

The Union

This past fall, DBU opened up its latest dining facility for students, The Union. Located as a part of the new Brownstones development and adjacent to the intramural fields, The Union provides students, faculty, and staff a new option for dining and socializing with a Papa John's restaurant and an Island Oasis Smoothie Bar.

The interior architectural design features the Classical style in dark oak millwork and rustic brown brick walls along with four large screen televisions, conversation seating, and indoor and outdoor dining areas. The Union also features a special tribute to the American Presidency with reproductions of the official White House portraits of all the U.S. Presidents, along with original and replicated U.S. presidential campaign materials from the 19th, 20th and 21st centuries.

The Union further expands the diversity of available social and residential living options, complementing the vision for a traditional neighborhood community on campus.
