correspondence, CLEP, or life and work experience. Students cannot receive credit for cross-listed courses already completed at the undergraduate level and doctoral students cannot receive credit for cross-listed courses already completed at the master's level. In situations where repeated courses are required, substitutions will be allowed by the appropriate Academic or Program Director and Dean. The Academic or Program Director will file an official degree plan with the Registrar's Office. Refer to specific degree programs for detailed information on course waivers. In no case will waivers reduce the 36-hour minimum doctoral level residency requirement.

Master's students changing degree programs may transfer only 18 hours of applicable graduate courses to another DBU graduate program. Doctoral students changing degree programs may transfer only 12 hours of applicable doctoral courses to DBU's Ph.D. or Ed.D. programs.

Although academic advisors, program directors, and coordinators strive to advise students as accurately as possible, the student bears ultimate responsibility for fulfilling all requirements for graduation, certification, and/or licensure.

Academic Load for Master's Programs

The following chart shows the enrollment status for a graduate student according to the number of hours for which he/she is registered per semester or term. This chart functions as a guide to determine status for veteran's certification. Please note this chart does not determine status for Financial Aid purposes. Students registering for more than 12 credit hours during any semester must have the approval of the appropriate academic dean.

ACADEMIC LOAD

TERM OF ENROLLMENT	You are considered FULL-TIME	You are considered THREE- QUARTER TIME	You are considered HALF-TIME	You are considered LESS THAN HALF-TIME	You are considered QUARTER TIME OR LESS
	If you are enrolled in at least:	If you are	If you are	If you are	If you are
FALL	9 hours or more	6.75-8.99	4.50-6.74	2.26-4.49	0.50-2.25
SPRING	9 hours or more	6.75-8.99	4.50-6.74	2.26-4.49	0.50-2.25
LONG SUMMER	3 hours or more	2.25-2.99	1.50-2.24	0.76-1.49	0.50-0.75

MINI-TERMS	3 hours only	2.25-2.99	1.50-2.24	0.76-1.49	0.50-0.75

Academic Load for Doctoral Programs

DBU doctoral students taking a minimum of 6 hours in a Fall, Spring, or Long Summer term are considered full-time status. Doctoral students taking a minimum of 3 hours in a Summer 1, Summer 2, Long Winter, Short Winter, or Mini-Term are considered full-time status. Doctoral students taking a minimum of 3 hours in a Fall, Spring, or Long Summer term are considered half-time status. Doctoral students working on the completion of a dissertation are considered full-time for enrollment status. Doctoral students registering for more than 6 credit hours during any semester must have the approval of the program director and dean.

Audit Policy for Master's Programs

Occasional visitation of classes by currently enrolled students is allowed with the consent of the instructor. Any extended attendance requires registration and payment of appropriate fees. Auditors are admitted to classes on a space available basis under the following guidelines:

1. Any interested person, including currently enrolled students, may audit one or more courses.
2. Non-students must complete an application for admission and be approved for enrollment by the Office of Graduate Programs. A non-refundable $25 application fee will be charged.
3. Individuals who desire to audit graduate courses must be admitted for graduate study or have documentation indicating the completion of a baccalaureate degree and approval from the Director of Graduate Programs.
4. The only period during which students may register for an audit, change a credit class to audit, or change an audit class to credit is during late registration as published in the University calendar. Appropriate tuition and fees will apply. Individuals must complete a Registration Form or Change of Schedule Form (add/drop) as appropriate. The audit class(es) should be clearly marked as such by the advisor by placing AUDIT ONLY in the course description section of the appropriate form.
5. Enrollment as an auditor is subject to the approval of the Dean of the related college. It is recommended that prospective students consult the instructors of courses in which they are interested before they register.
6. Policies governing prerequisites and academic load will be applicable.
7. An auditor is not entitled to have work evaluated by the instructor and the degree of participation is determined by the instructor and Dean. Individuals who wish to participate fully and engage in all instructional activities must register for credit and pay full tuition.
8. Auditing grants only the privilege of hearing and observing and does not grant credit. An auditor's name will appear on the instructor's class roll. In order for the designation "AU" to appear on the transcript; however, the instructor must certify at the end of the course that the individual attended at least 75% of the class meetings as an auditor. If the student attends less than 75% of the class meetings, the designation of "X" will appear on the transcript.
9. Audit and other appropriate fees, as prescribed in the University Schedule of Classes, are due at the time of registration.
10. Full-time faculty and staff members are eligible for audit tuition benefits consistent with the guidelines established in the University Tuition Remission Policy.

Continuous Progress (CP)

This is a non-traditional system of course progress for students who have been admitted to the University. CP courses are regularly scheduled courses that students may not be able to take because of a conflict in their schedule. Special approval is required from the Vice-President of Graduate Affairs and the Director of Graduate Programs for a total of more than six (6) hours of Continuous Progress courses, Independent Study/Research courses, or a combination of both. All necessary conferences are to be scheduled individually between the student and the instructor. The following policies apply to Continuous Progress courses:

1. Only students who have been admitted to the University may register for these courses during the regular registration period as published and must complete the course before the end of that semester.
2. Course work cannot begin until enrollment is completed and the course fee is paid.
3. There is a $100.00 fee per course over and above the regular tuition for each CP course. Refunds and withdrawal policy are based on the standard refund schedule and withdrawal policies as published in this catalog.
4. Authorization to take CP courses will not be given except in extenuating circumstances.
5. The dean of the college involved will approve both the student and faculty instructor for all CP courses.

In order to register for a CP course, a Continuous Progress Form must be completed and the form must state the definite plan for accomplishment of the course objective. The plan must include the course syllabus and work schedule. After the Continuous Progress Form has been completed by the instructor and signed by the student and instructor, it is then submitted by the student for approval to the dean of the college in which the course will be taught. Upon final approval by the dean of the college, regular registration procedures are followed.

Independent Study/Research Courses

This is a non-traditional system of course progress for students who have been admitted to the University. Independent Study/Research Courses are devised by professors to permit students to explore material not offered in regularly scheduled courses, or to do guided research on their own in a given discipline. Experimental course numbers (courses with a "9" as the third digit) are to be used in Independent Study/Research courses. Special approval is required from the Vice-President of Graduate Affairs and the Director of Graduate Programs for a total of more than 6 hours of Continuous Progress courses, Independent Study/Research courses, or a combination of both. All necessary conferences are to be scheduled individually between the student and the instructor. The following policies apply to Independent Study/Research courses:

1. Only students who have been admitted to the University may register for these courses during the regular registration period as published and must complete the course before the end of that semester.
2. Course work cannot begin until enrollment is completed and the course fee is paid.
3. Authorization to take Independent Study/Research courses will not be given except in extenuating circumstances.
4. The dean of the college involved will approve both the student and the faculty instructor for all Independent Study/Research courses.

In order to register for an Independent Study/Research course, an Independent Study/Research Form must be completed and the form must state the definite plan for accomplishment of the course objective. The plan must include the course syllabus and work schedule. After this form has been completed by the instructor and signed by the student and instructor, it is then submitted by the student for approval to the dean of the college in which the course will be taught. Upon final approval by the dean of the college, regular registration procedures are followed.

Adding and Dropping Courses

Within the Add/Drop deadlines as recorded in the Academic Calendar, a student may change course sections, add one or more course(s), or drop one or more course(s), with no change recorded on the permanent record. In every case the student must submit a properly executed Add/Drop Form. To be properly executed, the form must be signed and dated by the student's academic advisor and be received in the Registrar's Office. The student must withdraw from the course within the first 60% of the term, according to the date and time specified in the Schedule of Classes and the Academic Calendar. After that date, the student will not be allowed to officially withdraw from a course. If the student has entered into a financial aid agreement, the student should meet with the Financial Aid Office. In every situation, the student is responsible for making sure that the form progresses through each step in the Add/Drop process, whether the process is conducted in person on the main campus or through faxes and telephone conversations.

Any appropriate refund will be calculated according to the date the Add/Drop Form is received in the Registrar's Office. Students are subject to a fee each time a course is dropped.

Note: International students are responsible for maintaining appropriate course loads per INS guidelines. All add/drop/withdrawals can only be processed upon approval of the International Office and appropriate academic advisor.

Doctoral Extended Leave

In the rare event that a doctoral student finds that his or her unusual and unforeseen circumstances have made it impossible to continue the program, however temporarily, the student may formally petition the Faculty Committee in writing for an extended leave of absence for a specific period of time. The Faculty Committee will consider the petition at its next regularly-scheduled meeting, render the decision either to grant or to deny the request based upon a number of factors on a case-by-case deliberation, and communicate its findings in a timely manner to the student in writing. If the petition is granted, the student may exit his or her program and rejoin another cohort at the same place at a later time according to the specifics outlined by the Faculty Committee.

Official Withdrawal

It is the student's responsibility to officially withdraw from the University when necessary. Failure to officially withdraw through the Registrar's Office will cause the student to receive an "F" in each course regardless of the record at the time the student ceased to attend class. (Withdrawal from the University does not automatically withdraw the student from housing.) After the Add/Drop deadlines recorded on the Academic Calendar, a student may drop one or more courses; this is defined as Withdrawal. Withdrawal from ALL courses on ANY date is known as Official (full) Withdrawal from the University. If the Official (full) Withdrawal occurs prior to completing 60% of the semester or term, a pro-rated portion of all Federal Financial Aid received during the semester must be returned to the federal aid programs within 45 days of withdrawal. In every case the student must submit a properly executed WITHDRAWAL FORM. To be properly executed, the form must (1) be signed and dated by the instructor for EACH course and (2) be received in the Registrar's Office. If the student has entered into a financial aid agreement, the student should meet with the Financial Aid Department. Federal Financial Aid recipients who withdraw from all classes before 60% of the semester is completed, will be required to return a portion of the Federal Financial Aid received. In every situation, the student is responsible for making sure that the form progresses through each step in the withdrawal process, whether the process is conducted in person or through fax and telephone conversations. Any appropriate refund will be calculated according to the date the withdrawal form is received in the Registrar's Office. Students are subject to the appropriate fee.

Note: Once the withdrawal period has expired, the grade of "F" will be assigned for courses not completed.

Grading and Retention for Graduate Programs

Incomplete Grades. Grades of "I" may be awarded only upon the approval of the faculty member involved. The student must remove the "I" no later than thirty calendar days preceding the end of the first long semester following the awarding of the "I" (such date to be published in the Academic Calendar); otherwise the "I" will become an "F." The grade "I" may be assigned only when the student is currently passing the course and in situations involving extended illness, injury, death in the family, or as a result of employment or government reassignment (documentation required). These events must be the cause of a student's inability to complete course work.

Students who receive more than one "I" in a semester will be reviewed by the respective college's Dean and the Program Director to determine his or her eligibility for continued enrollment.

“W” Grades. A student may withdraw from a single course, or from the University completely, and be eligible to receive a “W” for the course(s). This grade will indicate that the student will not receive credit for the course nor will the course be computed in the student’s GPA. The student must withdraw from the course by the deadline date and time specified in the Schedule of Classes and the Academic Calendar. If an Official (full) Withdrawal occurs prior to completing 60% of the semester or term, a prorated portion of all Federal Financial Aid received during the semester must be returned to the Federal Aid Programs within 45 days of withdrawal.

Grade Report

Students may access their grades through DBU’s WebAdvisor information system. Grades are available for viewing upon entry of the grade by the instructor. The address for WebAdvisor is webreg.dbu.edu. Grades will not be given out through departments but may be received from the instructor at the instructor’s discretion. Grades cannot be distributed by phone or e-mail.

Grading for Doctoral Programs

Each professor determines the requirements and method of evaluating students in their courses. Students must earn a “C” or higher in every course or seminar. While a student may earn a “C” or better in all courses or seminars, all work in the doctoral program must meet program standards. Students are required, however, to maintain a grade point average of 3.25 in order to qualify for comprehensive examination. This provision applies to all courses taken as well as to all repeated courses.

According to DBU policy, students may access final grades online through the WebAdvisor System. Program faculty will not, in accordance with FERPA policies, provide grade information to students via telephone, e-mail, posting, or any other source that may compromise student confidentiality.

Seminar Absences

In the exceptional event that a doctoral cohort student must absent himself or herself from a seminar, a number of points will be deducted from the student’s seminar grade, depending upon the amount of time the student misses. The absence of a full seminar day will result in a 15-point deduction, and a half-day will result in a 7.5-point reduction. In addition, the student may be assigned a paper to be completed at the discretion of the seminar’s professor(s).

Probation and Suspension for Master's Programs

A student whose cumulative grade point average drops below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Probation and must raise his/her cumulative GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester. A student placed on Academic Probation for two consecutive terms or a total of three times in nonconsecutive terms will be suspended from academic studies.

Failing Grades

A student who receives a failing grade (F) must retake the failed class the first time it is offered or within the next 12 months.

Admissions Status: Full

A student granted Full Admission who receives a failing grade and/or whose cumulative grade point average (GPA) drops below 3.0, but not lower than 2.5, will be placed on Academic Probation and must raise his/her cumulative GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester. If the cumulative grade point average drops below 2.5, the student will be placed on Academic Probation, receive notice of Academic Suspension Pending, and be advised to resolve low grade(s) and raise GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester or face Academic Suspension.

Admissions Status: Provisional

A student granted Provisional Admission who receives grade(s) below "B" and/or whose cumulative grade point average drops below 3.0 will be placed on Academic Probation, receive notice of Academic Suspension Pending, and be advised to resolve low grade(s) and raise GPA to 3.0 or better during the next semester or face Academic Suspension.

Academic Probation, Pending Academic Suspension and Academic Suspension Defined:

Academic Probation is defined as a conditional enrollment period wherein the student must achieve and maintain a grade point average (GPA) not less than 3.0, with no grade below "B-," or face the possibility of Academic Suspension. Please note the grading system at Dallas Baptist University allots 2.67 grade points for a grade of "B-," which can result in a GPA that is below 3.0. A student placed on Academic Probation for two consecutive terms or a total of three times in nonconsecutive terms will be suspended from academic studies.

Pending Academic Suspension is defined as a probationary enrollment period of one term wherein the student must achieve and maintain a GPA not less than 3.0 or face Academic Suspension. Please note that an earned failing grade or an earned grade less than "B" during this probationary period will automatically result in Academic Suspension. The grading system at Dallas Baptist University allots 2.67 grade points for a grade of "B-," which can result in a GPA that is below 3.0.

Academic Suspension is defined as enforced academic withdrawal from all university classes due to unsatisfactory academic progress with a cumulative GPA of less than 3.0.

Probation and Suspension for Doctoral Programs

Academic Probation

A student who fails to achieve and/or maintain an overall 3.25 grade point average during any semester of enrollment will be placed on academic probation for one semester. At the end of the probationary semester, the student's academic standing will be evaluated by the Academic Director or Director of the doctoral program in consultation with program faculty and the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee. If the student has failed to bring up the grade point average to 3.25, the student may be given one final semester to make sufficient academic progress. If, following that semester, the grade point still falls below the 3.25 required for Comprehensive Examinations, the student will be disallowed further study in the program.

Dismissal from the Ed.D. Program

Although it is not expected, a student may be dismissed from the Ed.D. program for any of the following reasons:

1. Academic dishonesty
2. Failure to remove a "conditional status" within one academic year will result in prevention from further participation in the program.
3. Failure to complete the program in the allotted time. Students are allowed seven years to complete the course of study. The seven years is calculated from their first semester of enrollment and terminates on the last regular business day of the respective seventh year semester.
4. While it is possible for a student to earn a "C" in the Ed.D. program, he or she must maintain a grade point average of 3.25 in order to sit for both the Research and Statistics and the Academic Comprehensive Exams. Failure to maintain the required minimal grade point will constitute a basis for dismissal from the program.

Dismissal from the Ph.D. Program

Although it is not expected, a student may be dismissed from the Ph.D. program for any of the following reasons:

1. Academic dishonesty
2. Failure to complete the program in the allotted time. Students are allowed six years to complete the course of study. The six years is calculated from the first July semester matriculation and terminates on the last regular business day of June of the sixth year.
3. Failure to maintain continuous enrollment in the summer, fall, and spring semesters each year and pay the required fees will result in prevention from further participation in the program.
4. While it is possible for a student to earn a "C" in the Ph.D. program, he or she must maintain a grade point average of 3.25 in order to sit for both the Research and Statistics (2nd year) and the Seminar Content and Bibliography (3rd year) Comprehensive Examinations. Failure to maintain the required minimal grade point will constitute a basis for dismissal from the program.

Application for Graduation

Application for graduation from Dallas Baptist University must be made through the Registrar's Office BEFORE the published Deadline in the Academic Calendar, and preferably at least one semester before the semester of graduation. All grades must be officially transmitted to the Dallas Baptist University Registrar's Office at least four days prior to the date of graduation. Applicants who apply for graduation and fail to meet requirements must reapply and pay additional fees. The Registrar's Office will officially certify the completion of degree requirements.

Transcript of Credits

The transcript of college credits is an official copy of the student's permanent record, bearing the school seal and the signature of the Registrar. Copies of the student's transcript are available on the student's written request from the Registrar's Office. Transcripts are $5.00 each. Payments are made in advance to the Cashier's Office.

A student should allow a minimum period of two working days for delivery of the transcript after the request has been submitted either in person or in written form. A minimum period of three weeks should be allowed for the receipt of the transcript at the close of the semester for which grades are being requested.

Transcripts will not be released if the student owes money to the University except as occasionally required by law. This policy includes, but is not limited to, the library, bookstore, athletic department, or any other department or agency considered a part of the University.

Academic Conduct Policy

Consistent with the Christian character and values of Dallas Baptist University and in order to encourage and preserve the honor and integrity of the academic community, the University expects its students to maintain high Biblical standards of personal and scholarly conduct.

Honor Code

Consistent with the Christian character and values of Dallas Baptist University and in order to encourage and preserve the honor and integrity of the academic community, the University expects its students to maintain high Biblical standards of personal and scholarly conduct.

HONOR CODE

The Integrity of the upright guides them, but the unfaithful are destroyed by their duplicity. – Proverbs 11:3

It is the purpose of Dallas Baptist University to provide students with an educational experience that will allow them to grow in every aspect of their lives. Central to the success of the student is the knowledge that God made us in His own image. This reminds us that in the vast universe that reflects God's glory, humans are uniquely "crowned with glory and honor" (Arthur F. Holmes, The Idea of a Christian College).

Through the Honor Code at Dallas Baptist University students are to uphold the integrity of themselves, their fellow students, and God by maintaining the highest moral and ethical character in all aspects of their college career.

THE HONOR PLEDGE

As a student at Dallas Baptist University, I pledge to uphold the honor and integrity of myself, my fellow students, and my God to the highest moral and ethical standard. As I grow in my understanding of servant leadership, I promise to abide by all University policies and procedures. I will not lie, steal, or cheat, nor tolerate this behavior in others. I pledge to confront and expose any attempt to undermine the success of the academic or university community at DBU.

Faculty members are encouraged to remind students in their classes of this written statement of policies and procedures developed by the University in regard to cheating on examinations, plagiarism, collusion, and other academic-related misconduct.

All instructors or proctors shall have the right to examine materials in the student's possession during quizzes, examinations, and/or laboratory sessions.

In instances of cheating during an examination or other classroom or laboratory activity or exercise, the instructor shall have the right to suspend the student(s) who is (are) cheating from further work on the examination or exercise and to deny the student(s) credit for the examination or exercise.

Human Subjects Policy

Dallas Baptist University is committed to the ethical treatment of humans involved in research, safeguarding their rights and welfare; therefore, any research involving human subjects must be in compliance with DBU human subjects policies and guidelines. In order to ensure that human subjects are fully informed of their roles, the potential risks of their participation, and their rights as participants, all research is to be conducted with the utmost integrity and professionalism, under the guiding principles of respect for persons, beneficence, and justice. If the proposed research involves human subjects, the researcher must have approval from his or her professor, program director, dean and the Committee for the Protection of Human Subjects (CPHS) prior to contacting the research subjects. Failure to gain approval before interacting with research subjects will result in a denial of the research, disciplinary action, and possible legal ramifications for the researcher. Responsibility for obtaining approval from the CPHS for research resides with the researcher under the supervision of a faculty member.

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

Cheating shall be defined as copying from another student's test paper, laboratory work, other written work, or computer files and listings; using, during a test or laboratory experiment, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the test, including the sharing of calculator results or information and the unauthorized use of cellular telephones, palm pilots, blackberry devices and other electronic tools to improperly access or share information; willfully cooperating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or laboratory experiment without permission; knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release; substituting for another student, or permitting another student to substitute for oneself, to take a test or other assignment or to make a presentation.

Plagiarism shall be defined as the appropriation, theft, purchase, memorization, or obtaining by any means another's work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one's own offered for credit. (Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another's work, words, or ideas without appropriate citation of the source(s).)

Re-submission of assignments shall be defined as submitting any work previously submitted by the student for credit in another course. Such action is prohibited unless previously approved by the current instructor.

Collusion shall be defined as the unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit. A student is not guilty of collusion if he or she merely discusses with another a matter relevant to the work in question.

Abuse of resource materials shall be defined as mutilating, destroying, concealing, or stealing such materials.

Computer misuse shall be defined as unauthorized or illegal use or destruction of computer software or hardware through the DBU Information Technology Department or through any programs, terminals, or freestanding computer owned, leased, or operated by DBU or any of its academic units.

Classroom misconduct shall be defined as any conduct by a student during a class meeting which is disrespectful of another person or disrupts the progress and continuation of the class in the judgment of the instructor, regardless of the time and location for the class meeting. This includes texting, surfing the web, earbud/Bluetooth use, etc.

Possible Actions for Academic Misconduct

Any one or more of the actions listed below may be taken with regard to a student who has engaged in academic misconduct.

A. Action by the Faculty Member

1. Handle as a confidential matter between the student and the faculty member.
2. Notify the dean that an incident has occurred and has been dealt with.
3. Assign a grade of "F" (or a zero) for the examination or assignment.
4. Recommend to the dean that the student be dropped immediately from the course with a grade of "F." This grade cannot be changed by student-initiated withdrawal.
5. If the alleged incident occurs during a final examination, an "I" (incomplete) shall be given to the student until a decision is made.

B. Action by the Dean

1. Place a written incident report in the student's permanent University record.
2. Uphold the action by the faculty member.
3. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be placed on probation at the University for a specified period of time.
4. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be suspended from the University for a specified period of time.
5. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be expelled from the University.

C. Action by the Associate Provost

1. Place the student on probation at the University for a specified period of time.
2. Suspend the student from the University for a specified period of time.
3. Expel the student from the University.

Academic Appeal and Academic Misconduct Procedure

Applications for a formal academic appeal are available in the Office of the Registrar. In order to ensure an appeal process that is fair and timely to all parties involved, the following procedure is in place for academic appeals.

- If the student wishes to file a formal concern regarding classroom procedure, the process starts with step 1a below.
- Should the faculty member find a student subject to academic misconduct as defined in the University catalog, the process starts with step 1b below.
- If a student wishes to raise grounds for challenging a specific academic policy of the University, not the resolution of an academic matter with a faculty member or other responsible person, the appeals process begins with step 7 below.

Upon receipt of a formal written appeal in the Office of the Registrar, the procedure below will be followed.

1a. The student should schedule a conference with the faculty member (or other individual directly responsible) within 14 calendar days after the posting of grades. The faculty member (or other individual) may resolve the problem at that point. (Skip to step 2.)

1b. If there are reasons for a faculty member to believe that a student has engaged in academic misconduct, the faculty member shall notify the student of the charges. The student should contact the faculty member within 14 calendar days after the posting of grades to arrange a conference with the faculty member.

2. If the faculty member is unavailable, the student shall notify the dean of the appropriate college in writing within seven additional calendar days that he/she is seeking a conference with the faculty member. The conference shall be held at the earliest possible convenience of the faculty member and the student.

3. If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student, he/she may submit a written appeal to the dean of the appropriate college (and the chair of the appropriate department, if applicable) within seven calendar days of the conference.

4. The dean of the appropriate college (and the chair of the appropriate department, if applicable) shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved persons within seven calendar days of receiving the appeal from the student.

5. The dean shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within seven calendar days after the conference.

6. If the student believes the decision of the dean is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the appropriate undergraduate or graduate Academic Appeals Committee in writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the dean.

7. The Academic Appeals Committee shall establish a regular monthly meeting date for the purpose of hearing appeals. The date shall be published in all appropriate university publications. The deadline for filing an appeal shall be one week prior to a meeting. Appeals filed after the deadline will be heard at the next meeting of the committee. All parties involved shall be notified of the meeting date at which the appeal will be heard and given the opportunity to be present.

8. The Academic Appeals Committee shall notify all parties in writing of its decision within seven calendar days.

9. If a student believes the decision of the Academic Appeals Committee is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the Vice President for Graduate and Corporate Affairs writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the Academic Appeals Committee.

10. If requested, the Vice President for Graduate Affairs shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved parties to be held within 14 calendar days of the receipt of the student's appeal.

11. The Vice President for Graduate Affairs shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within 14 calendar days after the conference.

Note 1: The Academic Appeal and Academic Misconduct Appeal Procedure is an internal academic process of the University and legal counsel may not participate in any conference or hearing.

Note 2: Faculty members have the same right of appeal as the student at each stage of the above process.

Doctoral Academic Appeal Procedure

In order to ensure an appeal process that is fair and timely to all parties involved, the following procedure is in place for academic appeals.

- If the student wishes to file a formal concern regarding classroom procedure, the process starts with step 1 below.
- If a student wishes to raise grounds for challenging a specific academic policy of the University, not the resolution of an academic matter with a faculty member or other responsible person, the appeals process begins with step 2 below.

Upon receipt of a formal written appeal, the procedure below will be followed.

1. The student should schedule a conference with the faculty member (or other individual directly responsible) within 14 calendar days after the posting of grades. The faculty member (or other individual) may resolve the problem at that point.
2. If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student, he/she may submit a written appeal to the dean of the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership within seven calendar days of the conference.
3. The dean shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved persons within seven calendar days of receiving the appeal from the student.
4. The dean shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within seven calendar days after the conference.
5. If the student believes the decision of the dean is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Committee in writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the dean.
6. The Committee shall establish a meeting date for the purpose of hearing appeals. All parties involved shall be notified of the meeting date at which the appeal will be heard and given the opportunity to be present.
7. The Committee shall notify all parties in writing of its decision within seven calendar days.
8. If the student believes the decision of the Committee is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the Ed.D. or Ph.D. Council in writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the dean.
9. The Council shall establish a meeting date for the purpose of hearing appeals. All parties involved shall be notified of the meeting date at which the appeal will be heard and given the opportunity to be present.
10. The Council shall notify all parties in writing of its decision within seven calendar days.
11. If a student believes the decision of the Council is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the Vice President for Graduate Affairs in writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the Council.
12. If requested, the Vice President shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved parties to be held within 14 calendar days of the receipt of the student's appeal.
13. The Vice President shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within 14 calendar days after the conference.

Note: The Doctoral Academic Appeal Procedure is an internal academic process of the University and legal counsel may not participate in any conference or hearing.

Attendance Policy

According to DBU academic policy, attendance in class is considered a necessary factor in the learning process. Therefore, absences for all reasons must be kept to a minimum and should not exceed 25 percent of the total class time. Students are held responsible for all academic work required or performed during their absence regardless of the reasons for those absences. Students who register late are responsible for work missed. The policy concerning class attendance for individual courses, seminars, or other guided learning experiences will be determined by the faculty members in charge of such course, seminar, or learning experience.

Cell Phone and Electronic Device Policy

Classroom disruption by cell phones or other electronic devices is prohibited. All cell phones and similar electronic devices must remain turned off and out of sight for the duration of class. This includes headphones and Bluetooth devices. Electronic devices utilized in a learning context, such as laptops and language interpreters, may be permitted at the professor's discretion. The use of electronic devices in class is a privilege, and should be used by students for course specific work only, not for social networking or any other activities. The professor reserves the right to ban their use at any time.

A student may face a zero and/or failure in the class if an electronic device is used for cheating during a test. Cheating at Dallas Baptist University is not tolerated and may result in expulsion.

Children in Classes and Unaccompanied Children

Minor children of DBU students are not permitted to attend class with their parents. Furthermore, minor children may not be unaccompanied at any location or property where DBU classes are taught. If a minor child is brought to the DBU campus or a location where DBU classes are taught, the child must be accompanied by an adult at all times. For their safety and welfare, unaccompanied children on the DBU campus will be escorted to the Campus Security Office, and the parent or guardian will be summoned to pick them up immediately.

Electronic Mail Policy

The use of electronic mail (e-mail) through the University network is a privilege, not a right. Its use is limited to staff, administration, faculty, and enrolled students. Violations of this policy may be dealt with in the same disciplinary manner as violations of other university policies. The full range of disciplinary sanctions is available including the loss of network usage privileges, dismissal from the University, and legal action. Violation of some of the policies may constitute a criminal offense. The purpose of the e-mail policy is to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of campus communication. All persons using a DBU computer lab must also comply with the applicable DBU computer lab access policy.

The following policies govern the responsible use of e-mail:

1. E-mail should reasonably relate to University matters and educational uses. Items such as chain letters, fund raisers, commercial use, and mass national distribution are not allowed. Accordingly, the DBU campus e-mail system cannot be used as an avenue to advertise the selling of goods or soliciting donations from students, faculty, staff, or student organizations. USE OF THE DBU NETWORK FOR PERSONAL TRANSACTIONS IS AT YOUR OWN RISK. Server failures and other computer problems will sometimes occur. Despite having an excellent computer staff, the University makes no warranty or guarantee about the operation of its computers, network, or access to the Internet.
2. Fraudulent, harassing, obscene, or pornographic messages and images are not to be sent, received, forwarded, printed, requested, or stored. E-mail which relates to participation in gambling or which constitutes copyright infringement is prohibited. Any communication that violates DBU policies and/or local, state, or federal laws and regulations are likewise prohibited.
3. The content, confidentiality, and maintenance of an electronic mailbox is the responsibility of the person to whom the e-mail account is assigned.
4. Each person is responsible for deleting outdated and unnecessary messages. Accounts accumulating excess e-mail will be reviewed and addressed by the Information Technology Department.
5. Any college or department may send e-mail to 10 or more users within the college or department with the approval of the academic dean or the head of the department.
6. Any e-mail addressed to 10 or more users (including all users) that has not been previously approved, or 10 or more users outside your college or department, must be approved by the appropriate vice president.
7. Be aware of forged mail. If a person has acquired another individual's password, forged mail can be sent. Also, e-mail that originates from outside DBU may not be subject to strict security. If a message appears out of character for the sender, it may be a forgery and you should contact the sender by another means for verification.
8. Although there are individual access passwords to voicemail, e-mail, and computer network systems, these systems are accessible at all times to and by the University and may be subject to periodic, unannounced inspections by the University for business purposes. Backup copies of e-mail and voicemail may be maintained by the University and may be reviewed.
9. Dallas Baptist University is not legally responsible for the personal online activities or publications of individuals, which are solely a result of their individual, independent judgment. Persons who use the resources and equipment of DBU to individually publish any opinions, material, or other information expressly assume all responsibility and liability for that publication and waive any right to make claims against the University for injury or damages resulting from that use. This includes claims for libel as well as copyright and patent infringement.
10. Sending or downloading large files (anything over 15 Megabytes), such as ZIP files, large video files, or music files.

Internet Policy

All users of the Internet through the DBU computer network must conform to DBU policy for use of its computer facilities and also conform to all federal and state laws. Use of the Internet should be consistent with DBU's emphasis on Christian values and guidelines. The DBU user is responsible for his/her actions while using campus computer network services, including the Internet. While a limited, reasonable amount of personal use is permissible, access of the Internet through the DBU network should generally relate to University matters and educational uses. USE OF THE DBU NETWORK FOR PERSONAL COMMUNICATION OR TRANSACTIONS IS AT YOUR OWN RISK. Server failures and other computer problems will sometimes occur. Despite having an excellent computer staff, the University makes no warranty or guarantee about the operation of its computers, network, or access to the Internet.

The Internet is not to be accessed through the DBU network by any individual using another person's login and password. The person to whom an account is assigned will be held responsible for activities that take place with that account.

The posting of any Internet messages by DBU users, including through a "LISTSERV" group, which purport to have or indicate sponsorship by the University, is prohibited unless specifically authorized in advance by the appropriate vice president.

It is required that you have an active anti-virus scanning program running on your PC. You must have an update subscription service to keep your virus patterns up-to-date. If found without this software, your Internet privileges may be revoked.

Spyware is becoming a more prevalent way of attacking your PC from the Internet. We require that you download some type of spyware scanning program. Please see Information Technology for software suggestions. A free anti-virus and anti-Spam product can be downloaded at www.dbu.edu/computers.

Use of the DBU computer network, including access to the Internet, is a privilege, not a right. It may be revoked at any time for misuse. Examples of misuse include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. placing unlawful information on a system;
2. hacking within or outside the campus community;
3. accessing, sending, printing, or storing fraudulent, harassing, racist, obscene, or pornographic material;
4. copyright and patent infringements;
5. participation in gambling;
6. plagiarism;
7. creating, downloading, or sending viruses;
8. commercial purposes, such as operating a business;
9. any activity that unreasonably limits or drains DBU network resources and/or is illegal, such as some Internet gaming or downloading videos, movies, large quantities of music, or other excessively large files.
10. connecting any hardware to the Internet that is not sanctioned by Computer & Technology (i.e., personal wireless hubs, signal boosters, etc.)

Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action. The University has the ability to identify Internet addresses accessed by campus users and may periodically monitor such usage.

Dallas Baptist University is not legally responsible for the personal online activities or publications of individuals, which are solely a result of their individual, independent judgment. Persons who use the resources and equipment of DBU to individually publish any opinions, material, or other information expressly assume all responsibility and liability for that publication as well as waive any right to make claims against the University for injury or damages resulting from that use. This includes claims for libel as well as copyright and patent infringement.

Copyright Information

Dallas Baptist University prohibits all users of DBU network resources from violating applicable copyright laws and encourages the use of freely available resources as an alternative to copyright infringement.

Copyright Infringement

Avoid Peer to Peer File Sharing

The safest way to avoid copyright infringement trouble is to avoid using peer-to-peer and other file sharing software altogether.

Use Legal Alternatives

There are plenty of legal alternatives — and plenty of options: including pay-per-song, subscription, and streaming — many are free. Also to note, free doesn't always mean illegal, and not all paid services are legal. It's your job to make sure.

Disable outbound sharing

If you still intend to use peer-to-peer or other file sharing software, ensure that it's not configured to automatically share the files on your computer. If configured improperly, malware (viruses), spyware, or identity theft could await you.

Hardware Sharing

Be aware when others use your computer or mobile device. If the machine connected to the network is registered to you, you'll be the one contacted after an incident.

Educate yourself

Learn how peer-to-peer (P2P) software works and how software can be used to pirate music, and then avoid it. This site serves as a great place to start.

Read the Fine Print

Legal sites should have documentation available proving that their service doesn't violate copyright laws.

Get permission to share

Confirm that the distributor of a file you are interested in downloading has permission from the copyright holder to distribute it. Assume you don't have permission to download or distribute a file unless you have proof to the contrary.

Ask

If all else fails, ask — the software company in question, a lawyer, or contact us. We're not lawyers, but we'll give you our best opinion.

Legal Alternatives to File Sharing

The following list is composed of some of the more popular legal alternatives to file sharing currently available. DBU endorses the use of these solutions only in that they provide legal methods for downloading online content; DBU does not endorse any specific product, site, or service.

Summary of Civil and Criminal Penalties for Violation of Federal Copyright Laws

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or "statutory" damages affixed at not less than $750 and not more than $30,000 per work infringed. For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $150,000 per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505.

Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $250,000 per offense.

Financial Information

Student Charges

For current tuition, room, and board charges, and for special fees, please consult the DBU online catalog or current DBU Schedule of Classes.

Cost Changes

Because economic conditions fluctuate, the University reserves the right to change tuition and other charges at the beginning of any semester if such change is judged necessary by the University.

Payment Policies & Procedures

All charges for the semester are due and payable at registration. Cash, check, MasterCard, VISA, Discover, or American Express are accepted. It is the responsibility of the student to contact the Cashier's Office each semester to arrange payment for their semester courses.

NOTE: Students who fail to make payment arrangements for a semester's tuition account will be automatically placed on an installment note, and charged applicable payment plan/ late fees for their balance.

Financial Aid

A student whose guaranteed financial aid covers 100% of the student's balance is not required to provide payment at the time of registration. A Financial Aid Student whose guaranteed financial aid covers less than 100% of the student's balance is required to pay in full the balance that is not covered by financial aid at the time of registration or complete an installment note for the balance that is not covered by financial aid. If the student chooses to complete the installment note, the student must pay the ¼ down payment at the time of registration. The balance remaining, after the ¼ down payment, is to be paid in three equal monthly payments as required in the installment note. A "less than 100%" Financial Aid Student may not use confirmed financial aid in lieu of the ¼ down payment.

NOTE: Financial aid from a current award year may not be used to pay a past due balance from a previous financial aid year.

Installment Note

An Installment Note Student is a student who has a balance after registration for courses, has all financial aid applied and tuition reimbursement obtained and is eligible for the Deferred Payment Account option for the remaining balance. In lieu of confirmed financial aid, a deferred payment plan requiring a 25% payment of all tuition and fees at registration and the balance in three equal monthly payments. A $50.00 deferred tuition administration fee will be assessed to the student account when utilizing the deferred payment plan.

In addition, a Zero-Down installment note can be utilized at the time of registration for eligible students. The Zero-Down installment note does not require payment at the time of registration, deferring installment note payments are made payable in four equal monthly payments. A $50.00 deferred tuition administration fee and a $35.00 Zero-Down Fee will be assessed to the student account when utilizing this installment note. All qualified students who have not paid in full, or have made other qualified payment arrangements at the time of registration will be automatically placed on a Zero-Down installment note.

When utilizing an installment note, a late payment fee of $35.00 will be assessed for each instance that the student's payment is received late, insufficient and/or is not received at all.

NOTE: Mini-terms are not eligible to be placed on an installment note unless they are taken with a long semester course.

Corporate Reimbursement

In order to utilize the corporate reimbursement agreement, a student must have a portion of or all of the charges reimbursed by his employer. Any student whose employer reimburses less than 50% will complete an installment note for the balance of the charges that are not covered by the employer. Below are the requirements for the corporate reimbursement agreement.

- The employer portion must be received during the following payment dates:
Fall Semester: February 1
Spring Semester: July 1
Summer Semester: October 1

- Any student whose employer reimburses less than 100% of the student's charges must either immediately pay the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges or complete an installment note for the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges.
- If the employer does not pay tuition, fees, or other charges, then the student is responsible for immediate payment of his/her account to Dallas Baptist University.
- The student authorizes Dallas Baptist University to release grade report(s) or transcripts and any other financial or academic information concerning his/her account to the employer.

NOTE: Corporate Reimbursement students who are not approved to take online courses will be automatically put on an installment note for their online course portion of their tuition balance and charge appropriate payment plan fees.

Direct Employer Paid Arrangements

Students who are employees of companies which pay DBU directly for all or part of the student's cost of tuition and fees may register by providing DBU the appropriate form with the required signatures on or before registration. It is the responsibility of the student to provide the appropriate documentation when registering as a Direct Employer Paid Student.

Any student whose employer reimburses less than 100% of student's charges must either immediately pay the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges or complete an installment note for the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges. A "less than 100%" Direct Bill Student may not use the employer reimbursement in lieu of the ¼ down payment. If for any reason the employer does not make a payment to DBU, students are responsible for all charges. The student must pay the employer's portion of the reimbursed charge if the employer's portion is not received within 45 days from the date of the last class meeting. All balances must be paid at the time required or the actions noted below will result.

International Students

All International students are required to pay their balance in full at the time of registration. Based on the student's payment history, returning International Students may qualify for the option of using a Purple Form in lieu of an Installment Payment Plan. Students need to complete a Purple Form available from the International Office. After receiving the International Office's approval for the Purple Form, students can drop it off at the Cashier's Office for the Director's review and approval. Students can return on the same day to pick up the Purple Form and proceed with Registration.

Cohort Program Students

A Cohort is a group of students who progress through their education program together within their school district and with the approval of a DBU Program Director. Cohort students receive a University scholarship for a percentage of their total tuition, less any fees. The Cohort student is responsible to make payment for the remaining portion of their tuition balance not covered by their scholarship at the time of registration.

If a Cohort student receives an employer reimbursement or payment benefit from their district, the student must identify this benefit to the Cashier's Office and make arrangements for the remaining amount owed less their scholarship and employer benefit. If the employer does not pay tuition, fees, or other charges within 45 days after the last class date, then the student is responsible for immediate payment of his/her account to Dallas Baptist University.

Veteran Students

A Veteran student is a student who receives tuition assistance for all or part of their student charges paid directly from the Department of Veteran Affairs. Any Veteran student who receives less than a 100% benefit from the VA must either immediately pay the remaining portion of the student's charges or complete an installment note for their remaining non-tuition assistance portion of the student's charges.

Semester Final Payment Dates

Fall Semester: November 1
Spring Semester: April 1
Summer Semester: July 1

Some employers will reimburse for all or a portion of your tuition expenses. Employer paid students are allowed deferment in order to be reimbursed by their employer after submitting class grades for the semester. The final payment dates for all employer paid students are as follows:

Fall Semester: February 1
Spring Semester: July 1
Summer Semester: October 1

Actions for Unpaid Accounts

The following actions will result for any student who has not paid their account balance in full or has not made financial arrangements with the Office of Financial Aid and/or the Cashier's Office:

- Not being allowed to use the Deferred Payment Account option in subsequent semesters
- Immediate withdrawal from enrolled courses
- Restriction and/or removal of student services access (blackboard, wireless internet, fitness center, library)
- Removal from current dormitory residence
- Denial of dining hall privileges
- Denial of access to final exams
- Denial of access to final semester grades
- Denial of access to transcripts
- Denial of ability to be advised for or register for any additional courses
- The student will not graduate
- The student will not have the degree conferred/posted on the student's transcript
- Denial of participation in commencement exercises, and/or
- Denial of access to student's diploma upon graduation.

In the event that an account has not been paid in full within 2 months from the end of the semester, DBU may submit the account to a collection agency. DBU will add a collection agency fee of not less than 33 1/3% of the remaining balance owed, which is a reasonable fee for collection agency service regardless of the dollar amount owed.

If you have any questions regarding your account, or if you are experiencing difficulty with resolving your balance by the corresponding semester due date, please contact the Cashier's Office immediately in order to develop further options to resolve your account. You may contact us by phone: (214) 333-5336, or email: cashier@dbu.edu. If you have questions regarding your financial aid, please call the Office of Financial Aid at (214) 333-5363.

Graduating Students

Any graduating student must pay the previous and the present account balances in full by the time designated in the graduation application materials provided by the Registrar's Office, or the student will be denied the privilege of participation in commencement exercises and access to his or her diploma upon graduation. The student will be allowed to participate in a commencement exercise only after the previous and present balances are paid in full.

Dropping and(or) Adding a Course

When a student drops and adds an equal number of credit hours within the same term, it is considered an even exchange and no prorated refund is calculated. If a student drops and adds courses within different terms, or drops a course after it starts, credit and/or prorated refund for courses dropped will be determined based on the percentage noted in the Schedule of Classes for that particular semester. Courses added will be charged at full tuition rates. In either case, the student will be subject to the Add/Drop fee of $25.00 and any other applicable fees.

During the Late Registration period, a student who officially drops a course(s) by going through the established procedure will not receive a grade for the course and will be subject to the same refund policy as a student who withdraws from school.

CAUTION: Any change in your class schedule may affect your financial aid. If you are receiving any form of financial assistance, check with the Financial Aid Office before changing your schedule. If you stop attending classes or withdraw from the University before completing at least 60% of the semester or term, you will be required to repay a portion of any federal financial aid you received.

Refund Policy

A student may receive partial or full credit for the semester's tuition charge if he/she completes the official add/drop or withdrawal process through the Registrar's Office. Please refer to the appropriate semester Schedule of Classes to determine the appropriate refund calculation. In the event of a course cancellation by the University, credit equal to 100% of tuition and fees will be given. Late Registration and/or absences from class have no bearing on refunds. Students suspended for academic or disciplinary reasons will not be entitled to a refund of tuition, fees, or housing.

Refunds of credit balances on student accounts will require a minimum of two weeks to be paid after the student has officially withdrawn through the Registrar's Office. Financial aid payments are applied to student accounts after the close of the add/drop period. Credit balance refunds will be issued within two weeks after the financial aid is applied to the account. A refund will be issued only if the student's balance is paid in full.

NOTE: Financial aid recipients who withdraw before 60% of the semester is completed will also be required to return a portion of the federal financial aid received. For further information, please consult the Financial Aid section of the catalog.

Transcript Requests

Students must pay a transcript request fee plus any outstanding account balance with cash, check, or credit card. However, if the student desires his or her transcript to be processed within two working days, he or she must pay with cash or credit card. There will be a ten (10) day hold on transcript requests paid for by check.

Medical Insurance

Medical Insurance is available to all students at the time of registration and is mandatory for residence hall students, apartment students, international students, and athletes. To obtain information and/or purchase the university student insurance plan, please contact the Cashier's Office.

NOTE: International Students will be automatically charged the university student insurance plan upon registration unless a proof of insurance waiver is completed and approved by the Cashier's Office.

Bookstore Vouchers

A bookstore voucher is available during the Cashier's Office operation hours for students whose guaranteed financial aid will provide a credit balance. Bookstore vouchers are only available for a limited time at the beginning of an academic semester's registration period. Book voucher cut-off dates are variable each semester. Contact the Cashier's Office to obtain information on receiving a bookstore voucher.

Financial Aid

The Office of Financial Aid at Dallas Baptist University seeks to support the goals of the University through its mission statement: "To counsel, serve, and assist students in obtaining adequate financial assistance to allow them to meet the financial obligations associated with their attendance at DBU in pursuit and fulfillment of their educational goals while maintaining the equitable and efficient administration of federal, state, institutional, and private financial resources of the University."

The primary purpose of student financial aid is to provide supplemental resources for students who otherwise would be unable to pursue a graduate education. It is the philosophy of the university that the primary responsibility of educating a student first lies with the student. Financial Aid is offered as an additional resource to assist the student.

Eligibility

Eligibility for federal and state student aid is based on need and on several other factors as follows::

- Demonstrate financial need (except for certain loans)
- Be accepted for admission at DBU and working toward a degree or certificate in an eligible program at DBU
- Be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen
- Have a valid Social Security Number (see Office of Financial Aid for exceptions)
- Be registered with Selective Service if required.
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress once in school
- Certify that you are not in default on a federal student loan and do not owe money on a federal grant
- Certify that you will use student aid only for educational purposes

To be eligible for institutional scholarships, the student must be in good standing and be making satisfactory progress toward his or her educational goals. Additional eligibility requirements may exist for each specific award as stated in the scholarship section of the catalog.

Financial Aid Application Process and Deadlines

Application Forms

To apply for financial aid at DBU, applicants must annually complete the following forms:

1. The 2010-11 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the form used by all universities for the awarding of federal and state college aid. The official FAFSA can be completed online at www.FAFSA.ed.gov First time applicants may apply for a federal PIN number which can be used to electronically sign the FAFSA. The FAFSA is available after the first of the year for the upcoming academic year. DBU school code is 003560.
2. 2010-11 DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships (fall 2010 and spring 2011 semesters). The 2011 DBU Summer Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships will be available on or after March 1, 2011. Forms may be accessed at www.dbu.edu/financialaid
3. Additional documents may be required by the Department of Education or the DBU Office of Financial Aid to complete your file. Such documents may include federal tax returns, verification of untaxed income, proof of citizenship or permanent residency, proof of Selective Service Registration, etc. Students will receive notification of needed documents.

Application Deadlines:

The Office of Financial Aid makes every effort to provide funds to students as long as funds are available. However, priority deadlines exist because some funds are limited.

- March 4, 2010 was the priority deadline to complete his or her financial aid file to receive maximum consideration for federal or state financial aid for the fall/spring semesters.
- Continuing students who wish to apply for Honor's Day Scholarships for the 2011-2012 academic year must have a complete financial aid file by March 4, 2011.
- Students who fail to meet the priority deadline should apply as soon as possible or at least within 30-45 days before they need to register for classes to allow for processing time. If financial aid is not awarded and guaranteed by registration, the student will be expected to make payment arrangements with the Cashier's Office using personal resources at the time of registration. (See the Cashier's section for Payment Policy).

- Late applications are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the semester. However, students will be expected to make payment arrangements with the Cashier's Office using personal resources at the time of registration. (See the Cashier's section for payment policy). No retroactive applications are allowed past the end of the enrollment period.

Awarding Policies and Procedures

Once a student's financial aid file is complete and the student has been accepted for admission, a financial aid counselor will review the file for awarding. Applicants will be sent an award notification letter advising them of aid eligibility and instructions for finalizing their award(s).

Cost of Attendance (Student Budget)

First of all the Cost of Attendance is calculated (based on allowable educational costs allowed by law). The cost of attendance includes tuition and fees, the cost of room and board, books and supplies, transportation and miscellaneous expenses. Costs unrelated to the completion of a student's course of study are not included in calculating the student's cost of attendance.

Expected Family Contribution (EFC)

The information reported on the FAFSA is used to determine an Expected Family Contribution (EFC), which is calculated by a formula established by the U. S. Congress. This number is used in determining eligibility for federal and state aid. The EFC is subtracted from the Cost of Attendance to determine financial need.

Financial Need

Most federal and state financial aid programs and some outside aid programs are based on demonstrated financial need. The Office of Financial Aid makes every effort to assist students in meeting his/her financial need using all resources available. In addition, other "non-need based" aid is also available.

DBU Packaging Policy

After institutional and outside scholarships and other resources are considered, and a student continues to have remaining unmet need, additional need-based grants (gift aid) are awarded provided the student meets all eligibility criteria and funds are available.

After gift aid sources have been applied, then additional awards are packaged from self-help types of aid (employment and loans). Student employment is considered if the student requests work-study on the DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships, if the student has adequate need, and if work-study funds are available. When eligibility for all other funds has been exhausted, loans are offered to fill the remaining need or cost of attendance.

For programs that have limited funds available for awarding, they will be awarded based on a completed application date. Once all available funds are awarded, subsequently eligible students will be placed on a waiting list in case additional funds become available.

Financial Aid and Academic Load

Cost of Attendance and financial aid awards are based on the student's academic load for the semester as projected on the DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships. For financial aid purposes, the student is awarded based on full-time, half-time, or less than half-time enrollment status.

Because different aid programs require different minimum enrollment statuses, the following chart will assist you in knowing what statuses are acceptable for federal and state programs:

Master's Student Enrollment Status

Full time = 9 or more credit hours

½ time = 4.5 – 8.99 credit hours

Less than ½ time = .5 – 4.49 credit hours

Doctoral Student Enrollment Status

Full time = 6 or more credit hours

½ time = 3 – 5.99 credit hours

Less than ½ time = .5 – 2.99 credit hours

The Cost of Attendance and financial aid is based on actual enrollment status on the school census date. If a student drops below the enrollment status for which aid was awarded or if a student fails to begin class attendance in some of their classes, the cost of attendance and aid programs are adjusted. Please review the Programs of Financial Aid in this catalog for specific full-time or half-time course load requirements.

Financial Aid Eligible Terms and Class Attendance

Students must be enrolled in standard fifteen week long semester terms to be eligible for government financial aid. Students may receive aid for mini-terms provided they are also enrolled in a regular semester term.

- August mini classes are added to fall term credit hours for financial aid
- December Mini-term, Short Winter Term, Long Winter Term, and January Mini-Term classes are added to spring term credit hours for financial aid.
- May mini classes are added to the Long Summer term or Summer I term credit hours for financial aid. The standard summer term is the long summer term or a combination of Summer I and Summer II terms.
- If a student is registered for a mini-term during a standard long semester (such as a fall break mini, Thanksgiving mini, or Spring break mini) but drops before the class begins or fails to attend the class then financial aid for the class will be removed and the Cost of Attendance (budget) will be adjusted.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

You have the right to know ...

- What financial aid programs are available at Dallas Baptist University.
- The deadline for submitting application for each of the programs.
- How financial aid will be distributed, how decisions on distributions are made, and the basis for these decisions.
- How your financial aid was determined. (Costs for tuition, fees, room, board, travel, books and supplies, personal and miscellaneous expenses are considered in your budget).
- What resources (your current assets, parental contribution, other financial aid, etc.) were considered in the calculation of your need.
- How much of your financial need as determined by DBU has been met.
- The details of the various programs in your student aid package.
- What portion of the financial aid you received must be repaid, and what portion is grant aid. If the aid is a loan, you have the right to know the interest rate, the total amount that must be repaid, the payback procedures, and the length of time you have to repay the loan, and when the repayment is to begin.
- How DBU determines if you are making satisfactory progress and what happens if you are not.

In Accepting Your Responsibilities You Must ...

- Complete all application forms accurately and submit them on time to the proper place.
- Provide correct information. In most instances, knowingly misreporting information on financial aid application forms is a violation of law and may be considered a criminal offense which could result in indictment under the U.S. Criminal Code.
- Return all additional documentation, verification, corrections, and/or new information requested by either the Office of Financial Aid or the agency to which you submitted your application.
- Be responsible for reading and understanding all forms that you are asked to sign, and for keeping copies of them.
- Live up to all agreements that you sign.
- Perform the work agreed on in accepting a University work-study award.
- Be aware of and comply with deadlines for application or reapplication for aid.
- Be aware of the DBU refund procedures.
- Be aware that early withdrawal from the term may result in a pro rata reduction of financial aid eligibility. Such a reduction may require that you repay money that you received to attend school.
- Report changes in name, address, and telephone number to the proper office.

Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP)

Dallas Baptist University has the following standards and practices of Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (FASAP) for students who receive financial assistance. To be in compliance with federal, state or institutional student aid programs we must apply qualitative and quantitative measurements to academic work. (34CFR 668.16(e)). Cumulative grade point average (CGPA) for students enrolled using a catalog prior to the Fall of 2009 is based on institutional and accepted transferred credits. CGPA for students starting the Fall of 2009 semester is based only on institutionally earned credit hours.

PLEASE NOTE: Eligibility to receive financial aid is different from academic probation or suspension. The Registrar's Office determines if students are eligible to continue taking classes at DBU, and will notify them accordingly.

Federal and Institutional Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (FASAP) is defined as:

1. Qualitative Standards – Maintain a 2.0 CGPA for undergraduate students (3.0 CGPA for Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG) and 3.0 GPA each semester for National SMART Grant) and a 3.0 CGPA for master or doctoral students.
2. Quantitative Standards – Complete the course load (credit hours) for which funds were paid
3. Program Completion – Make positive progress toward a program (certificate or degree) of study. (Federal Programs see "Time Allowed for Program Completion" below)

State Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (FASAP) is defined as:

1. Qualitative Standards – Maintain a 2.5 CGPA for undergraduate or graduate students.
2. Quantitative Standards – Complete a minimum of 24 credit hours as an undergraduate and 18 hours as a master student (Fall and Spring combined.)

Failure to meet ANY of the above standards will result in a student being placed on financial aid probation, suspension, or in denial of financial aid.

Evaluation of Academic Progress	Students who receive assistance for Fall and Spring semesters are evaluated once a year for FASAP at the end of the spring semester. National SMART Grant recipients are evaluated for FASAP at the end of each semester. Certificate Programs (programs less than one year in length) recipients are evaluated for FASAP at the end of each semester. Students who receive financial assistance for one or more summer sessions will have their summer evaluated for FASAP at the end of the last summer session.
Interim Enrollment	Interim enrollment period is a semester(s) when a student attends, but does not receive financial assistance. Students enrolled during an interim enrollment period will also be evaluated for FASAP.
GPA Requirements (Qualitative)	Federal and Institutional Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (FASAP) requires a student maintain a 2.0 CGPA for undergraduate students (3.0 GPA for Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG) and 3.0 semester GPA for National SMART Grant) and a 3.0 CGPA for master or doctoral students. TEG and Texas Grant recipients must maintain a 2.5 CGPA for undergraduate or graduate students.
Course Completion Requirements (Quantitative)	Federal financial aid recipients must be making progress toward completing their program of enrollment by completing two-thirds (66.67%) of the credit hours attempted during the academic year. Examples: (all hours are rounded to the next whole number) <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) If a student attempted 12 hours in the Fall and 12 hours in the Spring, the student would be expected to successfully complete at least 16 hours to be making progress. (12 hours Fall + 12 hours Spring = 24 attempted hours, therefore 24 hours attempted x 66.67% = 16 hours) 2) If a student attempted 14 hours in the Fall and 6 hours in the Spring, the student would be expected to successfully complete at least 14 hours to be making progress. (14 hours Fall + 6 hours Spring = 20 attempted hours, therefore 20 hours attempted x 66.67% = 13.34 rounded to 14 hours) State TEG recipients must complete 24 hours within the academic year for undergraduate students and 18 hours for master students to be making progress. Students may use courses taken during a May Mini Semester or Summer semesters. Example: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) If a student attempted 12 hours in the Fall and earned twelve hours, the student would be

	expected to successfully complete at least 12 hours in the Spring to be making progress. (12 hours Fall + 12 hours Spring = 24 hours earned) 2) If a student attempted 12 hours in the Fall and only earned 9 hours, the student would be expected to successfully complete at least 15 hours in the spring to be making progress. (9 Fall + 15 hours Spring = 24 hours earned)
Time Allowed for Program Completion	Normally students cannot receive federal financial assistance for periods of enrollments beyond 150% of the average published program length for the program in which they are enrolled. Undergraduate students seeking a Bachelor's Degree which requires 126 hours would be allowed to have up to 189 attempted hours and receive financial assistance (126 x 150% = 189). Attempted hours are all hours taken at DBU and at other institutions. Attempted hours include courses successfully completed or have a course status of W, NC, CR, Repeat, I, and F.
Dual Enrollment	A student may not receive federal aid from more than one institution at the same time. A student transferring to DBU from another institution must have their aid canceled at the former institution. A "Cancellation of Aid" form may be required.
Repeat Courses	Courses in which a grade of "D," or higher, is received cannot be repeated for federal or state aid funding unless the repeat is required to meet minimum degree requirements. Funding for remedial courses (i.e. MATH 1101) can only be repeated once. If you register for a course in which you have previously received a grade of D or higher, any aid awarded or disbursed must be adjusted. Institutional scholarships cannot be applied toward courses being repeated regardless of course grade or status.
Incompletes	Courses in which a grade of "I" are received are treated the same as a grade of "F" until a final grade for the course has been posted to the transcript. Once the "I" grade has been updated the student may request an evaluation to reassess their FASAP status.
Second Bachelor's Degree	Not all financial aid programs are available to students seeking a second bachelor's degree. Students should see their financial aid counselor for more information. This includes both accredited and non-accredited degrees received.
Probation Notice	The first time a student fails to meet the FASAP standards for CGPA, hours completed, or program completion the student will be sent a probation notice warning them of potential loss of future aid. A student placed on probation status may continue to receive financial assistance. A probation notice cannot be appealed since students are still eligible to receive financial assistance. There is no probation allowance for ACG, SMART, and TEG recipients who fail to meet FASAP requirements.
Suspension Notice	The second time a student fails to meet the FASAP standards for CGPA, hours completed, or program completion the student will be sent a suspension notice warning. A student placed on a financial aid suspension status may not receive further financial assistance until the status has been cleared. They may, however, be allowed to register for classes if they are not also on academic suspension status.
Automatic Suspension	At the end of each semester any student who completely withdraws, receives grades of all F, I, CR, or NC will be automatically placed on suspension without being given a probation period.

How to Re-establish Eligibility	Students on suspension for not maintaining the appropriate CGPA must complete sufficient course(s) at DBU (at their own expense) to raise their CGPA to meet FASAP standards. Students on suspension for not completing sufficient coursework must complete the credit hours necessary to make up the deficiency at DBU as explained in the suspension notice. Example: Student enrolled for 12 hours in Fall and 12 hours in Spring semesters. Student must complete 66.67% or 16 hours (24 X 66.67% = 16 hours). However, student earns only 10 hours. The student must therefore complete a minimum of 6 hours to remove deficiency (16 hours required – 10 hours earned = 6 hours deficient). After the student has completed sufficient coursework to remove their suspension status, they must submit to the Office of Financial Aid the "Suspension Evaluation or Appeal Request" form for a review of their status. Evaluations will be completed after grades are posted for each of the following enrollment reporting periods: Fall Reporting Period (includes August Mini, Fall, Fall Break, and Thanksgiving Mini-terms) Spring Reporting Period (includes Winter Mini, Spring, and Spring Break Mini-terms) Summer Reporting Period (includes May Mini, Summer I, and Summer II terms) TEG recipients who have not met the TEG standards may re-establish their status making up the deficiency of CGPA or hours by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Attending the following summer or, 2) During the next academic year of enrollment, make up the deficiency of GPA or hours (Fall and Spring).
Appeals	A student with unusual or mitigating circumstances may request a suspension status to be waived by submitting and following the guidelines of the "Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Suspension Evaluation or Appeal Request" form. All appeal requests will be reviewed by the Office of Financial Aid and, if necessary, reviewed by the Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeals Committee. All individuals granted a waiver or an approval are normally placed on a one-semester probation status. All Committee decisions are final. Students will be notified in writing as to the decision regarding their financial aid status. For state assistance, examples of hardship may include: 1) severe illness or other debilitating condition, 2) an indication that the student is responsible for the care of a sick, injured or needy person, 3) freshman hardship.
Support Services	Support services are available to help ensure a student's academic success. Counseling services are available free of charge to DBU students by contacting 214-333-5288. The DBU Writing Lab is available to assist students in the writing and construction of papers. Contact them at 214-333-5474. The DBU library is available to help students with research. Contact them at 214-333-5213. Tutoring services are available by calling 214-333-6843. Students with disabilities can contact the Office of Student Affairs at 214-333-5134 to make accommodations for their disability.

Financial Aid Refund Policy

DBU uses student accounts to assess charges and apply payments against those charges. If a student's account balance is a credit, it is the policy of the University to refund the credit to the student in a timely manner under most circumstances. Credit balances caused by financial aid are refunded only after a careful review of the student's account and eligibility for aid. If a credit balance refund is due the student, the refund is made to the student within the 14 days required by federal regulations. The refund will be issued in the form of a check made payable to the student and issued by the business office.

A student who receives a refund based wholly or partly on financial aid and later changes enrollment status may be required to repay all or part of the aid received to the University or to the appropriate federal or state aid programs. Students receiving federal aid other than Federal Work-Study funds who withdraw or change enrollment status (increase or decrease semester hours taken) will have federal aid adjusted in accordance with formulas prescribed by the Federal Title IV Program, or DBU policy, whichever is applicable.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Credit balance refunds due students are processed after the Add/Drop period closes each semester (consult the semester schedule of classes for this date). Eligibility for a refund depends on several factors and will be determined by the Office of Financial Aid. Changes in any of these factors, such as dropping courses or withdrawing from the University, could result in delays in receiving a refund or the reduction of the student's aid package, thereby removing a potential credit balance.

Withdrawal from the University

A student who withdraws from the University receives only the balance that remains, if any, after the appropriate refund calculation has been performed by the Office of Financial Aid and according to federally mandated Return of Federal Title IV Funds Policy listed below.

Return of Federal Title IV Funds Policy

Dallas Baptist University returns unearned funds received from Federal student assistance programs to the proper program accounts or lenders in accordance with Federal Title IV student assistance regulations, as amended, under 34 CFR, section 668.22(d) of the Reauthorization of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

The student receiving assistance from Federal Title IV programs is required to complete a minimum number of hours for which assistance was received. If the student completely withdraws from school during the semester or stops attending, but fails to officially withdraw, the student may be required to return the unearned part of the funds received to help pay educational expenses for the semester. Liability for return of Federal Title IV funds will be determined according to the following guidelines:

1. If the student remains enrolled and attends class beyond the 60% mark of the semester in which aid is received, all federal aid is considered earned and not subject to this policy.
2. If the student completely withdraws from all classes before completing 60% of the semester, a pro-rated portion of the federal aid received must be returned to the federal aid programs equal to the percentage of the semester remaining.
3. If the student does not officially withdraw from classes, and stops attending all classes, a pro-rated portion of the federal aid received, based on the documented last date of attendance, must be returned to the federal aid programs. If the college is unable to document the last date of attendance, one-half of all federal aid received during the semester must be returned to the federal aid programs.

Return of Federal Title IV funds will be distributed according to statutory regulations in the following sequence: Unsubsidized Stafford Loans, Subsidized Stafford Loans, Federal Perkins Loans, Federal PLUS Loans, Federal Pell Grants (for which a return of funds is required), Academic Competitiveness Grants (for which a return of funds is required), National Smart Grants (for which a return of funds is required), and Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (for which a return of funds is required). Worksheets/Formulas provided by the U.S. Department of Education will be used to determine the amounts and order of return. If a student's share of the return amount exists, the student will be notified and allowed 45 days from the date of determination to return the funds to the Business Office of the University for deposit into the federal programs accounts. If the student does not return the amount owed within the 45-day period, the amount of overpayment will be reported to the U.S. Department of Education (DOE) via the National Student Loan Database (NSLDS) and the student will be referred to the DOE for resolution of the debt. Unearned aid will be refunded to the appropriate program(s), if necessary based on these regulations.

If the student owes money to the University or to one of the financial aid programs in the form of a repayment, the Office of Financial Aid or the Cashier's Office will notify the student.

Programs of Student Financial Aid

Financial aid is divided into two categories - gift aid and self-help aid. Gift aid includes grants and scholarships which generally do not have to be repaid. Self-help aid includes programs that have to be earned such as work-study or programs that have to be repaid such as loan programs.

The following gives additional information about some of the different types of aid available at DBU. Additional information about federal programs can be found at www.studentaid.ed.gov. Additional information on state programs can be found at www.collegefortexans.com

GIFT AID

Grants

Grants are gifts of money and are usually awarded on the basis of financial need. A student's financial aid package may include grant money whenever eligibility and funding levels permit.

Tuition Equalization Grant

The Tuition Equalization Grant (TEG) is a state grant program for residents attending a private university in the state of Texas. The TEG is provided to help offset some of the difference in cost for students attending private universities in Texas. Students must meet the following eligibility requirements to be eligible for TEG:

- Must meet all requirements to receive federal aid as described previously;
- Be a legal Texas resident.
- Be enrolled in at least nine hours for first graduate degree program;

- Not be the recipient of an athletic scholarship;
- Be enrolled in an eligible major. No graduate ministerial majors are eligible. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information.
- Adjusted gross Income may not exceed $95,000 per year.

Scholarships

Baptist Minister's Dependent Scholarship

The spouse of an ordained or licensed minister who is ACTIVELY SERVING FULL-TIME in any Baptist church or agency ministry, or a spouse and/or dependent child of a Baptist ministerial student currently enrolled at Dallas Baptist University or any Baptist Seminary may be eligible to receive a $50 per semester hour tuition scholarship. Student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid, and any other required paperwork, as requested.

Camp Ministry Matching Gift Program

Dallas Baptist University will match designated Christian Camp gifts for DBU students up to, but not exceeding, $1,000.00 per academic year, per student scholarship, beginning August 1, 2010.

The following is a list of scholarship provisions and requirements for the DBU camp ministry matching gift program which must be completely reviewed by each participating camp:

1. The scholarship program applies for both graduate and undergraduate students, full-time or part-time.
2. The scholarship program only matches funds from Christian camps that hold Jesus Christ to be their Lord and Savior.
3. Gifts from denominations (e.g. Baptist General Convention of Texas, United Methodist Conference, etc.) or other para-church organizations (e.g. Campus Crusade for Christ, BSM, Focus on the Family, etc.) are not included in this matching gift program. This is a matching gift scholarship program for individual Christian camps only.
4. Scholarships under this policy are applicable for fall, spring, summer, and winter terms. Scholarships may only be used for current student accounts (within the last 12 months) and not for past bills on student accounts.
5. Before a scholarship gift is made to DBU, the camp must determine that this scholarship program is within its benevolent and charitable purposes. Then, the treasurer or camp director may recommend a specific student for the scholarship.
6. The recommended student must have been employed as a full-time staff member for at least one full summer at the camp or must currently be employed as a full-time year-round staff member at the camp which is funding the scholarship. The scholarship may not be used in lieu of compensation for working at the camp.
7. Checks should be made payable to Dallas Baptist University. Notation should be made on the camp check identifying the student who is recommended to receive the scholarship by name and social security number. Checks should be sent to the DBU Office of Financial Aid.
8. Scholarship funds given to DBU by the camp regarding a recommended student cannot originate with the student or the student's family member(s), such as parents and grandparents nor can the funds be a "pass through" gift specifically benefiting a designated student. Donors or other interested parties may contribute to the camp; however, the camp must explain to individuals who contribute to scholarships that federal law, particularly the Internal Revenue Code and relevant IRS regulations, restricts the ability of family members to financially support relatives who are students through scholarships for the purpose of obtaining or creating a tax benefit. Contributions to scholarships for which a tax benefit will be sought should not be motivated by a desire to assist a specific student, but rather a general desire to assist students from the camp who are pursuing their education at DBU. Any questions regarding this issue should be independently directed to a competent attorney, CPA, or tax consultant.

Please note that no provisions of this policy constitute or may be relied upon as legal advice to a camp or individual.

Christ for the Nations Institute (CFNI) Scholarship

Dallas Baptist University offers a $70 per hour tuition scholarship to graduates of CFNI who enroll at DBU on a full- or part-time basis. Students will be required to submit a copy of their CFNI diploma to the Office of Financial Aid. Students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid, and any other required paperwork, as requested.

Church Matching Grant Scholarship

Dallas Baptist University will match up to $3000 per year given on a student's behalf from his/her local church. Certain restrictions apply. Refer to the Church Matching Gift Guidelines in the Financial Aid Forms page for more information.

Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCC) Scholarship for Master of Education in Higher Education Students

DBU offers a 1/3 matching scholarship to employees of institutions with membership in CCCC. To be eligible, employees must receive the recommendation of their president and must also receive a 1/3 scholarship from their institution. For information contact the Master of Education in Higher Education office at 214.333.5595 or graduate@dbu.edu.

Disabled Students

Students who are physically disabled and are enrolled or will be enrolled at Dallas Baptist University should contact the Texas Rehabilitation Commission regarding financial aid specifically for the disabled.

Ministry Student Grant/Scholarship

The Ministry Student Grant/Scholarship program is available to qualifying students who have shown evidence of a divine call to vocational or bi-vocational church related Christian ministry. Active membership in DBU's Ministry Fellowship and an annual application are required. Applications for this scholarship may be obtained in January of each year from the Ministry Student Office, the Office of Financial Aid or at www.dbu.edu/financialaid_ministerial.asp. Applications turned in after April 1 will not be awarded for the spring semester. Applications turned in after July 15 will not be awarded for the summer semester.

SELF HELP AID

Employment

Federal College Work-Study/Texas College Work-Study Programs

DBU participates in the federal and state College Work-Study programs. These programs are designed to provide part-time employment for students with financial need who wish to help pay a part of their educational expenses by working on campus or community service.

Federal/Texas Work-Study is awarded by the Office of Financial Aid, often in combination with other forms of financial aid, to help meet educational expenses. Students desiring to work are required to seek jobs on campus by contacting the Career Services office.

The Office of Financial Aid assists students in seeking employment, but it is the responsibility of the student to find a job. Students may request work-study consideration when submitting the DBU financial aid application and the FAFSA.

Students who participate in this program work an average of 15 hours per week. General wage policies are established by the University within the guidelines established by the U.S. Department of Labor and U.S. Department of Education.

Work-study students are not eligible for fringe benefits such as holiday, vacation, or sick pay. Each office that employs work-study students provides job descriptions. Students are required to attend a work-study meeting the first week of classes in the fall semester.

Other Student Employment

DBU provides employment services to students through the Career Services Office located on the second floor of the Learning Center. Students are encouraged to make use of these services for assistance in locating part-time employment on or off campus.

Student Loans

The University participates in several loan programs which offer help to students who need additional financial assistance. The purpose of all loan programs is to assist students unable to obtain sufficient support from other sources. Student loans must be repaid. Therefore, students are highly encouraged to borrow only what they need to cover direct educational expenses.

In order to qualify for assistance under any of the loan programs, the student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and Scholarships for the appropriate academic year. These forms are available from the Office of Financial Aid and online at www.dbu.edu/financialaid.

Students who receive federal loans are required to complete an online entrance counseling session before the loan application process can be completed. Students must also complete an exit counseling session upon their graduation or withdrawal from the University. This exit counseling session is required by federal regulation and should be completed within 30 days of graduation or upon withdrawal from the University. Students awarded loans must go online at our website link and follow the www.studentloans.gov link to confirm their federal loan.

Federal Direct Graduate (PLUS) Loan Program

Graduate students who have exhausted the Stafford Loan eligibility may apply for a Federal Direct Graduate PLUS Loan. Eligibility is based on cost of attendance minus other aid. Application is made on the www.studentloans.gov website, which can be accessed through the www.dbu.edu/financialaid page under student borrower.

Federal Perkins Loan Program

The Federal Perkins Loan program provides long-term, low interest loans for students who qualify. The amounts awarded vary, depending on financial need and availability of funds. The terms and conditions of the Federal Perkins Loan are outlined in the Promissory Note. Indebtedness under the Federal Perkins Loan Program may be fully or partially canceled for students who meet certain conditions. Check the federal student aid website for more information. To secure the loan students must go to the ECSI website and sign a promissory note and complete Perkins Entrance Counseling.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program

The Federal Direct Loan program consists of two types of loans: the Federal Direct Subsidized Loan and the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan. These loans are secured from the Department of Education of the federal government.

The student must meet certain income requirements (as determined from the FAFSA) to qualify for a subsidized loan. "Subsidized" means that the government pays the interest on the loan while the student maintains an eligible enrollment in school. The student is responsible for repaying the loan and interest after enrollment ends. The government does not pay the interest on an unsubsidized loan. The borrower is responsible for all interest that accrues on the loan even while in school.

The interest rate under the Federal Direct Loan program is a variable or fixed rate according to when loan funds are borrowed. A portion of the loan amount may be kept by the lender to cover origination and loan insurance fees. Go to www.studentaid.ed.gov for more information, including repayment terms, deferment options, consolidation, origination and insurance fees, and other details.

Alternative Educational Loans

Most private student loan programs require a minimum of half-time enrollment status to be eligible to apply for assistance. However, some private lenders offer alternative educational loans for less than half-time enrollment. For more information, contact the Office of Financial Aid. Students are required to complete the FAFSA and DBU Supplemental to determine eligibility for federal loans before securing higher interest private loans.

Hinson Hazelwood College Access Loan (CAL)

The CAL Loan is a state variable or fixed rate loan program. Information and application available online at www.hhloans.com

Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation Student Loan Program

Educational loans are available to Junior, Senior, or Graduate/Professional students who are residents of Texas and enrolled full time. Loans cannot exceed $2000 per year for undergraduate students or $4000 per year for graduate/professional students. This is a private loan with an interest rate of six percent and must be repaid within four years after repayment begins. Please contact the Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation for loan application forms and more information. The foundation address is:

Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation
800 NW Loop 410, STE 200
San Antonio, TX 78216-5699
Phone: 210-525-8494
Email: studentloan@mspf.org
Fax: 210-341-6627

Veterans Benefits

The Texas Veterans Commission approves Dallas Baptist University for students who wish to receive educational benefits under various Veterans Administration programs. Eligible students should contact the VA Certification Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office.

How To Access Important Resources

Online Databases

The DBU Library provides access to over 100 online databases - www.dbu.edu/library/online_databases.asp. These provide access to thousands of articles from scholarly journals, newspapers, magazines, and other information sources. Many offer the full text of the article to read online or print. Login instructions may be found at the bottom of the online databases home page, www.dbu.edu/library/online_databases.asp. If assistance is needed, contact the Reference Librarians at 214-333-5221.

Online Catalog of Books

Access to the Library's materials is provided through the web accessible catalog: www.dbu.edu/library/catalog.asp. Locate titles of over 260,000 books plus over 45,000 eBooks.

Interlibrary Loan

If research leads you to an article or book not owned by DBU's library, it can be requested through Interlibrary Loan (ILL) at www.dbu.edu/library/interlibrary_loan.asp or 214-333-5389. Textbooks cannot be requested through Interlibrary Loan.

TexShare

Students who live in Texas are able to use additional materials at libraries throughout Texas by presenting a TexShare card. Apply for a card online, (www.dbu.edu/library/txshare_card.asp) and use it to borrow books from most Texas college and university libraries – even some public libraries. For a list of participating libraries and policies, visit the TexShare web site, www.texshare.edu/generalinfo/about/programs.html.

Visit Us

Students, faculty, and staff are always welcome to use the Library. In order to check out materials, you must have a current DBU ID card, which can be obtained in the Computer Lab on the second floor of the Learning Center.

Distance Education

Distance Learning Library Services – “Equivalent Access-Superior Service”

All members of DBU's distance learning community, off-campus and online, have access to all resources and services of Vance Memorial Library at Dallas Baptist University. Our motto is “Equivalent Access – Superior Service.”

Distance Education students enrolled at DBU are granted access to online databases for journal article searching, as well as access to print and multimedia resources, by means of e-mail, telephone, fax, and regular mail. For assistance, you may contact the Distance Learning Librarian (lib_disted@dbu.edu) by e-mail or telephone at 214-333-5225 or 1-800-483-7048.

Come in or contact us.

Let us respond to your information needs.

Book Request for Distance Learning Students

- Request items owned by DBU by completing the Distance Education Book Request form (www.dbu.edu/library/distance_book_request.asp). Be sure to provide complete and accurate information when completing the form. A separate request form is required for each book requested.
- Books and media will be mailed to you upon request. DBU pays for the postage to you, and we ask that you pay return postage. A return mailing label and envelope will be provided for your convenience. You can request the reduced book rate at the post office to save money on postage. If your return label is misplaced, please mail the items to: Distance Education, Vance Memorial Library, Dallas Baptist University, 3000 Mountain Creek Parkway, Dallas, TX 75211
- Our Distance Learning patrons who check out books and media in this manner are subject to the same circulation policies, privileges, and responsibilities as our regular patrons.

Article Request for Distance Learning Students

- If an article is needed from a magazine or journal owned by the Library, complete the Distance Education Article Request form (www.dbu.edu/library/distance_article_request.asp). The article will be mailed or faxed, depending on your preference. To make sure you get the information you've requested, be sure to fill out the form accurately and completely. The Library does not lend periodical issues. A separate request form is required for each article requested.
- Articles can be faxed, if a fax number is provided.

Thank you for allowing us to respond to your information needs.

Academic Computer Lab

The mission of the Dallas Baptist University Academic Computer Lab is to provide students with adequate computing facilities and services so that they may complete the assignments given to them, as led by the faculty, and successfully master the information to achieve their respective callings. To accomplish this, the Academic Computer Lab provides several services to faculty and students.

Location: Second Floor of the Collins Learning Center

Phone: 214.333.5500

E-mail: support@mail.dbu.edu

The Academic Computer Lab regular semester hours are as follows:

Monday- Friday*	6:45 am - 10:30 pm
Saturday	7:30 am - 5:00 pm
Sunday	2:30 pm – 11:00 pm

Closed from 9:50am - 11am on Monday and Wednesday for chapel.*

Who may use the Computer Lab?

The Computer Lab is open to all current Dallas Baptist University faculty and students.

How do Students Set Up Accounts in the Computer Lab?

In order to use the Computer Lab, a student MUST obtain his/her own login ID by taking their ID card and pointing their web browser to <https://webreg.dbu.edu>. By following the Account Access Setup instructions, students can set up their student e-mail and academic lab login account. This also sets up the password for their WebAdvisor account.

Services Provided

The Computer Lab does not offer tutoring; however, assistance will be provided to students whenever possible as long as the request is reasonable and does not violate any University policies.

Normal Services:

- Over 70 IBM compatible PCs running Windows 7
- MS Office 2010 on all PCs
- Internet access
- E-mail (including off-campus access)
- Laser printers (350 pages per Fall, Spring, and Summer semesters for students, extra are $0.10 each) Unused sheets at the end of a semester are not transferred over to the following semester.
- 200 MB of Personal space on server for saving files (P: drive)
- 2 Flatbed Color Scanners (pictures and text)
- Multimedia capabilities, including sound, are available for some programs, but a student MUST bring his/her own headphones.
- Student ID cards for new students.

Services provided at additional cost:

- Color printouts
- Replacement student ID cards

Special Services:

- In addition, one computer is available with voice recognition, screen reading, and screen magnification software for students with special needs. Contact the Computer Lab for more information.

Testing

Free testing is available to help students determine the majors and careers that are a good match for their aptitudes and interests. Most students have taken several verbal and math aptitude tests in school, but those tests measure only a small part of their natural abilities. At the O'Connor Research Foundation in north Dallas, they test fifteen different kinds of aptitudes! These include the ability to think in three dimensions, the rapidity with which ideas flow into a person's mind, foresight (seeing possibilities), inductive reasoning, and analytical reasoning. And just in case you're interested in a career as a surgeon or musician, they even test your pitch discrimination and finger dexterity. This testing normally costs $600, but because of a generous endowment by Robert L. and Della Foree, undergraduates and graduate students enrolled at DBU may be tested free-of-charge! For further information contact the Financial Aid Office at (214) 333-5363.

Career Services

Career Services is designed to help students bridge the gap from student to a highly productive employee. It is our desire that as you embark on your journey to obtain knowledge in your desired field of study that, through our services, you can also gain valuable work experience.

We hope to acquaint you with the many services offered through Career Services. Career counseling aids in the process whereby you may find a job that matches your talents, abilities, skills, and interests. Résumé writing, interviewing techniques, and tips on how to conduct a successful job search are also available.

CareerBridge, the online job search engine, allows alumni and students to view job listings from area employers, match their skills to job opportunities, and apply to jobs online. Employers have the capability to view applicant résumés and contact them directly. This online system is available to you twenty-four hours a day for convenient access to information regarding full-time and part-time employment, as well as internship opportunities. This service is available for students seeking on-campus and off-campus positions.

To bring our students in direct contact with local companies and corporations, two large JOB FAIRS are held each year, one in the fall and the other in the spring. Students are able to speak with representatives about current job openings. Career Services also sponsors a Mini Part-Time Job Fair in the fall that caters to both on-campus student worker and/or work-study jobs and off-campus part-time jobs. Students are encouraged to attend.

"Dress for Success Fashion Show" is sponsored in conjunction with the DBU College of Business Etiquette Dinner to aid students who are preparing to interview for a job or to demonstrate to them how to dress once they land the position. It is held twice a year in the Hillcrest Great Hall of the John G. Mahler Student Center.

Career Services also partners with the International Center in their Multicultural Career Clinic held twice a year. A Résumé Writing Workshop is presented to aid our International students in building effective résumés and assimilating into the American work culture.

Internships are such an invaluable way of gaining experience, as well as, providing financial support to students. We encourage all students to take advantage of this opportunity. Internships can be found on our CareerBridge online job search engine.

Dining Services

Dallas Baptist University offers a variety of locations where students can enjoy meals and other food and convenience items. All locations accept cash, credit/debit cards, Flex Dollars, and Patriot Dollars. In addition, the Crowley Dining Hall accepts meal plan memberships. All DBU dining services are provided by Sodexo, Inc.

On Campus Dining Locations

The Crowley Dining Hall is a multifaceted residential dining facility and is located in the Mary C. Crowley Complex. This location offers breakfast, lunch, and dinner with an array of nutritious selections including a produce market featuring fresh-cut vegetables, dressings and toppings; a grill serving hamburgers and chicken; a pizza station with hand-tossed pizza; and a comfort station featuring traditional favorites.

The Crowley Dining Hall accepts meal plans, cash, credit cards, Flex Dollars, and Patriot Dollars. Hours for the Crowley Dining Hall have been designed to meet students' lifestyles:

Monday through Friday	Breakfast	7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.
	Lunch	11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.
	Dinner	4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

	Dinner	5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.
Sunday	Breakfast	8:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.
	Lunch	11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
	Dinner	5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.
Sunday through Wednesday	Late Nite Dinner	9:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m.

- Students who have purchased a meal plan must present their University student identification card upon entering the Crowley Dining Hall.
- Students without a Traditional or Colonial meal plan must pay in cash, credit card, or Patriot Dollars.
- A student's identification card cannot be loaned to another student or guest.
- When a student is ill and is unable to go to the Crowley Dining Hall, the campus nurse should be notified. A fellow student may present a signed note from the campus nurse or a Student Affairs staff member to the Dining Hall Food Court staff, and a meal may be taken out of the Crowley Dining Hall for the ill student. The form must be completed with the signature of a University official.

The Soda Shoppe, conveniently located on the third floor of the Collins Learning Center, is the perfect place to grab a hot lunch or a quick bite while joining friends for a 50's retro restaurant experience. Patriot Dollars, Flex Dollars, credit/debit cards, and cash are accepted. The Soda Shoppe is open:

Monday through Friday	7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.
Saturday	7:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.
Sunday	Closed

The Hoblitzelle Patriot Café, located in the John G. Mahler Student Center, offers a casual atmosphere for faculty, staff, and students to meet and eat. Made-to-order grilled items, salads, sandwiches, and special luncheon entrees, as well as frozen novelties and fountain drinks are available. Patriot Dollars, Flex Dollars, credit/debit cards, and cash are accepted. The Patriot Café is open:

Monday through Friday	8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Sunday through Saturday

1:00 p.m. to midnight

For catering information, please contact Kim English, Catering Director, at (214) 333-5974 or by email at sodexocatering@dbu.edu.

Health Services

The Health Center is located in the Colonial Village Apartment #1108 next to the Burg Center, and is supervised by a Registered Nurse. Students, whether full-time or part-time, faculty, staff, and guests may come to the Center for acute nursing care.

Current immunizations, medical history form and copy of health insurance are required for all DBU students living on campus and may be updated in Health Services. Immunizations for Tetanus-Diphtheria-Pertussis, MMR, TB skin test, Meningitis vaccine, Flu vaccine, and Hepatitis series are available. Blood pressure monitoring, blood sugar testing, asthma nebulizer, oxygen, first aid care and supplies, health education resources and several Health Seminars are provided throughout the year.

Parents and students are encouraged to arrange in advance for a local personal physician. The University is concerned about the health of its students and will provide first aid and emergency care as facilities permit. However, the University cannot assume responsibility for medical care, and parents and students must look to their personal physician in these matters.

Health Insurance

Health insurance is made available by the University for the financial protection of students. The cost is nominal. The University disclaims responsibility and reserves the right to use any available physician. The University may require the removal of a student to a hospital in the event of serious illness. Expense for such medical or hospital care is the responsibility of the student.

Orville and Esther Beth Rogers Intercessory Prayer Ministry

As soon as Dr. Gary Cook became President of Dallas Baptist University in the spring of 1988, he set aside a quiet room on campus and invited faculty, staff, and students to take an active part in praying for our university. Today the Cynthia Estes Prayer Room is located on the lower level of the Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel. Dr. Cook believes that it is only as we commit ourselves completely to the Lord that we can become truly fruitful in our desire to provide an excellent, distinctively Christian education.

Students, staff, and faculty are invited to take part in a chain of prayer from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Prayer requests received by telephone, electronic mail, or written requests are transferred to cards and placed in the prayer room. These are updated daily. Prayer requests are also distributed frequently by electronic mail to several groups of intercessors on campus.

Cyndi Pettit assumed her responsibilities as Director of the Rogers Intercessory Prayer Ministry in January 2009. Cyndi is a graduate of Baylor University and received her Master of Liberal Arts with a Fine Arts concentration from Dallas Baptist University. She has been employed by DBU for over ten years. Prior to joining DBU, Cyndi was a legal assistant to a former judge at a major Dallas law firm.

The Patriot Store

The Patriot Store occupies the second floor of Henry Blackaby Hall. The bookstore is three times the size of the previous bookstore and features a curriculum resource center where students can purchase textbooks and educational support materials. Also in the Patriot Store is a varsity collegiate retail section providing students with the latest athletic team apparel and institutionally-branded gift items. The Patriot Store is equipped with increased shipping and receiving capabilities to serve DBU's growing online student population, and added point-of-service registers to increase service to students and Patriot Store patrons.

Disabled Students

University programs and activities are conducted in such a manner that no otherwise qualified disabled individual shall, solely by reason of a disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any such program or activity. Notifications and inquiries regarding disabled student services should be directed to the University Disabled Student Compliance Coordinator, at 214.333.5101. All information provided to this Coordinator is strictly voluntary.

Counseling Services

Through DBU's Student Counseling Center, individual, marital, and family counseling sessions are available on a limited basis to address any issues or concerns that DBU students may have. These counseling services are provided free to DBU students currently taking classes. If the case load in the Counseling Center is especially heavy, or if the availability of staff is limited, the individual counseling provided may be short term. In that situation, if additional counseling sessions are indicated, information about and/or referral to other counseling sources will be provided. All counseling will be provided or supervised by a licensed professional. Vocational, pre-marital, and personality testing are also available for a fee through the Student Counseling Center.

Counseling and testing are scheduled by appointment only. The Counseling Center is located in the Mary Crowley Room on the first floor of the Collins Learning Center. To schedule an appointment, talk with a counselor, or for more information, contact the Student Counseling Center at 214-333-5288.

Counseling Records

The confidentiality of counseling matters will be maintained in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). FERPA permits disclosure of such records to third parties under circumstances described by law and in the University's FERPA policy. A copy of the policy is available for inspection and review in the Office of Student Affairs, Registrar's Office, and Schedule of Classes.

Notice

This is an official bulletin of Dallas Baptist University which contains a description of the academic programs and activities of DBU. The faculty and administration believe that the educational and other programs of DBU are effective and valuable. However, the ultimate results of the programs offered, in terms of achievement, employment, professional licensing, or other measure, are dependent on factors outside of the programs. These factors include the personality and energy of the individual student, governmental or institutional regulations, and various market conditions. Therefore, except as expressly stated in this bulletin, DBU makes no representation or contract that following a particular course or curriculum will result in specific achievement, employment or qualification for employment, admission to degree programs, or licensing for particular professions or occupations.

Changes to the program which are offered by DBU sometimes become necessary or appropriate. The University retains the right to terminate or change any of its policies, programs, requirements, course offerings, class schedules, teacher assignments and any or all other aspects of its educational and other programs at any time without prior notice. The University may determine when and how all changes become effective.

Change of Name or Address

A student who, after registration, changes a local or home address, or a student who marries (documentation required) after enrollment at Dallas Baptist University, is expected to notify the Registrar of this change immediately. Any communication from the University which is mailed to the name and address on record in the Registrar's Office is considered to have been properly delivered, and the student is responsible for the information contained therein.

Current and former students of Dallas Baptist University may request a change of name on their student records, including but not limited to academic transcripts, with appropriate documentation. Current and former students who request a change of name on their records must provide to the Registrar's Office, in person, the original legal document which verifies the change of name requested. These original legal documents would include a valid marriage license issued by a county or city clerk, a divorce decree from a court of law and/or a change of name decree from a court of law. A copy of this original document will be made by the Registrar's Office and retained in the student's file.

For those current and former students who are unable to produce an original legal document to the Registrar's Office in person, a legally certified copy of the original document verifying the change of name may be mailed to the Registrar's Office. The certified copy will be retained by the Registrar's Office in the student's file.

Student Records

Following the recommendations of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers' (AACRAO) guide for the retention of records, the Registrar's Office retains the following documents in a student's permanent academic record: academic appeals, competency assessments, change of grades, degree plan, disclosure of information forms (until terminated), final academic transcript, grades, graduation audit, narrative evaluations, registration appeals, and transcript evaluations.

The following is a list of various records maintained on each student and where they are housed. Original documents submitted to the University become a permanent part of a file and will not be returned to the student or sent elsewhere. The University adheres to the privacy of student records as required by the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA).

Academic Records. The official transcript and grades are maintained in the Registrar's Office by the Registrar.

Admissions Records. Records are transferred from the Admissions Office to the Registrar's Office when the admission process is complete. Completed records are maintained in the Registrar's Office by the Registrar.

Advising Records. Advising records are maintained by the student's assigned advisor in the advisor's office.

Discipline Records. Discipline records are maintained in the Office of Student Affairs.

Financial Aid and Placement Records. Financial aid and placement records are maintained in the Financial Aid Office by the Director of Financial Aid.

Access to Student Records

Each year this institution gives notice of the various rights accorded to students pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). You are hereby notified of the following:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit written requests that specifically identify the record(s) they wish to inspect to the Office of the Registrar. The Registrar's Office will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.

2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should notify the Registrar's Office of this request, clearly identifying the part of the record which they are requesting to be changed and specifying why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University determines that the record will not be amended as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of that decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One such exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an auditor, attorney or collection agent); a member of the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official University committee or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities. Upon request, the University also discloses education records without consent to school officials of another institution in which a student seeks or intends to enroll, or where the student is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.

Another exception which permits disclosure without consent is for the disclosure of a student's directory information.

"Directory information" is defined as a student's:

- (a) Name;
- (b) address;
- (c) telephone number;
- (d) e-mail address;
- (e) date and place of birth;
- (f) major field of study;
- (g) enrollment status (full-time, part-time, undergraduate, graduate);
- (h) participation in officially recognized activities and sports;

- (i) weight and height (if an athletic team member);
- (j) dates of attendance;
- (k) degrees, honors, and awards received;
- (l) most recent previous educational agency or institution attended;
- (m) photographic, video or electronic images that are taken and/or maintained by the University; and
- (n) other similar information.

A student may request that directory information, in part or in whole, be withheld from disclosure by providing a specific written request to the Office of the Registrar on or before the last day of late registration each term. Such a request is valid until revoked in writing by the student. If no request is filed with the Registrar's Office, the University may release directory information to the general public upon inquiry.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Dallas Baptist University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
600 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

Pursuant to FERPA, an institution of higher education may disclose to a parent or legal guardian of a student information regarding any violation of any federal, state, or local law, or any rule or policy of the institution, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance regardless of whether that information is contained in the student's education records if, (a) the student is under the age of 21; and (b) the institution determines that the student has committed a disciplinary violation with respect to such use or possession.

Official Communications

A request that a student report to an administrative office or faculty office may be made in person, by email, by mail, or by telephone. Failure to comply with such a request immediately may result in disciplinary action.

Communications to the entire student body are considered properly delivered when they are sent to the student's DBU email account, placed on official campus bulletin boards, in the campus newsletter, in the student's campus mailbox, or sent to the student's address on record in the Registrar's Office. Each student is responsible for checking their DBU email account, bulletin boards, mailboxes, and the newsletter regularly, and giving proper heed to such communications.

Transcript of Credits

The transcript of college credits is an official copy of the student's permanent record, bearing the school seal and the signature of the Registrar. Copies of the student's transcript are available on the student's written request from the Registrar's Office. Transcripts are $5.00 each. Payments are made in advance to the Cashier's Office.

A student, who is clear of all university holds, should allow a minimum period of one business day for delivery of the transcript after the request has been submitted either in person or in written form. Students requesting transcripts at the close of a semester should allow for delays in receipt of transcripts due to the posting of grades.

Transcripts will not be released if the student has outstanding financial, academic, or administrative obligations to the University except as occasionally required by law. This policy includes, but is not limited to, the Cashier's Office, the bookstore, athletic department, or any other department or agency considered a part of the University. Transcripts will also not be released until the student is clear with the Financial Aid Office.

Advanced Certificate Programs

DBU Certificate Programs have been designed to provide additional knowledge and skills for individuals seeking to prepare for new careers, to qualify for promotions, to gain or refine expertise in a particular area of study, to enhance educational or professional credentials, or to pursue a course of study simply for self-enrichment.

The programs are planned with working adults in mind, so courses are scheduled at convenient times and locations, and in cases where a cohort group can be established, courses may be scheduled at the workplace. DBU is an innovative leader in distance education and many courses are available online.

The curriculum for a certificate program will typically consist of four to eight courses, excluding Prerequisites, in a specified field of study. Each course in a certificate program earns two to three credit hours and may be applied toward an associate's, bachelor's, or master's degree. Students enrolled in a certificate program are eligible to use University facilities such as the Computer Lab, the Vance Memorial Library, and the John G. Mahler Student Center.

The University has established certain policies as the context through which the academic endeavor will be completed. These policies seek to aid students in their progress toward an academic experience that is both effective and efficient. Students enrolled in certificate programs should become familiar with University policies as stated here, in the Graduate Catalog and in the current DBU Schedule of Classes. Students should seek full understanding of, and are responsible for, adherence to all University policies.

Admission Requirements: Advanced Certificate Programs

- Completed Certificate Program Application
- Non-refundable $25 application fee
- A conferred bachelor's or master's degree
- Official transcripts from all institutions attended
- Letter of Intent (typewritten) stating:
 - 1) which certificate you would like to earn and why you selected that program
 - 2) what you personally hope to accomplish during this program
 - 3) why you have chosen to attend Dallas Baptist University
- Minimum 3.0 GPA
- Current professional resume
- Successful completion of certificate course Prerequisites
- Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission
- The GRE may be required for some Advanced Certificate programs

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

All materials submitted will be kept one calendar year from initial receipt. Application materials once submitted, are the property of the University and cannot be returned.

Students granted admission to DBU Certificate Programs must satisfy the program requirements as listed in the published catalog for the term in which they register for the first course in a certificate program. However, under extenuating circumstances, the dean of the college from which the certificate course is offered may authorize course substitutions. No waiver of the total number of required courses is permitted.

Certificates must be completed within a period of six years. Only students granted admission to the DBU Certificate Program are eligible to be awarded a Certificate of Completion. At the completion of all certificate program course requirements, students are responsible for requesting a certificate of completion from the Certificate Programs Department. Request forms are available through this department, all academic advisors, and online.

Completion of a Dallas Baptist University certificate program will signify that the certificate holder has acquired knowledge and proficiencies in a specialized area of study. The certificate alone does not guarantee a specific level of performance, but does signify that the individual has been provided with knowledge and skills that if appropriately applied will produce improved performance. It is important to note that certain professional associations and state agencies often rely on certificates as evidence that an individual is eligible for a specific licensure of position. A DBU certificate does not guarantee licensure, employment, or promotion unless it has been identified as the sole Prerequisite for such. Dallas Baptist University is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of Dallas Baptist University.

POST BACHELOR'S CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

Certificate in Pathways to Teaching

The Pathways to Teaching Certificate Program provides an opportunity for individuals holding a valid bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university to pursue teacher certification in early Childhood – Grade 6, Grades 4-8, Grades 8-12, All-level Kinesiology, or All-level Music. Once certification is complete, the individual may add an ESL Supplemental or Special Education Supplemental teacher certification.

CERTIFICATIONS AVAILABLE

- EC – 6 (Early Childhood through Grade 6)
- Grades 4-8
 - English Language Arts and Reading
 - Mathematics
 - Science
- Grades 8-12
 - Computer Science
 - English Language Arts and Reading
 - History
 - Life Sciences
 - Mathematics
 - Science
- All-Level
 - Kinesiology
 - Music

An ESL or Special Education Supplement may be added to any of these certifications.

Prerequisites: Students must have a minimum overall 3.0 GPA in previous coursework, and an acceptable level of performance on the Texas Higher Education Assessment (THEA) or the Graduate Record Exam (GRE).

Pre-Admission Content Test (PACT) Information

Post-baccalaureate individuals seeking Texas teaching certification who have not yet enrolled in DBU's Pathways to Teaching Certification Program have the opportunity to take the state Pre-Admission Content Test (PACT) to demonstrate subject area content proficiency. Successful test results on the PACT may be substituted for the required 18-24 hours of subject related content courses in the Pathways to Teaching Certification program.

Please contact Dr. Carolyn Spain at 214-333-5217 for additional information regarding the PACT procedure, admission requirements, and acceptance into the Pathways to Teaching Certification program.

Master's Programs

Sandra Reid, Ph.D., Chair, Graduate Business Programs
M.B.A. Program Director

The purpose of the M.B.A. is to prepare students for successful and rewarding careers in a global business environment. Business faculty and staff members work closely with students to equip them with the knowledge and skills for future employment and leadership opportunities.

M.B.A. Admissions

All applicants for the DBU M.B.A. program must meet the following criteria:

1. A Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution
2. Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission

In addition, the Master's Programs Admission Committee will review the following criteria as it strives to take a holistic view of the applicant in order to determine the likelihood of success in the M.B.A. program:

3. A likelihood for academic success as demonstrated by a GPA of 3.0 or higher. (The Master's Programs Admission Committee may take into consideration the student's performance in the last 60 hours of undergraduate course work as it reviews undergraduate performance.)
4. A minimum GMAT score of 425
5. Five or more years of significant, substantive managerial/leadership experience that may be evidenced through résumé review, applicant interview, or employer recommendations.
6. 12 hours of graduate work from an accredited institution with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

Full Admission

Applicants who meet criteria 3 and one of criteria 4-6, in combination with criteria 1 and 2, may be granted Full Admission.

The Master's Programs Admission Committee strives to take a holistic view of the applicant in order to determine the likelihood for success in the M.B.A. program. Applicants who show potential for graduate study, but do not meet the criteria for Full Admission may be admitted for up to 12 hours under Provisional status.

Provisional Admission

Applicants admitted under Provisional Admission must fulfill the conditions of this status as identified by the Master's Programs Admission Committee in order to continue in the program past 12 hours.

Students under Provisional Admission must maintain a 3.0 GPA and receive no grades below "B."

Students admitted under Provisional Admission will be granted Full Admission upon successful completion of 12 credit hours and fulfillment of the conditions of their admission as determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

Deferred Admission

Applicants meeting criteria 1 and 2, though not meeting criteria 3 and one of 4-6, may be determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee to show potential for graduate study. These applicants will be asked by the committee to complete certain requirements, such as prerequisite coursework and/or an entrance examination, before an admission decision will be made. These applicants must fulfill all requirements which are determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee as necessary prior to final committee review and admission decision.

Entrepreneurship Concentration

Entrepreneurship has long been a major part of the United States' economic structure. During downturns as well as periods of economic growth, entrepreneurship has typically flourished. The situation is no different today. Recent reports have indicated that hundreds of thousands of jobs in various sectors such as information systems and finance are going to be lost to offshore companies, creating a wealth of new business opportunities for would-be entrepreneurs. In order to meet the needs of individuals who desire to start their own companies, Dallas Baptist University offers a concentration in Entrepreneurship in its M.B.A. program.

The concentration consists of four courses which includes New Business Creation, Accounting and Financial Planning for Entrepreneurs, Marketing and New Product Development for Entrepreneurs, and Strategy and Management of Growing Businesses.

In the capstone course for the concentration, students will actually work with the owner(s) of entrepreneurial companies helping to develop then implement plans and procedures for the business.

Upon obtaining the degree, the student will have an actual business plan, a marketing plan, an operations manual, and a plan for raising capital, all developed with the assistance of highly qualified instructors.

Master of Arts in Management

Joanne Hix, M.B.A.
Program Director

The Master of Arts in Management (M.A. in Management) program is a 36-credit-hour program designed to provide the communication, leadership, and management skills needed in today's business organizations. Because the business environment is dynamic, special attention is given to adapting to organizational change and becoming a change agent.

M.A. in Management Admissions

All applicants for the DBU M.A. in Management program must meet the following criteria:

1. A Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution.
2. Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission.

In addition, the Master's Programs Admission Committee will review the following criteria as it strives to take a holistic view of the applicant in order to determine the likelihood of success in the M.A. in Management program.

3. A likelihood for academic success as demonstrated by a GPA of 3.0 or higher. (The Master's Programs Admission Committee may take into consideration the student's performance in the last 60 hours of undergraduate course work as it reviews undergraduate performance.)
4. A GRE score comprised of the following:
*minimum 400 Verbal combined with the Quantitative to total 850
or
*minimum 400 Verbal combined with a minimum Analytical Writing of 4.0
5. Five or more years of significant, substantive managerial/leadership experience that may be evidenced through résumé review, applicant interview, or employer recommendations.
6. 12 hours of graduate work from an accredited institution with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

Full Admission

Applicants who meet criteria 3 and one of criteria 4-6, in combination with criteria 1 and 2, may be granted Full Admission.

The Master's Programs Admission Committee strives to take a holistic view of the applicant in order to determine the likelihood for success in the M.A. in Management program. Applicants who show potential for graduate study, but do not meet the criteria for Full Admission may be admitted for up to 12 hours under Provisional status.

Provisional Admission

Applicants admitted under Provisional Admission must fulfill the conditions of this status as identified by the Master's Programs Admission Committee in order to continue in the program past 12 hours.

Students under Provisional Admission must maintain a 3.0 GPA and receive no grades below "B."

Students admitted under Provisional Admission will be granted Full Admission upon successful completion of 12 credit hours and fulfillment of the conditions of their admission as determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

Deferred Admission

Applicants meeting criteria 1 and 2, though not meeting criteria 3 and one of 4-6, may be determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee to show potential for graduate study. These applicants will be asked by the committee to complete certain requirements, such as prerequisite coursework and/or an entrance examination, before an admission decision will be made. These applicants must fulfill all requirements which are determined by the Master's Programs Admission Committee as necessary prior to a final committee review and admission decision.

Note: Applicants for whom there is no evidence to demonstrate a likelihood for success in the M.A. in Management Program may be denied admission to the program.

College of Education Graduate Portfolio

Because of Dallas Baptist University's quest for meaningful assessment of graduate students, a portfolio assessment is required in all College of Education graduate programs. The process of creating a portfolio is explained in the College of Education Graduate Portfolio Manual, which can be downloaded from the DBU website at www.dbu.edu/graduate/grad_educ_portfolio1.asp. The portfolio allows the student to present information about themselves as learners and to document growth over a period of time.

The portfolio should be a collection of artifacts accompanied by self-reflections that not only help the learner to understand and extend learning, but also invite the reader of the portfolio to gain insights about the learner. Please refer to the Portfolio Manual for appropriate procedures to follow in preparation of the portfolio. Students must register for the Professional Portfolio course as prescribed in their degree plan during the semester in which they will present their portfolio to the Educator Preparation Board. The Educator Preparation Board is a group of experienced and widely successful educators from Dallas Baptist University and the Metroplex. Practicing teachers, administrators, consultants, superintendents, guidance directors, personnel directors, and Educational Region Service Center personnel as well as DBU professors and administrators volunteer their time for this highly selective process. The Educator Preparation Board serves as the College of Education Graduate Programs advisory board and meets three times a year to assess graduate students' professional portfolios.

During the fall and spring semesters, a date is publicized for a Portfolio Workshop. Program Directors attend, review the portfolio manual, discuss portfolio components, and provide guidelines for presentation and delivery.

More information can be found at www.dbu.edu/graduate/education.asp.

Note: The State Principal Certificate qualifies an individual for the Principalship in grades Pre-Kindergarten through Twelve and for almost all positions in the central administration office except the Superintendency. The certificate requires the completion of the Educational Leadership Program, two years of teaching experience in an accredited school, and the passing of the state principal certification examination.

The following track in Educational Leadership is available only to International Students who will not be pursuing Texas State Principal Certification:

DBU also offers two Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs that include the M.Ed. in Reading and ESL programs for qualifying undergraduate students:

- BA Early Childhood-6 Generalist/M.Ed. in Reading and ESL
- BA 4-8 English Language Arts and Reading/M.Ed. in Reading and ESL

Students in these programs will complete state requirements for initial teacher certification in the areas of EC-6 Generalist or 4-8 English Language Arts. Students completing these programs will learn and demonstrate how to serve as an effective literacy teacher and leader through synthesis and application of knowledge regarding the interrelated components of reading, writing, speaking, and listening across developmental stages of oral and written language. Degree candidates will also learn and demonstrate sufficient theoretical and experiential knowledge for serving as an ethical and effective teacher, advocate, and leader for culturally and linguistically diverse students.

Students completing either of the Accelerated Degree Programs will take the following courses at the graduate level as substitutes for their undergraduate cross-listed course requirements, thereby requiring 30 instead of the regular 36 graduate hours for the program beyond the regular undergraduate degree requirements.

READ 5332 - Reading: Diagnosing and Correcting Reading Difficulties
READ 5333 - Reading: Clinical Experiences in Correcting Reading (S-L)

Retention in and Graduation From the Program:

Students must fulfill the following conditions to enroll and continue enrollment in either of the Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs:

- Students must maintain an overall GPA of 3.0.
- Students must meet the admission requirements for the undergraduate teacher certification program and the graduate admission requirements for the M.Ed. in Reading and ESL program.
- Students must apply and be accepted for graduate admission before taking READ 5332 or READ 5333 (S-L), but after completing a minimum of 90 undergraduate credit hours, or within the semester that 90 credit hours will have been completed.

Further details regarding Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program requirements are included in the Undergraduate Catalog.

Master of Education in School Counseling

Bonnie B. Bond, Ed.D., LPC, Program Director

The Master of Education in School Counseling is designed to provide the framework for school counselor preparation and to enhance the professional development of educators who are seeking a graduate degree in school counseling.

The Master of Education in School Counseling is a 39-hour, non-thesis professional development program leading to the Standard School Counselor Certificate. The program is designed to meet or exceed the certification requirements for School Counselors as established by the State Board for Educator Certification. General Prerequisites include two years teaching experience in an accredited and approved school. The program is interdisciplinary and builds on the student's prior education and experience. A systematic schedule of shared self-appraisals, threaded throughout the program allows students to monitor their progress toward professional goals in partnership with other forms of student development.

Upon the successful completion of the Master of Education in School Counseling at Dallas Baptist University, passing the School Counselor Texas Examinations of Educator Standards (TExES), and having two years of acceptable teaching experience, the student will be recommended for the Standard Counselor Certificate.

ADMISSION

There are no additional requirements other than those required for admission to the graduate program at DBU.

College of Education Graduate Portfolio

Because of Dallas Baptist University's quest for meaningful assessment of graduate students, a portfolio assessment is required in all College of Education graduate programs. The process of creating a portfolio is explained in the College of Education Graduate Portfolio Manual, which can be downloaded from the DBU website at www.dbu.edu/graduate/grad_educ_portfolio1.asp. The portfolio allows students to present information about themselves as learners and to document growth over a period of time.

The portfolio should be a collection of artifacts accompanied by self-reflections that not only help the learner to understand and extend learning, but also invite the reader of the portfolio to gain insights about the learner. Please refer to the Portfolio Manual for appropriate procedures to follow in preparation of the portfolio. Students must register for the Professional Portfolio course as prescribed in their degree plan during the semester in which they will present their portfolio to the Educator Preparation Board. The Educator Preparation Board is a group of experienced and widely successful educators from Dallas Baptist University and the Metroplex. Practicing teachers, administrators, consultants, superintendents, guidance directors, personnel directors, and Educational Region Service Center personnel as well as DBU professors and administrators volunteer their time for this highly selective process. The Educator Preparation Board serves as the College of Education Graduate Programs advisory board and meets three times a year to assess graduate students' professional portfolios.

Pathways to Teaching Program

(Teacher Certification as a Post-Baccalaureate student and not seeking a master's degree)

The Pathways to Teaching Program is a specifically designed program which allows an individual who has already obtained at least a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited university to earn Texas teacher certification. Once certification is complete, the individual may add an ESL Supplemental or Special Education Supplemental teacher certification. An individual may choose to pursue only teacher certification or certification and a master's degree.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS :

- Complete Undergraduate Application as a Post-Baccalaureate Applicant
- Non-refundable $25 application fee
- A conferred bachelor's or master's degree
- Official transcripts from all institutions attended
- Letter of intent (typewritten) stating:
 - Which certificate you would like to earn and why you selected that program
 - What you personally hope to accomplish during this program
 - Why you have chosen to attend Dallas Baptist University
- Minimum 3.0 GPA in previous coursework. In some instances it is possible for an individual to take prerequisite courses to raise a low GPA.
- Current professional resume
- Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission
- THEA requirements: 260 on Reading, 240 on Math, 240 on Writing

Pre-Admission Content Test (PACT) Information

Post-baccalaureate individuals seeking Texas teaching certification who have not yet enrolled in DBU's Pathways to Teaching Certification Program have the opportunity to take the state Pre-Admission Content Test (PACT) to demonstrate subject area content proficiency. Successful test results on the PACT may be substituted for the required 18-24 hours of subject related content courses in the Pathways to Teaching Certification plan.

Please contact Dr. Carolyn Spain at 214-333-5217 for additional information regarding the PACT procedure and acceptance into the Pathways to Teaching Certification program.

Master of Arts in Counseling

Mary L. Becerril, Ph.D., Program Director, Main Campus
Joe Cook, D.Min., Program Director, DBU North

The Master of Arts degree in Counseling (MAC) prepares graduates to render counseling services in a variety of settings such as community counseling centers, drug and alcohol treatment facilities, college and university counseling centers, Christian counseling centers, private psychiatric hospitals, domestic violence shelters, churches, rehabilitation centers, and private practice. The burgeoning interest in professional counseling and the growing disillusionment with a "morally neutral" approach to counseling indicates the need for a graduate program which will apply Biblical presuppositions as the starting points and goals in a counseling approach.

Presently, all classes leading to the MAC degree are taught in the evening and on the weekend.

ADMISSION

There are no additional requirements other than those required for admission to the graduate program at DBU.

Master of Arts in Counseling Agreement Contract:

Newly admitted students will meet with the Program Director, at which time the Master of Arts in Counseling Agreement Contract will be explained and discussed. By signing this agreement contract, new students are stating their willingness to be evaluated on nine characteristics deemed necessary for the development of an ethical and competent counselor. These characteristics are implied from the expectations of professional and personal competence and responsibility as outlined by the American Counseling Association Code of Ethics (2005): openness, flexibility, positiveness, cooperativeness, willingness to use and accept feedback, awareness of impact on others, ability to deal with conflict, ability to accept personal responsibility, and ability to express feelings effectively and appropriately. In addition, the student's signature on the contract expresses agreement to attend eight counseling sessions during the first two semesters in the M.A.C. Program.

PROGRAM CONTINUANCE

Continuance in the program past the first 12 hours is pending submission of satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE):

* a minimum verbal score of 400 combined with the quantitative score to equal 850.

* a minimum verbal score of 400 combined with a minimum analytical writing score of 4.0.

In lieu of the GRE, the applicant may submit the GMAT, MAT, or other nationally-recognized aptitude test with comparable scores upon approval of the program director and the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

Continuance in the program past the first 18 hours is pending successful completion of a minimum of 12 undergraduate credit hours in psychology (including general psychology, Statistics, and six upper-level hours).

PREREQUISITES

There are four undergraduate-level psychology prerequisites: Introduction to Psychology, Statistics, and 6 hours of upper-level Psychology.

Master of Arts in Counseling Practicum

The practicum experience consists of two courses, COUN 6392 (S-L) and COUN 6393 (S-L), completed sequentially following the pre-practicum course, COUN 5391. The practicum is the culmination of the M.A. in Counseling degree program and is intended to provide practical experience for students as they make plans to enter the counseling profession. Both practicum courses include supervised delivery of direct counseling services in an approved agency or institution. Students are evaluated on a wide range of personal and professional criteria which includes analysis of taped counseling sessions and seminar discussions of counseling theories, methods, and techniques. (S-L) = Course(s) with field-based service-learning component.

Students should attempt to enroll in the three practicum courses (which includes the pre-practicum) sequentially. In order to progress through the three courses, a grade of "B" or above must be earned. In the event of a "C" or below, the course will have to be repeated until at least a "B" is earned. The student is responsible for any remedial work that may be suggested by the faculty in order to successfully complete the practicum course.

Program Requirements

The program of study provides students the necessary course work to meet academic requirements to become a Licensed Professional Counselor. Course requirements include forty-nine credit hours consisting of:

COUN 5380	Introduction to Professional Counseling
COUN 5382	Counseling Theories and Techniques

COUN 5383	Group Counseling Methods
COUN 5385	Lifespan Human Development
COUN 5386	Psychological Testing
COUN 5387	Research Methods
COUN 5389	Multicultural Perspectives
COUN 5391	Pre-Practicum in Counseling
COUN 6100	Comprehensive Counseling Review
COUN 6380	Career Counseling and Lifestyle Development
COUN 6381	Addictive and Compulsive Disorders
COUN 6382	Psychopathology
COUN 6383	Marriage and Family Counseling
COUN 6384	Contemporary Approaches to Christian Counseling
COUN 6385	Advanced Counseling Methods and Crisis Intervention
COUN 6392	Counseling Practicum I (S-L)
COUN 6393	Counseling Practicum II (S-L)

After completion of the 49-hour graduate counseling program, the graduate is eligible to apply for state LPC licensure. In order to become licensed in Texas, the program graduate must pass the National Certification Examination and complete a 3000-hour supervised counseling internship.

Total Credit Hours Required : Minimum 49 hours

(S-L) = Course(s) with field-based service-learning component.

Thomas Sanders, Ph.D., Director

The Master of Arts in Christian Education: Childhood Ministry is designed to equip childhood ministers to understand the needs of children, explore the principles of best strategies in teaching and reaching children, and implement ministry that impacts not only the child, but the family. The program provides foundations in theological, educational, and practical programming for effective childhood ministry. It combines academic training and practical ministry application that focus intentionally on the world children live in and the faith they need to follow Christ for the rest of their lives. Master of Arts in Christian Ministry

Jim Lemons, Ph.D., Director

The Master of Arts in Christian Ministry program is designed to help prepare students for a wide variety of ministries in churches or church-related fields. The degree plan permits students to focus on practical, biblical, historical, theological, and general ministry-related course options offered throughout the various ministry programs in the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership. In doing so, the program will offer students a broad, multifaceted exposure to Christian Ministry in the 21st century. In addition, the Master of Arts in Christian Ministry program will assist students in discerning and defining the particular direction of their call to ministry. It will also assist students in gaining additional practical and theological training while they are currently serving in churches and church-related vocations locally, nationally, and globally.

Prerequisites: (6 hours)

Basic Old Testament
Basic New Testament

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Master of Arts in Global Leadership

Bob Garrett, Ph.D., Director

Designed for a growing new breed of global-thinking leaders who aspire to serve in ways that break old paradigms and forge new ones, the Master of Arts in Global Leadership explores ways to be a leader in the rapidly changing world of ideas, cultures, religions, and business ventures. Students are highly motivated, self-starters with innovative ideas who are eager to make a difference in the world. The Master of Arts in Global Leadership is for people who are looking for ways to achieve significance by connecting positively with people in other cultures and societies around the globe. Learning how to understand and relate in positive ways to other cultures is a crucial skill for leadership in today's multi-ethnic and multi-cultural environment. Since globalization puts people in direct contact with one another in new ways and with an intensity that would have been unthinkable only a few years ago, students learn to develop their own leadership style for working inter-culturally in today's global environment.

Master of Arts in Worship Leadership

Robert Brooks, D.M.A., Director

The Master of Arts in Worship Leadership is a unique program designed to engage worship leaders in a holistic study of Christian worship in order to educate the Church both individually and corporately in the theological and practical dimensions of worship. The program provides "worship leaders"—whether they are pastoral, educational, music, student (youth), or otherwise—a sound theological, transformational, and practical program for worship foundation and practice.

Criteria for Admission:

All applicants for the program MUST meet all three (3) requirements AND two (2) of the admission criteria listed below to be considered for admission.

Admission requirements:

- A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution.
- Evidence that the student is a Christian, and is compatible with DBU's mission by proven conduct in accordance with Christian standards set forth in the Bible, announced intent, and by church involvement.
- Old and New Testament Survey courses and one upper level course in Religion or Theology are prerequisites that should be taken either prior to entering the program or during the first year of taking Master of Arts in Worship Leadership courses.

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Admission criteria:

- A grade point average of 2.8 or higher on a 4.0 scale in all previous course work.
- A grade point average of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale in the last 60 hours of undergraduate coursework.
- A minimum GRE score of 400 on the verbal section or an undergraduate entrance score of 1100 on the SAT or 24 on the ACT.
- Five or more years of successful, relevant ministry experience that may be evidenced through positions held and ministers' recommendations.
- Twelve hours of graduate work from an accredited institution with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher.

Master of Education in Higher Education

Mark Hale, Acting Program Director

The Higher Education Program provides graduate students with the opportunity to earn a Master of Education (M.Ed.) degree in Higher Education. Studies in Higher Education provide individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various facets of post-secondary institutions. This exploration is conducted from a uniquely Christian perspective.

Individuals who are interested in higher education administration, student personnel work, university development/advancement, or teaching on the college level will be well served by the M.Ed. in Higher Education degree. Students can choose from two different 36-hour, non-thesis degree tracks: the Administration Track, or the Instructional Track. The program is available online.

Admission Requirements:

There are no additional requirements other than those required for admission to the graduate program at DBU.

Program Continuance:

Continuance in the program past the first 12 hours is pending submission of satisfactory scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE):

*a minimum verbal score of 400 combined with the quantitative score to equal 850

*a minimum verbal score of 400 combined with a minimum analytical writing score of 4.0

In lieu of the GRE, the applicant may submit the GMAT, MAT, or other nationally-recognized aptitude test with comparable scores upon approval of the program director and the Master's Programs Admission Committee.

Master of Arts in Christian Education/Master of Arts in Theological Studies Dual Degree

Stephen M. Stookey, Ph.D., M.A. in Theological Studies Program Director

The dual degree program, Master of Arts in Christian Education and Master of Arts in Theological Studies provides Christ-centered graduate level education in order to prepare servant leaders for Christian ministry. Students will have opportunity to gain the knowledge and skills for church-related ministries; and broad foundations in biblical, historical, theological, and practical ministry. This dual degree program will provide students advanced understandings of the foundations of Christian faith. By educating their minds and kindling their hearts in a manner that promotes a life of service for Christ's kingdom, students will have the opportunity to combine classical graduate theological education with practical ministry training.

Master of Arts in Christian Education/Master of Business Administration Dual Degree

Sandra Reid, Ph.D., M.B.A. Program Director

The role of the church leader continues to grow in complexity as the concept of the global community expands. The pressure to operate as a business with scarce resources is a reality that cannot be ignored. Many predict that the real mission fields in the future will be through business leaders as they work in the United States, Europe, and third world countries, heightening the demand to blend theological knowledge and training with business theory and application.

Prospective students from the ministry will pursue this dual degree to obtain and strengthen the skills and competencies needed to be effective in church leadership roles such as executive pastor, division leader, church planter, and/or global ministry. In addition, while the vast majority of students applying for admission to this unique, dual degree program may already be serving in a ministry or believe they are called to serve, there will also be students who have started a business career and subsequently sense a call to the ministry.

ADMISSION

Existing admission criteria will remain the same for both degree programs.

- An MBA student will need to meet the requirements of and be accepted by the Master of Arts in Christian Education Admission Committee.
- A Master of Arts in Christian Education student will need to meet the requirements of the MBA Program and be accepted by the Master's Degrees Admission Committee.

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

PREREQUISITES

Prerequisite course work must be satisfied for both degree programs.

Master of Arts in Christian Education: Student Ministry/Master of Arts in Management Dual Degree

Dwayne Ulmer, Ed.D., M.A.C.E. in Student Ministry Program Director
Joanne Hix, M.A. in Management Program Director

The role of the student ministry leader continues to grow in complexity, heightening the need to blend theological knowledge, specialized student ministry training, and business management theory and application. Student ministers will pursue these degrees to gain the skills and competencies needed for effective church and parachurch leadership in areas such as student ministry or church planting.

ADMISSION

Existing admission criteria would remain the same for both degree programs.

- A MAM student will need to meet the requirements of and be accepted by the MAST Admission Committee.
- A MAST student will need to meet the requirements of the MAM Program and be accepted by the Master's Degrees Admission Committee.

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

PREREQUISITES

Prerequisite course work must be satisfied for both degree programs.

- MAST prerequisites are 6 hours.
- MAM prerequisites are 4.5 hours at the 5000-level or 9 hours at the undergraduate level.

Master of Arts in Global Leadership/Master of Arts in Teaching Dual Degree

Bob Garrett, Ph.D., M.A. in Global Leadership Program Director
Carolyn Spain, Ed.D., M.A. in Teaching Program Director

The 21st century affords exciting opportunities for global servant leadership in a variety of educational institutions around the world. This dual degree program is designed for students who want to develop academic expertise in a given discipline with which they can teach in overseas universities or other international academic programs, institutions, and settings. At the same time students can develop skills sets to help them with the complex dynamics needed to serve others by adding value to their lives and sharing a gospel witness in diverse cultural contexts – by learning to adjust to cross-cultural environments, by acquiring another language, and by making and sustaining intercultural relationships.

ADMISSIONS:

- A M.A. in Global Leadership (M.A.G.L.) student will need to meet the requirements of the M.A. in Teaching (M.A.T.) program and be accepted by the Master's Degree Admission Committee.
- A M.A.T. student will need to meet the requirements of and be accepted by the M.A.G.L. Admission Committee.

Note: Church Membership Requirement (for Admission to Master's Ministry Degrees and Advanced Ministry Certificate Programs): Within the last 12 months the applicant must have been an active member of a Christian church that holds Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Master of Arts in Global Leadership/Master of Arts in Theological Studies Dual Degree

Stephen M. Stookey, Ph.D., M.A. in Theological Studies Program Director

The dual degree program, Master of Arts in Global Leadership and Master of Arts in Theological Studies provides Christ-centered graduate level education to prepare servant leaders for Christian ministry with a focus toward global leadership and theological studies. This dual degree program seeks to educate candidates for Christian servant leadership in the multi-faceted global context, equipping them with intercultural leadership skills in order to integrate their Christian faith and witness as they make significant contributions in today's multi-cultural and multi-ethnic environment. Additionally, the M.A.G.L./M.A.T.S. degree program provides a broad foundation in biblical, historical, theological, and practical ministry studies by providing students advanced understandings of the foundations of Christian faith.

Master of Education in Higher Education/Master of Education in Kinesiology Dual Degree

Mark Hale, M.Ed. in Higher Education Acting Program Director
Ray Galloway, Ed.D., M.Ed. in Kinesiology Program Director

The Master of Education in Higher Education (MEDHE) and Master of Education in Kinesiology (MEDKN) dual degree is a fifty-four hour, non-thesis program. The program consists of a MEDHE core curriculum of 21 hours and a MEKN core curriculum of 21 hours with three credit hours of shared core curriculum and nine credit hours of electives.

The M.Ed. in Higher Education program is committed to fulfilling the University mission of providing Christ-centered, quality higher education in order to produce servant leaders who possess the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings and career opportunities. The program provides individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various facets of post-secondary institutions.

The Master of Education in Kinesiology program is designed to allow students to receive a Master of Education in Kinesiology. The purpose of the M.Ed. in Kinesiology is to equip candidates for Christian servant leadership in the multi-faceted areas of Kinesiology, equipping them with intercultural and leadership skills equal to integrating their Christian faith and witness as they make significant contributions to the human endeavor. This degree will prepare students to apply their studies to the design of wellness, fitness, and health promotion programs in various settings of professional interest: education, corporate, and commercial.

ADMISSION

Existing admission criteria would remain the same for both degree programs.

1. An M.Ed. in Higher Education student will need to meet the requirements of the MEDKN Program and be accepted by the Master's Degrees Admission Committee.

Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs

The accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree programs at DBU provide a means for highly motivated individuals with clearly defined career goals to attain knowledge and skills from both undergraduate and master's degrees in a single accelerated process. Combining the degrees provides a faster track to graduation, proves to be more cost effective, and gives the student the opportunity to enter the workforce sooner with a competitive advantage.

Permission to Pursue an Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program

Students wishing to enter an accelerated program should file a Statement of Commitment with their academic advisor. Permission to pursue the program will be considered based on the following criteria:

- Completion of 75 semester hours (see individual degree requirements) with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 at the time of filing a Statement of Commitment. The 3.0 GPA criteria must be maintained to continue in the program.
- The Statement of Commitment must be approved and signed by both the undergraduate advisor and the Master's program director. At that time, a new degree plan must be completed, approved, and signed by both the undergraduate advisor and the Master's program director.
- At the completion of 90 semester hours (to include 12 institutional hours with a 3.0 GPA) students must apply for admission to the Master's program. Students pursuing the B.B.A. Accounting/M.B.A. Accounting must apply at the completion of 96 hours.
- Upon acceptance into the Master's program, students may take 5000 or 6000 level courses as prescribed by their degree plan.

Note: Permission to pursue an accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program does not guarantee admission to the Master's program. All requirements for admission to the Master's program must be met. Students may not enroll in 5000 or 6000 level courses prior to admission to the Master's program.

Retention in and Graduation from the Program

Students must fulfill the following conditions to continue enrollment and graduate from an accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program:

- Students must maintain an institutional GPA of 3.0 at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and at the undergraduate level, an institutional GPA of 3.0 in coursework comprising the major or in all teacher certification coursework.
- A minimum 3.0 GPA is required to graduate with a master's degree.
- Students must be advised by both their undergraduate advisor and their graduate program director/advisor prior to enrollment each semester.
- Transfer students must meet the residency requirement for the bachelor's degree of a minimum of 32 hours. Shared courses at the graduate level are considered to be part of the undergraduate residency requirement.
- If the student decides not to complete the Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program, he/she must work with the undergraduate advisor in order to meet the degree requirements for the non-accelerated Bachelor's degree in order to graduate.

Note: Please refer to each program for requirements specific to that program only.

Doctoral Programs

Dan MacMillan, Ed.D., Director

Traditional Program – students enrolled in the Ed.D. in Education Leadership Program before Fall 2007

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership emphasizes a practical approach to leadership development and accentuates the servant leadership model. This degree program is for individuals who intend to put their skills into practice through positions of leadership in higher education institutions or K-12 school systems. DBU's purpose is to provide a transforming Christ-centered quality education, and our desire is to produce servant leaders who are trained to develop other leaders through the knowledge and skills gained in this doctoral program.

The program offers two tracks of study:

- Higher Education Leadership - provides cognate studies in community college leadership, higher education administration and leadership, and student affairs leadership.
- K-12 Leadership - equips leaders who intend to serve in K-12 school systems and includes Texas superintendent's certification.

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership is a 60-hour program with twenty-one (21) credit hours of core studies in educational leadership, nine (9) credit hours in research studies, six (6) credit hours of internship, twelve (12) credit hours of cognate studies, six (6) credit hours of additional concentration in a academic discipline or independent study, and six (6) credit hours of dissertation research and writing. In addition, each student will complete two 250-hour service-learning internships as part of the degree program that will enhance his or her competencies in a selected academic field or department. A primary goal of the Ed.D. program is that the integrated curriculum and the praxis-based experiences create significant transforming personal growth within each student, who will emerge well-equipped to contribute in his/her field.

The program is academically rigorous and practical in design. Students from other countries, diverse cultures, different higher education institutions, and various school systems enrich this graduate program. This is an exciting and stimulating educational experience for everyone involved.

Classes are offered each fall, spring, and summer term. Students who enroll in six hours during each term will be able to complete their coursework in approximately three years. Upon successful completion of all doctoral coursework and the subsequent comprehensive exams, the student may begin the dissertation process. All requirements for the Ed.D. degree must be completed within a period of seven years from the date of initial enrollment in the program.

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership

Dan MacMillan, Ed.D., Director

Cohort Program – Students that entered the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership program after the Fall semester 2007

The purpose of the Dallas Baptist University Ed.D. in Educational Leadership Program is to provide Christ-centered, quality, research-based doctoral studies in the area of educational leadership to adult practitioner-learners in order to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning for the purpose of school improvement.

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership emphasizes a practical approach to leadership development that accentuates the servant-leadership model. This degree program is for individuals who intend to put their skills into practice through positions of leadership in higher education institutions, K-12 school systems, and education ministries. Our desire is to produce servant-leaders who are trained to develop other leaders through the knowledge and skills gained in this doctoral program.

The program offers three tracks of study:

- Education Ministry Leadership – Equips students for educational leadership in churches, universities, state and national conventions, denominational agencies, and other Christian based institutions and ministries.
- Higher Education Leadership – Equips students for senior-level leadership and service in public and private higher education institutions.
- K-12 Leadership – Equips students for district-level leadership and service in both public and private K-12 school systems

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership is a sixty (60) credit hour program consisting of 27 hours of core studies, in educational leadership 9 hours of research studies, 18 hours of cognate studies, and 6 hours of dissertation research and writing. The program is designed to provide an opportunity for students to begin writing their dissertation proposal in the third year of study. The program is academically rigorous yet practical in design.

Ph.D. in Leadership Studies

Jeremy Dutschke, Ph.D. Director

The Dallas Baptist University Ph.D. in Leadership Studies is an interdisciplinary degree, requiring a total of sixty (60) credit hours of advanced study beyond the master's degree: thirty (30) credit hours of core leadership studies; twelve (12) credit hours of research and statistics (assuming that a student enters with at least one master's level statistics course); nine (9) credit hours of electives in one of four areas of concentration (business, education, higher education, or general leadership); a 120-hour mentored internship (3 credit hours) of eight hours of training each week for fifteen weeks; and the writing of a prospectus and dissertation, for which six (6) credit hours will be awarded upon completion. Organized both systematically and thematically, the study and research of leadership derives from the biblical, classical, philosophical, historical, and global dimensions of effective leadership. It draws from, and integrates with, the fields of business, education, higher education, and general leadership, including the practice of ministry. Across the curriculum the program includes several theoretical and behavioral cognates: applied biblical ethics, motivational communication skills, issues related to conflict and change, and the value of cultural diversity.

Academically rigorous and creative, faculty and students engage the study of leadership as a community of scholars from business, education, government, ministry, and other disciplines. In addition to the semester courses, the program includes three summer institutes comprised of 7-14 day intensive sessions. The first summer institute is held in Dallas and focuses upon personal growth, professional development plans, and leadership courses. The second summer institute includes a trip to Washington, D.C. with a special emphasis on political leadership. The third summer institute takes place in Oxford, England, with a concentration on global and cultural leadership issues.

Graduate Course Descriptions

Accounting

ACCT 5311 (3-3-0) Survey of Accounting

This course introduces students to accounting, the language of business. Students will learn the techniques for financial data accumulation and reporting under generally accepted accounting principles. Students will also study the accounting concepts and methods used in managerial planning, control, and decision-making. A major course objective is to prepare students to interpret and understand corporate financial statements as a basis for evaluating an organization's performance. Equivalent to ACCT 2301 Principles of Financial Accounting and ACCT 2302 Principles of Managerial Accounting. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

ACCT 6321 (3-3-0) Managerial Accounting

This course is a study of the internal accounting methods of business organizations. The course's major emphasis is the use of accounting for planning and control. Various topics include determining manufacturing costs, cost behavior patterns, costing systems, cost-volume relationships, relevant costs, budgeting and control procedures, responsibility accounting, transfer pricing, and capital budgeting. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: ACCT 5311 or undergraduate equivalent. (MISM 6314 strongly recommended).

ACCT 6330 (3-3-0) Tax Planning and Research

This course provides students with advanced knowledge of tax concepts and federal tax laws affecting business planning and decision making. Students will learn various techniques and procedures available to evaluate tax planning opportunities and risks inherent in common management decisions. The primary objective is to enable students to identify tax issues and conduct tax research. Spring. Prerequisite: ACCT 3323 completed within the last three years.

ACCT 6335 (3-3-0) Financial Statement Analysis

This course presents fundamental analysis techniques and stresses the use of financial accounting in decision making. The focus will be on the role of financial statement analysis by decision makers for current evaluation and future prediction. Spring hybrid; Summer online (even years) Prerequisites: ACCT 3301 and ACCT 3302.

ACCT 6343 (3-3-0) Accounting for Governmental and Non-profit Entities

A survey course of budgeting and fund accounting as applied to non-profit and governmental entities: hospitals, schools, religious and charitable organizations, municipalities, and other governmental units. Spring. Prerequisite: ACCT 6321.

ACCT 6344 (3-3-0) Nonprofit Accounting, Resource Development and Fundraising

This course will focus on the preparation, auditing and reporting on financial statements for the nonprofit organization that are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The course also examines the explicit process of ethical fund development and innovative fundraising strategies. It covers fundraising from such sources as major donors, foundations, grassroots efforts and capital campaigns. Prerequisite: ACCT 6321. Fall.

ACCT 6345 (3-3-0) Fraud and Forensic Accounting

This course provides an overview of the concepts and skills of fraud investigation and forensic accounting. Course coverage includes an evaluation of the fraud problem; prevention and detection of fraud and the use of technology to detect fraud; elements of fraud investigation, interview techniques, fraud types; laws governing the prosecution of fraud cases; and skills needed to testify in fraud cases as an expert witness. Spring and odd-year Long Summer. Prerequisite: ACCT 5311.

ACCT 6346 (3-3-0) Advanced Auditing

A continuation of the study of auditing, the course covers advanced topics in auditing theory and practice. Emphasis is on emerging issues, changes in the auditing profession, and the interrelations of auditing standards and the techniques and procedures of professional practice. Case studies will be used. Prerequisite: ACCT 4304.

ACCT 6355 (3-3-0) Case Studies in Advanced Accounting Topics

This is the capstone course for an M.B.A. in Accounting. It is a case-based integrative course designed to provide students the opportunity to unify and apply the learning they have gained in previous accounting coursework. Students will be required to research complex areas in accounting and taxation. This course meets the research requirements set by the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: ACCT 6330 and ACCT 6335. May be taken only as student's last accounting course in program.

Business

BUAD 5301 (3-3-0) Orientation to American Business Techniques and Culture (EDUC 5301, MALA 5319)

This course is designed for international students as an introduction/orientation to business and education in the U.S. In addition to practical application through presentations, interviews, and company visits, students will strengthen basic skills in order to prepare for graduate work. Areas of focus will include graduate-level writing, research skills, case analysis, and interpersonal communication. Prerequisite: Enrollment is limited to first year International M.B.A. students only.

Business Communication

BUCM 6301 (3-3-0) Directing Organization Communication

This course focuses on strategy for corporate and nonprofit organizations in directing organization communication through developing a communication plan. Students will learn relevant principles and practices of communication theory adaptive to public relations, corporate and nonprofit advocacy and advertising, crisis management and reputation control, marketing, employee relations and community perception. Fall. Prerequisites: MANA 51.521, MANA 51.522, and MRKT 51.521, or undergraduate equivalents.

BUCM 6302 (3-3-0) Customer-Centric Communication

This course focuses on leading high performance work teams and coordinating departments throughout an organization to serve the customer, both internally and externally. Communication tools such as press releases, employee handbooks, blogging, word-of-mouth, and stakeholder materials will be reviewed. Comprehensive written and verbal communication with a focus on writing, creating, and delivering high-impact presentations using advanced computer graphics and persuasion styles will be studied. Enhancement of communication skills, techniques, and theories that lead to more persuasive, influential, and professional performance will be an integral part of the course. Spring. Prerequisites: BUCM 6301 and MISM 6314.

BUCM 6304 (3-3-0) Leadership in Global Business Communication

This capstone course applies communication on a global basis, integrating multiple cultures, diversity, economic, psychological, sociological, technological, legal and regulatory forces of a rapidly-globalizing marketplace. The capstone project will include components of business, communication, and training plans on the global environment. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: BUCM 6302 and MANA 6312.

Christian Education

MACE 5302 (3-3-0) Biblical Servant Leadership

This course will explore the practice of leadership from a biblical servant leader point of view and the various styles of leadership. Students will be encouraged to develop a personal set of leadership principles reflecting those of a servant. Considerations will also be given to developing people skills, team building skills, and conflict management skills. Students must take this course during their first year in the program.

MACE 6301 (3-3-0) Introduction to Christian Education

This course provides an overview of the field of Christian education including organization and methods. Considerations will be given to current church practices and to developing a criterion for building a great commission driven education ministry for all age groups in the local church. Fall, Spring, Online. Students must take this course during their first semester in the Master of Arts in Christian Education program.

MACE 6304 (3-3-0) Philosophy and Principles of Christian Education

This course includes an overview of the history of Christian education. Focus will be given to the biblical and theological basis of Christian education in the church and especially the purpose of New Testament churches as it relates to education and evangelism. Online.

MACE 6307 (3-3-0) Church and Business Administration

This course reviews the philosophy and principles of church and business administration in relationships to ministry objectives. Areas considered in the study are: functional areas of church administration, preparing of a constitution and by-laws, church organization, planning, church staff development, staff meetings, office management, finances, facilities, food services, insurance, and legal issues related to personnel, taxes, and the security of children and others involved in church ministry.

MACE 6308 (3-3-0) Evangelism, Missions, and Growth Through Education Ministry

This course will focus on the role of evangelism, missions, and growth in the education ministry of the church. It will include a study of church growth principles and their application in education ministry. The place of missions and mission activity development will be studied with special emphasis upon local community missions. Students will develop their personal testimony, learn to present the plan of salvation, and learn to teach lay leaders and members to witness. Some attention will be given to contemporary and innovative church growth methodologies.

MACE 6309 (3-3-0) Developing Lay Leaders in the Church

This course will give strong focus to developing a theology of service for church members and leaders that includes polity and the way a church organizes for its work. Areas covered are: discovering leaders through their spiritual gifts assessment, establishing a climate for service, effective ways for enlisting people to serve, providing training for service, establishing a climate for service, evaluating service, and providing support for those who serve. Online.

MACE 6310 (3-3-0) Church Staff and Member Relations Practicum (S-L)

This course is designed to give each student one semester of supervised practicum related to the student's vocational goal. Each student will be paired with a full-time practitioner for guidance and for hands-on experience. Every effort will be made for students to observe the practitioner in his/her role, to carry out assignments or projects under the supervision of the practitioner, or to serve part-time or full-time in a staff position related to his/her vocational goal. Global Leadership

MAGL 5315 (3-3-0) Leadership Practicum (S-L)

The course consists of supervised experience in a challenging work environment under the guidance of mentoring relationships provided by a proficient veteran in the field and an academic advisor. Students improve leadership skills in field experience that stretches and tests their abilities. Students learn to identify and utilize personal strengths effectively and to manage weaknesses in real life settings. This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

MAGL 5316 (3-3-0) Global Leadership Practicum (S-L)

The course places students in a challenging cross-cultural situation where it is necessary to show ability in managing different customs, norms, and expectations produced by inter-cultural encounter. Special attention will be given to developing effective strategies for enhancing understanding among people of vastly different cultural backgrounds. This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

MAGL 5330 (3-3-0) Introduction to Missiology

An introductory study of the theory and practice of Christian missions, examining the challenge of adapting how the gospel is best communicated to specific cross-cultural situations, the course is designed to orient students to the challenges of giving a coherent cross-cultural witness to the gospel, but it will be of special interest to prospective missionaries and those who anticipate a ministry in a multi-cultural context. The course will include the biblical foundation for missions.

MAGL 5331 (3-3-0) Cross-Cultural Living and Ministry

The course is an inter-cultural exercise in learning how to personally engage a new population with the good news of the gospel, the course focuses on the role of the individual who serves others in a cross-cultural environment and analyzes issues of cultural adaptation, language acquisition, and contextualization of gospel witness. Helpful insights are given to improve inter-cultural skills because of the multi-cultural nature of modern society and of most local church settings.

MAGL 5332 (3-3-0) Strategies for Missionary Work

An in depth study of strategies and tactics for missionary work; reviews the history of strategic approaches in missions, culminating with current strategies for reaching unreached people groups (UPGs); includes overview of the development and nature of the UPG paradigm. Students use current case studies, existing strategy plans, and contacts with field-based missions teams to develop a thorough understanding of the UPG approach to missions.

MAGL 5333 (3-3-0) Local Church on Mission

The course teaches practical steps to developing a "missional" church devoted to sharing the gospel in positive terms in its own community, region, nation, and world. The course provides tools for church workers who desire for their church to have a global agenda. Attention will also be given to planning and conducting local and international volunteer missions projects.

MAGL 5334 (3-3-0) Chronological Bible Storying

The course helps students learn to communicate more effectively to non-literate oral learners by using stories and narratives to communicate an essential Christian message. Students will come to understand that most of the world's population does not learn by literate, but by oral methods, so that our communication style must reflect their preferred manner of learning. Worldview issues determine the precise choices of key Bible stories so that the Christian message can engage their cultural understandings at deep levels.

MAGL 5335 (3-3-0) Biographies of Outstanding Missionaries

The course consists of reading biographies of inspiring examples of Christian living and ministry from the history of missions. Biographies from the early church, medieval missions, the modern missionary movement, and recent missionary leaders are read. These personal models for kingdom work are instructive in learning personal habits that can achieve greatness in servant leadership and provide case studies by which missiological principles and strategies may be arrived at inductively. The class considers how examples of lives lived to honor God have made significant contributions in very different settings around the world.

MAGL 5340 (3-3-0) Strategic Christian Witness in the Global Marketplace

A study of emerging trends in mission strategy for creative access and developing platforms that unite global business, cultural and educational interchange and effective cross-cultural witness, the course integrates entrepreneurial business methods with inter-cultural communication of the Christian message.

MAGL 5341 (3-3-0) Perspectives on the World Christian Movement

The course reviews recent and best thinking on the advance of world evangelization by reviewing the biblical basis for missions, the history of worldwide expansion of Christianity, cultural adaptation and competencies required for work among remote peoples, and missionary strategies. Students read from an anthology of top missiological thinking by evangelicals prepared by the US Center for World Mission. Students learn where missions has taken Christianity today and where global evangelization efforts should be going.

(THEO 6391)

This course introduces the student to advanced biblical and theological research. Exegetical, survey, descriptive, historical, and theological methods will be examined. The form and structure of literature reviews, book reviews, and research papers/theses will be studied. Course assignments enable scholarly investigation in an area of the student's interest, relevant to the degree program purposes, with the end results of both a scholarly research document/presentation and application of scholarly research in a local ministry context. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring, Online.

(MACM 6393)

This course is designed to give each student one semester of supervised practicum experience related to the student's vocational goal. Students will be paired with a full-time proven ministry practitioner for guidance and for on-the-job ministry experience exposure. Every effort will be made for students to observe the practitioner in his/her role, to carry out assignments or projects under the supervision of the practitioner, and/or to serve part-time or full-time in a ministry position related to his/her vocational goal. The student will meet with an assigned professor at least once each month during the semester for reporting and for discussions related to various practical ministry-related topics. Application for this course must be made through the M.A.C.M. program director's office. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Periodically.

Worship Leadership

MAWL 5307 (3-3-0) History of Worship Song

This course will equip the student with an understanding of the practice and function of corporate song in worship. Psalms, hymns, and contemporary songs will be studied from historical, theological, and musical perspectives. The aesthetic, cultural, and stylistic environments of each musical genre will be studied in order to reveal the purpose of the creation of these compositions for the worship experience. Performance practice is studied in order to prepare worship leaders with necessary skill sets to lead corporate song for today's church. Fall.

MAWL 5310 (3-3-0) Worship Philosophy and Practice

This course is designed to assist the student in developing a sound philosophy of Christian worship. A survey of biblical, historical, and psychological foundations in worship will aid the student in formulating services of worship. An examination of common practice, cultural, and aesthetic issues concerning worship will develop student skill sets necessary in synthesizing and incorporating key worship materials for today's church. The study includes the fine arts in worship, and explores how to lead people in these specialized artistic disciplines. Spring.

MAWL 5312 (3-3-0) Worship Songwriting and Arranging

This course explores the art of songwriting and is structured as a writing seminar as well as a lecture series with guest lecturers from the field of worship song composition and performance. Current worship songwriting practice is explored through compositional technique, song form, melodic construction and lyric analysis from a theological perspective. In addition, basic techniques of arranging for vocal and instrumental worship ensembles are explored. Spring. Prerequisites: MUSB 3320 and MAWL 5307 (or comparable experience in field or coursework).

MAWL 5315 (3-3-0) Vocal and Instrumental Techniques in Worship

This course explores principles and methods of current worship performance practice in vocal and instrumental music for today's church. The student worship leader is instructed in foundational vocal, choral, and instrumental pedagogies for worship ensembles; including coordinating and conducting vocal ensembles, rhythms sections, soloists, and instrumental ensembles. Fall.

MAWL 6303 (3-3-0) Spiritual Formation and Worship

This course will survey the resources available to a Christian minister for personal spiritual growth and effectiveness as a minister. The study will include practical guidance and personal disciplines for spiritual formation based upon biblical principles. Fall, Spring.

MAWL 6308 (3-3-0) Worship Through the Ages

This course surveys the practice of private and corporate worship from the New Testament era through the present, including the rites, symbols, writings, and elements held sacred by the most prominent Christian traditions. It will also identify leaders who shaped most significantly the ways in which the Church has gathered to worship. Spring.

MAWL 6311 (3-3-0) Global Worship

This course examines the impact of worship as it relates to missions around the globe. The course will provide a biblical, theological, historical, and practical examination of the role worship exerts in the philosophy and practice of missions. Attention will be given to the practical ways worship aids the proclamation of the Gospel. Fall.

MAWL 6312 (3-3-0) The Worshipping Life

This course examines the biblical, theological, historical, and practical aspects of the worshipping leader's life as a disciple of Christ. The course provides an examination and evaluation of various ethical-leadership models as they relate directly to the current practice of contemporary ministry. Focus will be directed toward the worshipping leader's personal and corporate ministry. Spring.

MAWL 6313 (3-3-0) 21st Century Transformational Worship

This course examines the biblical, historical, philosophical, and practical issues that provide "meaning" in the worship leader's life and ministry. This course draws upon the entire degree curriculum to encourage the development of a comprehensive worship ministry. Focus will be given toward encouraging a minister's self-awareness and evaluation, serious moral reflection upon the nature and content of ministry practice, and on-going worship ministry evaluation. The course aims to equip worship leaders to analyze a ministry context for its transformational qualities and to make changes to enhance this dimension personally and corporately. Fall, Summer.

MAWL 6314 (3-3-0) Worship Technology

This course acquaints the graduate student with cutting-edge technologies available to the church to use in the service of worship. The student will explore technologies which enhance the worship experience including: audio design, lighting design, and music programming. The student will also explore the visual and media arts in worship in order to design video clips, song lyric presentations and other artistic materials that aid in promoting the proclamation message of the Bible. This study will focus on current trends in the use of such materials in worship ministry and will develop criteria for evaluation of such technologies. During the course of study, the student will develop a sound philosophy of how and when to use visual, media, and audio arts in order to enhance the worship of God. Fall.

MAWL 6316 (3-3-0) Worship Theology for Contemporary Ministry

The course examines biblical, historical, and practical issues regarding theologies of Christian worship. The study explores theological foundations for understanding worship practice, assesses theological implications of personal and corporate worship ministry, and equips worship leaders in the application of a theology of worship in contemporary ministry contexts. Spring.

MAWL 6318 (3-3-0) Contemporary Trends in Worship Expression

This course will explore some of the newest trends and practices in corporate worship in the context of contemporary American church life. A survey and analysis will be conducted on such topics as Contemporary Ethnic/Cultural Worship Expressions, Worship in a Postmodern Culture, Worship in the Emergent Church, Beyond the Contemporary/Seeker-Sensitive Worship Model, The Emerging Church Worship Paradigm, The Rediscovery of Taizé Worship, and the Contemporary Development of Ancient-Future Worship Liturgies. Spring.

MAWL 6319 (3-3-0) Rehearsal Techniques for Worship Ensembles

This course explores advanced techniques in leading, directing, and communicating with various musical ensembles including: worship bands, vocal worship ensembles, and instrumental worship ensembles. The student will study conducting techniques, vocal techniques, and instrumental techniques and their application in the context of worship. Emphasis will be placed upon developing the worship ensemble's musicality, style, and artistry. Attention will also be given to the use of the solo voice. The course will explore the appropriate attributes of leadership, musically and spiritually, in the ministry of worship and music in today's church. Spring.

MAWL 6380 (3-3-0) Worship Practicum (Capstone Course) (S-L)

This course is designed to give each student one semester of supervised practicum experience as a leader in a worship ministry. The course places the student in a practical ministry context for supervised application of theoretical and artistic tools gained in the classroom setting. Each student will work with a mentor/coach for guidance in practical ministry experience. In addition, the student will complete a minimum of 30 hours of worship ministry practice with the mentor/coach. The practicum is intentionally designed from the service-learning perspective. Class meetings with the professor will address reporting, reflection, and discussion related to the worship practicum experience. Topics in the study include spiritual giftedness, interpersonal communication, staff relationships, and continuing education. Fall. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Prerequisite: Not to be taken in the first year of study.

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership Course Descriptions

Educational Leadership Courses

EDDL 7300 (3-3-0) Foundations of Education

The course provides an introduction to educational leadership with an emphasis on leadership practice, development, and implementation. The work and challenges of educational leaders will be examined. The student will study the roles of servant leadership, credibility, vision, empowerment, and strategy for educational leaders.

EDDL 7301 (3-3-0) Developmental Theories

This course explores human development research, focusing on physical, cognitive, social, emotional, and personality development from conception to death within the context of psychological and sociological theories of development with an emphasis on their contributions to the practices of Christian nurture, instruction, and leadership formation.

EDDL 7302 (3-3-0) Learning Theories

This course explores the major theories of, and ongoing research in, learning with application of these theories and research studies to curriculum design and instructional strategies in school districts, colleges and universities, and church settings. Emphasis is given to an analysis of learning styles as well.

EDDL 7303 (3-3-0) Organizational Behavior and Leadership

This course examines organizations from a sociological perspective to gain a comprehensive understanding of both theoretical and practical workings of K-12, post-secondary, and ecumenical organizations. Chaos, complexity theory, and appreciative theory will also be addressed, along with the common and diverse elements of structures, rational, natural, and open systems perspectives including application to school districts, institutions of higher education, churches, and denominational agencies.

EDDL 7304 (3-3-0) Leadership and Management Theories

Leadership is essentially the ability of an individual to influence others and themselves to achieve a purpose, attain a goal, or create a change. Contemporary organizations expect mastery of strategic leadership elements and comprehension of motivational and problem solving approaches from their leaders. This course provides a survey of the key components of leadership and management theory, concepts, and models within the context of a Christian worldview. Students will examine leadership theory, ethics, values, attitudes, character development, and leadership behavior with an emphasis on developing the requisite skills for effective servant leadership. In this seminar, students will build upon self-knowledge related to their leadership style and practices. Students will establish a baseline understanding of the leadership abilities and practices that will be used to establish personal and professional goals.

EDDL 7305 (3-3-0) Strategic Planning

This course explores organizational strategy from a theoretical perspective with an emphasis on the application of strategic models and tools to lead effectively within the K-12, higher education, church, and denominational environments.

EDDL 7306 (3-3-0) Marketing and Public Relations

This course overviews marketing and public relations history, marketing and public relations strategies, environmental forces, consumer behavior, market analysis, channels of distribution, promotional strategy, and advertising strategy. Principles underlying marketing and public relations, development of institutional and community understanding, fostering cooperation through appropriate agents and agencies, and building relationships between institutional personnel with the public are also explored.

EDDL 7307 (3-3-0) Personnel Management

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to enhance human resource management and development from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDL 7310 (3-3-0) Leadership and Management Theories

Leadership is essentially the ability of an individual to influence other persons to achieve a purpose, attain a goal, or create a change. Contemporary businesses, educational institutions, and other organizations expect mastery of strategic leadership elements and a comprehension of motivational and problem solving approaches from their leaders. This course provides a survey of the key components of leadership theory, concepts, and models within the context of a Christian worldview. Students will examine leadership theory, ethics, values, attitudes, character development, diversity, and leadership behavior with an emphasis on developing the requisite skills for effective servant leadership.

EDDL 7315 (3-3-0) Budgeting and Finance in Education

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to provide the budgeting and finance knowledge and skills necessary to lead school districts. Issues of local, state, and federal laws and policies will be addressed and applied from a servant-leadership perspective.

EDDL 7330 (3-3-0) Principles of Educational Research

Examination of quantitative, qualitative, historical, and other research designs and methods to enhance the evaluation of higher education research and to prepare the students for applications in research design.

EDDL 7331 (3-3-0) Statistics I

Students will learn to analyze and apply descriptive and inferential statistics, elements of probability that support statistical theory, and theoretical distributions. Tests of hypotheses will include z-tests, t-tests, chi-square tests, one-way and two-way analysis of variance, and nonparametric tests. Other topics included will be confidence intervals, correlation, linear regression, and multiple regressions. Students will apply statistics to critical educational issues that require measurement, analysis, and decision making for organizational improvement. They will further design, conduct, and report a study that demonstrates their statistical skills. This course is required for all students who have not earned a grade of B or higher in statistics at the master's level and must be taken before EDDL 7333, Quantitative and Qualitative Methods and Analysis.

EDDL 7332 (3-3-0) Quantitative Research Methods and Analysis

Students will expand previous knowledge for analysis, interpretation, and decision-making in quantitative research to be used in education leadership and school improvement roles. Students will use statistical software to aid in their research.

Prerequisite: Master's level Statistics I prerequisite required.

EDDL 7333 (3-3-0) Quantitative and Qualitative Methods and Analysis

Students will expand previous knowledge for analysis, interpretation, and decision making in quantitative and qualitative research to be used in education leadership and school improvement roles. Students will use statistical and qualitative software to aid in their research. Prerequisites: EDDL 7330 (Principles of Educational Research) and EDDL 7331 (Statistics I) or comparable statistics course.

EDDL 7334 (3-3-0) Qualitative Research Methods and Analysis

Students will expand previous knowledge for analysis, interpretation, and decision-making in qualitative research to be used in education leadership and school improvement roles. Students will use qualitative software to aid in their research.

EDDL 7335 (3-3-0) Dissertation Research and Prospectus Design

Under the guidance of their dissertation supervisor, students will participate in the development and implementation of their prospectus to their Dissertation Committee. All required components of the dissertation outline must be included as described in the Doctoral Handbook including the approval of the Human Subject Protection and Approval Form. Prerequisite: EDDL 7333 (Quantitative and Qualitative Methods and Analysis).

EDDL 7345 (3-3-0) Ethics and Leadership Theory

Students will participate in the study of leadership models and application from an ethical perspective. They will be expected to participate in critical thinking and problem solving research, case studies, and authentic organizational applications designed to expand principled focus from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDL 7350 (3-3-0) Leadership and Communication in Education

This course will provide a communication-based perspective of organizational leadership, persuasion, and conflict resolution. Discussion and application of contemporary leadership, communication, and behavioral theories to interpersonal and group communication within the educational environment will include a review of communication roles, formal vs. informal processes, time and stress management, group/team leadership, conflict and negotiation, problem solving, motivation, empowerment, and delegation.

EDDL 7366 (3-3-0) Social and Cultural Contexts of Education (Global)

This course will focus on the historical, philosophical, pedagogical, and administrative similarities and differences present in global education. Students will explore a part of the vast, global education community through an international travel institute experience, comparing public and private education in a specific country to the American system of education. Students will analyze educational problems and issues, critique policies affecting education in society, and make connections between educational practice and learning.

EDDL 7367 (3-3-0) Social and Cultural Contexts of Leadership (Global)

This course will focus on the historical, philosophical, pedagogical, administrative and management similarities and differences in global educational leadership. Through experiential study of an international, or foreign educational system, students will explore the leadership styles as they encounter diverse ideas, people, and experiences. Through interviewing, consistent journaling, and extensive reading, students will analyze diverse leadership styles in both the public and private educational setting from a global perspective. The course focuses on personal interactions and extensive travel to produce both personal and professional growth.

EDDL 7390 (3-3-0) Independent Research

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of educational leadership. Permission from the Ed.D. Director is required.

Education Ministry Leadership Courses

EDDM 7315 (3-3-0) Ministry Development and Design (all ages)

Students will research and evaluate a wide range of ministry designs and determine best practices to develop appropriate criteria for ministry development and design for application to ministry in churches, in colleges and universities, and other denominational assignments, or Christian agencies.

EDDM 7320 (3-3-0) Internship in Ministry Leadership (S-L)

Students will participate in a field-based, mentored internship in a ministry related experience with a focus on servant leadership. Under the joint supervision of a church or agency leader and a university supervising professor, the initial planning and design of a ministry related research project will be defined and implemented. Students gain meaningful experience from both planning and implementing ministry leadership strategies. Students will analyze and reflect on this process as a foundation for lifelong learning and ministry. This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

EDDM 7355 (3-3-0) Church and Denomination Governance and Organization

Students will research church governance and organization systems among Christian denominations and organizations to identify principles and practices consistent with biblical teachings and historic practices to gain knowledge, understanding, and appropriate applications for ministry in their faith tradition.

EDDM 7371 (3-3-0) Faith Formation and Christian Education Process (all ages)

Students will research systems of faith formation related to all age groups and current Christian education processes with a view toward developing quality Christian education models for spiritual formation in the various age groups of preschool, children, youth, and adults.

EDDM 7373 (3-3-0) Volunteer Leader Development and Management (all ages)

Students will research volunteerism in a wide range of fields to gain knowledge and understanding for application in churches, Christian college and university campuses, denominational agencies, and in other Christian related Christian ministries. Research areas include best practices, resources, and discovery and assessment of gifts and abilities, systems of training and equipping.

EDDM 7378 (3-3-0) Church Curriculum Design and Application (all age groups)

Students will research church curriculum design and best practices among various Christian denomination publishers and groups to identify principles, evaluative criterion, and practices to gain knowledge, understanding, and appropriate application for churches of various sizes and styles giving special focus to the role of biblical teaching and basic discipleship. Students will also research the process of curriculum development and writing for general application and specific age group relevance.

Higher Education Leadership Courses

EDDH 7300 (3-3-0) Readings in Higher Education

A guided individual study, in consultation with a higher education faculty member, designed to provide the doctoral student with an in-depth analysis in a specific area of interest or expertise in the field of higher education. Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer. Permission from the Ed.D. Director is required.

EDDH 7315 (3-3-0) Budgeting and Finance in Higher Education

Students will participate in a variety of experiential and research based activities designed to provide the budgeting and finance knowledge and skills necessary to lead colleges and universities. Students will examine revenue, fundraising and development, types of expenditures, tuition and financial aid, budgeting, and accounting practices. Issues of local, state and federal laws and policies governing higher education finance will be addressed and applied from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDH 7320 (3-3-0) Internship in Higher Education Leadership (S-L)

Students will participate in a collaboratively developed, field - based internship experience on a higher education campus and with a servant leader perspective. These experiences will be under the joint supervision of a university leader and a university supervising professor. Initial planning and design of a higher education research project will be defined and initial implementation strategies begun. Application for the internship must be made one semester prior to enrollment. This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

EDDH 7321 (3-3-0) Internship in Higher Education Leadership II (S-L)

Students will continue in field-based practicum experiences under the mentorship of university leaders. In addition, more in-depth analysis of experiences will be undertaken from a servant leader perspective. Students will complete their higher education improvement research project begun in EDDH 7320 (S-L). Application for the internship must be made one semester prior to enrollment. Prerequisite: EDDH 7320 (Internship in Higher Education Leadership I) (S-L). This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

EDDH 7340 (3-3-0) History and Philosophy of Higher Education

Students will examine the development of American higher education and the philosophical constructs against the background of influential social, political, economic, and intellectual issues. Topics of study include: historical formation including the impact of Christianity upon the development of higher educational institutions, early American higher education, current trends of higher education in America, and the role of church, government, politics, and economy in the philosophical trends of American higher education.

EDDH 7355 (3-3-0) The Law and Higher Education

This course surveys federal and state law governing colleges and universities in the United States of America with a focus on the application of education law to specific Patterns commonly presented to various academic administrators.

EDDH 7365 (3-3-0) Community College Leadership

Students will learn the history, development, and theoretical philosophies of community colleges in American society. The current and future roles and functions of community college leadership as compared to four-year universities will also be analyzed.

EDDH 7371 (3-3-0) Student Services Leadership

Students will participate in an in-depth study of the functions and professional issues of Student Affairs leadership. Pertinent concepts of administration and student development will be explored and analyzed. The functions of and relationships between various students services departments will be both discussed and applied through problem-based learning.

EDDH 7373 (3-3-0) College and University Leadership

Students will participate in an in-depth analysis of the various institutional models of higher education as well as their organizational roles on a national perspective. The principal administrative and leadership functions, including faculty personnel, business management, public relations, and the liaisons of student personnel with other administrative and leadership functions will be analyzed and evaluated.

EDDH 7378 (3-3-0) Academic Affairs Leadership

Students will learn the current theories and strategies for academic leadership in higher education that include philosophy, curriculum development, instructional management, and forces that influence academic decision-making. Emphasis will be placed on developing leadership skills for improving academic performance based on effective assessment of student performance and identified learner outcomes.

EDDH 7388 (3-3-0) Doctoral Research Seminar

Doctoral students will be guided and assisted in the development of their dissertation proposals, writing dissertation chapters, design, data analysis, preparing articles for publication, proposing research proposals for professional conferences, and other professional arenas. Emphasis will be placed on individual student work with their Chair and committee members. Prerequisite: Students must have their dissertation proposal approved by the Dallas Baptist University Intuition Review Board for research involving human subjects prior to completion of this course. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in this course until this occurs.

EDDH 7389 (3-3-0) Doctoral Dissertation Preparation

Doctoral students will work individually with their Chair and committee members on the completion of their dissertation. To be acceptable the dissertation must be evidence that the student has pursued a program of research, the results of which reveal superior academic competence and a significant contribution of knowledge to the field of educational leadership in a higher education or K – 12 school system setting. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in this course until they have successfully completed and defended their dissertation. Prerequisite: EDDH 7388; Students must have their dissertation proposal approved by the Dallas Baptist University Intuition Review Board for research involving human subjects prior to registering for this course.

K-12 Leadership Courses

EDDS 7300 (3-3-0) Readings in K-12 Education

A guided individual study, in consultation with a higher education faculty member, designed to provide the doctoral student with an in-depth analysis in a specific area of interest or expertise in the field of higher education. Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer. Permission from the Ed.D. Director is required.

EDDS 7315 (3-3-0) Budgeting and Finance Principles

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to provide the budgeting and finance knowledge and skills necessary to lead school districts. Issues of local, state, and federal laws and policies will be addressed and applied from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDS 7320 (3-3-0) Internship in K-12 Leadership (S-L)

Students will participate in a collaboratively developed, field-based internship experience in district level school leadership. These experiences are under the joint supervision of a district level leader and a university professor. Activities and experiences will align with the Texas State Board for Educator Certification standards, domains, and competencies. Application for the internship must be made one semester prior to enrollment. This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

EDDS 7321 (3-3-0) Internship in K-12 Leadership II (S-L)

Students will continue in field-based practicum experiences under the mentorship of district level leaders. In addition, more in-depth analysis of aligned experiences with the Texas State Board for Educator Certification standards, domains, and competencies will occur. Students will also refine and evaluate the action research school improvement project begun in EDDS 7320 (S-L). Application for the internship must be made one semester prior to enrollment. Prerequisite: EDDS 7320 (Internship in K-12 Leadership I) (S-L). This course contains a field-based service-learning component.

EDDS 7340 (3-3-0) Historical Leadership

Students will participate in the study of leadership from a historical perspective. The leadership styles of selected leaders throughout history will be examined with application to educational organizational leadership today and for the future.

EDDS 7355 (3-3-0) Advanced School Law (K-12)

Students will participate in a variety of authentic, research-based activities designed to provide the legal knowledge and skills necessary to lead school districts. Issues of local, state, and federal laws and policies will be addressed and applied from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDS 7361(3-3-0) Learning Communities and Relationships

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to provide the knowledge and skills necessary to develop learning communities and collaborative relationships from a servant leadership perspective.

EDDS 7362 (3-3-0) Human Resource Management and Development

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to enhance human resource management and development from a servant-leadership perspective.

EDDS 7363 (3-3-0) Instructional Leadership and School Improvement

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to enhance their district level instructional leadership skills with a focus on continuous school improvement. Leadership issues will be addressed and applied from a servant-leadership perspective.

EDDS 7364 (3-3-0) The Superintendency

Students will participate in a variety of authentic and research-based activities designed to provide the global overview of superintendency state and national standards, domains, and competencies necessary to lead school districts from a servant-leadership perspective.

EDDS 7371 (3-3-0) Assessment and Evaluation of Students

This course explores the assessment and evaluation philosophies and methodologies present in K-12 education with a strong focus on standardized tests. Facets related to assessment programs including tests, constructs, scoring, interpreting, evaluation, and test-taking skills will be covered. Interpretation and implementation of assessment data along with the characteristics of an ideal district assessment program will be discussed and analyzed.

EDDS 7373 (3-3-0) Supervision and Staff Development Training

This course explores the models, management techniques, and group process of supervision and staff development including an analysis of staffing patterns and organizational structure that support teaching and learning in K-12 education settings.

EDDS 7378 (3-3-0) Curriculum Design and Administration

This course explores current and classical theories of curriculum development with an analysis of the various determinants of, approaches to, and the systematic evaluation of curriculum in K-12 education settings.

Comprehensive Examination Courses

EDDL 8300 – 8301 (3-3-0) Cohort Only – Continuous Enrollment for Comprehensive Examination Candidacy

Independent study leading to retake of the comprehensive examination for the doctoral degree. To retain classified standing in the Ed.D. program, a student must enroll in a Continuous Enrollment for Comprehensive Examination Candidacy course each semester until all sections of the comprehensive examination are passed. Prerequisites: Approval of the Program Director.

Dissertation Courses

EDDL 7388 (3-3-0) Dissertation I (Research and Prospectus)

Doctoral students will be guided and assisted in the development of their dissertation proposals, writing dissertation chapters, design, data analysis, preparing articles for publication, developing research proposals for professional conferences, and other professional arenas. Emphasis will be placed on individual student work with their chair and Dissertation Committee members.

Prerequisites: Students must have their dissertation proposal approved by the Human Subjects Committee prior to completion of this course. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in this course until this occurs.

EDDL 7389 (3-3-0) Dissertation II

Doctoral students will work individually with their Chair and Dissertation Committee members on the completion of their dissertation. To be acceptable, the dissertation must be evidence that the student has pursued a program of research, the results of which reveal superior academic competence and a significant contribution of knowledge to the field of educational leadership in a higher education or K-12 school system setting or the educational ministry setting. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in this course until they have successfully completed and defended their dissertation.

Prerequisites: EDDH 7388; Students must have their dissertation proposal approved by the Ed.D. Committee for Research Involving Human Subjects prior to registering for this course.

Ph.D. in Leadership Studies Course Descriptions

Core Leadership Seminars

PHDL 7300 (3-3-0) Dallas Institute: Leadership Experiences and Development (LEAD)

In this seminar, students will receive orientation to the Ph.D. program, take personality and leadership inventories, and develop a professional plan (which they will continue to develop throughout their degree program) based on what they have learned in their own self-discovery. They will attend a technology workshop to hone their computer and presentation skills, and be introduced to the academic expectations of conducting research, prospectus, and dissertation writing, and contributing to a chosen guild as a life-long learner. They will also attend formal dining protocol and business and professional dress seminars, where they will enhance already existing competencies related to professional appearance and behavior in multiple settings. Summer.

PHDL 7301 (3-3-0) Leadership Through the Ages: Part One: Foundations – Theory Model

This seminar is designed to give students an understanding in the concepts of leadership historically, philosophically, psychologically, and morally, and to test these understandings against the students' own values and experiences. Summer.

PHDL 7302 (3-3-0) Leadership Through the Ages: Part Two: Biblical – Servant Leadership Model

This seminar introduces the nature and purpose of spirituality from the biblical perspective as it relates to leadership, assisting students in constructing and refining those spiritual principles that are philosophically, theologically, and pastorally relevant to the human condition within the Christian community and other religious traditions. Fall.

PHDL 7303 (3-3-0) Leadership Through the Ages: Part Three: Classical Leadership – Educational Model

This seminar addresses the educational models of leadership within institutions of learning. It also addresses the “ways of knowing” as leaders teach learning in the classrooms, seminars, and virtual discussions in the present global climate. Founded on the belief that all persons are both teachers and learners, this seminar explores learning styles, issues concerning adult learners, and strategies for teaching and working with adults in organizational settings. The seminar also explores multiple intelligences, spiritual intelligence, women’s ways of knowing, mentoring, and social constructionism. Spring.

PHDL 7304 (3-3-0) Leadership Through the Ages: Part Four: Political Leadership – Power and Influence

This seminar includes a trip to Washington, D.C. Students address the themes of justice, diversity, and human relationships within the context of power in civic and government structures and organizations. It also challenges students to develop a compelling personal vision that will engage others by offering meaning, dignity, and purpose. Leaders possess qualities that support a hardy persistence in the face of adversity. This seminar will emphasize the resilience necessary for successful adaptation and transformation despite risk and adversity. Summer.

PHDL 7305 (3-3-0) Leadership Through the Ages: Part Five: Cultural and Global Leadership

This seminar includes a trip to Oxford, England, or to a selected site in Asia, in order to explore the issues associated with the impact of leadership upon global communities. Readings and assignments before the trip will have prepared the students to engage in the application of knowledge regarding global and social systems as they relate to leadership, with special attention to policy analysis. Identifying and differentiating between the several approaches to systems thinking will help to draw implications for leadership within varied cultures and the relationship between, and problems associated with, global systems and technology. All of these discussions will also interact with Christian historical perspectives. Summer.

PHDL 7306 (3-3-0) Organizational Leadership

In this seminar students will examine organizations from a sociological perspective and gain a comprehensive understanding of both the classical and contemporary theoretical and practical workings of organizations. Chaos, complexity theory, and appreciative theory will also be addressed, along with the common and diverse elements of structures, rational, natural, and open systems perspectives, and applications to business, public bureaucracies, hospitals, and schools. Summer.

PHDL 7307 (3-3-0) Leadership for the Future (Capstone Seminar)

This seminar is a capstone class, which will synthesize the interdisciplinary content of the leadership core with an emphasis upon casting a values-based vision of personal leadership. Summer.

Leadership Studies Seminars

PHDL 7308 (3-3-0) Readings Course: Great Books/Biographies

This seminar is based on the reading, writing, study, and discussion of the primary texts related to the academic fields pertaining to leadership studies. Interdisciplinary in its approach, the course will cover an extensive bibliography, compiled by the faculty of the Ph.D. program, with the intent to deepen and broaden the student’s comprehension of the literature of the major field. The approach used in this seminar will be text-centered, student-focused, and writing-intensive, with dialogue sessions employed to develop competencies in critical thinking skills and effective communication. Fall or Spring.

PHDL 7309 (3-3-0) Readings Course: Special Topics (Ethics, Conflict Management, or Independent Studies)

The student will read both widely and deeply from selective readings comprising bibliographies from both interdisciplinary and the student's concentration academic areas. Of special emphasis will be those related readings in the "across-the-curriculum" cognates of Ethics, Problem-solving, and Conflict Management. The approach used in this seminar will be text-centered, student-focused, and writing-intensive, with dialogue sessions employed to develop competencies in critical thinking skills and effective communication. Fall or Spring.

PHDL 7310 (3-3-0) Mentored Leadership Internship (S-L)

The student will complete a 120-hour mentored internship of eight hours of training each week for fifteen weeks in a single semester, or four hours per week for thirty weeks over two long semesters. The successful completion of the required internship with a designated mentor, in an area determined by the student and his or her supervisor, will result in 3 hours credit. The internship is designed to enhance the student's areas of personal strength and to define and evoke deep change in areas where transformation is needed for greater leadership competency. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall or Spring.

Research and Statistics Seminars

PHDL 7320 (3-3-0) Statistics I – Prerequisite Course

If students did not have a course in statistics in their graduate degree, then they must choose to take this statistics foundational course. Statistics is the science of conducting studies to collect, organize, summarize, present, analyze, and draw conclusions from data. Descriptive statistics consists of the collection, organization, summarization, and presentation of data. Inferential statistics consists of the analysis of data in order to draw conclusions when generalizing from a sample to a population. Students in this course will study both descriptive and inferential statistics, elements of probability which support statistical theory, and theoretical distributions. Tests of hypotheses will include z-tests, t-tests, chi-square tests, one-way and two-way analysis of variance, and nonparametric tests. Other topics are confidence intervals, correlation, linear regression, and multiple regression. Students will apply statistics to the decision making process for leadership position holders and will design, conduct, and report a study that demonstrates their statistical skills. Spring.

PHDL 7330 (3-3-0) Statistics II – Advanced Graduate-Level Statistics

In this course the student will build upon his previous knowledge. With structured opportunities to analyze, interpret, and report quantitative research, using their own or sample data, students will be able to demonstrate coding, use quantitative software for analysis, and demonstrate skills in interpreting and writing the results of quantitative data. Spring.

PHDL 7340 (3-3-0) Research I – Research Principles and Critical Thinking

This course will teach research principles and critical thinking skills that apply toward advanced research methods, quantitative and qualitative study, data collection, research analysis, and writing for publication. Fall.

PHDL 7350 (3-3-0) Research II – Advanced Research and Prospectus Design

In this class students identify their research question and begin to chart their research methodology toward the completion of their prospectus. The students and their faculty advisors will also decide upon and finalize the students' supervisor and Dissertation Committee. Fall.

Concentration Courses

PHDL 7361 (3-3-0) Ministry Leadership for the 21st Century

This seminar explores and evaluates the effectiveness of current ministry leadership models as applied to 21st century ministry contexts. The biblical-theological framework for the course will be Christological in nature with focus being directed to examining the validity and practicality of current ministry leadership models in light of contemporary moral issues. Fall. Cohort Only – Approval of Program Director.

PHDL 7362 (3-3-0) Theological Foundations for Contemporary Ministry

The seminar analyzes selected psychological-theoretical, and self-realization approaches as bases for contemporary ministry using classical historical theological disciplines as a framework for evaluating these trends in "applied" pastoral theology. Emphasis will be placed upon developing varied reflective theological analyses and tools by which to gauge contemporary ministry praxis models. Spring.

PHDL 7363 (3-3-0) Contemporary Leadership for Emerging Global Church

The expansion of Christianity into all regions and nations has accelerated in recent decades. An emerging new leadership from the southern and eastern hemispheres makes ideas like Christendom obsolete. The study of the global expansion of Christianity and the implications this new reality has for the contextualization of the gospel in and from cultures once considered "foreign" to Christianity requires a new breadth of vision and leadership skills today. Fall.

PHDL 7364 (3-3-0) Contemporary Biblical Communication for an Emerging Global Church

The seminar explores the biblical-theological and historical methods for communicating the Gospel to the nations in light of 21st century global needs. Technological advances and an ever-growing global "neighborhood" offer right opportunities to develop contemporary communication models for heralding the Gospel. A biblical servant leadership framework that emphasizes expositional communication of the scriptures will be employed. Emphasis will be placed upon the development of creative contemporary communication models (inclusive of classical preaching styles, media-oriented Gospel communication, Bible-story-telling, etc.) that set the pace in reaching the nations with the Good News. Spring.

PHDL 7366 (3-3-0) Leadership, Christian History and Baptist Identity

In this seminar, students will examine Baptist heritage and identity within the context of Christian history across the ages from the New Testament to the present. Special attention will be given to Baptist distinctives and how these historic faith tenets interact with the beliefs of contemporary denominations and the major world religions which Christian ministers encounter in today's world. Fall.

PHDL 7367 (3-3-0) Independent Research I

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of business, education, higher education, general leadership, or ministry leadership. Prerequisite: Permission from the Ph.D. Director is required. Fall.

PHDL 7368 (3-3-0) Independent Research II

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of business, education, higher education, general leadership, or ministry leadership. Prerequisite: Permission from Ph.D. Director is required. Fall.

PHDL 7369 (3-3-0) Independent Research III

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of business, education, higher education, general leadership, or ministry leadership. Prerequisite: Permission from the Ph.D. Director is required. Spring.

PHDL 7370 (3-3-0) Independent Research IV

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of business, education, higher education, general leadership, or ministry leadership. Prerequisite: Permission from the Ph.D. Director is required. Spring.

PHDL 7385 (3-3-0) Independent Research V

Individual research varied in content and relating to an issue of professional interest and significance in the field of business, education, higher education, general leadership, or ministry leadership. Permission from the Ph.D. Director is required.

PHDL 7371 (3-3-0) Strategic Health Care Planning

This course examines strategic health care planning and marketing processes used by health care managers. Health care policies related to selected health care issues are analyzed within the fast-changing nature of the health care industry. Emphasis is given to the social, economic, political, and health implications of planning, marketing, and health policy for consumers, health care providers, and the general community. For Ph.D. candidates, there will be additional assignments in research and a comprehensive term paper will be required. The student will gain an understanding of the meaning and process of strategic planning as well as the ultimate benefits to the health care organization that carries out such activities. As stated above, under bibliography, "The student's understanding and assimilation of such materials will be expected to be demonstrated in the presentation by the student in a term paper." In addition, this understanding and assimilation will be expected to present in the several examinations to be taken during the course of study. Fall.

PHDL 7372 (3-3-0) Leadership Theory Research

This course explores the role of significance in the overall schema of organizational psychology. The significance principle will be examined in light of current Leadership and Management theory. Research will focus on significance-based transactions and organizational performance, and will integrate research from the discipline of psychology, counseling, and therapy that has been developed in recent years. This course includes analysis of current writings on significance and relationship with munificence, recognition need among followers and leaders, assessment of significance at the organizational level, and cognitive dissonance between linear leadership models and significance-based leadership models. Fall.

PHDL 7373 (3-3-0) Significance Theory Research

This course explores the role of mental models and paradigmic dissonance as related to leadership failures or success. This course includes analysis of current writings on change, management mental models, and competitive systems. Special emphasis will be placed on how leaders use flawed mental models and the resulting impact of such thinking on organizational success. Conversely, a study will be made of successful organizations to determine if there is any difference between the mental models used by successful leaders vs. unsuccessful leaders. Fall.

PHDL 7374 (3-3-0) Corporate Finance

This course examines the theory and practice of corporate financial decision making to maximize the firm's value. The major topics include capital budgeting, risk-return relationship and capital market theory, market efficiency, capital structure, dividend policy, long-term financing and working capital management. Selected cases will be analyzed in conjunction with these topics. The Ph.D. version of this course covers a more in-depth study for the selected topics in corporate finance, including literature reviews. Also, students will develop possible future research topics. Fall.

PHDL 7375 (3-3-0) Investments

This course covers the analysis and valuation of equity and fixed-income securities. It also deals with the structure and operations of the markets in which these securities are traded. Topics discussed include the modern portfolio theory, the capital asset pricing model (CAPM), the arbitrage pricing theory (APT), different investment tools and their markets, mutual funds, market efficiency and anomalies, bond valuation and duration, stock valuation models, and other related issues. Fall.

PHDL 7376 (3-3-0) Problems and Challenges in Organizational Management.

This is an integrative course designed to provide students the opportunity to perform a comprehensive analysis of an organization's management practices. In this course, students will utilize case methodology to develop the skills necessary for uncovering and resolving organizational problems. In addition, students will address the latest trends and challenges that managers face in today's business environment. The Ph.D. version of the course covers a more in-depth study of the selected topics in investments, including literature reviews. Also, students will develop possible future research topics. Spring.

PHDL 7377 (3-3-0) Creative Problem Solving for Marketing Decisions

This course explores the relationship between the creative process and marketing decisions. Students will learn effective methods of divergent and convergent thinking as tools to solve problems, meet goals, and approach challenges and opportunities in a marketing environment. The Ph.D. version of this course covers a more in-depth study of the selected topics in investments, including literature reviews. Also, students will develop possible future research topics. Spring.

PHDL 7378 (3-3-0) Capital Markets and Institutions

This course explores the connection between financial markets and the economy, and the effects of the Federal Reserve's monetary and regulatory policies. Topics covered include the determination of interest rates, the interrelationships between the Federal Reserve Bank, the Treasury, and other financial institutions, including insurance companies, international banking, investment banking, commercial banking, and other related topics. The Ph.D. version of the course covers a more in-depth study of the selected topics in investments, including literature views. Also, students will develop possible future research topics. Spring.

This course is an in-depth analysis of financial management issues faced by financial managers. It covers advanced topics in capital budgeting, the use of option pricing in corporate financial management, working capital management, different types of short-term financing, lease financing, and other hybrid security financing, the use of derivative securities in corporate risk management, financial planning and control, and other related topics. The Ph.D. version of the course covers a more in-depth study of the selected topics in investments, including literature reviews. Also, students will develop possible future research topics.

PHDL 7380 (3-3-0) Managing Change in Organizations

Our nation's employers are operating in an environment best characterized by constant change. Special attention is given to the process of managing change, people affected by change, and the rewards of being a change agent. The Ph.D. version of the course covers a more in-depth study of the selected topics in investments, including literature views. Also, students will develop possible future research topics. Spring.

PHDL 7381 (3-3-0) Marketing and New Product Development for Entrepreneurs

This course focuses on the process of creating and marketing new products for entrepreneurial ventures. Topics discussed include the new product development process, prototyping, market assessment, new product strategies, and other related areas taken from the perspective of the entrepreneur. Students will bring these concepts together by the end of the semester with the development of a strategic marketing plan. Fall.

PHDL 7382 (3-3-0) Independent Research in Entrepreneurship

This course offers the student the opportunity to pursue specific topics of interest in a more in-depth manner. Two products of this course will be an extensive review of the entrepreneurship literature in the topic area and focused research paper that can be submitted for publication at a conference or in an academic journal. The student will be guided in the research by the professor of record and will meet with the professor on a regular basis. Spring.

Comprehensive Examination Courses

PHDL 8300 – 8305 (3-3-0) Continuous Enrollment for Comprehensive Examination Candidacy

Independent study leading to retake of the comprehensive examination for the doctoral degree. To retain classified standing in the Ph.D. program, a student must enroll in a Continuous Enrollment for Comprehensive Examination Candidacy course each semester until all sections of the comprehensive examination are passed. Prerequisite: Approval of the program director.

Dissertation Courses

PHDL 8310 – 8316(3-3-0) Dissertation Proposal/Prospectus

To enroll in this seminar, students must have successfully completed two years of leadership core, the third year of concentration study, and passed the Research and Statistics and the Seminar and Bibliography comprehensive examinations. In this seminar, the student will identify the dissertation research question, select the method of research used to investigate the problem, define, state, and justify the thesis or theory, outline the proposed study, and submit the proposal/prospectus to the Dissertation Committee for formal approval. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in the subsequent dissertation proposal/prospectus course until they have successfully completed and defended their dissertation proposal/prospectus. Fall, Spring, or Summer.

PHDL 8320 - 8323 (3-3-0) Dissertation

Upon completion and successful defense of their dissertation proposal/prospectus, the student will enroll in this seminar. In this seminar, the student will implement and document the research methodology outlined in the dissertation proposal/prospectus. Students must maintain continuous enrollment in the subsequent dissertation course until they have successfully completed and defended their dissertation. Fall, Spring, or Summer.
