Introduction to the University

QUICK OVERVIEW

Statement of Nondiscrimination

Dallas Baptist University complies with all applicable federal and state nondiscrimination laws and does not engage in unlawful discrimination on the basis of age, gender, disability, veteran status, genetic information, race, color, national or ethnic origin in any employment practice, admissions, education program, or educational activity. Under state and federal law, the University may discriminate on the basis of religion in order to fulfill its purposes.

Visit the Campus!

Students who are considering becoming a part of the DBU family are encouraged to visit our beautiful campus at any time. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions can arrange an information session with an academic counselor, a guided campus tour, or a class visit. During your stay in the Dallas/Fort Worth area, we will also be glad to provide any information on nearby hotels and restaurants.

Although Dallas Baptist University is located in the thriving urban area of Dallas/Fort Worth, with a population of more than six million people, the 293-acre campus seems secluded in its picturesque, hill-country location and offers a small community atmosphere. The campus conveniently sits only 13 miles from downtown Dallas, 29 miles from Fort Worth, and is centrally located near Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport and Love Field. DBU is an excellent place to enjoy your university years.

Sitting atop University Hill overlooking Mountain Creek Lake, the Dallas Baptist University campus is located at 3000 Mountain Creek Parkway in Dallas, Texas. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions is housed in the Tom & Alicia Landry Welcome Center on the lower level of the John G. Mahler Student Center, a replica of Philadelphia's Independence Hall.

For those who plan to drive to Dallas Baptist University, two easy, direct routes lead to the University campus. From Dallas, take I30 west to Loop 12 south to Spur 408 Patriot Parkway. Turn right on Kiest Boulevard, and you will see the school atop a hill on your right. From Fort Worth, take I-20 east to Mountain Creek Parkway. Turn left heading north on Mountain Creek Parkway. Cross Kiest Boulevard and enter the campus from the west. Pass the white Chapel building. Turn left to go up the hill to the Landry Welcome Center. Parking for Future Patriots is designated to the south of the Landry Welcome Center.

We trust that the uniqueness of our University will be evident to all who plan to meet with us. We look forward to your visit soon. Please contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at (800) 460-1DBU.

Mission Statement

The purpose of Dallas Baptist University is to provide Christ-centered quality higher education in the arts, sciences, and professional studies at both the undergraduate and graduate levels to traditional age and adult students in order to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings.

History of the University

Dallas Baptist University was originally founded as Decatur Baptist College in 1898 and was the first two-year institution of higher education in Texas. After moving to Dallas in 1965, DBU has maintained its ties to Decatur and its commitment to a Baptist heritage.

Traditions

Founded in 1898 as Decatur Baptist College, Dallas Baptist University embraces the legacy of more than 100 years of quality academics and vibrant University life. As the Patriots, the DBU family exemplifies the qualities of integrity, honor, and Christcentered character along with a love and enthusiasm for DBU. Athletic traditions such as the Regiment firing the cannon after a soccer goal or a baseball home run, ringing the bell after a basketball victory, and the minutemen providing energy to the "Blue Brigade" student section create an exciting environment for all Patriot home games. The Patriot Cheerleaders and Patriettes Dance Team promote the Patriot spirit and lead the crowd in cheers, chants, and the DBU Fight Song to support all Patriot athletics. Other University-wide traditions take place with athletic events such as Battle at the Burg that begins basketball season and Homecoming week with float building, Mr. Big Chief, Extravaganza, Tailgate Party, and the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen. The Homecoming week activities were founded in the early years of Decatur Baptist College and remain an important part of every fall semester.

First-year students participate in University traditions as soon as they register for classes when they ring the replica Liberty Bell in the Mahler Student Center. First-year students also learn the core University value of Christ-centered servant leadership as they serve together on the final day of SWAT, an annual University welcome week for new students. Students have the opportunity to participate in other University campus life traditions such as University chapel services, Student Life events, RecLife activities, Greek Life, global missions, and local service.

The Official DBU Cross Ring serves as a symbol of the Christ-centered education students experience at DBU. Students receive the Official DBU Cross Ring during a Ring Commissioning Ceremony just prior to commencement services. Through the University hymn, To God Be The Glory, the DBU family thanks God for all of His blessings and His guidance throughout the history of the school.

Financial Assistance

Eighty-nine percent ( $89 \%$ ) of our undergraduate students receive federal, state, or institutional financial aid. (Institutional aid includes academic, athletic, music performance, and Christian leadership scholarships.) Students who may qualify for state and federal financial assistance programs can request specific information by contacting the Office of Financial Aid at (214) 333-5363.

Special Note

This catalog is an official bulletin of Dallas Baptist University and contains a description of the academic programs and activities of DBU. It is provided for informational purposes only. The faculty and administration believe that the educational and other programs of DBU are effective and valuable. However, the ultimate results of the programs offered, in terms of achievement, employment, professional licensing, or other measure, are dependent on factors outside of the programs. These factors include the personality and initiative of the individual student, governmental or institutional regulations, and various market conditions. DBU makes no representation or warranty that taking a particular course or following a certain curriculum will result in specific achievement, employment or qualification for employment, admission to degree programs, or licensing for particular professions or occupations.

Changes to the programs offered by DBU sometimes become necessary or appropriate. The University retains the right to terminate or change any of its policies, programs, requirements, course offerings, class schedules, teacher assignments, and any and all other aspects of its educational and other programs at any time without prior notice. The University may determine when and how all changes become effective.

A Word From the DBU President

"We hope you will choose to attend Dallas Baptist University. Those of us on the faculty and administrative staff are here to teach you, to encourage you along the way, and to challenge you to become all that you can be - all that God intended you to be. We want you to find academic challenge here. We want you to find joy in learning. We want you to find the Spirit of Christ in all that we do. We would be so pleased to have you as a part of the family of Dallas Baptist University." Dr. Gary Cook
This catalog has been prepared to introduce you to Dallas Baptist University. Through it, you will learn about the opportunities, activities, services, and academic programs provided. This resource will help you gain an understanding of the philosophy and mission of the University, as well as our commitment to students. You are encouraged to examine our excellent programs, broad curriculum, and high quality faculty in comparison to your own personal expectations.

LOCATIONS

Dallas Baptist University Campus. Although Dallas Baptist University is located in the thriving urban area of Dallas/Fort Worth, which holds a population of more than 6 million people, the almost 300-acre campus seems secluded in its picturesque, hill-country location and provides the opportunity to be a part of a small community. The campus conveniently sits only 13 miles from downtown Dallas, 29 miles from downtown Fort Worth, and is centrally located near Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport and Love Field with ready access to Dallas and Fort Worth. DBU is an excellent place to enjoy your university years.

Off-Campus Sites. Dallas Baptist University holds undergraduate and graduate courses in classrooms at local area corporations and select school districts near where students live and work in the Dallas/Fort Worth metroplex. These sites provide many of the courses that fulfill undergraduate and graduate degree plans. There are two types of off-campus sites: open and closed. Open sites are available to all DBU students while closed sites are open only to the employees of the site or district where classes are being held. For a complete listing of the sites that are offering classes for the current semester, please refer to the current Schedule of Classes.

DBU North. Dallas Baptist University maintains a regional academic center in the northern area of the metroplex to provide services and course opportunities to students in the North Dallas/Collin County communities. DBU North allows students convenient access to services such as university admission, academic counseling, registration, student identification cards, cashier services, and research assistance. The site, servicing more than 800 students, offers a full rotation of courses leading towards undergraduate degrees in Business Administration, Management, Communication and Psychology, as well as master's degrees in Business Administration, Management, Counseling, Education, and School Counseling. Courses leading to the completion of a Master of Arts in Christian Education may also be taken at DBU North. Flexible hours and a convenient location help students shorten their commute to school. The hours of operation are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.

DBU Hurst-Colleyville. DBU Hurst-Colleyville is a regional academic center in the western area of the metroplex that provides services and course opportunities to students in Tarrant County, housed in the Herman and Patsy Smith Center. With classroom space for more than 40 classes per semester, DBU Hurst-Colleyville allows students convenient access to services such as university admission, academic counseling, registration, student identification cards, cashier services, and research assistance. The site, servicing more than 400 students, offers a full rotation of courses leading towards undergraduate degrees in Business Administration and Management, as well as master's degrees in Business Administration, Education, Management, and School Counseling. In addition, courses leading to several other undergraduate and master's degrees are offered. Flexible hours and a convenient location help students shorten their commute to school. The hours of operation are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.

FACILITIES

Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel. The Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel, maintaining DBU's Georgian/colonial architectural style, is modeled after several classic colonial church buildings. It seats 1,450 students in the beautiful sanctuary and in addition to hosting chapel services, Pilgrim Chapel is also home to the Orville and Esther Beth Rogers Prayer Ministry, Cynthia Estes Prayer Room, as well as the offices of the Academic Dean, Institutional Effectiveness, Institutional Research, and the Graduate School of Ministry. The facility also houses the Campus Security Office, six classrooms, one seminar room, a 134-seat theater, and Jeannette and Cletys Sadler Hall that holds approximately 250 people for receptions and dinner. Special collections include the Lord Braine of Wheatley Collection and the Corrie ten Boom Collection.

Joan and Andy Horner Hall. This new academic building is patterned after Congress Hall in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and stands as the University's most accurate historic architectural replication. DBU's 12,000 square foot multi-purposed academic building is now home to the disciplines of music business, communication theory, broadcast/digital media, and print graphics communication, along with the College of Fine Arts academic leadership. Horner Hall houses a music theory classroom, crossdiscipline media and audio outfitted seminar classroom, multi-faceted broadcast communication video recording studio and music theory classroom, video engineering and editing production room, communication and music business departmental faculty offices, dually-designed music department faculty offices and instructional studios, and spacious student lounge/study areas. The centerpiece of this building is the music business recording studio which features a main engineering studio, central recording performance space, auxiliary percussion recording performance booth, two post-production mixing-editing rooms, and student lounge/study space.

John G. Mahler Student Center. Fashioned after Independence Hall in Philadelphia, the John G. Mahler Student Center displays exact replicas of the Liberty Bell, Declaration of Independence, and Constitution of the United States. Housed on the main floor of the Student Center are the Hoblitzelle Patriot Cafe, the Meadows Library, Hillcrest Great Hall, Hunt President's Dining Room, External Affairs Office, Center for Service-Learning, and Spiritual Life Office. The Student Life Offices, student game room and lounge areas, the Jones Fireside Room, RecLife Office, and Women's Auxiliary Board Portrait Gallery are located on the second floor. The lower level of the Student Center houses Mail Services, the Registrar's Office, DBU Veteran Services, Financial Aid Office, Cashier's Office, and Graduate Programs Office.

Tom and Alicia Landry Welcome Center. Named after Christian servant leaders Tom and Alicia Landry, the Tom and Alicia Landry Welcome Center houses the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, Freshman/New Student Recruitment, Transfer Recruitment, and Campus Visits. Also housed here are convenient meeting rooms, a small multi-media theater, and a special suite featuring some of the Landry's professional and personal memorabilia.

Henry Blackaby Hall. Named in honor of famed Christian author and spiritual leader, Dr. Henry Blackaby, the 20,000 square-foot Henry Blackaby Hall houses the University's bookstore known as the Patriot Store, Music Department classrooms and practice rooms, music faculty instructional studios, and DBU's Online Education Department. Henry Blackaby Hall sits to the south of the John G. Mahler Student Center and complements DBU's signature colonial and Georgian-style architecture. The building is a replica of the north elevation of Independence Hall in Philadelphia with its signature red brick walls and balustrades that stretch between end wall chimneys and parapets. Like Independence Hall, the front face is embellished with marble panels and belt courses, soapstone quoins, and cast stone modillion cornices, making it distinct from other DBU buildings.

Strickland Building. This building houses administrative offices, the Gary Cook School of Leadership, and the Business Office. Classrooms, University Advancement, the Development Department, the Alumni Relations Office, faculty offices, and the Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith are located on the second floor in the Strickland Building.

Carr P. and Ruth Collins Learning Center. Housed in the Collins Learning Center are the Vance Memorial Library, The Daily Bread Bistro, Study Grounds, the Mary Crowley Room, the Decatur Room, the Linam Room, the Rosemary Rumbley Room, the Widner Room, the Caruth Media Center, Gaston Chapel, the University Writing Center, the Advising Center, the Counseling Center, the Marketing Department, the Information Technology Department, and the Academic Computer Lab. Special collections include the Baptist Heritage Collection, the Texana Collection, and the Bain Memorial Library. The Colleges of Business, Humanities and Social Sciences, and Professional Studies, as well as the Associate Degree Office, Provost, faculty offices, and classrooms are located in the Collins Learning Center.

Roberts Building. This building houses the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics classrooms, biology laboratories, chemistry and physics laboratories, faculty offices, math lab, and a music practice recital hall. The building has two wings: Frank Durham Hall and Donald Bowles Hall.

DBU Education Building. This building houses the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, faculty offices, and classrooms.
Jeannette and Cletys Sadler Global Missions Center. This newest multi-faceted facility patterned after Pavilion VII at the University of Virginia was specifically designed to enhance the global reach of DBU. The facility provides intentional space for community and conversations among American and international students. The Global Conversation Lounge contains state-of-theart technology allowing DBU students to communicate the message of Jesus all over the world. On the first floor of the Sadler Global Missions Center, a large multi-purpose room can be utilized by campus ministries and student organizations for campus-wide events along with two classrooms for academic classes. Conference rooms and study areas are located throughout the building to provide locations for student conversation, meetings, and study. A food pantry and clothes closet is also part of this facility to provide assistance to DBU international students who have need.

Sadler Global Missions Center houses the International Admissions Offices, the Baptist Student Ministry Office, the Global Missions Office, the Master of Arts in Global Leadership program offices, and the Office of the Dean of Students and Spiritual Life.

David and In Sun Moon International Center. The Moon International Center houses International Student Services, Intensive English Program, International Admissions and classrooms.

Burg Center. This building has a 1,600 -seat gymnasium for athletics and can be converted easily into a large auditorium with capacity of 2,400 for assemblies, concerts, and special events. Housed on the floors beneath the gymnasium is the Patriot Athletics Office, locker rooms, Fitness Center, and Sports Medicine Center.

Athletic and Recreational Facilities. The Athletic and Recreational Facilities include: Athletic Training Center, Joan and Andy Horner Ballpark, Intramural Sports Complex, Mike Arnold Fitness Trail, Patriot Soccer Field, Harold and Mildred Sadler Patriot Clubhouse, Patriot Tennis Courts, Sedwick Soccer Fieldhouse, Straus Field House, Douglas K. Tabor Athletic Guesthouse, and Turner Park.

Joan and Andy Horner Ballpark. Horner Ballpark is considered one of the premier facilities in NCAA Division I College Baseball. In keeping with the architectural theme of the campus, Horner Ballpark exhibits a Georgian-style façade of dark red brick and offers state-of-the-art fan amenities throughout the stadium. With a capacity of 2,000 persons, Horner Ballpark contains four guest suites available for rental, a pavilion down the leftfield line for large groups, and party plazas along both sides of the concourse available for medium sized gatherings. With closed-circuit televisions throughout the park and the audio broadcast of the game piped into each suite and restroom, fans are never far from the action at Horner Ballpark.

Sedwick Soccer Fieldhouse. The 2,300 square foot Sedwick Soccer Fieldhouse and Grandstands is located just to the west of Patriot Soccer Field and houses a 30 -player locker room, team meeting area and press room, coaches' offices, reception area, individual chair-back seating for 400 fans, party pavilions, restroom facilities for fans, and first-class audio and video capabilities. In keeping with the architectural theme of the campus, Sedwick Soccer Fieldhouse & Grandstands exhibits a Georgian-style façade of dark red brick and offers first-class facilities for both fans, coaches, officials, and Patriot Soccer student-athletes.

Lange Hall. This dormitory houses 167 students and is equipped with laundry facilities.

Williams Hall. Williams Hall houses 164 students and is equipped with laundry facilities.
Crowley Complex. This residential complex contains three units: Calabria Hall, a dormitory housing 90 students; Sharp Hall, a dormitory housing 94 students; and Crowley Hall, a dormitory housing 90 students. The campus dining hall, coed lounge, The General Store, Residence Life Office, Resident Directors' Office, and Parent Services are also located in this complex. Each residential unit has its own laundry facility.

Spence Hall. This dormitory houses 230 students and is equipped with laundry facilities. The University Switchboard is also located in this building.

Colonial Village Apartments. The Colonial Village Apartments are a modern way of living for DBU upperclassmen. The Ebby Halliday Center houses the Apartment Life Office as well as classrooms and faculty offices. Health Services is also located in the Colonial Village Apartments.
J.E. and L.E. Mabee Village Townhomes. Mabee Village is an on-campus townhome neighborhood community that opened in the Fall of 2007. Mabee Village offers two-story, 3-bedroom, 3-bath townhome residences designed for upperclassmen students.

Fred C. and Katherine B. Andersen Center. The Andersen Center houses The Union, a place for casual and social gatherings and meals, and Brownstone residences. The Andersen Center is adjacent to the Intramural Sports Complex and further expands the diversity of available social and residential living options, complementing the vision for a traditional neighborhood community on campus.

Williamsburg Village Brownstones. The Brownstones opened in June of 2011 and expanded the diversity of residential living options available to upperclassmen students. Williamsburg Village Brownstones are attached two-story, 3-bedroom, 3-bath townhomes.

Vance Memorial Library - "Abundant Resources - Superior Service"

Vance Memorial Library is located in the Collins Learning Center. # Academic Programs Available

For administrative purposes, the University is composed of the following academic divisions which offer bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees: The College of Business, Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith, Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, College of Fine Arts, College of Humanities and Social Sciences, College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, College of Professional Studies, Gary Cook School of Leadership, Graduate School of Ministry, and Provost.

Weekend College

Dallas Baptist University's Weekend College is a part of the College of Professional Studies and offers two majors that can be completed entirely on the weekends (Friday nights and Saturdays). Specially designed to fit the busy lifestyle of working adults, this program offers many scheduling options, including some courses on an alternating weekend course schedule, as well as a schedule with classes on four weekends during the semester. The Weekend College offers the Bachelor of Business Studies degree with majors in Business Administration or Management. A Master of Business Administration in Management is also offered through the Weekend College.

Certificate Programs

Dallas Baptist University offers undergraduate, graduate, and post master's certificates in multiple fields of study. With the working adult in mind, certificate programs are designed for individuals who are seeking to prepare for new careers or promotions, gain or refine expertise in a particular area of study, enhance educational or professional credentials, or to pursue a course of study simply for self-enrichment.

Associate Degree Programs

Dallas Baptist University offers six two-year associate degree programs: Associate of Arts, Associate of Arts (Teacher Certification Preparation), Associate of Biblical Studies, Associate of Business Administration, Associate of Christian Studies, and Associate of Science. These programs are designed to provide a strong foundation in the liberal arts or business and prepare students for future academic success if that is their desire. The associate degree also aids those who may need to enter the business world more quickly than a four-year degree program would allow.

Bachelor Degree Programs

Dallas Baptist University offers undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts (BA), Bachelor of Arts and Sciences (BAS), Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA), Bachelor of Business Studies (BBS), Bachelor of Music (BM), Bachelor of Music Education (BME), and Bachelor of Science (BS) degrees. The University, through its seven colleges, offers 70 undergraduate majors leading to the bachelor's degree.

Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs

Dallas Baptist University offers several accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree programs which combine compatible bachelor and master's degrees, allowing motivated students the opportunity to complete both an undergraduate and graduate degree in a single accelerated process. In most cases, students can complete both degrees with only one additional year of study and earn both diplomas upon graduation.

Pre-Professional Preparation

Pre-professional preparation is a vital part of the endeavor of a liberal arts institution. Through these programs, the University seeks to provide general and discipline-specific course work which will prepare students for graduate work in their chosen fields. While majoring in a specific discipline(s), such as biology, history, or kinesiology, students will complete a set of courses, prescribed by the University, which will prepare them for the professional program of their choice. Dallas Baptist University provides pre-professional preparation programs in the following areas:
Pre-dental
Pre-optometry
Pre-medical
Pre-nursing
Pre-occupational therapy

Pre-law
Pre-pharmacy
Pre-physical therapy
Pre-physician's assistant
Pre-veterinary science

Other pre-applied health options

Preverinary sciance

Graduate Programs

The University offers an exciting variety of options for graduate study to qualified applicants. To accommodate the growing number of graduate students who pursue degrees part-time while continuing full-time employment, the graduate programs are tailored to fit a busy schedule. Courses are primarily offered in the evenings and on weekends, with classes meeting once each week, or every other week in a hybrid format on the main campus, DBU North, and DBU Hurst-Colleyville. Graduate programs are available through the Graduate School of Business, the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education, the College of Fine Arts, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, Graduate School of Ministry, Gary Cook School of Leadership, and Provost.

Master's Degree Programs

Master of Arts in Children's Ministry

Ministry to preschoolers, children, and their families in today's changing world is a unique challenge for the church and its leaders. The opportunity to create Bible study and ministry strategies that lay the foundation for children to grow to know, trust, love, and follow Jesus is more than what might be considered "child's play." It is eternally significant not only for the church of tomorrow but the church of today.

The Master of Arts in Children's Ministry is designed to equip children's ministers to understand the needs of children, explore the principles of the best strategies in teaching and reaching children, and implement ministry that impacts not only the child, but the family. The program provides foundations in theological, educational and practical programming for effective childhood ministry. ## Master of Arts in Student Ministry/Master of Business Administration

Student ministers pursue this dual degree to obtain and strengthen the skills and competencies needed to be effective in student ministry leadership roles such as student ministers in the local church, leaders of student ministry para-church organizations, and/or global student ministry. In addition, while the vast majority of students admitted to this unique dual degree program may already be serving in a ministry or believe they are called to serve, students include those who have started a business career and subsequently sense a call to the ministry.

Master of Arts in Student Ministry/Master of Education in Higher Education

The Master of Education in Higher Education provides foundational knowledge in the history, mission, and administration of higher learning. The Master of Arts in Student Ministry opens opportunities for spiritual guidance and development that can enhance the educational experience of college students. The opportunity to minister to the college campus community is enhanced with this dual degree offering.

Master of Arts in Teaching/Master of Education in Higher Education

The Master of Arts in Teaching program enhances professional development of educators who are committed to excellence in the classroom through a focus on expertise in content areas, effective teaching strategies, enhanced delivery of instruction, and purposeful assessment. The program is designed for individuals who are interested in pursuing a master's degree or additional certification and to equip educators to become servant leaders within the school setting. The M.Ed. in Higher Education program provides individuals who are interested in a variety of areas in higher education with the opportunity to explore the various facets of service and leadership at post-secondary institutions.

Master of Arts in Theological Studies/Master of Arts in Leadership

The dual Master of Arts in Theological Studies and Master of Arts in Leadership is a 60 -hour, non-thesis dual degree program that will allow students to gain a deep level of theological education, coupled with a strong leadership component. Through the program, students will learn not only how to apply theological principles in everyday contexts, but also how to lead with compassion, humility, and integrity in their respective callings.

Master of Arts in Theological Studies/Master of Arts in Worship Leadership

The Master of Arts in Theological Studies and Master of Arts in Worship Leadership dual degree provides Christ-centered graduate level education to prepare servant leaders for Christian ministry. Students will have opportunity to gain knowledge and skills in the areas of worship leadership ministries; and in biblical, historical, theological, and practical ministry studies. By educating their minds and kindling their hearts in a manner that promotes a life of service for Christ's kingdom, students will have opportunity to combine classical graduate theological education with practical ministry training.

Master of Business Administration/Master of Education in Educational Leadership

This dual degree will allow students who have strong interests in educational leadership to integrate their knowledge from these two disciplines - business and educational administration. Students will build a broad foundation for successful administration by gaining the understanding, competencies, and skills necessary for developing business models while leading in an educational setting. Students successfully completing this dual degree plan will receive two master's degrees while gaining a significant competitive advantage.

Master of Business Administration/Master of Education in Higher Education

Doctoral Degree Programs

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership (K-12)

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership K-12 emphasizes a practical approach to leadership development that accentuates the servant leadership model. This degree program is for individuals who intend to put their skills into practice through positions of leadership in educational institutions. DBU's purpose is to provide a transforming, Christ-centered, quality education. Our desire is to produce servant leaders who are trained to develop other leaders through the knowledge and skills gained in this doctoral program.

Design of Program

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership K-12 is a sixty (60) credit hour program consisting of the following:

- 24 hours of core studies in educational leadership,
- 6 hours of research studies,
- 21 hours of cognate studies,
- and a minimum of 9 hours treatise research and writing.

The program offers students the following benefits:

- Rigorous yet practical design.
- Classes each fall, spring, and summer term.
- Coursework completion in approximately three years and graduation upon defense of their treatise for students who enroll and successfully complete six hours during each term.
- An opportunity for students to begin writing their treatise proposal in the third year of study.
- The option for students to take additional time to complete their treatise studies.
- Enrichment from a body of students from other countries, diverse cultures, different higher educational institutions, and various school systems.
- An exciting and stimulating educational experience for everyone involved.

Cohort Structure

- The cohort is structured in a six hour per semester format. Each fall and spring, the classes meet on campus only three weekends a semester (a weekend is defined as all day Friday and all day Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.). Projects, papers, and readings are assigned between these class meetings.
- During the summer semester, the format converts to a symposium type format. The students will meet on campus for 7 to 9 days, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. each day. This summer schedule facilitates travel during the first and second years in the program. During the first year, the students travel to Austin, Texas, and in the second year, the students travel to Washington, D.C. No additional costs are incurred for this travel. The student pays the regular tuition for the six hours of instruction, and DBU pays the cost of the student's airfare, hotel, and two meals a day.

Ed.D. in Educational Leadership

The Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership emphasizes a practical approach to leadership development, incorporating theory and research, and accentuating the servant leadership model. The accelerated program is offered in an inventive delivery system that allows students to complete the degree while continuing to live in their current location. Individuals who intend to utilize their skills through positions of leadership in higher education institutions, educational ministry organizations or churches, and a host of other endeavors may benefit from a terminal degree in leadership. DBU's purpose is to provide a transforming Christ-centered quality education to produce servant leaders who are trained to develop other leaders through the practical knowledge and skills gained through this doctoral program.

The program offers three concentration tracks:

- Higher Education Leadership - provides cognate studies in higher education administration and leadership.
- Educational Ministry Leadership - provides cognate studies specific to leadership in the church or a Christian education organization.
- General Leadership - provides cognate studies for professionals in a range of leadership positions.

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership is a $\mathbf{6 0}$-hour program with twenty (20) credit hours of core studies in educational leadership, twenty (20) credit hours of studies in a selected cognate area, eight (8) credit hours of research studies, and twelve (12) credit hours in dissertation research and writing. A primary goal of the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership is that the integrated curriculum and the praxis-based experiences create significant transforming personal growth within each student, who will emerge well-equipped to contribute to his/her field.

The program is academically rigorous and practical in design. Students from other countries, diverse cultures, and different higher education institutions enrich this degree program. In addition to semester courses, the program includes two summer institutes. The first summer institute includes a trip to Washington, D.C. with a special emphasis on servant leadership and political and organizational leadership. The second summer institute includes a trip to Oxford, England with an emphasis on global leadership in the context of higher education, educational ministry, or general leadership.

All students will progress through the hybrid courses and research as a cohort, completing the program in 34 months. Cohort programs begin in August of each year, with classes offered each spring, summer, and fall. Students enroll for two (2) classes of four (4) credit hours each term. The hybrid design provides significant learning experiences through the online component of each class, along with face-to-face interaction as students participate in on-campus seminars for one week, three (3) times each year. The dissertation process is interwoven throughout the class structure, allowing students to complete the entire program in less than three years.

Ph.D. in Leadership Studies

The Dallas Baptist University Ph.D. in Leadership Studies is an interdisciplinary degree, requiring a minimum of sixty (60) credit hours of advanced study beyond the master's degree: thirty (30) credit hours of core leadership studies (includes a 12 -hour mentored internship); twelve (12) credit hours of research and statistics (assuming that a student enters with at least one master's level statistics course); twelve (12) credit hours of seminars in one of four areas of concentration (business, general leadership, higher education, or ministry); and the writing of a prospectus/proposal and dissertation, for which six (6) credit hours will be awarded upon completion. Organized both systematically and thematically, the study and research of leadership derives from the biblical, classical, philosophical, historical, and global dimensions of effective leadership. It draws from, and integrates with, the fields of business, general leadership, higher education, and ministry. Across the curriculum, the program includes several theoretical and behavioral cognates: applied biblical ethics, motivational communication skills, issues related to conflict and change, and the value of cultural diversity.

The program centers upon a cohort of approximately 20 participants who will take residential core leadership and research courses together. Non-cohort students will not be included in these courses. The cohort model allows individuals opportunities to work collaboratively towards achieving the learning outcomes of the program. The cohort model also creates communities of "scholarpractitioners" - faculty and students - capable of promoting supportive, equitable conditions in which all members may flourish. Dallas Baptist University's philosophy of personalized approach encourages all candidates to complete the program within four, but not more than seven, years.

Academically rigorous and creative, faculty and students engage the study of leadership as a community of scholars from business, education, government, ministry, and other disciplines. In addition to the semester courses, the program includes three summer institutes comprised of 7-10 day intensive sessions. The first summer institute is held in Dallas and focuses upon personal growth, professional development plans, and leadership courses. The second summer institute includes a trip to Washington, D.C. with a special emphasis on political and organizational leadership. The third summer institute takes place in Oxford, England; with a concentration on global and cultural leadership issues.

Distance Education (Online)

Distance Education is a part of Dallas Baptist University's commitment to serve its students through a variety of effective methods in instructional delivery designed to meet the needs of students at a distance. DBU's online education website, (www.dbu.edu/online) provides a cadre of student resources and provides a daily connection to the campus. Links offer opportunities for the distance education student to share in university life, including a special welcome, a look at DBU, the latest in sports, the online Dallas Baptist University Undergraduate Catalog, Graduate Bulletin, and the latest Schedule of Classes. Distance education students enjoy a full range of DBU library services to enhance learning and may connect with the DBU Library (www.dbu.edu/library) for links to personal library assistance and online databases information. In addition, the University Writing Center is also available for distance education students by contacting writingcenter@dbu.edu.

Undergraduate Online Policy

DBU undergraduate resident students with 24 or more hours may register for two additional online classes per semester, provided that the undergraduate student enrolls or maintains enrollment in at least 12 hours of on-campus classes in the regular semester, not including mini-terms.

Undergraduate commuter students (non-PRST) with more than 24 hours of college credit may enroll in online classes.
Undergraduate resident and commuter students may take online classes during the winter and summer terms, regardless of the number of credit hours earned, after the first semester of enrollment.

Online Courses

Dallas Baptist University is a pioneer in Christian online education, delivering fully accredited degree programs via the Internet since 1998 without required campus visits. Providing courses and degrees via online delivery is a part of Dallas Baptist University's commitment to serve its students through a variety of effective methods in instructional delivery designed to meet student needs for flexibility. DBU online education offers students engaging, Christ-centered content and personal connection with the professor and other class members along with convenience and flexibility, which allows students academic progress any time or any place. Each online class is limited in enrollment in order to ensure quality learning and interaction with the professor and students. The time and study requirements found in online classes are comparable with those found in classroom instruction.

The DBU Online virtual campus provides a rich online environment where students and faculty members can collaborate and interact with one another. Students receive quality services online such as the DBU Library, the DBU bookstore, advising, and course registration. Today, we offer 59 full degree programs completely online serving students anywhere in the world. With programs available anywhere with Internet access, the DBU Online Education program has been very successful delivering quality online education while maintaining a $92 \%$ student course completion rate.

Hybrid Courses

The best of both worlds ... A combination of online and traditional courses
Hybrid courses combine the flexibility of online instruction with the benefit of face-to-face instruction in the classroom. Students attend part of the usual class times in the classroom and complete the remaining course work online. Hybrid courses are comparable to those taught in the traditional classroom and are offered at both the undergraduate and graduate level.

DISTINCTIVES OF THE UNIVERSITY

Corrie ten Boom Collection

One of the most gifted Christian communicators of our century was the Dutch evangelist, Corrie ten Boom, whose well-known story is told in the book The Hiding Place. Dallas Baptist University houses a small collection of Corrie ten Boom memorabilia. This has been placed in the Corrie ten Boom Room in the Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel. Letters and publications are available for study by students and visitors to the University.

Corrie ten Boom's life was dedicated to the Lord in the service of people everywhere. She traveled the globe in the decades following World War II, telling about the victory of Jesus Christ even over the horrors of a concentration camp. She was an example of courage through faith. The University seeks to honor her memory and encourage many to emulate her example.

Orville and Esther Beth Rogers Intercessory Prayer Ministry

As soon as Dr. Gary Cook became President of Dallas Baptist University in the spring of 1988, he set aside a quiet room on campus and invited faculty, staff, and students to take an active part in praying for our university. Today the Cynthia Estes Prayer Room is located on the lower level of the Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel. Dr. Cook believes that it is only as we commit ourselves completely to the Lord that we can become truly fruitful in our desire to provide an excellent, distinctively Christian education.

Students, staff, and faculty are invited to take part in a chain of prayer from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Prayer requests received by telephone, electronic mail, or written requests are transferred to cards and placed in the prayer room. These are updated daily. Prayer requests are also distributed frequently by electronic mail to several groups of intercessors on campus.

Cyndi Pettit assumed her responsibilities as Director of the Rogers Intercessory Prayer Ministry in January 2009. Cyndi is a graduate of Baylor University and received her Master of Liberal Arts with a Fine Arts concentration from Dallas Baptist University. She has been employed by DBU for over 15 years. Prior to joining DBU, Cyndi was a legal assistant to a former judge at a major Dallas law firm.

DBU Lecture Series

The George H. Gallup, Jr. Distinguished Lecture Series, named in honor of noted pollster George Gallup, Jr., brings scholars, public officials, and governmental leaders to the University campus whose Christian faith has shaped their expertise and leadership. These lectures, coupled with personal interaction with faculty, staff, and students, provide a forum for distinguished leaders to share their insights with the University community. The lectures span traditional disciplinary boundaries and involve individuals of exceptional accomplishment representing a broad spectrum of backgrounds and interests. Mr. Gallup inaugurated the lecture series in the spring of 2003.

The William M. Pinson Baptist History Lecture Series has been established by Dallas Baptist University as an expression of gratitude for Dr. William Pinson's service to Baptists throughout the United States, including serving as a pastor, seminary professor, seminary president, and Baptist denominational leader. Dr. Pinson's presence on the DBU campus has been well noted over the years, as he annually speaks to all incoming DBU freshmen during chapel services about the history and heritage of Baptists in Texas and throughout the United States. His wife, Bobbie Pinson, serves as a DBU trustee. Through this endowed lecture series, Dr. Pinson's insight and knowledge will continue to be made available for DBU students in the years to come.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

UNIVERSITY HONORS PROGRAM

Mission Statement

The mission of the Dallas Baptist University Honors Program is to fulfill the Dallas Baptist University Mission Statement by providing transforming "Christ-centered quality higher education" for students who are intellectually gifted who desire enriched academic experiences equipping them to be servant leaders in their respective callings.

Goals of the Honors Program

1. To provide a superior education grounded in the biblical worldview, moral formation, and Christian tradition.
2. To promote a high level of independent learning, contextual insight, and critical thinking through study, research, and the exchange of ideas.
3. To provide a challenging interdisciplinary experience that amplifies and complements the liberal arts mission of DBU and that stimulates curiosity, imagination, integrity, and faith.
4. To assist students in building friendships and community by participation in enrichment activities outside the classroom setting.
5. To encourage students to pursue leadership roles within the campus community as preparation to be outstanding future contributors to the church, society, and the world.
6. To promote Honors student-faculty mentor relationships that foster interactive learning.
7. To help students cultivate a desire for God's truth, goodness, and beauty as expressed in the creation and in human culture

Admission

For incoming freshmen, a minimum SAT score of 1150 or an ACT score of 25 and two high school faculty recommendations are required for admission to the Honors Program. For returning students to DBU, a 3.5 overall GPA at DBU and two faculty recommendations are required for admission to the program. Transfer students must have at least twelve hours of credit at DBU with a minimum DBU GPA of 3.5 and two faculty recommendations for admission to the program. All applicants must also submit a 250 -to-500-word letter of interest. Transfer students who are members of an academic organization such as Phi Beta Kappa at their previous institution may apply for first-semester acceptance. No student with more than 70 hours may be admitted to the Honors Program.
To be recognized as a University Honors Program graduate at DBU, a student must have successfully completed a minimum of 24 hours in honors classes, including a minimum of at least 15 hours in Perspectives courses. Students majoring in departments administered by the Colleges of Business, Education, Music, or Natural Science and Mathematics may elect to take four Perspective courses and an additional upper-level honors course, preferably within the major. All students must also regularly enroll in Honors Enrichment and complete an enrichment event portfolio before completing the Senior Thesis or Project. University Honors Program students may take no more than six honors hours per semester. Freshmen entering the UHP may only take three hours per semester in the Freshman year.

Probation and Suspension

Students must maintain a 3.2 grade point average in order to remain in the program. To be recognized as "University Honors" at graduation, a student must have a 3.5 average and have completed 24 hours of designated honors courses, including a senior thesis or project.

If a student's average falls below 3.2, he or she will be placed on probation and be allowed two semesters to bring his or her grade point average back to a minimum 3.2 in order to take honors courses. If the student's grade point average stays below 3.2 for two semesters, the student will be suspended from the University Honors Program. A student seeking readmission to the University Honors Program may reapply once after suspension.

Transfer Credit

Students may transfer into the University Honors Program up to twelve hours of honors credit from another college or university. Each course is subject to review by the Director and a consulting honors faculty member. Criteria for acceptance is determined by equivalency to DBU's own honors courses in terms of both coverage and rigor. Perspectives courses (HNRS 2301, 2302, 3301, 3302, 3003, 3304), the honors-level Developing the Christian Mind course (DCM 2301 HR), and the senior thesis or project must be taken at Dallas Baptist to be named a University Honors student at graduation.

Applicants should note that the transfer equivalency report prepared by the Registrar and the review process conducted by the University Honors Program do not constitute the same process. Courses that are accepted by the University in partial fulfilment of a student's degree plan may or may not be also accepted by the University Honors office as honors-level credit in the program.

Curriculum

The Honors Program curriculum supplements and complements the traditional curriculum of Dallas Baptist University. Components of the curriculum include honors sections of general studies classes, an honors section of the Developing A Christian Mind course, the Perspectives Honors core curriculum, honors sections of upper-level discipline specific courses, Directed Readings courses, and a Senior Thesis or Project. The courses are listed in the regular DBU Schedule of Classes.

Special Study

Students interested in taking a 3000-level or 4000-level course for honors credit should contact the UHP director, who together with the student, will approach the professor with a proposal for attaching honors-level study for the course. This can be done a maximum of four times. Some restrictions do apply. Special study can be an excellent way to help prepare for the student's senior thesis or project.

Recognition

Recognition of Honors Program graduates includes an Honors Program notation on the transcript and diploma, as well as special recognition at graduation.

Additionally, each year the Honors faculty will select an eligible student to receive Honors Student of the Year at the University Honors Banquet and be recognized at the annual Honors Day program.

Scholarships

Dallas Baptist University believes in helping students afford a quality, Christ-centered education. A wide-range of programs is available, including academic, merit-based scholarships and financial aid for qualified students. Honors students are encouraged to explore all avenues for which they could qualify for additional assistance. The Office of Financial Aid will assist you in determining your eligibility for Federal, State, and other aid programs.

Taking an Honors Course Without Acceptance into the Program
Incoming freshmen with a minimum SAT score of 1100 or an ACT score of 24 are eligible to take an honors course without acceptance into the University Honors Program. Likewise, returning or transfer students with a GPA of 3.2 are eligible. There are several reasons to consider doing so:

1. It affords an opportunity to gain important skills in a student's major or area of interest.
2. It appears on the college transcript as an honors-level course.
3. Class size is smaller than DBU's already low professor-student ratio, which affords more personal attention.
4. It can help the student make a more informed decision if considering the University Honors Program.

Students seeking to do so should apply for program director approval through their academic advisor.

GRADUATE INSTITUTE OF APPLIED LINGUISTICS

Applied Linguistics Program

In partnership with the Graduate Institute of Applied Linguistics (GIAL), Dallas Baptist University provides an Applied Linguistics Program through which undergraduate students may include GIAL foundational courses as a minor in their degree plan or as a concentration in their interdisciplinary major. The GIAL offers training for individuals interested in world missions and/or serving with SIL International, Wycliffe USA, or other various organizations translating the Bible into thousands of languages worldwide.

- The program will prepare students for the work of developing a written language and translating the Bible into the language of people groups who are oral communicators.
- The program will allow students to explore the discipline of applied linguistics, and to meet prerequisites for graduate study in the discipline.
- The program will prepare students for service abroad where the ability to acquire and to use a new language proficiently is necessary.

The GIAL provides graduate training in the scientific study of language and culture to equip graduates for translation, literacy, and language-based development. The GIAL is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of the GIAL.

Once a student has been accepted into the Applied Linguistics Program, he or she may register at DBU for the courses, which are offered in two time frames: summer/fall and spring/summer. A student should plan to complete all of these courses in one of the two blocks of time. The courses will be taught through the Graduate Institute of Applied Linguistics by its faculty at the GIAL campus in Dallas, just a five-minute drive from DBU. Grades for the courses will be recorded in the same way as all other DBU courses.

Minor in Applied Linguistics

The following courses, comprising the 16 credit hours necessary for a linguistics minor, are required:

| LING 4302 | Principles of Articulatory and Acoustic Phonetics |
| :--- | :--- |
| LING 4303 | Principles of Phonological Analysis |
| LING 4350 | Language and Society |
| LING 4370 | Cultural Anthropology |
| LING 4410 | Principles of Grammatical Analysis |

The same courses may be used for a concentration in Linguistics by students in the College of Professional Studies. The professors simultaneously serve as faculty members of the Graduate Institute of Applied Linguistics and adjunct faculty of Dallas Baptist University.

Prerequisites

Prior to applying for a Linguistics Minor, a student must complete ENGL 1301, 1302, and either 2301 or 2302 as well as completing 60 semester hours while maintaining a GPA of 2.8 or higher.

COUNCIL FOR CHRISTIAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Dallas Baptist University is proud to be a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU) : a higher education association of 176 intentionally Christ-centered institutions around the world. 120-member campuses in North America are fullyaccredited, comprehensive colleges and universities with curricula rooted in the arts and sciences. In addition, 56 affiliate institutions in 19 countries are part of the CCCU. The CCCU is a tax-exempt 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization headquartered in the Historic Capitol Hill district of Washington, D.C. The Council's mission is to advance the cause of Christ-centered higher education and to help our institutions transform lives by faithfully relating scholarship and service to biblical truth.

BestSemester provides twelve off-campus and study abroad programs around the world. Study abroad programs are intended to complement and expand the opportunities found on a traditional campus through a comprehensive experiential learning approach. These programs are available to undergraduate students of junior or senior standing with a cumulative GPA of 2.75 or higher on a 4.00 scale. (GPA requirements vary among the various study programs. BestSemester programs provide strong academic experiences and earn a student up to 18 hours of credit. DBU students must be enrolled full-time during participation in a BestSemester program.
(Note to Seniors: If you choose to participate in a BestSemester program during your graduating semester and DBU has not received your transcript from our BestSemester program, you may not be eligible to participate in the commencement ceremonies if we have not received your transcript in time).

Culture-Crossing Programs include: Australia Studies, Brisbane, Australia; China Studies, Xiamen, China; India Studies, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu, India; Latin American Studies, San José, Costa Rica; Middle East Studies currently in Jerusalem, Israel; Programmes in Oxford, England; and Uganda Studies, Mukono, Uganda.

Culture-Shaping Programs include: American Studies, Washington, D.C.; Contemporary Music Center, Nashville, Tennessee; L.A. Film Studies Center, Los Angeles, California; and the Washington Journalism Center Washington, D.C.

PLEASE NOTE: BestSemester programs have deadlines by which the student must submit an application packet. The student must contact the DBU Program Contact in the Academic Dean's Office before the student makes contact with BestSemester ${ }^{\mathrm{TM}}$. It is the student's responsibility to see that all application materials are completed and submitted to the respective study program. DBU does not provide funding for these programs.

American Studies Program (ASP)

Washington, D.C. is the classroom at the American Studies Program. Students live eight blocks from the U.S. Capitol and Supreme Court and within walking distance of historic Eastern Market, Union Station, and the National Mall. ASP students have the unique privilege of diving into a network of internship opportunities and mentoring relationships which have been built up over nearly four decades. Along with the critical internship component of the program, students choose a track of courses centering on either public policy or global development and leave ASP with up to sixteen credit hours of well-earned academic and work experience.

China Studies Program (CSP)

The China Studies Program is offered in partnership with Xiamen University located near the sub-tropical South China Sea. With its beautiful setting, its focus on learning about China from Chinese, and its commitment to spiritual growth, CSP will change the way you see yourself, your faith and your world. CSP students live in a dormitory on campus for international students from around the world who study at Xiamen. During the semester, students will spend over a week in Hong Kong, two weeks in the ancient capital city of Xi'an, and a week touring Beijing and Shanghai. CSP offers a number of Chinese language, history, culture, and religion courses as well as a business concentration that includes a business internship.

India Studies Program (ISP)

The India Studies Program is offered in partnership with Bishop Appasamy College of Arts and Sciences, a CCCU international affiliate located in Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu. ISP students have the opportunity to delve into an Indian college community that allows the chance to embrace local culture and cultivate meaningful relationships. Students will spend two weeks and five weekends traveling throughout India observing the country's rich diversity and history. In addition to core courses centering on Indian culture and religion, ISP students will be able to choose courses from a variety of topics including literature, art, costume design, the culinary arts, business, and social work. One day a week, students will also have the opportunity to be exposed to different organizations and businesses through volunteering and internships.

Los Angeles Film Studies Center (LAFSC)

The L. A. Film Studies Center exists to launch students into their dreams. Exploring the art, craft and technology of film, LAFSC offers intensive hands-on production experience coupled with real world exposure, living and working in Hollywood. Students will study various aspects of film production, faith and artistic development, and will hold an internship in the industry. Additionally, students may choose an elective course in the areas of narrative storytelling, professional screenwriting, professional acting for the camera, or carry out an independent study. With a vast network of LAFSC alumni in L.A., students are never lacking for mentors and a community of believers. LAFSC encourages alumni to make films by offering grants, continuing education and low-cost equipment rentals.

Middle East Studies Program (MESP)

The Middle East Studies Program focuses on engaging the Arab-Muslim world in addition to Israeli Jews and Christian Arabsseeking to learn from all the children of Abraham. Though MESP students obviously take advantage of the incredible biblical geography and sites during their many tours around Israel, the program challenges students with a journey that extends beyond the typical holy land experience. Assuming safe travel conditions, the program arranges substantive travel to Turkey and Egypt as well as a shorter trip to Jordan. Interdisciplinary speaker seminars, Arabic language study, and service work with various aide societies all provide MESP students with opportunities to explore the diverse religious, cultural and political tapestry of Middle Eastern societies. Students may experience intense encounters with both locals and colleagues that reflect a mix of worldviews existing in the region, yet always under the protective wing of a supportive MESP community.

Oxford Summer Programme (OSP)

For five weeks Oxford Summer Programme students read, learn, and live in the 'city of dreaming spires'. Students have access to Oxford's world famous libraries as well as local art galleries, museums, bookshops, and ice cream parlours. OSP allows students, as affiliate members of Wycliffe Hall, University of Oxford, to do intensive scholarship while exploring the relationship between Christianity and the development of the British Isles. Tutorials (discussions between one student and the tutor) give students personal attention from expert Oxford academics as they pursue topics in classics, English language and literature, history, history of science, philosophy, and theology and religion.
DBU Contact: Monica Hardy, Academic Dean's Office monica@dbu.edu

Scholars' Semester in Oxford (SSO)

The Scholars' Semester in Oxford allows students, as members of Wycliffe Hall and Visiting Students of the University of Oxford to pursue intensive scholarship in an historic seat of learning. With personal attention in tutorials (meetings between one student and an expert academic) SSO students focus in detail on topics chosen from among hundreds of possibilities in classics, English language and literature, history, history of art, modern languages, musicology, philosophy, psychology, and theology. SSO students may explore nearby London, and historic sites throughout the United Kingdom and Europe, but the main foci are the pleasure of intellectual enquiry and getting a taste for graduate school.

Uganda Studies Program (USP)

The Uganda Studies Program is offered in partnership with Uganda Christian University, a CCCU international affiliate in Mukono, Uganda. The course, "Faith and Action in the Ugandan Context," combines a traditional classroom component (e.g., readings, discussion, small group processing, lecture) with a broad spectrum of experiential learning (e.g., living and studying with Ugandan students, home stays with Ugandan families, travel to various regions of Uganda and Rwanda, exposure to both missionaries and Ugandans involved in various social services). In addition to the core course, each student selects and emphasis: Uganda Studies Emphasis or the Social Work Emphasis.

Washington Journalism Center (WJC)

The Washington Journalism Center, located on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C., is where the rubber meets the road in print journalism. Students spend an entire semester studying the history and future of newsrooms in America, developing hard-news writing technique, and applying these lessons on the ground in a hands-on internship. WJC will cultivate professional news skills and encourage students to think through the implications of being a Christian working in the news media in a city that is home to the powerful and the powerless.

Admission of Students

At Dallas Baptist University, students learn to exemplify servant leadership and integrate Biblical faith and academic learning in their daily lifestyle, relationships, education, and career decisions.

DBU seeks students who are looking for a family environment in which to pursue their higher education goals. Opportunities await in academic activities, service projects, clubs and organizations, athletics, and ministries. Guided by the shepherding hearts of DBU's faculty and staff, our students are challenged to go into the world with a spirit of servanthood and an awareness of their Christian responsibility.

All persons seeking undergraduate admission must have either graduated from high school or have successfully completed the GED. Undergraduate application forms are provided by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Application forms may be obtained by writing to the Director of Undergraduate Admissions, Dallas Baptist University, or by telephoning (214) 333-5360, metro (972) 445-5300, ext. 5360, or 1(800) 460-1DBU. Prospective students may also apply online at www.dbu.edu.

Freshman Student Admissions

Procedure and Criteria
DBU invites applications from qualified students who have graduated, or expect to graduate, from an accredited secondary school. Students who apply as regular freshman enrollees must have graduated from high school or have satisfactorily completed the General Education Development examination (GED). Students who were educated at home are also invited to apply and are subject to the same qualifications and requirements.

A personal interview with an admissions counselor is recommended for all students entering college for the first time. A campus visit is recommended, but not required. DBU hosts President's Day Patriot Preview, Columbus Day Patriot Preview, and other Patriot Preview events each fall and spring semester to provide information on academic programs, campus life, financial aid, and scholarships, as well as to conduct campus tours for prospective students and their parents.

FRESHMAN ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:

The following must be submitted by all freshman applicants:

1. A fully completed DBU Application for Undergraduate Admission.
2. A non-refundable $$ 25$ admission application fee. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
3. A 250 -word essay (typewritten or word-processed) relating why the applicant would like to attend Dallas Baptist University.
4. Official high school transcript including official school stamp and/or administrator's signature, received in a sealed envelope bearing the transcripting school's logo.
5. Official scores of either the ACT or the SAT.
*Applicants who have permanent resident alien status in the United States must also fulfill the requirements listed under "Other Applicants."
6. Official copies of dual credit transcripts from all colleges in which the student has enrolled. These must be submitted before a final admission evaluation can be made.

Freshman Admission Criteria

Careful consideration is given to a number of factors in reviewing applications and may include: academic records, class rank, standardized test scores, personal recommendations, church/ministry involvement, extracurricular activity participation, community service, and the applicant's written essay. Applicants for admission are evaluated on the basis of the candidate's academic record, character, aptitude, and potential for success in the DBU experience.

The following criteria are considered when selecting candidates for admission:

- The student's final high school transcript should demonstrate the following:
- At least a 2.5 grade point average.
- Official Seal of the school.
- Graduation date.
- Satisfactory class rank based on the standards of the particular high school attended.
- The following high school academic units are recommended:

| English | 4 years |
| :--- | :--- |
| Mathematics | 3 years |
| History/Social Studies | 4 years |
| Science | 2 years (minimum of 1 year Lab Science) |
| Social Studies | 3 years |
| Foreign Languages | $2-3$ years |

- Students educated through a non-traditional secondary education, which includes a course of study at the secondary level in a non-accredited private school setting or home school, must submit an academic transcript. The academic transcript must include a list of courses completed, final course grades, and cumulative grade point average. Official ACT or SAT scores must be submitted. The documents submitted must demonstrate that the student meets regular admission standards.
- A minimum standardized composite test score of 21 on the ACT or a combined Critical Reading and Math score of 1020 on the SAT is required. The writing assessment section of the ACT or SAT will be required.

Academics in Motion Admission

For those students who are borderline in meeting the minimum admission requirements, the University may choose to offer admission through the Academics in Motion (AIM) program. Students admitted through this program may be asked to take/retake the ACT prior to registration for classes. AIM students may only enroll for a maximum of 16 hours during their first semester at DBU. An additional requirement for students in the AIM program is to complete one of the following courses during their first semester at DBU: READ 2100 - Advanced Reading Skills, LIBR 1100 - Foundations of College Research, or MANA 3100 - Time Management.

The academic progress of students who are admitted through the AIM program will be evaluated after each semester of enrollment until they have completed 16 hours at DBU. All AIM students who fall below a 2.0 grade point average during the first 16 hours at DBU will be placed on Academic Probation with additional requirements from the Registrar. Should a student who has been placed on Academic Probation, not reach a GPA of 2.0 by the end of the semester following being placed on probation status, the student will be placed on Academic Suspension.

Housing

Students desiring to live in the residence halls must complete a residence hall application, roommate questionnaire, and medical history form. These forms are mailed to students by the Residence Life Office upon acceptance to the University.

Transfer Student Admission

Procedure and Criteria
Transfer students constitute an integral segment of the total student body at Dallas Baptist University. They bring a diversity of educational backgrounds that enrich and strengthen the overall academic experience for all students. A transfer student is defined as one who has been out of high school for at least one full semester and has attempted some college or university work for credit.

TRANSFER ADMISSIONS REQUIREMENTS:

Students with transfer credit who apply to DBU must submit the following:

1. A fully completed DBU Application for Undergraduate Admission.
2. A non-refundable $$ 25$ admission application fee. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
3. A 250 -word essay (typewritten or word-processed) relating why the applicant would like to attend Dallas Baptist University.
4. Official transcript from all previously attended colleges and universities. Transcripts must be received by DBU in an unopened transcripting school envelope to be considered official.
5. Applicants with less than 30 hours of college credit must furnish high school transcripts or official GED scores and official scores of either the ACT or SAT.
6. *Applicants who have permanent resident alien status in the United States must also fulfill the requirements listed under "Other Applicants."

These forms are mailed to students by the Residence Life Office upon acceptance to the University. Students desiring to live in the Colonial Village Apartments, Williamsburg Village Townhomes, or Brownstones must complete an apartment application form and a medical history form. These forms are available in the Apartment Life Office.

Transfer Credit

Transfer students' grades earned on course work accepted in transfer to DBU will not become a part of the DBU grade point average. No course with a grade of "D" or "F" will be accepted in transfer. Only Dallas Baptist University residence credit will be considered in calculating the grade point average to determine:
(1) Eligibility for graduation;
(2) Eligibility for graduation with honors; and
(3) Eligibility for financial aid.

Courses taken on a pass/fail basis will be considered for acceptance unless the institution at which the work was earned equates a grade of "P," or pass, to a grade below "C."

Transfer credit will be considered for acceptance on all regular college credit courses taken at a regionally accredited institution. The total number of hours that can be transferred from all accredited, two-year colleges is 66 . DBU will accept up to 12 credit hours of technical/occupational credit from regionally accredited institutions (including community/junior colleges) into the traditional degree programs. These 12 hours are to be used as elective credit only. No advanced courses will be accepted in transfer from a two-year college. A limited amount of transfer credit from identified non-accredited institutions may be accepted, upon review by the Registrar's Office. There is no limitation to the number of hours DBU will accept from accredited four-year institutions; however:

- Thirty of the last 36 credit hours must be taken in residence at DBU.
- A minimum of 30 hours total must be taken in residence. (Any courses which DBU offers at extension site locations or online are considered resident hours.)
- All required courses of the student's degree plan must be completed.
- After matriculation, a student may only transfer a total of 12 credit hours to DBU.

Courses that are considered developmental/remedial; continuing education, college orientation, work co-op, and extension courses are not transferable. Credit given on another regionally accredited school's transcript for ACE, CLEP, AP, or departmental exams is transferable provided that institution's testing standards are comparable to those of DBU.

The transfer student must recognize that academic advising is unofficial until an official transcript evaluation form and official degree plan have been approved by the Registrar's Office.

Credit for Corporate Training

DBU accepts, subject to departmental approval/policies, credit recommendations for courses that have been evaluated by the American Council of Education as specified in The National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs or College Recommendations: The Directory of the National Programs on Non-collegiate Sponsored Instruction. These recommendations may be placed on a DBU transcript for a fee.

Credit for Military Experience

Students may receive, subject to departmental approval/policies, credit for Army courses and military occupational specialties (MOS); Navy general rates, ratings, warrant officer and limited duty officer specialties; Air Force courses; Coast Guard courses; Marine Corps courses; and Department of Defense courses, if they have been evaluated by the American Council on Education (ACE). DBU will accept credit recommendations made by ACE as specified in The Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services.

Professional Studies Admission

Procedure and Criteria

Veteran Student Admission

Procedure and Criteria

For specific admission requirements, see information on Transfer Student Admission and College of Professional Studies Admission.

Veteran's Affairs Program

The Texas Veterans Commission approves Dallas Baptist University for students who wish to receive educational benefits under various Veterans Administration programs. All students who feel they may be eligible should contact the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office located in the Registrar's Office.

Procedures

Eligibility of new students will be determined after the VA Certifying Official has received the appropriate forms from the veteran (depending on benefit veteran will be using). This can be determined by speaking to the VA Certifying Official. Forms can be completed at the official website of the Department of Veterans Affairs Education Service, www.gibill.va.gov. New students should contact the VA Certifying Official, in the DBU Veteran Services Office, one month prior to registration, to ensure completion of paperwork in a timely manner. Transcripts showing previous credit must be submitted prior to the completion of the second semester in residence. The Department of Veterans Affairs requires that each student receiving benefits must follow an approved degree plan.

Certification

A VA student may not receive payment for courses previously completed, for courses that are in excess of degree requirements, or for courses that do not apply toward the student's approved degree. A degree plan must be on file as soon as possible. A copy of your official degree plan should be given to the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office as soon as it is completed.

It is the student's responsibility to notify the VA Certifying Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office each semester that he/she enrolls, and at any time he/she adds, drops, or withdraws from a course.

Credit for Military Experience

Students may receive, subject to departmental approval/policies, credit for Army courses and military occupational specialties
(MOS); Navy general rates, ratings, warrant officer and limited duty officer specialties; Air Force courses; Coast Guard courses; Marine Corps courses; and Department of Defense courses, if they have been evaluated by the American Council on Education (ACE). DBU will accept credit recommendations made by ACE as specified in The Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services.

Progress Policy Guidelines
Satisfactory Progress: A student who is receiving VA Educational Benefits must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00 to be considered making satisfactory progress.

Probation: Students who fail to achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.00 shall be placed on probation for one semester. If the student achieves a semester GPA of 2.00 or better during the probationary semester but has not achieved the required cumulative GPA of 2.00 , the student may continue on probation for one additional semester.

Unsatisfactory Progress: If the student on probation fails to achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.00 at the end of the first probationary semester, the student will be reported to the Veterans Affairs Regional Office as making unsatisfactory progress. The student will be permitted to remain on probation for one additional semester.

A student who fails to achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.00 at the end of the second consecutive probationary semester shall be reported to the Veteran's Affairs Regional Office as making unsatisfactory progress.

Other Applicants

RE-ADMISSION OF FORMER STUDENTS

Students previously enrolled and in good academic standing in an undergraduate degree program who wish to re-enter DBU after an absence of more than 24 months are required to submit the one-page Application for Re-Admission and new official transcripts from each college or university attended since the last enrollment at DBU. The $$ 25$ admission application fee is waived and the 250word essay is not required.

Students who have been absent from DBU for over five calendar years must re-submit the full Undergraduate Application for Admission, 250-word essay, and transcripts of all college/university work completed prior to and since last enrollment at DBU. The $$ 25$ application fee is waived for these students.

All students applying for re-admission to the University must have no outstanding financial obligation to DBU and must be current on all student loans. Students applying for readmission to DBU must meet the current admission standards as listed in the Transfer Admission Criteria or Professional Studies Admission Criteria.

SPECIAL ADMISSIONS

Students interested in taking courses, but who are not seeking a degree from DBU, may be admitted for non-degree study. All nondegree seeking applicants should apply through the Office of Undergraduate Admission and are advised by the Registrar. Students registering for courses with prerequisites must submit an official transcript confirming credit for the required prerequisites. Nondegree status would apply to persons in the following categories:

Transient Students

Undergraduate students who are continuing students at another university may be admitted to DBU as transient students. A photocopy of the applicant's most recent grade report or transcript must be submitted with a completed application and a non-refundable $$ 25$ application fee. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
Transient students are admitted for ONE SEMESTER. If they wish to continue at DBU, they must return to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and reapply as transfer students.

Post-Baccalaureate Student

A post-baccalaureate student is one who currently holds a bachelor's degree, yet is enrolled in undergraduate courses and is not seeking a second bachelor's degree at DBU. Post-baccalaureate students must submit a completed application, a non-refundable $$ 25$ application fee, and a transcript from the university at which their bachelor's degree was earned. The application fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.

Non-Degree Seeking Student

Students who do not hold a bachelor's degree and do not wish to pursue one but wish to take credited classes at DBU may apply as a Non-Degree Seeking Student. Applicants must submit a completed application and a $$ 25$ non-refundable application fee. The application fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted. Students registering for courses with prerequisites must submit an official transcript confirming credit for the required prerequisites.

Audit Student

An audit student is one who visits in a course. Auditors have the privilege of hearing or observing only. The privilege does not include evaluation of work or participation in discussion or laboratory practice. No credit is given for an audited course. An audit student may also be regularly enrolled in other courses. All arrangements for auditing classes are to be made in the Registrar's Office.

PERMANENT RESIDENT ALIEN STUDENTS

Those students who are not citizens of the U.S., but do have official permanent resident status, must also submit the following:

1. A photocopy of your official, current Permanent Resident Alien (PRA) card. DBU admissions personnel must photocopy this card.
2. Original transcripts of all high school and college grades with literal translations into English. Students attempting to transfer credits received in secondary degrees or courses completed at universities outside the United States must send official transcripts to an approved evaluation service at the student's expense.
3. An official score of at least 525 on the paper based Test Of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) exam or 197 on the computer based exam. Students who meet one of the following criteria are exempt from taking the TOEFL.
A. English is your first language.
B. Graduation from an English-speaking high school.
C. 30 hours or more of transferable college credit from an English-speaking university.

UNDOCUMENTED NON-CITIZENS ADMISSION

Dallas Baptist University admits qualifying undocumented non-citizens who meet the admissions criteria of the University and who are eligible to sign an affidavit of Texas residency as described in Texas House Bill 1403. The University will consider admission of out-of-state undocumented non-citizens if such applicants intend to pursue permanent residency status in the United States of America at the earliest opportunity they are eligible to do so. Each applicant who is an undocumented non-citizen of the United States of America must sign and execute an affidavit of residency and submit it to the Office of Admissions for consideration.

Section 2 of House Bill 1403 states that an individual who is a non-citizen can be considered a resident of the State of Texas if the individual resided with a parent, court-appointed legal guardian or conservator while attending a public or private high school in the State of Texas and:

1. Graduated from a public or private high school or received the equivalent of a high school diploma (GED) in the State of Texas.
2. Resided in the State of Texas for at least 36 consecutive months as of the date the person graduated from high school or received the equivalent of a high school diploma (GED).
3. Registers as an entering student in a college or university that is supported by the State of Texas not earlier than the 2001 fall semester, and
4. Provides the college or university that is supported by the State of Texas an affidavit that the individual will file an application to become a permanent resident at the earliest opportunity the individual is eligible to do so.

If an undocumented non-citizen applicant to Dallas Baptist University meets the requirements as stated in sections 1 and 2 above and intends to file an application to become a permanent resident at the earliest opportunity the individual is eligible to do so as stated in section 4 above, he/she must complete the following affidavit and submit it to the Office of Admissions. Out-of-state undocumented non-citizens must contact the Office of Admissions for further instructions.

International Student Admission

Students must arrive at the start of the term. First semester, single, undergraduate students under 21 years of age are required to live on campus or in housing arranged by the University. Course enrollment is recorded with the University and course grades are part of the student's academic record. Exit exams are conducted at the end of each 8 -week term. Upon successful completion of the IEP, the student enters the academic program for which he/she has already been admitted.

Please contact the International Admissions and Immigration Department for more details at globalinfo@dbu.edu or 214-333-6905.

Financial Information

Student Charges

For current tuition, room, and board charges, and for special fees, please consult the DBU online catalog or current DBU Schedule of Classes.

Cost Changes

Because economic conditions fluctuate, the University reserves the right to change tuition and other charges at the beginning of any semester if such change is judged necessary by the University.

Online Student Account Center

The Cashier's Office is proud to offer an Online Student Account Center to help both students and parents better manage the financial investment in their education at Dallas Baptist University.

Students and parents can manage their student account online, view their account charges, make online payment to their tuition, receive payment reminders, schedule future payments, enroll into a payment plan, and sign up for electronic refunds through the Online Student Account Center.

Students will have access to the Online Student Account Center by navigating to the "My Student Account Center" link underneath the financial information section in WebAdvisor. Parents can gain access to their student's account by being enabled as an Authorized User by their students in the Student Account Center.

To learn more about the DBU Online Student Account Center, please feel free to contact the Cashier's Office at (214) 333-5336 or via e-mail at cashier@dbu.edu.

We are here to help!

Payment Policies

A Payment Plan Student is a student who has a balance after registration for courses, has all financial aid applied and tuition reimbursement obtained, and is eligible for the Payment Plan option for the remaining balance. This time-payment plan requires $1 / 6$, $1 / 4$ or a $1 / 3$ down payment at the time of registration inclusive of all tuition, fees, room and board, followed by payment of the remaining balance in equal payments as detailed in the student's promissory note. In the event of a prepayment or overpayment of a scheduled installment note, the excess amount will be applied to the next scheduled payment. In addition, a $$ 100.00$ Payment Plan fee will be assessed to the student's account when utilizing the installment note. A fee of $$ 50.00$ will be assessed for each instance a payment is not received at the time of registration, is received late, is insufficient, and/or is not received at all. All balances must be paid as agreed or the actions noted on the following page may result.

NOTE: Mini-terms are not eligible for installment payments unless they are taken with a long semester class.

A Financial Aid Student whose guaranteed financial aid covers $100 \%$ of the student's balance is not required to provide payment at the time of registration. A financial aid student whose guaranteed aid covers less than $100 \%$ of the student's balance is required to pay in full the student's account balance that is not covered by financial aid at the time of registration or will automatically be placed on an installment note for the balance that is not covered by financial aid. If the student chooses to complete the Payment Plan, the student must pay the down payment at the time of registration. The balance remaining, after the down payment, is to be paid in equal monthly payments as required in the Payment Plan. A "less than $100 \%$ " financial aid student may not use confirmed financial aid in lieu of the down payment. All balances must be paid as agreed or the actions noted on the following page may result.

If the student's aid is not guaranteed at the time of registration, the student must pay for the class in full or be placed on a Payment Plan.

A Personal Pay Student is a student who pays his or her balance in full at the time of registration using personal resources. For balances not paid at the time of registration, the actions noted on the following page may result.

A Direct Bill Student is a student whose employer reimburses DBU directly for all or part of a student's charges for the student's education. All direct bill students whose employer pays DBU directly must provide vouchers for the present registration term within one week from the date of registration for that term. Any student whose employer reimburses less than 100\% of student's charges must either immediately pay the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges or complete a Payment Plan for the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges. A "less than 100\%" direct bill student may not use the employer reimbursement in lieu of the down payment. The student must pay the employer's portion of the reimbursed charge if the employer's portion is not received within 45 days from the date of the last class meeting. All balances must be paid as agreed or the actions noted on the following page may result.

Direct Bill/Employer Reimbursed Students must pay all Fall 2014 balances by February 1, 2015, and pay all Spring 2015 balances by July 1, 2015.

An Employer Reimbursed Student is a student whose employer reimburses the student directly or indirectly for all or part of a student's charges for the student's education. Any student whose employer reimburses less than $100 \%$ of the student's charges must either immediately pay the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges or complete a Payment Plan for the remaining non-reimbursed portion of the student's charges. A "less than $100 \%$ " employer reimbursed student may not use the employer reimbursement in lieu of the down payment. The student must pay the employer's portion of the reimbursed charge if the employer's portion is not received within 45 days from the date of the last class meeting. This can be paid in full or paid through the Payment Plan. All balances must be paid as agreed or the actions noted on this page may result.

A Veteran Student is a student who receives tuition assistance for all or part of their student charges paid directly from the Department of Veteran Affairs. Any Veteran student who receives less than a $100 \%$ benefit from the VA must either immediately pay the remaining portion of the student's charges or complete a Payment Plan for their remaining non-tuition assistance portion of the student's charges. All balances must be paid as agreed or the actions on this page may result.

All Graduating Students must pay the previous and the present account balances in full by the time designated in the graduation application materials provided by the Registrar's Office, or the student will be denied the privilege of participation in commencement exercises and access to his or her diploma and transcript upon graduation. The student will be allowed to participate in a commencement exercise only after the previous and present balances are paid in full.

Actions for Unpaid Accounts

The following actions may result for any student who has not paid his or her account balance as due or has not made financial arrangements with the Financial Aid Office and/or the Cashier's Office:

1. Not being allowed to use the Payment Plan in subsequent semesters,

Immediate withdrawal from enrolled courses,
Removal from current dormitory residence,
Denial of dining hall privileges,
Denial of access to final exams, resulting in an Incomplete or Failure,
Denial of access to final semester grades,
Denial of access to transcripts,
Denial of ability to be advised for or register for any additional courses,
Inability to graduate,
. Degree will not be conferred/posted on the student's transcript,

1. Denial of participation in commencement exercises,
2. Denial of access to student's diploma upon graduation,
3. Denial of access to student services, and/or
4. Reporting to collection agency and consumer reporting agency.

In the event that an account has not been paid in full by the end of the semester, DBU submits the accounts to a collection agency for collection. DBU will add a collection agency fee, which will be up to one-third or one-half of the remaining balance, which is a reasonable fee for collection agency service regardless of the dollar amount owed. This balance will also be reported to a credit reporting agency and could affect your credit.

If you have any questions regarding your account, please call the Cashier's Office at 214.333.5336.
If you have questions regarding your financial aid, please call the Financial Aid Office at 214.333.5363.

Deferred Payment Plan

There are three types of plans that will be used for Spring Registration.
The first type of plan requires a $1 / 6$ down payment at the time of registration. This note will be used from October 27, 2014 to November 21, 2014 and requires six payment dates: $1 / 6$ at the time of the registration; February 1, 2015; March 1, 2015; April 1, 2015; May 1, 2015; and June 1, 2015. This is an optional plan for students registering during the Advance Registration period.

The second type of plan requires a $1 / 4$ down payment at the time of registration. This note will be used from October 27, 2014 to January 25, 2015 and requires four payment dates: $1 / 4$ at the time of registration; February 1, 2015, March 1, 2015, April 1, 2015.

The third type of plan requires a $1 / 3$ down payment at the time of registration. This note will be used from January 26, 2015, to the last day of the add/drop period and requires three payment dates: $1 / 3$ at the time of registration; $1 / 3$ on March 1,2015 ; and $1 / 3$ on April 1, 2015.

Students registering after the add/drop dates for the Spring 2015 semester will not be eligible for these plans.

Adding, Dropping, and Withdrawal

A student may change a course section(s), add a course(s), or drop a course(s) with no change in the permanent record if he/she does so within the add/drop deadlines for the terms. (Term dates are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.)

A student will receive a grade of "W" if he/she drops a course(s) during the withdrawal period for the term. (Withdrawal dates are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.)

The student is responsible in every situation for making sure the form for the add/drop or withdrawal progresses through each step in the process, whether the process is conducted in person or through faxes and telephone conversations.

Residential students (living on campus) are required to have an exit interview prior to full withdrawal from the University. Withdrawal from all courses constitutes full withdrawal. All refunds are mailed.

Tuition Refund Information

A student may receive full or partial credit for the semester's tuition charge for each class if he/she completes the official add/drop or withdrawal process through the Registrar's Office.

Refunds for courses offered in terms lasting 2-16 weeks (Spring Semester, Spring Intramester, May Mini III, Long Summer, Summer I, and Summer II) are based on these percentages:
Before the first class meeting ................................................... 100\%
$1 \%$ through 5\% of class meetings ......................................... 90\%
$>5 \%$ through $10 \%$ of class meetings ...................................... 80\%
$>10 \%$ through $15 \%$ of class meetings ................................... $70 \%$
$>15 \%$ through $25 \%$ of class meetings ................................... 60\%
$>25 \%$ of class meetings and thereafter ........................ No Refund
Courses offered in terms lasting at least one week, but less than two weeks (Spring Break Mini I and II, May Mini I and II) may be dropped before the end of the first class day for a $100 \%$ refund.

There is no withdrawal from one-week mini-term courses.

The refund for any course with a TBA timeslot such as Internet, Doctoral, Practicum, or Internship will be calculated as if the course met weekly beginning on the first day of the term. (i.e., If the first day of the semester is on a Tuesday, then the refund will be calculated as if the course met weekly on Tuesday throughout the semester.)

Students are subject to a drop fee each time a course is dropped. Financial aid recipients who withdraw from all classes before $60 \%$ of the semester is completed will also be required to return a portion of the federal financial aid received.

A class meeting is defined as any official meeting time as noted on the semester calendar included in this schedule. The date the student enrolls in a class has no bearing on the calculation of class meetings. Additionally, any changes made by a professor to the official meeting dates in this schedule will not alter the calculation of refund amounts.

When a student drops and adds an equal number of credit hours within the same term, it is considered an even exchange and no prorated refund is calculated. If a student drops and adds courses within different terms, credit for courses dropped will be determined based on the method explained below. Courses added will be charged at full-tuition rates. In either case, the student will be subject to a drop/withdrawal fee and any other applicable fees.

In cases of course cancellation by the University, credit equal to $100 \%$ of tuition and fees will be given.
Late registration and/or absences from class have no bearing on refunds.
Students suspended for academic or disciplinary reasons will not be entitled to a refund of tuition, fees, or housing.
Refunds of credit balances on student accounts will require a minimum of two weeks to be paid after the student has officially withdrawn through the Registrar's Office. However, no credit balances which are the result of financial aid will be refunded until two weeks after the add/drop period closes. A refund will be issued only if the student's balance is paid in full. All refunds are mailed.

Calculating the Tuition Refund

The following process is used to calculate the refund of tuition:

1. The number of classes that have already met in a semester is divided by the total number of classes contained in that semester.
2. This number is the percentage used to calculate the amount of tuition to be refunded. (Drop/Withdrawal dates are listed in the current Schedule of Classes.)

FORMULA: # of classes met / # of total classes contained in the semester = \% of the course completed.

EXAMPLE: $2 / 16=12.5 \% .12 .5 \%$ according to the refund policy equates to a $70 \%$ tuition refund. (Refer to table of percentages above.)

Refund of Credit Balances

Students are eligible to receive their refunds electronically by having them directly deposited into their personal bank account.
Refunds due to overpayment of the student account or the dropping/withdrawal of courses can be requested through the Cashier's Office at 214-333-5336.

Refunds resulting from the posting of financial aid will be automatically requested by the Financial Aid Office and either deposited to the student's bank account listed in the eRefunds section of the Online Student Account Center, or issued by a paper check and forwarded to the student's address in the University system.

To set up your eRefunds account for direct deposit, log in to the Online Student Account Center through WebAdvisor and enter your personal banking information into the eRefunds screen. After you complete the eRefund set-up process, DBU will initiate a $$ 0.00$ test transaction, or pre-note, to your personal bank account to confirm that bank account and routing information is valid before we begin sending you electronic refunds.

Please make sure your bank account information is correct. If your account information is incorrect, or if you have not set up your eRefunds account, your refund will be mailed to you as a paper check.

Using a FAX

Students who are unable to complete the add/drop or withdrawal process in person on the main campus may do so by FAX by following the steps listed below.

1. The student will contact the academic department through which the student's major is administered to request the proper form and obtain the department's FAX number.
2. The department will send the proper form to the student by FAX.
3. The student will fill in the necessary data before faxing the form to the academic department.
4. a. Adding or Dropping a Course

- The student will telephone the academic department requesting the signature of the student's academic advisor.
- The advisor's signature and the date must appear on the form.
b. Withdrawing from a Course
- The student will telephone the academic department requesting the signature of the instructor of each course from which the student is withdrawing.
- Each course listed on the form must show the instructor's signature, the date signed, and the last date of class attendance.

5. The student will monitor this process through each step to completion in the Registrar's Office. The student should never send the form directly to the Registrar's Office since the form is meaningless and void without the signature of the instructor(s) to withdraw or the advisor to drop.
6. When the form is complete, the academic department will forward a copy to the Registrar's Office.
7. The refund will be calculated according to the date the Request for Withdrawal or Drop form is received in the Registrar's Office.

The student should refer to Tuition Refund Policies on this page or contact the Cashier's Office for tuition refund information before dropping or withdrawing from a class.

Benefits for Veterans

Contact the VA Representative in the Registrar's Office at 214.333 .5145 or call the Department of Veteran Affairs at 1.888.442.4551 to see if you, your child, or your spouse is eligible for benefits.

Grants for Ministry Students

If you are preparing for a career in vocational or bi-vocational church-related Christian ministry, you may pick up an application in the Financial Aid Office or the Ministry Student Office, which is located in the Gary Cook Graduate School of Leadership. You may also print an application from the DBU website, www.dbu.edu/ministry_student.

First-Year Baptist Ministerial Grant recipients must take RELI 1310: Introduction to Christian Ministry during the respective school year.

If you plan to apply for the First-Year Baptist Ministerial Grant, you should speak with your advisor and plan to take this course. If you have any questions, contact Jeremy Johnston at 214.333.5574.

Bookstore Vouchers (BookCards)

A bookstore voucher (BookCard) will be available during the Cashier's Office operating hours until February 2,2015 for the Spring 2015 Semester, for students whose guaranteed financial aid will provide a credit balance. You may contact the Cashier's Office at 214.333.5336 for additional information.

Student Services Fee

The student services fee is used to pay a portion of the total cost of shuttle services, health services, athletic events, parking, and the fitness center.

Residence Hall Charges

Room and board charges are administered by the Residence Life office. If you cancel your housing contract or withdraw from the University after the first day of class of any given semester, you will forfeit the entire amount of your room charges and a pro-rated percentage of your meal plan.

Housing Application Fee

A one-time housing application fee of $$ 125.00$ must be paid by all residence hall residents.

Athletics Disclosure

Equity in Athletics Disclosure: Annual reports of information regarding intercollegiate athletics programs at DBU are available pursuant to the Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act upon request by students, prospective students, and members of the public. Requests should be forwarded in writing to the Director of Athletics.

All qualified students must contact the Cashier's Office following their registration to make payment arrangements. Students who have not paid in full at the time of registration will automatically be placed on the Deferred Payment Plan.

Financial Aid

The Office of Financial Aid at Dallas Baptist University seeks to support the mission of the University through its departmental mission, which is "To provide quality service to students who apply for financial assistance, to counsel and assist students in meeting the financial obligations associated with their attendance at DBU, and to maintain an effective and efficient administration of federal, state, institutional, and private financial resources of the University with ethical integrity and a spirit of servant leadership."

Financial aid makes it possible for thousands of students to attend DBU. Financial aid comes in the form of scholarships, grants, student employment, and loans. Sources of financial aid include DBU, outside organizations and agencies, the state of Texas, and the U. S. Department of Education. Students are encouraged to apply for all programs for which they could receive assistance to help them meet their educational goals.

Eligibility

Eligibility for federal and state student aid is based on need and on several other factors as follows:

- Demonstrate financial need (except for certain loans and scholarships)
- Have a high school diploma or a General Education Development (GED) certificate
- Be accepted for admission at DBU and working toward a degree or certificate in an eligible program at DBU
- Be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen
- Have a valid Social Security Number (see Office of Financial Aid for exceptions)
- Register with Selective Service if required. (You can use the FAFSA to register)
- Maintain satisfactory academic progress once in school
- Certify that you are not in default on a federal student loan and do not owe money on a federal grant
- Certify that you will use student aid only for educational purposes

To be eligible for institutional scholarships, the student must be in good standing and be making satisfactory progress toward his or her educational goals. Additional eligibility requirements may exist for each specific award as stated in the scholarship section of the catalog.

Financial Aid Application Process and Deadlines

Application Forms

To apply for financial aid at DBU, applicants must annually complete the following forms:

1. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the form used by most universities for the awarding of federal and state college aid. The official FAFSA can be completed free online at www.FAFSA.gov. First time applicants may apply for a federal PIN number which can be used to electronically sign the FAFSA. The FAFSA is available January 1 for the upcoming academic year. DBU's school code is 003560.
2. DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid (Fall and Spring) and the DBU Summer Supplemental Application for Financial Aid (Summer) will be available approximately February 15. Forms may be accessed at www.dbu.edu/financialaid.
3. Additional documents may be required by the Department of Education or the DBU Office of Financial Aid to complete your file. Such documents may include federal tax transcripts, verification of untaxed income, proof of citizenship or permanent residency, proof of Selective Service Registration, etc. Students will receive notification of needed documents by mail or email.

Application Deadlines:

The Office of Financial Aid makes every effort to provide funds to students as long as funds are available. However, priority deadlines exist because some funds are limited.

- March 1 is the priority date to complete the financial aid file to receive maximum consideration for federal and state financial aid for the fall/spring semesters.
- Continuing students who wish to apply for Honor's Day Scholarships for the next academic year must have a complete financial aid file by March 1.
- Students who fail to meet the priority deadline should apply as soon as possible or at least within 30-45 days before they need to register for classes to allow for processing time. If financial aid is not awarded and guaranteed by registration, the student will be expected to make payment arrangements with the Cashier's Office using personal resources at the time of registration. (See the Cashier's section for Payment Policy).
- Late applications are accepted on a rolling basis throughout the semester. However, students will be expected to make payment arrangements with the Cashier's Office using personal resources at the time of registration. (See the Cashier's section for payment policy). Retroactive applications are not allowed past the end of the enrollment period.

Awarding Policies and Procedures

Once a student's financial aid file is complete, a financial aid counselor will review the file for awarding. Applicants will be sent an award notification letter advising them of aid eligibility and instructions for finalizing their award(s). Award information will also be displayed on the student's WebAdvisor account.

Cost of Attendance (Student Budget)

Cost of Attendance is calculated based on educational costs allowed by law. The cost of attendance includes tuition and fees, room and board, books and supplies, transportation, and miscellaneous expenses. Costs unrelated to the completion of a student's course of study are not included in calculating the student's cost of attendance.

Effective Family Contribution (EFC)

The information reported on the FAFSA is used to determine an Effective Family Contribution (EFC), which is calculated by a formula established by the U. S. Congress. This number is used in determining eligibility for the Federal Pell Grant and other federal and state aid. The EFC is subtracted from the Cost of Attendance to determine official financial need.

Financial Need

Most federal and state financial aid programs and some outside aid programs are based on demonstrated financial need. The Office of Financial Aid makes every effort to assist students in meeting their financial need using all resources available. In addition, other "non-need based" aid is also available.

DBU Packaging Policy

After institutional and outsides scholarships and other resources are considered, DBU uses the following sequence to award government aid. The Federal Pell Grant is awarded first. If a student continues to have remaining unmet need, additional needbased grants (gift aid) are awarded provided the student meets all eligibility criteria and funds are available.

After gift aid sources have been applied, then additional awards are packaged from self-help types of aid (employment and loans). When eligibility for all other funds has been exhausted, loans are offered to fill the remaining need and cost of attendance.

Programs that have limited funds available for awarding will be awarded based on a completed application date. Once all available funds are awarded, subsequently eligible students will be placed on a waiting list in case additional funds become available.

Award Notification

Once a financial aid award offer has been made, an award notification letter is mailed to the student and posted on WebAdvisor with instructions on accepting the aid. If loans have been offered, the student must secure Federal loans on an external Web site (www.studentloans.gov). First time DBU borrowers must complete entrance loan counseling and sign a Master Promissory Note (MPN) before funds are disbursed. Students may also be required to complete additional steps to secure other aid.

Financial Aid and Academic Load

Cost of Attendance and financial aid awards are based on the student's academic enrollment status for the semester as projected on the DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid. For financial aid purposes, the student is awarded based on full-time, quarter-time, half-time, or less than half-time enrollment status and not based on the exact number of hours enrolled; for example, undergraduate students enrolled in at least twelve credit hours during a fall, spring, or summer semester (term) are considered to be full-time. Undergraduate students enrolled in nine to eleven credit hours per semester are considered to be enrolled quarter-time. Undergraduate students enrolled in six to eight credit hours per semester are considered to be enrolled half-time. Undergraduate students enrolled in less than six credit hours are considered to be enrolled less than half-time.

The Cost of Attendance and financial aid is based on enrollment status on the school census date. If a student drops below the enrollment status for which aid was awarded or if a student fails to begin class attendance in some of their classes, the cost of attendance and aid programs may be adjusted. Please review to the Programs of Financial Aid in this catalog for specific full-time or half-time course load requirements.

Financial Aid Eligible Terms and Class Attendance

Students must be enrolled in standard fifteen week long semester terms to be eligible for government financial aid. Students may receive aid for mini-terms provided they are also enrolled in a regular semester term or other eligible pattern of enrollment. Contact the Financial Aid Office for details.

- August mini classes are added to fall term credit hours for financial aid
- December Mini-term, Short Winter Term, Long Winter Term, and January Mini-Term classes are added to spring term credit hours for financial aid.
- May mini classes are added to the Summer term credit hours for financial aid. The standard summer term is the long summer term or a combination of Summer I and Summer II terms.
- If a student is registered for a mini-term during a standard long semester (such as a fall break mini, Thanksgiving mini, or Spring break mini) but drops before the class begins, or fails to attend the class, financial aid for the class may be removed and the Cost of Attendance (budget) may be adjusted.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

You have the right to know ...

- What financial aid programs are available at Dallas Baptist University.
- The deadline for submitting applications for each of the programs.
- How financial aid will be distributed, how decisions on distributions are made, and the basis for these decisions.
- How your financial aid was determined. (Costs for tuition, fees, room, board, travel, books, and supplies, personal and miscellaneous expenses are considered in your budget).
- What resources (your current assets, parental contribution, other financial aid, etc.) were considered in the calculation of your need.
- How much of your financial need has been met.
- The details of the various programs in your student aid package.
- What portion of the financial aid you received must be repaid, and what portion is grant aid. If the aid is a loan, you have the right to know the interest rate, the total amount that must be repaid, the payback procedures, and the length of time you have to repay the loan, and when the repayment is to begin.
- How DBU determines if you are making satisfactory academic progress and what happens if you are not.

In Accepting Your Responsibilities You Must ...

- Complete all application forms accurately and submit them on time to the proper place.
- Provide correct information. In most instances, knowingly misreporting information on financial aid application forms is a violation of law and may be considered a criminal offense which could result in indictment under the U.S. Criminal Code.
- Return all additional documentation, verification, corrections, and/or new information requested by either the Office of Financial Aid in a timely manner.
- Be responsible for reading and understanding all forms that you are asked to sign, and for keeping copies of them.
- Live up to all agreements that you sign.
- Be aware of and comply with deadlines for application or reapplication for aid.
- Be aware of the DBU refund procedures.
- Be aware that early withdrawal from the term may result in a pro rata reduction of financial aid eligibility. Such a reduction may require that you repay money that you received to attend school. If you stop attending your classes, you may be considered to have fully withdrawn and your aid may be adjusted or removed.
- Report changes in name, address, and telephone number to the proper office.

Independent Status (Federal)

An independent student is one who is at least 24 years of age by January 1 of the award year. A student who has not attained this age is also considered to be independent if he/she:

* Is married
* Is a graduate or professional student;
* Is a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces;
* Is currently serving on active duty in the U.S. Armed Forces for purposes other than training;
* Has children who will receive more than half of their support from the student;
* Has dependents (other than children or spouse) who live with you and receive more than half of their support from you;
* At any time since age 13 both parents were deceased, or you were in foster care or a dependent or ward of the court;
* Is an emancipated minor as determined by a court in the state of legal residence;
* Is in a legal guardianship as determined by a court in the state of legal residence (does not include conservatorships);
* Is an unaccompanied youth who is homeless as described on the FAFSA; or
* Applies for and is approved for a dependency override.

Contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information.

Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP)

(Updated December 2014)

The Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended by Congress, mandates that institutions of higher education monitor the academic progress of students who receive federal financial aid. Dallas Baptist University has established the following minimum standards and practices for federal financial aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) for students to be eligible for and continue to receive federal financial aid. Please note that some state and institutional aid programs may have higher academic requirements, and eligibility for those financial aid programs is subject to the requirements of each program.
DBU updated its SAP policy as of May 1, 2011, in order to comply with new federal regulations regarding SAP that went into effect on July 1, 2011. DBU began using this new SAP policy beginning with the Spring 2011 semester. DBU's SAP policy may be accessed online at www.dbu.edu/financialaid/ or in the university catalog.

Cumulative GPA (CGPA) for undergraduate students enrolled using a catalog for the Fall 2009 semester or later is based ONLY on institutionally earned credit hours as defined by institutional policy. Cumulative GPA for graduate students includes both institutional and hours accepted in transfer. Federal and Institutional SAP will be reviewed at the end of each payment period (fall, spring, and summer semesters) after grades have been posted for that period.

To be in compliance with federal, state, or institutional student aid programs, SAP will be based on the student achieving both a qualitative standard and a quantitative standard, as defined below:

1. Qualitative Standard - Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)

Undergraduate students must maintain a minimum Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) of 2.0 for all course work completed.
Graduate students must maintain a 3.0 CGPA for all course work completed.
2. Quantitative Standard - Pace of Progression

Pace of progression is determined by dividing the cumulative number of credit hours successfully completed by the cumulative number of credit hours attempted, including hours that have been accepted in transfer. Undergraduate students must maintain a pace of progression of $66.67 \%$ for all course work attempted, including transfer credits. Graduate students must maintain a pace of progression so that they graduate within six years of beginning their degree program, as outlined in the academic catalog for the year that the student first enrolled.
3. Program Completion Time Frame: Undergraduate students may receive financial aid, if they otherwise qualify, if they have not yet attempted $150 \%$ of the hours required for their degree program (usually 189 hours). Graduate students may receive financial aid if they have not yet been enrolled in their current degree program for six or more academic years (see the appropriate academic catalog for the year in which the student enrolled). Attempted hours inc/ude all transferred credits and all DBU courses passed, failed, repeated, or withdrawn.

If a student meets ALL of the above standards, the student will receive a SAP status of SATISFACTORY and will be able to continue receiving federal and institutional aid at DBU.

If a student fails to meet one or more of the above standards, the student will be placed on one of three financial aid SAP statuses, as described below:

- Warning status: If the student was previously under a Satisfactory SAP status, the student's status will be moved to a WARNING status for one semester, meaning that the student is being warned that he/she is not meeting SAP eligibility and has one semester to correct his/her eligibility before being placed on financial aid suspension. During this semester, the student will continue to be able to receive financial aid. A Warning status cannot be appealed since students are still eligible to receive financial assistance.
- Probation status: If a student is placed on financial aid suspension, he/she has the option of appealing this suspension through the SAP appeal process. If the appeal is granted, the student will be placed on financial aid probation for the next semester, and he/she must bring his/her SAP eligibility to Satisfactory during that semester or be placed on financial aid suspension. While on probation, the student may continue to receive federal, state, and institutional aid if he/she is otherwise eligible.
- Suspension status: If the student was previously under a Warning or Probation SAP status and fails to meet SAP eligibility requirements during the next semester, the student's status will be moved to a SUSPENSION status and he/she will NOT be able to receive federal, state, or institutional financial aid during the next semester he/she attends. Students who are placed on financial aid suspension may appeal this decision by completing the Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeal Process (see below).

Please note: Financial aid satisfactory academic progress eligibility is different from academic probation or suspension Students who are on financial aid suspension may be allowed to register for and attend classes in future semesters if they are not also on academic suspension. See the Registrar for more information

Regaining Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Eligibility

- Students who are placed on financial aid suspension for not maintaining the required SAP eligibility standards for cumulative GPA must complete courses at DBU at their own expense to regain their eligibility for financial aid. Students who are placed on financial aid suspension for not maintaining the required SAP eligibility standards for pace of progression must complete, at their own expense, courses at DBU, or courses that transfer in from an accredited institution.
- $\quad$ Students who are placed on financial aid suspension because they have not met the program completion time frame requirements and have reached the maximum number of hours or time frame allowed to complete their degree program may not regain eligibility to receive financial aid. In order to complete a degree program and graduate from DBU, the student will have to complete those courses without receiving federal financial assistance. If the student feels that these calculations are incorrect, they may contact the Director of Financial Aid and ask for a formal review of eligibility.
- After the student has completed sufficient coursework to remove the suspension status, his/her SAP status will be reevaluated at the end of the following semester, and his/her status will be updated based on current SAP standards. If a student wants an evaluation before that time, he/she must submit the Suspension Evaluation or Appeal Request form to the Office of Financial Aid to formally request a review of his/her status. See below for instructions on downloading this form.

Appeal Process

A student who has been placed on financial aid suspension for not meeting the required SAP guidelines may appeal his/her suspension if there were unusual or extenuating circumstances that contributed to the student's failure to meet these guidelines. If the appeal is granted, the student will be placed on a SAP Probation status and will be allowed to receive financial aid for the next semester only (see "Probation status" above).

To make the appeal, the student should follow the steps outlined on and submit the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Suspension Evaluation and Appeal Request form. All appeal requests will be reviewed by the Office of Financial Aid and, if necessary, reviewed by the Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeals Committee. All individuals granted an appeal are normally placed on a one-semester probation status or placed on a financial aid academic plan (see below). All appeal decisions are final. Students will be notified in writing as to the decision regarding their financial aid appeal.

The appeal request must include a statement from the student regarding what has changed or what they will do differently that will allow them to meet SAP guidelines in the future. If a student makes more than one appeal request, each appeal must be for a different reason. See the Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Suspension Evaluation and Appeal Request form for more information.

Financial Aid Academic Plan

If a student is placed on suspension, and successfully appeals the decision, but the student's academic situation is such that is would be mathematically impossible for him/her to regain SAP eligibility during the next semester as required by federal SAP guidelines, DBU may, at its sole discretion, place the student on a financial aid academic plan. This plan will be designed to outline steps of progress that, if followed by the student each semester, will lead to SAP eligibility being regained at a specific time in the future. If a student does not meet these progressive steps each semester, he/she will immediately be placed on financial aid suspension.

Other Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Guidelines

- Dual Enrollment: A student may not receive federal aid from more than one institution at the same time. A student transferring to DBU from another institution must have their aid canceled at the former institution. A "Cancellation of Aid" form may be required.
- Repeat Courses: Students may receive federal financial aid for repeat courses in which a previous grade of "F" was received. For courses in which a grade of " D " or higher is received, federal financial aid will pay for only one repeat. Funding for remedial courses (i.e. MATH 1101) can only be repeated once. If a student registers for a course in which he/she has previously received a grade of $D$ or higher, an evaluation of the student's history taking that course will be made and aid will be paid accordingly. Institutional scholarships cannot be applied toward any repeat courses regardless of course grade or status.
- Incomplete grades: Courses in which a grade of "I" is received will affect a student's pace of progression and may lead to the student being placed on financial aid warning or suspension. Once the student has completed the course(s), he/she may request an evaluation to re-assess his/her SAP status using the Suspension Evaluation or Appeal Request form (see below).
- Second Bachelor's Degree: Not all financial aid programs are available to students seeking a second bachelor's degree, including accredited and non-accredited degrees. Students should see their financial aid counselor for more information.
- Support Services: Support services are available to help ensure a student's academic success. Counseling services are available free of charge to DBU students by contacting 214-333-5288. The DBU Writing Lab is available to assist students in the writing and construction of papers. Contact them at 214-333-5474. The DBU Library is available to help students with research. Contact them at 214-333-5213. Tutoring services are available by calling 214-333-6843. Students with disabilities can contact the Office of Student Affairs at 214-333-5134 to make accommodations for their disability.
- The Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Evaluation and Appeal Request Form mentioned above is located at: www.dbu.edu/financialaid/

If you have any questions regarding areas addressed in this policy, please contact the Office of Financial Aid 214-333-5363 or finaid@dbu.edu.

Financial Aid Refund Policy

DBU uses student accounts to assess charges and apply payments against those charges. If a student's account balance is a credit, it is the policy of the University to refund the credit to the student in a timely manner. Credit balances caused by financial aid are refunded only after a careful review of the student's account and eligibility for aid. If a credit balance refund is due the student, the refund is made to the student within the 14 days required by federal regulations. The refund will be issued either in the form of a check made payable to the student and issued by the business office and mailed to the preferred address on file with the Registrar's Office, or deposited electronically to a bank account set up and authorized by the student.

A student who receives a refund based wholly or partly on financial aid and later changes enrollment status may be required to repay all or part of the aid received to the University, or to the appropriate federal or state aid programs. Students receiving federal aid other than Federal Work-Study funds who withdraw or change enrollment status (increase or decrease semester hours taken) may have federal aid adjusted in accordance with formulas prescribed by the Federal Title IV Program, DBU policy, or both.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Credit balance refunds due students are processed after the Add/Drop period closes each semester (consult the semester schedule of classes for this date). Eligibility for a refund depends on several factors and will be determined by the Office of Financial Aid. Changes in any of these factors, such as dropping courses or withdrawing from the University, could result in delays in receiving a refund or in the reduction of the student's aid package, thereby removing a potential credit balance.

Withdrawal from the University

A student who withdraws from the University receives only the balance that remains, if any, after the appropriate refund calculation has been performed by the Office of Financial Aid and according to federally mandated Return of Federal Title IV Funds Policy listed below.

Federal Financial Aid Return to Title IV Refund Policy

February 2013
The Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended by Congress, mandates that institutions of higher education follow federal regulations related to the return of Title IV federal financial aid funds for students who fail to complete the period of enrollment by officially or unofficially withdrawing from the University. The university must determine the earned and unearned portions of Title IV federal financial aid earned as of the date the student ceased attendance based on the amount of time the student spent in attendance. These regulations are primarily outlined in the following documents:

Federal Student Aid Handbook, Volume 5, Chapter 1: Withdrawals and the Return of Title IV Funds
Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Title 34, Section 668:
34 CFR 668.22
34 CFR 668.164
34 CFR 668.167
Dear Colleague Letter GEN-11-14 July 2011

DBU utilizes the Department of Education website (https://fafsa.ed.gov/FOTWWebApp/FaaAccessServlet) to determine the prorated amount of Title IV funds the student earned through the time of withdrawal. Based on federal regulations, after the $60 \%$ point in the period of enrollment, a student has earned $100 \%$ of the Title IV funds he or she was scheduled to receive and no return of funds is required.

Policy and Procedural Statement

At Dallas Baptist University (DBU) Title IV federal aid funds are awarded to a student under the assumption that the student will attend school for the entire period for which the assistance is awarded. When a student withdraws, the student may no longer be eligible for the full amount of Title IV funds that the student was originally scheduled to receive.

If a recipient of Title IV grant or loan funds withdraws from school after beginning attendance, the amount of Title IV grant or loan assistance earned by the student must be determined. If the amount disbursed to the student is greater than the amount the student earned, the unearned funds must be returned. If the amount disbursed to the student is less than the amount the student earned, and for which the student is otherwise eligible, he or she is eligible to receive a Post-withdrawal disbursement of the earned aid that was not received.

DBU determines the withdrawal date and date of last academic participation in order to complete the return to Title IV calculation based on federal regulations. A student's withdrawal date and date of last academic participation vary depending on the type of withdrawal: either official or unofficial. When a student provides official notification of his/her intent to withdraw by utilizing DBU's official withdrawal process, the withdrawal is defined as official withdrawal. When the student does not complete the official withdrawal process, but simply discontinues participation in all classes, and no official notification is provided by the student, it is considered an unofficial withdrawal.

Withdrawal Process

As defined above, a student who desires to discontinue his/her enrollment at the university and follows the formal process for withdrawing is considered an official withdrawal. A student who desires to discontinue his/her enrollment at the university and does not follow the formal process for withdrawing, but simply discontinues his/her participation in all academic courses is considered an unofficial withdrawal. Either type of student is considered to be leaving the University with no intention of returning, as DBU does not have an official leave of absence policy.

A student deciding to withdraw from the university should take the following steps:

- Complete a Withdrawal Form (can be obtained from the Registrar's office);
- The form must include all necessary signatures or the process will not be completed.
- Return the completed form to the University Registrar's Office, 3000 Mountain Creek Parkway, Dallas, TX 75211.

Determination of Withdrawal Date

Official Withdrawals (Official Notification Provided by the Student)

Those withdrawals defined as official are processed in accordance with federal regulations. The Office of the Registrar receives official withdrawal forms and posts information in the university computer system to denote those students' withdrawals from various classes. The Office of Financial Aid runs reports at least weekly to determine which students have withdrawn from ALL their classes for the term. This information includes the date of withdrawal, the date of last academic participation, and the semester of attendance. This information is maintained in the university's student information system. For students who officially withdraw, their withdrawal date is the earliest of the date of the official withdrawal, or the date the student expressed his/her intent to withdraw to an advisor or other university official. Official withdrawals will be processed as prescribed by federal regulations, and students will be notified of any return of funds within 30 days from the date that a student withdraws, and any return of funds will be processed within 45 days.

Unofficial Withdrawal (Official Notification not Provided by the Student)

For a student who withdraws without providing notification to DBU, the institution determines the withdrawal date using defined criteria based on federal regulations. This category of withdrawals includes students that drop out and students that do not earn a passing grade.

To identify the unofficial withdrawals, the Registrar works with faculty of each class to determine the date of the last academic activity for students in each class. When each faculty member assigns grades for the course at the end of each term, he/she also assigns a date of last academic activity or attendance. For students who receive a passing grade, this date is the last day of class. For students who receive a failing grade, they are also assigned a date of last attendance or last academic activity when the faculty member assigns the grade. If that date cannot be determined by the faculty member, the date used is the mid-point of the semester (because DBU is a school that is not required to take attendance). If that date is within the last two weeks of class, the student is considered to have completed the course and "earned" the failing grade. If that date is earlier than two weeks before the end of the term, the faculty member determines when the student last participated in an academic activity for the class and uses that date, or the date of the mid-point of the semester. Once all grades are posted for the semester, the Office of Financial Aid runs a report to determine which students received all failing grades, and from that list, determines which students require the RT4 calculation. Unofficial withdrawals will be processed as prescribed by federal regulations, and students will be notified of any return of funds within 30 days from the date that a student withdraws, and any return of funds will be processed within 45 days.

Calculation of Earned Title IV Assistance

The withdrawal date is used to determine the point in time that the student is considered to have withdrawn so the percentage of the period of enrollment completed by the student can be determined. The percentage of Title IV aid earned is equal to the percentage of the period of enrollment completed. The amount of Title IV federal aid earned by the student is determined by using the Department of Education administered website (https://fafsa.ed.gov/FOTWWebApp/FaaAccessServlet). Once a student has completed at least $60 \%$ of a term, all awarded aid ( $100 \%$ ) is considered to be earned. The percentage of federal aid earned and the order in which the unearned aid is returned are defined by federal regulations.

The calculation of earned Title IV funds includes the following grant and loan funds if they were disbursed or could have been disbursed to the student for the period of enrollment for which the RT4 calculation is being performed.

- Pell Grant
- Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant
- TEACH Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG)
- Federal Direct Loans

Programs Offered in Modules

DBU is a standard term school that offers its courses within three main standard terms/semesters per year: Fall, Spring, and Summer. DBU also offers various "mini-terms" or modules within and in combination with these three standard terms. Most combinations of these mini-terms or modules with the standard terms make a student eligible for aid because of the dates of attendance and number of hours for which the student is enrolled. However, some combinations of terms/modules are not eligible for federal aid. DBU financial aid staff carefully monitors student enrollments to determine which combinations of terms are eligible for aid based on federal regulations. DBU also follows federal regulations and makes RT4 calculations for programs offered in modules for those students who withdraw from classes that were being taken in modules. If a student withdraws from all current courses, but is enrolled in a future course or courses that is offered in another mini-term or module, and the student provides the Office of Financial Aid with a notice of intent to remain enrolled in the future module, then that student is not considered to be a withdrawal and a RT4 calculation is not required. (DBU has based its policies regarding RT4 for programs offered in modules in part on seminars held by Mr. Dan Klock of the Department of Education).

Institutional Charges

Institutional charges are used to determine the portion of unearned Title IV aid that the school is responsible for returning. DBU ensures that all charges for tuition, fees, room and board, as well as all other applicable institutional charges are included in the RT4 calculation. Institutional charges do not affect the amount of Title IV aid that a student earns when he or she withdraws. The institutional charges used in the calculation usually are the charges that were initially assessed the student for the period of enrollment. Initial charges are only adjusted by those changes the institution made prior to the student's withdrawal (for example, for a change in enrollment status unrelated to the withdrawal). If, after a student withdraws, the institution changes the amount of institutional charges it is assessing a student, or decides to eliminate all institutional charges, those changes affect neither the charges nor aid earned in the calculation.

Return of Unearned Funds to Title IV

If the total amount of Title IV grant and/or loan assistance that was earned as of the withdrawal date is less than the amount that was disbursed to the student, the difference between the two amounts will be returned to the Title IV program(s) and no further disbursements will be made to the student. If a student has received excess funds, the College must return a portion of the excess equal to the lesser of the student's institutional charges multiplied by the unearned percentage of funds, or the entire amount of the excess funds. The funds will be returned in the order below as prescribed by federal regulations, within 45 days from the date of determination that a student withdrew.

- Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loans
- Subsidized Federal Direct Loans
- Federal PLUS Ioans
- Federal Pell Grants
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG)
- TEACH Grant

Post-Withdrawal Disbursements

If the total amounts of the Title IV grant and/or loan assistance earned as of the withdrawal date are more than the amount that has been disbursed to the student, the difference between the two amounts will be treated as a post-withdrawal disbursement of aid that is due to the student. In the event that there are outstanding charges on the student's account, DBU will credit the student's account for all or part of the amount of the post-withdrawal disbursement up to the amount of the allowable charges. Any amount of postwithdrawal disbursement loan funds will not be credited to a student's account but will be offered to the student within 30 days of the date that the institution determined that the student withdrew. The student will be notified by mail of any federal loan funds available to be credited to their account. Upon receipt of a timely response from the student, the College will disburse the funds within 180 days of the date of determination of the student's withdrawal date. All Federal Grant funds earned by the student will be credited to the student's account.

Programs of Student Financial Aid

Financial aid is divided into two categories - gift aid and self-help aid. Gift aid includes grants and scholarships which generally do not have to be repaid. Self-help aid includes programs that have to be earned such as work-study or programs that have to be repaid such as loans.

The following gives additional information about some of the different types of aid available at DBU. Additional information about federal programs can be found at www.studentaid.gov. Additional information on state programs can be found at www.collegeforalltexans.com

GIFT AID

Grants

Grants are gifts of money and are usually awarded on the basis of financial need. A student's financial aid package may include grant money whenever eligibility and funding levels permit.

Federal Pell Grant

The Federal Pell Grant is a federal program of entitlement basic to all other student financial aid. This grant is only awarded to students pursuing their first bachelor's degree. The program is based on a need analysis formula, which considers family income and assets, size of family, number of children attending post secondary schools, and other factors. Application for the grant is automatic when completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant

The Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) is available only to undergraduate students who have remaining unmet need after the Federal Pell Grant has been awarded. Students seeking second bachelor degrees are not eligible for SEOG.

Priority for awarding is given to students with a family contribution of " 0, " as established by federal regulations, and who have completed all necessary paperwork by the financial aid deadline of March 1. Any funds remaining after that date are awarded to Pell-eligible students with completed files on a "first-come, first-serve" basis. The maximum and minimum annual FSEOG awards are set each year by the Office of Financial Aid in accordance with federal regulations.

Tuition Equalization Grant

The Tuition Equalization Grant (TEG) is a state of Texas grant program for residents attending a private university in the state of Texas. The TEG is provided to help offset some of the difference in cost between public and private tuition for students attending private universities in Texas. Students must meet the following eligibility requirements to be eligible for TEG:

- Must meet all requirements to receive federal aid as described previously;
- Be a legal Texas resident. If a dependent student, parents must be legal Texas residents;
- Be enrolled in at least twelve hours (12) hours in a semester to receive the grant for that semester;
- Not be the recipient of an athletic scholarship;
- Not be pursuing a career in church-related ministry or receiving a ministerial scholarship;
- Be enrolled in an eligible major. (Contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information).
- Effective Family Contribution may not exceed $$ 17,184$;
- Must be seeking a first bachelor degree.

Scholarships

A number of scholarships are available for students attending DBU. Some of the scholarships offered are listed below. New students should contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions for complete and current information on scholarships for new students. Continuing students should contact the Office of Financial Aid for current information on continuing student scholarships.

Each scholarship has specific eligibility requirements. Some are merit-based, based on academic performance or other special talents, while some are need-based, based on financial need.

DBU Scholarships

Christian Leadership Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to new students who have demonstrated exceptional Christian character and leadership abilities as well as proven academic skills. The scholarship is awarded to students who have demonstrated servant-leadership by giving their lives to serving God and His people. This scholarship, funded in part by the annual Russell Perry Free Enterprise Award Dinner, is renewable on a year-by-year basis for a maximum of five years, as you meet the renewal requirements. The scholarship is valid for up to 120 attempted undergraduate hours of college credit including hours transferred from other colleges and universities.

The Christian Leadership Scholarship is a monetary award that shall be applied toward undergraduate, non-online tuition only. This scholarship is a need/merit based scholarship designed only for new, incoming students. Candidates are evaluated on the basis of academic ability, demonstrated Christian leadership, and need. The scholarship committee will evaluate each candidate on the basis of his or her total qualifications. Before being considered for this scholarship, the student must be admitted to Dallas Baptist University.

Recipients of the scholarship must:

1. Enroll in and successfully complete the DBU Christian Leadership course during the first year of enrollment.
2. Be enrolled as a full-time student.
3. During the first few weeks of each semester, declare an area of ministry for that semester. (Online forms will be provided.)
4. Be involved (for at least six hours per month) in a volunteer service or ministry activity.
5. Complete and submit all Ministry Journal requirements each month.
6. Complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid, and any other required paperwork, as requested.
7. Live in University housing. Any unauthorized departure from the DBU residence halls or DBU apartment complex, Townhomes, and Brownstones will constitute forfeiture of all Christian Leadership Scholarship funds.
8. Maintain at least a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.
9. Take all general studies classes during the day prior to 5:00 p.m.
10. Maintain moral and ethical standards that would be exemplary of the life of Christ.

Failure to adhere to requirements will result in forfeiture of scholarships.

Academic Honors Scholarship

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions awards the Academic Honors Scholarship to new students who have demonstrated exceptional academic ability in their prior high school or college academic work. Students with a minimum composite score of 25 on the ACT or a combined Critical Reading and Math score of 1150 on the SAT may be considered for the Academic Honors Scholarship, based on their academic record (standardized test scores and grade point average).

The Academic Honors Scholarship is a monetary award that shall be applied toward tuition only. Award amounts vary.
This scholarship, funded in part by the annual Russell Perry Free Enterprise Award Dinner, is valid for up to 120 attempted undergraduate hours of college credit including hours transferred from other colleges and universities.

Transfer Commuter Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to new transfer students who do not plan to live on campus. Each scholarship provides $$ 1000$ per semester for full-time students toward tuition only.

The scholarship will be renewable for fall, spring, and summer terms if student remains eligible. Students will be eligible for the scholarship as long as their total completed credit hours have not reached 120 hours. The student's assigned Transfer Recruitment Counselor and the Registrar's Office will monitor this progression. Students who hold a bachelor's degree may not apply. College of Professional Studies students do not qualify for this scholarship. The scholarship is void once the student withdraws from DBU, henceforth the student will not be eligible for the Transfer Commuter Scholarship if he or she applies for readmission to the university.

Candidates for this scholarship will be evaluated on the basis of academic ability, demonstrated Christian leadership capabilities, and financial need. The assigned transfer counselor will evaluate and recommend each candidate on the basis of the applicant's total qualifications.

Recipients of the scholarship must:

1. Meet all DBU admission requirements as stated in the current DBU Undergraduate Catalog.
2. Have at least 30 transferable hours from a regionally-accredited institution.
3. Be enrolled as a full-time commuter student.
4. Be an incoming student not currently enrolled at DBU.
5. Complete an application for the scholarship and write a 250 -word typed essay stating their enrollment, academic, and Christian goals while attending DBU.
6. Maintain at least a 2.5 cumulative grade point average.
7. Complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid, and any other required paperwork, as requested.

Ministerial Career Scholarships

In addition to individual requirements for each scholarship, students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), a DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid and other required paperwork as requested.

BGCT Ministerial

This scholarship is available to qualifying full-time or part-time undergraduate students who are active members of a home Baptist church, have shown evidence of a divine call to Christian ministry, have shown a sincere commitment to a career in a church-related ministry, and have demonstrated a life-style of commitment to the principles of the Christian life. The student must also have the endorsement of his/her home church and a letter of recommendation from his/her pastor. The scholarship of $$ 50$ per semester hour is provided by funds from the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The scholarship will increase to $$ 75$ per semester hour for junior and senior BGCT students majoring or minoring in Biblical Studies, Christian Studies, Camp-Sport Leadership, Philosophy, or Christian Ministries. Continuation of this scholarship is based upon approval of a renewal application and active participation in a BGCT church.

Applications for this scholarship may be obtained from the Ministry Student Office or the Office of Financial Aid. Contact the Ministry Student Office for more information on eligibility.

DBU Ministerial

This scholarship program is available to qualifying students who are active members in a church, have shown evidence of a divine call to Christian ministry, have shown a sincere commitment to a career in a church-related ministry, and have demonstrated a lifestyle of commitment to the principles of the Christian life. The student must also have the endorsement of his/her home church. This award of $$ 50$ per semester hour is provided directly from DBU funds. The student must be enrolled full-time in an undergraduate program at DBU. Students receiving the BGCT Ministry Scholarship do not need to apply to receive this scholarship; DBU automatically awards this scholarship with the BGCT Ministry Scholarship.

Ministry Scholarship

The Ministry Scholarship program is available to qualifying students who have shown evidence of a divine call to vocational or bivocational church related Christian ministry. Active membership in DBU's Ministry Fellowship and an annual application are required. Applications for this scholarship may be obtained in the Ministry Student Office, at www.dbu.edu/ministry_student, or from the Office of Financial Aid. Applications turned in after October 15 will not be awarded for the Fall semester. Applications turned in after March 15 will not be awarded for the spring semester. Applications turned in after June 15 will not be awarded for the summer semester.

For students entering the Ministry Student Grant/Scholarship Program on or after June 1, 2013:
The First Year Baptist and Baptist General Convention of Texas Ministry Grants are provided by funds from the Baptist General Convention of Texas and are $$ 50$ per semester hour. The DBU Ministry Scholarship, provided directly from DBU funds, is $$ 50$ per semester hour. The Baptist General Convention of Texas Ministry Grant will increase to $$ 75$ per semester hour for junior and senior BGCT students majoring or minoring in one of the four College of Christian Faith degrees or in Christian Ministries; and, DBU matches this grant with another $$ 75$ per semester hour.

Education Scholarships

Rodney F. Shelton Scholarships

An endowment fund established in honor of Dr. Rodney F. Shelton provides income for the Rodney F. Shelton Scholarships. The Dean of the College of Education awards these scholarships. Students should make application for these scholarships through the Dean's office. Scholarship recipients may be requested to assist the Dean's office on special projects designed to enhance a student's educational program. The yearly amount of the award varies.

Music Scholarships

Edmund F. Boettcher Vocal Scholarship

The Dean of the College of Fine Arts awards this scholarship to music majors who are pursuing vocal studies as their major area of applied music. Students must demonstrate financial need by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Music Scholarship

Please contact the Music Department at DBU at (214) 333-5316 for information concerning this scholarship.

Other Scholarships

Disabled Students

Students who are physically disabled and are enrolled or will be enrolled at Dallas Baptist University should contact the Texas Rehabilitation Commission regarding financial aid specifically for the disabled.

Army ROTC Scholarship

Army ROTC offers two, three, four and five-year scholarships. These scholarships are available to full-time DBU students. These scholarships cover $100 \%$ of tuition and mandatory fees. It also provides $$ 1200$ a year for books and students will earn a monthly stipend. Freshman stipend is $$ 300$ a month; sophomore is $$ 350 /$ month; juniors receive $$ 450 /$ month and seniors receive $500/month.

All scholarships are based on merit (Academic performance, physical fitness, leadership experience and leadership potential), not on financial need.

The application window for high school students runs from March of their junior year through January of their senior year. The application process starts online at:
http://www.goarmy.com/rotc/high-school-students/four-year-scholarship.html.
Once they are a DBU student they will apply with the Military Science Department which is hosted at the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA). The Army ROTC Recruiting Operations Center can be reached by email at goldbar@uta.edu, the phone number is 817-272-5652, and the website is at http://www.uta.edu/military-science.

The freshman and sophomore levels of ROTC can be taken without a military obligation and students are still eligible to compete for various scholarships.

NOTE: Other scholarships may also become available from time to time. Please check with your college department or the Office of Financial Aid for any specific scholarships that may be available.

Veterans Benefits

The Texas Veterans Commission approves Dallas Baptist University for students who wish to receive educational benefits under various Veterans Administration programs. Eligible students should contact the VA Certification Official in the DBU Veteran Services Office or Registrar's Office.

SELF HELP AID

Employment

Federal College Work-Study / Texas College Work-Study Programs

DBU participates in the federal and state College Work-Study programs. These programs are designed to provide part-time employment for students with financial need who wish to help pay a part of their educational expenses by working on campus or in a community service area.

Federal/Texas Work-Study is awarded by the Office of Financial Aid, often in combination with other forms of financial aid, to help meet educational expenses. Students desiring to work are required to seek jobs on campus by contacting the Career Services office. The University reserves the right to pay working students from work study funds if they are eligible.

It is the responsibility of the student to secure employment on campus. Students may request work-study consideration when submitting the FAFSA. Students who participate in this program work an average of 15 hours per week. General wage policies are established by the University within the guidelines established by the U.S. Department of Labor and U.S. Department of Education.

Work-study students are not eligible for fringe benefits such as holiday, vacation, or sick pay. Each office that employs work-study students provides job descriptions. Appropriate forms must be completed BEFORE employment commences. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for details.

Other Student Employment

DBU provides employment services to students through the Career Services Office located on the second floor of the Learning Center. Students are encouraged to make use of these services for assistance in locating part-time employment on or off campus.

Student Loans

The University participates in several loan programs which offer help to students who need additional financial assistance. The purpose of all loan programs is to assist students unable to obtain sufficient support from other sources. Student loans must be repaid. Therefore, students are highly encouraged to borrow only what they need to cover direct educational expenses.

In order to qualify for assistance under any of the loan programs, the student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid for the appropriate academic year. These forms are available online at www.dbu.edu/financialaid.

Students who receive federal loans are required to complete online entrance counseling and electronically sign a Master Promissory Note (MPN) to secure their loan(s). Students must also complete exit counseling upon their graduation or withdrawal from the University. This exit counseling session is required by federal regulation and should be completed within 30 days of graduation or upon withdrawal from the University. Students awarded loans must go online to www.studentloans.gov to complete the process.

Loan Disbursements

Loan funds are normally disbursed to student accounts twice per loan period. If the student's loan period consists of the fall and spring semesters, one disbursement will be made in the fall and one in the spring. Each equal disbursement is applied to the student's account approximately one week after the add/drop period ends for that semester.

Undergraduate students who are completing their degrees and will be attending only a portion of the academic year will have their loan amount prorated based on the number of hours enrolled divided by 24 credit hours. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for more information and for planning purposes.

William D. Ford Federal Direct Loan Program

The Federal Direct Student Loan program consists of two types of loans: the Federal Direct Subsidized Loan and the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan. These loans are secured from the Department of Education (federal government), which is the lender.

Loan eligibility varies depending on the student's year in school and dependency status. Federal Direct Loans are available to undergraduate and graduate students and dependent and independent students in varying amounts.

The student must meet certain requirements (as determined from the FAFSA) to qualify for a subsidized loan. "Subsidized" means that the government pays the interest on the loan while the student maintains an eligible enrollment in school. The student is responsible for repaying the loan and interest after enrollment ends. The government does not pay the interest on an unsubsidized loan. The borrower is responsible for all interest that accrues on the loan even while in school.

The interest rate under the Federal Direct Loan program is a fixed rate. A portion of the loan amount may be deducted to cover origination and loan insurance fees. Go to www.studentaid.ed.gov for more information, including repayment terms, deferment options, consolidation, origination and insurance fees, and other details.

Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)

Parents may borrow for their dependent undergraduate students under the Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students program (PLUS). The amount borrowed may be up to the cost of attendance minus other financial aid received. The interest rate is fixed. Repayment begins within thirty days after the final disbursement of the loan each year. The Department of Education charges an origination and insurance fee for a PLUS Loan, which will be deducted from the loan proceeds.

To be eligible, parents and students must not currently be in default on any Federal Student Loan nor owe a refund on any federal grant. The parent's credit history is evaluated prior to approval of the loan. If the PLUS Loan is denied, the student may then be eligible to borrow additional funds under the Federal Unsubsidized Direct Loan program. Additional information about the Federal Direct PLUS Loan is available from the Office of Financial Aid. Application is made on the www.studentloans.gov website, which can be accessed through the www.dbu.edu/financialaid page. An additional form will be required in the event of a Parent PLUS denial. Contact the Office of Financial Aid for details.

Alternative Educational Loans

Most student loan programs require a minimum of half-time enrollment status to be eligible to apply for assistance. However, some private lenders offer alternative educational loans for less than half-time enrollment. For more information, contact the Office of Financial Aid Loan Coordinator. Students are required to complete the FAFSA and DBU Supplemental Application for Financial Aid to determine eligibility for federal loans before securing higher interest private loans.

College Access Loan (CAL)

The CAL Loan is a state fixed rate loan program. Information and an application are available online at www.hhloans.com.

Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation Student Loan Program

Educational loans are available to Junior, Senior, or Graduate/Professional students who are residents of Texas and enrolled full time. Loans cannot exceed $$ 2000$ per year for undergraduate students or $$ 4000$ per year for graduate/professional students. This is a private loan with an interest rate of six percent and must be repaid within four years after repayment begins. Please contact the Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation for loan application forms and more information. The foundation address is:

Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation
800 NW Loop 410, STE }20
San Antonio, TX 78216-5699
Phone: 210-525-8494
E-mail: studentloan@mspf.org
Fax: 210-341-6627

Other private loans may be available. Contact the Office of Financial Aid or Scholarship and Grant Coordinator for more information.

Student Life

The mission of the Student Life Office is to promote campus involvement and student unity by providing social activities and events.

Student Activities

Patriot Pass:

The University offers the Patriot Pass, which gives students the opportunity to purchase tickets to all of the events throughout both the fall and spring semesters at a discounted rate. With the Patriot Pass, students are guaranteed a spot to the events included in the packet.

Student Welcome and Transition Week (SWAT) A Smooth Transition

The transition to college can be an overwhelming experience. For many new students, attending college will be their first time away from home for an extended period. Even students that are transferring from other institutions may feel some apprehension in the move to a new campus. Student Welcome And Transition provides new DBU students with an opportunity to get to know their new campus home before classes begin. A fun and informative time is planned so students can get to know each other as they become a part of the DBU family.

A Dedicated Staff

The SWAT staff is comprised of student volunteers who return to campus early to prepare for the new students' arrival. The SWAT Co-Captains provide leadership as they guide the new students through the first few days at DBU. Small group leaders assist the SWAT Co-Captains. Small group leaders are student volunteers that provide support and guidance to new students throughout the year. During SWAT each new student is assigned to a small group. These groups allow them to develop friendships with other new and returning students, ask questions, and learn more about the DBU experience. There are over 100 volunteers that take part in SWAT each August.

A Fresh Start

As students begin a new chapter in their lives it is a great time to evaluate their goals. New students should consider what they plan to accomplish in their years at DBU. Each day will present new opportunities for students to grow intellectually, physically, socially, and spiritually. During SWAT we place a special emphasis on each of these areas. A guest speaker will highlight some of the opportunities that students might experience during their education. The students will also have time to discuss their goals for the coming years in their small group.

A Great Beginning

Students that attend SWAT have the advantage of becoming comfortable with their new surroundings before classes begin. We feel it is vital to the successful transition from high school to college or from another college to DBU. SWAT gives the student the perfect opportunity to find their place at DBU while gaining a better understanding of what DBU is all about. Be sure to make plans to be a part of this fun and exciting time on campus.

Welcome Week

Welcome Week is designed to get students comfortable with each other in their new environment. Each night of the week a different on-campus event is held, such as a block party, a free concert, etc.

All-Night Party

This is a party that lasts...well...all night. Students will spend a night out with friends where they will eat delicious food and enjoy a few hours at a venue rented out specifically for the DBU student body.

Sadie Hawkins

Sadie Hawkins is a chance for the guys to sit back and relax and let the girls do all of the work and ask the guys out on a date. This event occurs off-campus. Guys enjoy a fun date without all the stress of asking a girl, and ladies, take charge!

Battle at the Burg

Battle at the Burg kicks off basketball season, where the Patriot Basketball Team plays in their annual Red vs. Blue Game. This is a campus-wide event that heavily involves all students on campus as they come out to show their school spirit by wearing the "Blue Brigade" shirt and other spirit gear given to them at the block party prior to the game.

Great Pumpkin Chase

Put together a costume that you think is creative, scary, or crazy enough to win our costume contest! As you hang out at the determined location, we will be hiding numbered pumpkins all over campus that correspond with great prizes. Once you return and pick up your prize, enjoy some refreshments and hang out with your friends for the rest of the night.

Homecoming Week

Homecoming Week offers many various activities and events for the DBU family. The week centers around the Patriot Basketball game played at the end of the week. Other events during the week are the Homecoming Float Display at the Parade/Pep Rally; Mr. Big Chief, DBU's annual male beauty pageant; the Pre-Game Tailgate Party; and Bonfire Bash.

Mr. Big Chief

The Mr. Big Chief Pageant is the longest running tradition at DBU! Everyone watches and enjoys as our campus men show off their skills, humor, and creativity! The show begins with an opening musical number performed by all the contestants, and is followed by three categories-beachwear, talent, and formal wear. The Top Five advance to the Interview questions where contestants have to use their quick wit and creativity to win over the judges. The crowd always goes crazy as these brave men put on a hilarious show! After the scores are tallied, one lucky man will be named Mr. Big Chief!

Annual Christmas Tree Lighting

Ring in the season with Student Life at our annual Christmas Tree Lighting on the Quad! We sing carols and watch the whole campus light up for the holiday season. Students trim the campus "Christmas Tree" with ornaments as they enjoy hot chocolate, cookies, and a guest appearance from Santa himself!

Annual Winter Ball

The Annual Winter Ball is DBU's formal event of the year that is full of live music, food, and a great time! This event is held offcampus at a location chosen by Student Life.

Singled Out

No luck in the dating scene lately? Have no fear, Student Life has the answer! Singled Out is an event where girls and guys compete in a fun and easy game to win a mystery date sponsored by Student Life! Watch and play to win the heart of a lucky guy or girl-the date packages are always lots of fun too!

Spring Sing

Spring Sing is an event that serves as a great opportunity for different student organizations to show their music/dance talent. Each organization is given 15 to 20 minutes to perform a song and dance medley that is according to the theme given by Student Life. A panel of a few select faculty and staff serve as the judges for this event.

Coke ${ }^{\circledR}$ Break

Take a break once a month as Student Life treats you to an afternoon of food and drinks-a Coke Break! It's a great excuse to get away from your room, or just grab a snack in between classes! Play a game of Ping-Pong or pool while you hang out in The Loft with your friends.

All-University Carnival

Get out of your room and enjoy the great spring weather with Student Life! Our annual All-University Carnival kicks off in the afternoon with a picnic dinner, organization-sponsored booths, and fun inflatables! Go for a Cake Walk, get your face painted, and grab a sno-cone on your way to the Dunking Booth! Then slide down our giant slide, or play on one of our other great inflatable games! After dinner, hang out for the Battle of the Bands. Student bands enter a contest to see who's got the best band on campus! The previous year's winner comes back to perform and judge who the new champions will be! Food, friends, and fun...that's Student Life at DBU!

Student Services

Aptitude Testing

Free testing is available to help students determine the majors and careers that are a good match for their aptitudes and interests. Most students have taken several verbal and math aptitude tests in school, but those tests measure only a small part of their natural abilities. At the Johnson O'Connor Research Foundation in north Dallas, they test fifteen different kinds of aptitudes! These include the ability to think in three dimensions, the rapidity with which ideas flow into a person's mind, foresight (seeing possibilities), inductive reasoning, and analytical reasoning. And just in case you're interested in a career as a surgeon or musician, they even test your pitch discrimination and finger dexterity. This testing normally costs $$ 600$, but because of a generous endowment by Robert L. and Della Foree, undergraduates and graduate students enrolled at DBU may be tested free-of-charge! For further information contact the Financial Aid Office at (214) 333-5363.

Dining Services

Dallas Baptist University offers a variety of locations where students can enjoy meals and other food and convenience items. All locations accept cash, credit/debit cards, Flex Dollars, and Patriot Dollars. In addition, the Crowley Dining Hall accepts meal plan memberships. All DBU dining services are provided by Sodexo, Inc.

Meal Plan Memberships:

Meal Plan Memberships are required for students living in residential halls and are also available to students living in the Colonial Village Apartments, Williamsburg Village Townhomes, Brownstone Residences, and to commuter students. Each membership comes with weekly meal allowances that can be used in the Crowley Dining Hall. In addition, Traditional meal plan memberships come with Flex Dollars which can be used at any dining location and in the General Store. Flex Dollars work on a declining balance format, like an ATM/debit card. The Flex Dollar balance, as part of the Traditional meal plan membership, is a "per semester" amount and any funds not used will zero out at the end of the academic year.

Choose the plan that fits your lifestyle, as meals do not carry over from one week to the next:

Traditional Plans:

- 14-Meal Plan - includes 14 all-you-can-eat meals per week in the Crowley Dining Hall, with an additional $$ 125$ in Flex Dollars.
- The Unlimited Plan - unlimited all-you-can-eat meals per week in the Crowley Dining Hall, with an additional $$ 100$ in Flex Dollars.

Apartment Life - Resident Flex Plan:

- $$ 150.00$ - All students living in the Colonial Village Apartments, Williamsburg Village Townhomes, and Brownstone Residences are required to purchase the Apartment Life - Resident Flex Plan for use at all on-campus dining locations.

Colonial Plans:

- 25 Meal Block - offers any 25 all-you-can-eat meals in the Crowley Dining Hall, with no additional Flex Dollars.
- 60 Meal Block - offers any 60 all-you-can-eat meals in the Crowley Dining Hall, with no additional Flex Dollars.
- The Patriot Plan - offers $$ 300$ Patriot Dollars as well as 15 meal blocks in the Crowley Dining Hall.
- The Colonial Plan - offers $$ 150$ Patriot Dollars as well as 8 meal blocks in the Crowley Dining Hall.

Patriot Dollars:

- Patriot Dollars work like an ATM/debit card and can be used at any on-campus location. Students use Patriot Dollars to purchase beverages, snacks, or full meals for themselves or their friends. Patriot Dollar balances will remain on a student's account throughout the duration of their enrollment at the University. Additional funds can be added to a student's Patriot Dollars account at any time during the school year by visiting the Crowley Dining Hall office or calling 214-333-5446.

On-Campus Dining Locations

The Crowley Dining Hall is a multifaceted residential dining facility and is located in the Mary C. Crowley Complex. This location offers breakfast, lunch, and dinner with an array of nutritious selections, including a produce market featuring fresh-cut vegetables, dressings and toppings; a grill serving hamburgers and chicken; a pizza station with hand-tossed pizza; and a comfort station featuring traditional favorites.

The Crowley Dining Hall accepts meal plans, cash, debit/credit cards, Flex Dollars, and Patriot Dollars. Hours for the Crowley Dining Hall have been designed to meet students' lifestyles:

| Monday through Friday | Breakfast | 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Lunch | 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. |
|  | Dinner | 4:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. |
| Saturday | Brunch | 10:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. |
|  | Dinner | 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. |
| Sunday | Breakfast | 8:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. |
|  | Lunch | 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. |
|  | Dinner | 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. |
| Sunday through Wednesday | Late Night Dinner | 9:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. |

- Students who have purchased a meal plan must present their University student identification card upon entering the Crowley Dining Hall.
- Students without a Traditional or Colonial meal plan must pay in cash, debit/credit card, or Patriot Dollars.
- A student's identification card cannot be loaned to another student or guest.
- When a student is ill and is unable to go to the Crowley Dining Hall, the campus nurse should be notified. A fellow student may present a signed note from the campus nurse or a Student Affairs staff member to the Dining Hall Food Court staff, and a meal may be taken out of the Crowley Dining Hall for the ill student. The form must be completed with the signature of a University official.

Health Services

The Health Center is located in the Colonial Village Apartment #1108 next to the Burg Center, and is supervised by a Registered Nurse. Students, whether full-time or part-time, faculty, staff, and guests may come to the Center for acute nursing care.

Current immunizations, medical history form and copy of health insurance are required for all DBU students living on campus and may be updated in Health Services. Immunizations for Tetanus-Diptheria-Pertussis, MMR, TB skin test, meningitis vaccine, and Hepatitis series are available. Blood pressure monitoring, blood sugar testing, asthma nebulizer, oxygen, first aid care and supplies, health education resources and several Health Seminars are provided throughout the year.

Parents and students are encouraged to arrange in advance for a local personal physician. The University is concerned about the health of its students and will provide first aid and emergency care as facilities permit. However, the University cannot assume responsibility for medical care, and parents and students must look to their personal physician in these matters.

Career Services

In Career Services our definition of success is finding your God-given talent and turning it into a career. It is our desire that as you embark on your journey to obtain knowledge in your desired field of study that, through our services, you can also gain valuable work experience.

We hope to acquaint you with the many services offered through Career Services. Career counseling aids in the process whereby you may find a job that matches your talents, abilities, skills, and interests. Resume writing, interviewing techniques, and tips on how to conduct a successful job search are also available.

CareerBridge, the online job search engine, allows alumni and students to view job listings from area employers, match their skills to job opportunities, and apply to jobs online. Employers have the capability to view applicant resumes and contact them directly. This online system is available to you twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, for convenient access to information regarding fulltime and part-time employment, as well as internship opportunities. This service is available for students seeking on-campus and off-campus positions.

To bring our students in direct contact with local companies and corporations, two large Career Fairs are held each year, one in the fall and the other in the spring. Students are able to speak with representatives about current job openings. Career Services also sponsors a Mini Part-Time Job Fair in the fall that caters to both on-campus student worker and/or work-study jobs and off-campus part-time jobs. Students are encouraged to attend.

Our office provides mock interviews for student/alumni preparing to meet with a prospective employer. During a mock interview session, a student is taught that a first impression is everything. Information will include what to wear, how to walk into the room with confidence, the importance of a firm handshake, good eye contact, how to prepare for interview questions, knowing strengths and weaknesses, and how to present yourself professionally.

A "Speak Without Saying A Word Fashion Show" is sponsored in conjunction with the DBU College of Business Etiquette Dinner to aid students who are preparing to interview for a job or to demonstrate to them how to dress once they land the position. It is held twice a year in the fall and spring.

Career Services also partners with the Moon International Center in their Multicultural Career Clinic held twice a year. A Résumé Writing Workshop is presented to aid our International students in building effective résumés and assimilating into the American work culture.

Internships are such an invaluable way of gaining experience, as well as, providing financial support to students. We encourage all students to take advantage of this opportunity. Internships can be found on our CareerBridge online job search engine.

The Patriot Store

The Patriot Store occupies the second floor of Henry Blackaby Hall. The bookstore is three times the size of the previous bookstore and features a curriculum resource center where students can purchase textbooks and educational support materials. Also in the Patriot Store is a varsity collegiate retail section providing students with the latest athletic team apparel and institutionally-branded gift items. The Patriot Store is equipped with increased shipping and receiving capabilities to serve DBU's growling online student population, and added point-of-service registers to increase service to students and Patriot Store patrons.

Students with Disabilities

University programs and activities are conducted in such a manner that no otherwise qualified individual with disabilities shall, solely by reason of a disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied benefits of, or be subject to discrimination under any such program or activity. Notifications and inquiries regarding disabled student services should be directed to the Dean of Students and Spiritual Life, at (214) 333-5101. All information provided to the Dean of Students and Spiritual Life is strictly voluntary.

Counseling Records

The confidentiality of counseling matters will be maintained in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). FERPA permits disclosure of such records to third parties under circumstances described by law and in the University's FERPA policy. A copy of the policy is available for inspection and review in the Office of Student Affairs, Registrar's Office, and Student Handbook.

Counseling Services

Through DBU's Student Counseling Center, individual, marital, and family counseling sessions are available on a limited basis to address any issues or concerns that DBU students may have. These counseling services are provided free to DBU students currently taking classes. If the case load in the Counseling Center is especially heavy, or if the availability of staff is limited, the individual counseling provided may be short term. In that situation, if additional counseling sessions are indicated, information about and/or referral to other counseling sources will be provided. All counseling will be provided or supervised by a licensed professional.

Counseling is scheduled by appointment only. The Counseling Center is located in the Mary Crowley Room on the first floor of the Collins Learning Center. To schedule an appointment, talk with a counselor, or for more information, contact the Student Counseling Center at 214-333-5288.

Greek Life

Fraternities

Beta Beta / Band of Brothers

As the first DBU fraternal organization, we are a brotherhood of believers whose purpose is to challenge each other to be strong men of God. We believe that the strong man of God is one who exhibits the qualities of the One True and Mighty Savior, Jesus Christ. The qualities of the Mighty King may be described as disciplined, unceasingly joyful, peacemaker, wise and patient, kindhearted, good and just, always faithful, gentle warrior, and of true love. Members of Band of Brothers participate in the study of Scripture, service, leadership, fellowship, accountability, and cooperative mentorship.

Pi Theta Tau

Pi Theta Tau Fraternity exists to promote the development and growth of young men engaged in scholarly pursuits at Dallas Baptist University. With gallantry and chivalrous character, Pi Theta Tau focuses on the spiritual strengths, personal integrity, academic excellence, organizational support, and selfless contribution of its members. Pi Theta Tau seeks to support each brother in their joys and sorrows, triumphs and defeats. This brotherhood stands united to enhance the educational mission and vision of Dallas Baptist University both inside and outside of the classroom.

Psi Omega Phi

We are a brotherhood built upon a variety of personalities and perspectives, who come together as one - the body of Christ - in order that we may use our talents to show God's love to the world. Through the use of our creativity we strive to please the Lord in all that we do. As a fraternity, we seek to build up our brotherhood and the Dallas Baptist University community.

Sigma Chi Gamma

As a fraternity, Sigma Chi Gamma exists to promote the growth of Biblical maturity and genuine masculinity; to encourage the development of brotherhood and cohesion between its members; to emphasize the cultivation of lifelong friendships bound in integrity; to inspire academic responsibility and a sense of duty towards mankind both individually and societally; and ultimately, to stimulate the desire to advance both the self and the community through an active and true relationship with our Lord Jesus Christ and to heed the call towards spiritual maturity.

Tau Alpha Phi

Tau Alpha Phi is a brotherhood of believers joining together to glorify Christ through love and service. We exist for the purpose of uniting and challenging Christian men under the common bond of Christ. As a brotherhood, we will build each other up through community, discipleship, brotherhood, accountability, and service as we strive to be the men that God has called us to be through Him. We will strive to build relationships that will endure long after our time at DBU. The primary goal of Tau Alpha Phi is to develop into men of character, faith, integrity, and servant leaders who bring glory to God in all that we do.

Sororities

Alpha Delta Kappa

Alpha Delta Kappa is a service-social sorority that commits itself to investing in the lives of children who are in need; furthermore, we fully commit this organization to glorify Christ through our service and sisterhood.

Alpha Epsilon Chi / Diamond Belles

Diamond Belles is a sisterhood of believers whose purpose is to provide support to student athletes, faculty/staff, students, and the community, through ministry, servant leadership, and discipleship; to encourage DBU spirit through campus promotion and recruitment; and to mature together through the pursuit of moral, intellectual, and spiritual development.

Delta Theta

Delta Theta strives to be known for the willingness to serve and for our desire to grow as sisters in the Lord. Delta Theta also commits to help raise money for organizations founded for finding the cure for breast cancer.

Kappa Gamma

The purpose of Kappa Gamma is to equip sisters united through the Lord Jesus Christ to be faithfully devoted to God the Father as women of grace, honor, excellence, and loyalty. "Her aim is to be devoted to the Lord in both body and spirit." 1 Corinthians 7:34 "Now devote your heart and soul to seeking the Lord your God." 1 Chronicles 22:19

Sigma Chi Eta

Anchored in Christ, Sigma Chi Eta exists to encourage its members to mature in character, spiritually, and in relationships with others, to create meaningful sisterhood among members, and to motivate its members to discover their unique calling through service.

Zeta Chi

Zeta Chi exists as a sisterhood of young women who seek to grow together in the love of Christ, while pouring that love back into each other, into our campus community, and into the world around us.

Areas of Ministry

Bible Studies

The Baptist Student Ministry (BSM) provides several opportunities for Bible study, prayer, and fellowship weekly. Band of Brothers Men's Ministry meets each week for a time of Bible study, worship, prayer, and accountability, as well as small groups and monthly activities. Thread Women's Ministry also meets each week for prayer, Bible study, and relationship-building and hosts annual events, retreats, and seminars.

Fine Arts Groups

DBU sponsors various touring student groups who perform locally, regionally, nationally, and internationally in churches, schools, and concert halls on behalf of the university. Auditions are scheduled through the Department of Music each year for University Chorale, Grand Chorus, Legacy, Musical Theatre Ensemble, Opera Workshop, and University Ringers.

Summer Missions

Numerous positions for short-term ministry projects are offered through GoNow Missions during the summer, semesters, and Christmas breaks. Other mission trips are organized through the BSM and DBU and offered consistently during fall break, spring break, and summer. All of these opportunities include one, two, or 10-week options. Students are encouraged to prayerfully consider and apply for positions.

Worship

Monday, Wednesday, and Friday chapel services are scheduled weekly at 10:00 a.m. in Pilgrim Chapel to provide an atmosphere for the DBU campus to come together in worship as a family. The BSM also sponsors a monthly Night of Worship. This serves as a time of praise and adoration through music and prayer.

Academic Policies

The University has established certain policies as the context through which the academic endeavor will be completed. These policies seek to aid students in their progress toward an academic experience that is both effective and efficient. Students should seek full understanding of, and are responsible for, adherence to the policies outlined in the catalog. It is the student's responsibility to inform himself/herself of degree requirements.

Credit Hour

The credit hour is the basic unit of measure for college credit. Most courses at Dallas Baptist University are offered for three semester hours of college credit. This means that the student invests the equivalent of three hours per week in the formal instruction process for each three-hour course. The student should invest much more actual time than this for each three-hour course in order to complete the necessary library and preparatory work for formal instruction periods. Laboratory classes are exceptions to this example as are certain music classes and other classes that require the development of various skills.

Academic Load

A student must be registered for a minimum of 12 hours to be designated as a full-time student. The normal course load for a fulltime student during any long semester (spring or fall) is considered to range from 12-18 credit hours which will include all residential courses for credit, correspondence courses (if permitted and approved), noncredit or audit courses and approved courses taken at other institutions. Any load exceeding 18 credit hours must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major. No student may register for more than 21 hours in a fall or spring term. Any load exceeding nine credit hours for students working more than 30 hours per week must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major. Students in the Professional Studies Degree Program should seek approval from the dean of the College of Professional Studies.

The normal course load for a full-time student during a summer or long winter term is considered to be three to seven credit hours which will include all residential courses for credit, correspondence courses (if permitted and approved), noncredit or audit courses and approved courses taken at other institutions. Any load exceeding seven credit hours in a specific summer or winter term, must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major prior to completion of enrollment. Any load exceeding 18 credit hours, including all summer terms, all mini-terms and all intramesters, must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major. Any load exceeding nine credit hours for Summers I, II, and Long Summer for students working more than 30 hours per week must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major. Students in the Professional Studies Degree Program should seek approval from the dean of the College of Professional Studies.

The normal course load for a full-time student during a short winter term is considered to be three credit hours, which will include all residential courses for credit, correspondence courses (if permitted and approved), and noncredit or audit courses. Any load exceeding three credit hours must be approved by the dean of the college in which the student has declared a major prior to completion of enrollment. The maximum allowable load for mini-terms is three credit hours.

NOTE: Students may not register for both day and evening classes in any mini-term.

Academic Advisement

Upon acceptance to DBU, each student is assigned an advisor who guides in arranging a schedule of studies and in making progress in educational and professional development until the student has selected a major field. When the major field of study is determined, the student is assigned an advisor in the chosen field of study. Students may be granted an interview and secure academic advisement prior to making final plans for enrolling. All academic advising is to be considered unofficial until the Registrar's Office approves an official degree plan. Although academic advisors strive to advise students as accurately as possible, the student bears ultimate responsibility for fulfilling all requirements for graduation, certification, and/or licensure.

Grading and Progression

Grading

The grade represents all the work of the student in the course concerned including the daily recitations, tests and examinations, outside assignments, and the final examination. Students are graded on an individual basis, and the grade received is an index of that student's knowledge of the subject and quality of performance in the course.

| Grade | Description | Grade Point Value  Per Credit Hour |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| A+ |  | 4.00 |
| A | Excellent | 4.00 |
| A- |  | 3.67 |
| B+ | Good | 3.33 |
| B |  | 3.00 |
| B- |  | 2.67 |
| C+ | Average | 2.33 |
| C |  | 2.00 |
| C- | Pass | 1.67 |
| D+ |  | 1.33 |
| D | Fail | 1.00 |
| D- | Withdrew | 0.67 |
| F | Audit (Attendance 75\% or more) | 0.00 |
| W | Hold | $*$ |
| AU | Audit (Attendance Less Than 75\%) | $*$ |
| HO | Incomplete | $*$ |
| X | Credit | $*$ |
| I | No Credit | $*$ |
| CR |  | $*$ |
| NC |  | $*$ |

* No Grade Point Value

Incomplete Grades.

Grades of "I" may be awarded only upon the approval of the faculty member involved. The student must remove the "I" no later than thirty calendar days preceding the end of the first long semester following the awarding of the "I" (such date to be published in the Academic Calendar); otherwise the "I" will become an "F." The grade "I" may be assigned only when the student is currently passing the course and in situations involving extended illness, injury, death in the family, or as a result of employment or government reassignment (documentation required). These events must be the cause of a student's inability to complete course work. Note: Students cannot participate in commencement ceremonies or graduate until all Incomplete grades have been removed.

"W" Grades.

A student may withdraw from a single course, or from the University completely, and be eligible to receive a "W" for the course(s). This grade will indicate that the student will not receive credit for the course nor will the course be computed in the student's GPA. The student must withdraw from the course within the date and time specified in the Schedule of Classes and the Academic Calendar. If an official (full) withdrawal occurs prior to completing $60 \%$ of the semester or term, a pro-rated portion of all federal financial aid received during the semester will have to be returned within 45 days of withdrawal.

"CR" Grades.

"CR" is used only in giving credit for Chapel attendance, credit by examination, courses designed for evaluation with no grade description, and all courses accepted in transfer.
"NC" Grades.
"NC" indicates a non-credit experience. It is not a failing grade, but the student must register for the course again to pursue credit.

Grade Point Average

A student's relative progress toward a degree is measured in part by the grade point average. To determine the grade points earned in each course, simply multiply the number of credit hours for the course by the grade point value of the grade received.
For example, a student who made an "A" in a three-hour course would receive 12 grade points for the course ( 3 credit hours $\times 4=$ 12 grade points).

The grade point average is determined by dividing the total number of points earned by the number of credit hours attempted (displayed as CredCalc on grade report). For example, a student who had earned 36 grade points in taking 12 credit hours of courses would have a grade point average of 3.00 (divide 36 by 12 to get the average grade point).

The cumulative grade point average for students is determined by dividing the total number of points earned in all courses completed at DBU by the total number of credit hours attempted. The minimum satisfactory cumulative grade point average is 2.00 . DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative major, and minor GPA of 2.0.

NOTE: The grade point average and the cumulative grade point average are not rounded.

Repetition of Courses

If a student repeats a course, the last attempt is a permanent grade for the course. Any previous grades will remain on the transcript, but only the last attempt will be counted in the cumulative grade point average. A student may not repeat at another institution a course in which a grade has already been earned at Dallas Baptist University. DBU grades always take precedence over courses taken at other institutions.

Audit Grades and Policy

A student who has paid an audit fee may visit a course; however, there is no privilege of class participation including taking tests and submission of materials to be graded. Occasional visitation of classes by currently enrolled students is allowed with the consent of the instructor. Any extended attendance requires registration and payment of appropriate fees. Auditors are admitted to classes on a space available basis under the following guidelines:

1. Any interested person, including currently enrolled students, may audit one or more courses.
2. Non-students must complete an application for admission form and be approved for enrollment by the Admissions Office. A non-refundable $$ 25$ application fee will be charged. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
3. Individuals who desire to audit graduate courses must be admitted for graduate study or have documentation indicating the completion of a baccalaureate degree and approval from the Graduate Office.
4. The only period during which students may register for an audit course, change a credit course to audit, or change an audit course to credit is during late registration as published in the University calendar. Appropriate tuition and fees will apply. Individuals must complete a Registration Form or Change of Schedule Form (Add/Drop) as appropriate. The audit course(s) should be clearly marked as such by the advisor by placing AUDIT ONLY in the course description section of the appropriate form.
5. Enrollment as an auditor is subject to the approval of the dean of the related college. It is recommended that prospective students consult the instructors of courses in which they are interested before they register.
6. Policies governing prerequisites and academic load will be applicable.
7. An auditor is not entitled to have work evaluated by the instructor and the degree of participation is determined by the instructor and dean. Individuals who wish to participate fully and engage in all instructional activities must register for credit and pay full tuition.
8. Auditing grants only the privilege of hearing and observing and does not grant credit. An auditor's name will appear on the instructor's class roll. In order for the designation "AU" to appear on the transcript, however, the instructor must certify at the end of the course that the individual attended at least $75 \%$ of the class meetings as an auditor. If the student attends less than $75 \%$ of the class meetings, the designation of "X" will appear on the transcript.
9. Audit and other appropriate fees, as prescribed in the University Schedule of Classes, are due at the time of registration.
10. Full-time faculty and staff members will be eligible for audit tuition benefits consistent with the guidelines established in the University Tuition Remission Policy.
11. No one is allowed to audit online classes.

Grade Reports

DBU has implemented a new Web Advisor System to access student information via the Internet. Final grades will be available online as soon as they are entered by the faculty member and will no longer be mailed to students. The Registrar's Office will only mail grades to a student upon request. Web Advisor for Students/Faculty can be accessed at https://webreg.dbu.edu/datatel.

While nonpayment of one's DBU student account results in suspension of a student's access to his/her DBU transcript or printout of grades, the student is permitted to make an appointment with the Registrar's Office to examine his/her transcript on the computer screen in order to review academic status. The Registrar is not allowed to print out the transcript and give it to any student whose account balance has not been cleared.

Adding and Dropping Courses

Within the Add/Drop deadlines as recorded on the Academic Calendar, a student may change course sections, add one or more course(s), or drop one or more course(s) with no change recorded on the permanent record. In every case the student must submit a properly executed Add/Drop Form. To be properly executed, the form must be signed and dated by the student's academic advisor and be received in the Registrar's Office. The student must withdraw from the course within the first $65 \%$ of the term, according to the date and time specified in the Schedule of Classes and the Academic Calendar. After that date, the student will not be allowed to officially withdraw from a course. If the student has entered into a financial aid agreement, the student should meet with the Financial Aid Department. In every situation, the student is responsible for making sure that the form progresses through each step in the Add/Drop process, whether the process is conducted in person on the main campus or through faxes and telephone conversations. Any appropriate refund will be calculated according to the date the Add/Drop Form is received in the Registrar's Office. Students are subject to a $$ 40$ fee each time a drop is made.

Students who are eligible to register online may be able to Add/Drop online. (Students using web advisor may not drop all classes in a term). Students must consult their advisor before changing their schedule. In every situation, the student is responsible for entry of correct information and for making sure that the Add/Drop process has been completed. Any appropriate refund will be calculated according to the date the Add/Drop is properly completed online. Students are subject to a drop fee of $$ 40$ each time a drop is made. Students are not allowed to withdraw from classes online.

Note: International students are responsible for maintaining appropriate course loads per INS guidelines. All add/drop/withdrawals can only be processed upon approval of the International Office and appropriate academic advisor.

Official Withdrawal

It is the student's responsibility to officially withdraw from the University when necessary. Failure to officially withdraw through the Registrar's Office will cause the student to receive an "F" in each course regardless of the record at the time one ceased to attend class. (Withdrawal from the University does not automatically withdraw the student from housing).

After the Add/Drop deadlines recorded on the Academic Calendar, a student may drop one or more courses; this is defined as Withdrawal. Withdrawal from ALL courses on ANY date is known as Official (Full) Withdrawal from the University. Students will be required to have an exit interview with the Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs prior to Official (Full) Withdrawal from the University. If the Official (Full) Withdrawal occurs prior to completing $60 \%$ of the semester or term, a pro-rated portion of all federal financial aid received during the semester will have to be returned within 45 days of withdrawal.

In every case the student must submit a properly executed WITHDRAWAL FORM. To be properly executed, the form must: (1) Be signed and dated by the instructor for EACH course, and (2) Be received in the Registrar's Office. If the student has entered into a financial aid agreement, the student should meet with the Financial Aid Department. Federal Financial Aid recipients who withdraw from all classes before $60 \%$ of the semester is completed, will be required to return a portion of the Federal Financial Aid received. In every situation, the student is responsible for making sure that the form progresses through each step in the withdrawal process, whether the process is conducted in person or through faxes and telephone conversations. Any appropriate refund will be calculated according to the date the withdrawal form is received in the Registrar's Office. Students are subject to the appropriate fee.

NOTE: Once the withdrawal period has expired, the grade of " $F$ " will be assigned for courses not completed.

Exam Free Week

Major tests are not to be given, nor are major projects to be due, the week preceding final examinations in the fall and spring semesters.

Student Classification

A student's classification is determined by the number of credit hours earned or the degree for which the student is a candidate, as shown below:

Freshman 0 to 29 credit hours of work
Sophomore 30-59 credit hours of work
Junior 60-89 credit hours of work
Senior 90 or more credit hours of work, but has not yet graduated
Post-Baccalaureate Student A student with a bachelor's degree who is enrolled for one or more courses

Honors

Honors List. The Academic Honors List is composed of students who are taking 12 or more undergraduate credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 3.50 or higher for the semester, with no grade below 2.00 .
Dean's List. The Dean's List is composed of those students who are taking 12 or more undergraduate credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 3.75 or higher for the semester, with no grade below 2.00.
President's List. The President's List is composed of those students who are taking 12 or more undergraduate credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 4.00 for the semester.
A student's record is evaluated in regard to honors status (Honors List, Dean's List, and President's List) at the end of the fall and spring semesters. The academic standing of each student qualifying for honors is posted on their transcript and the lists are publicized.

Those students who have received an Incomplete grade during the semester are not considered for honors for that semester. All courses taken during the semester must have a grade assigned other than an Incomplete grade at the time of the approval process. When a student's grade is changed after the Academic Standing Report has been approved/released for publication, no amendment to the report will be made. However, if appropriate, the student's academic standing will be listed on their official transcript.

Graduation With Honors:

Students who enter DBU as of Fall 2009:

Graduation with honors is based upon the DBU grade point average in:

1) the declared major(s), and 2) the cumulative grade point average. To be graduated with honors, a student must have earned a minimum of 45 credit hours in residence at Dallas Baptist University (ACE, AP, CLEP, or IB credit do not count toward residency hours). To be graduated with honors, a student is required to have earned a final major and cumulative (or overall) grade point average of 3.75 for cum laude; 3.85 for magna cum laude; and 3.95 for summa cum laude (on the basis of " $C$ " $=2.00$, " $B "=3.00$, and " $A "=4.00$ ). The lower of the two GPAs (major/cumulative) will determine the level of honors. The grade point average and the cumulative grade point average are not rounded. Honors are announced at commencement rehearsal.

Academic Standing Policy

A student's academic record is evaluated at the end of the fall and spring semesters and posted to the student's transcript.
There are two categories for academic standing of a student's academic record.

1. BY TERM GPA

a. Honors List - The Academic Honors List is composed of students who are taking 12 or more credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 3.50 or higher for the semester, with no grade below a "2.00."
b. Dean's List - The Dean's List is composed of those students who are taking 12 or more credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 3.75 or higher for the semester, with no grade below at "2.00."
c. President's List - The President's List is composed of those students who are taking 12 or more credit hours in the regular long spring or regular long fall semester (this does not include hours from spring break, fall break, intramester, or any special terms) and have a grade point average of 4.00 for the semester.

2. BY CUMULATIVE GPA

a. Academic Probation - See Academic Probation, Suspension and Withdrawal.
b. Academic Suspension - See Academic Probation, Suspension and Withdrawal.

Once the academic standings have been evaluated for the semester, a copy of the Academic Standings Report is sent to the President, Executive Vice President, Provost, Associate Provost, Vice President for Graduate and Corporate Affairs, Director of International Student Services, Athletic Director, and Director of Advising Center for notification. Once the notification has been received by each administrator, the honors lists are made available for publication and the academic probation and suspension letters are mailed to the appropriate students. The academic standing is posted to the student's transcript.

Academic Conduct Policy

Consistent with the Christian character and values of Dallas Baptist University and in order to encourage and preserve the honor and integrity of the academic community, the University expects its students to maintain high Biblical standards of personal and scholarly conduct.

Honor Code

The integrity of the upright guides them, but the unfaithful are destroyed by their duplicity. Proverbs 11:3
It is the purpose of Dallas Baptist University to provide students with an educational experience that will allow them to grow in every aspect of their lives. Central to the success of the student is the knowledge " $[\mathrm{t}]$ hat God made us in His own image ... [T]his reminds us that in the vast universe that reflects God's glory, humans are uniquely crowned with glory and honor" (Arthur F. Holmes, The Idea of A Christian College, Revised ed., p.15). Through the Honor Code at Dallas Baptist University students are to uphold the integrity of themselves, their fellow students, and God by maintaining the highest moral and ethical character in all aspects of their college career. Prior to beginning classes, students will sign the following:

The Honor Pledge

As a student at Dallas Baptist University, I pledge to uphold the honor and integrity of myself, my fellow students, and my God to the highest moral and ethical standard. As I grow in my understanding of servant leadership, I promise to abide by all University policies and procedures. I will not lie, steal, or cheat nor tolerate this behavior in others. I pledge to confront and expose any attempt to undermine the success of the academic or university community at DBU.

Faculty members are encouraged to remind students in their classes of this written statement of policies and procedures developed by the University in regard to cheating on examinations, plagiarism, collusion, and other academic-related misconduct.

All instructors or proctors shall have the right to examine materials in the student's possession during quizzes, examinations, and/or laboratory sessions.

In instances of cheating during an examination or other classroom or laboratory activity or exercise, the instructor shall have the right to suspend the student(s) who is (are) cheating from further work on the examination or exercise and to deny the student(s) credit for the examination or exercise.

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

Cheating shall be defined as copying from another student's test paper, laboratory work, other written work, or computer files and listings; using, during a test or laboratory experiment, material and/or devices not authorized by the person in charge of the test, including the sharing of calculator results or information and the unauthorized use of cellular telephones, palm pilots, blackberry devices and other electronic tools to improperly access or share information; willfully cooperating with or seeking aid from another student during a test or laboratory experiment without permission; knowingly using, buying, selling, stealing, transporting, or soliciting in its entirety or in part, the contents of a test or other assignment unauthorized for release; substituting for another student, or permitting another student to substitute for oneself, to take a test or other assignment or to make a presentation.

Plagiarism shall be defined as the appropriation, theft, purchase, memorization, or obtaining by any means another's work, and the unacknowledged submission or incorporation of that work as one's own offered for credit. (Appropriation includes the quoting or paraphrasing of another's work, words, or ideas without appropriate citation of the source(s).)

Re-submission of assignments shall be defined as submitting any work previously submitted by the student for credit in another course. Such action is prohibited unless previously approved by the current instructor.

Collusion shall be defined as the unauthorized collaboration with another in preparing work offered for credit. A student is not guilty of collusion if he or she merely discusses with another a matter relevant to the work in question.

Abuse of resource materials shall be defined as mutilating, destroying, concealing, or stealing such materials.
Computer misuse shall be defined as unauthorized or illegal use or destruction of computer software or hardware through the DBU Information Technology Department or through any programs, terminals, or freestanding computer owned, leased, or operated by DBU or any of its academic units.

Classroom misconduct shall be defined as any conduct by a student during a class meeting which is disrespectful of another person or disrupts the progress and continuation of the class in the judgment of the instructor, regardless of the time and location for the class meeting. This includes texting, surfing the web, earbud/Bluetooth use, etc.

Possible Actions for Academic Misconduct

Any one or more of the actions listed below may be taken with regard to a student who has engaged in academic misconduct.
A. Action by the Faculty Member

1. Handle as a confidential matter between the student and the faculty member.
2. Notify the dean that an incident has occurred and has been dealt with.
3. Assign a grade of "F" (or a zero) for the examination or assignment.
4. Recommend to the dean that the student be dropped immediately from the course with a grade of "F." This grade cannot be changed by student-initiated withdrawal.
5. If the alleged incident occurs during a final examination, an "I" (incomplete) shall be given to the student until a decision is made.

B. Action by the Dean

1. Place a written incident report in the student's permanent University record.
2. Uphold the action by the faculty member.
3. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be placed on probation at the University for a specified period of time.
4. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be suspended from the University for a specified period of time.
5. Recommend to the Associate Provost that the student be expelled from the University.

C. Action by Associate Provost

1. Place the student on probation at the University for a specified period of time.
2. Suspend the student from the University for a specified period of time.
3. Expel the student from the University.

Academic Appeals and  Academic Misconduct Appeals Procedures

Applications for a formal academic appeal are available in the Office of the Registrar. In order to ensure an appeal process that is fair and timely to all parties involved, the following procedure is in place for academic appeals.

- If the student wishes to file a formal concern regarding classroom procedure, the process starts with step 1a.
- Should the faculty member find a student subject to academic misconduct as defined in the University catalog, the process starts with step 1 b .
- If a student wishes to raise grounds for challenging a specific academic policy of the University, not the resolution of an academic matter with a faculty member or other responsible person, the appeals process begins with step 7 below.

Upon receipt of a formal written appeal in the Office of the Registrar, the procedure below will be followed.
1a. The student should schedule a conference with the faculty member (or other individual directly responsible) within 14 calendar days of receipt of final grade notification. The faculty member (or other individual) may resolve the problem at that point. (Skip to step 2.)

1b. If there are reasons for a faculty member to believe that a student has engaged in academic misconduct, the faculty member shall notify the student of the charges. The student should contact the faculty member within 14 calendar days after receipt of notification to arrange a conference with the faculty member.
2. If the faculty member is unavailable, the student shall notify the dean of the appropriate college in writing within seven additional calendar days that he/she is seeking a conference with the faculty member. The conference shall be held at the earliest possible convenience of the faculty member and the student.
3. If the matter is not resolved to the satisfaction of the student, he/she may submit a written appeal to the dean of the appropriate college (and the chair of the appropriate department, if applicable) within seven calendar days of the conference.
4. The dean of the appropriate college (and the chair of the appropriate department, if applicable) shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved persons within seven calendar days of receiving the appeal from the student.
5. The dean shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within seven calendar days after the conference.
6. If the student believes the decision of the dean is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the appropriate graduate or undergraduate Academic Appeals Committee in writing within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the dean.
7. The Academic Appeals Committee shall establish a regular monthly meeting date for the purpose of hearing appeals. The date shall be published in all appropriate university publications. The deadline for filing an appeal shall be one week prior to a meeting. Appeals filed after the deadline will be heard at the next meeting of the committee. All parties involved shall be notified of the meeting date at which the appeal will be heard and given the opportunity to be present.
8. The Academic Appeals Committee shall notify all parties in writing of its decision within seven calendar days.
9. If a student believes the decision of the Academic Appeals Committee is unwarranted, he/she may appeal to the Provost within seven calendar days after receipt of the decision of the Academic Appeals Committee.
10. If requested, the Provost shall schedule a conference with the student and/or other involved parties to be held within 14 calendar days of the receipt of the student's appeal.
11. The Provost shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision within 14 calendar days after the conference.

Note 1: The Academic Appeal and Academic Misconduct Appeal Procedure is an internal academic process of the University and legal counsel may not participate in any conference or hearing.

Note 2: Faculty members have the same right of appeal as the student at each stage of the above process.

Cell Phone, Electronic Device, and Electronic Communication Policy

Electronic devices shall only be used for course specific work. The professor reserves the right to ban their use at any time. The policy concerning electronic devices for individual courses, seminars, or other guided learning experiences will be determined by the faculty members in charge of such course, seminar, or learning experience.

The DBU campus e-mail system, or any other form of DBU electronic communication (i.e. Blackboard, class discussion, Wimba Virtual Classroom) may not be utilized as an avenue to advertise the selling of goods or soliciting of donations from students, faculty, staff, or members of the university community.

Children in Classes and Unaccompanied Children

Minor children of DBU students are not permitted to attend class with their parents. Furthermore, minor children may not be unaccompanied at any location or property where DBU classes are taught. If a minor child is brought to the DBU campus or a location where DBU classes are taught, the child must be accompanied by an adult at all times. For their safety and welfare, unaccompanied children on the DBU campus will be escorted to the Campus Security Office, and the parent or guardian will be summoned to pick them up immediately.

Network Access Policy and Contract

Computer facilities are provided to students and faculty at Dallas Baptist University to enrich the learning and teaching experience. This service can only operate successfully if users act responsibly when using these facilities. Unreasonable behavior will disrupt the work of other users. To help users understand their responsibilities to each other and to the University, this policy describes students' proper use of computer facilities, including resident access to the DBU network. Use of Dallas Baptist University computer facilities is a privilege granted by the University. All students, staff, and faculty are responsible for seeing that these computer facilities are used in an effective, efficient, ethical, and lawful manner. Any violation of these policies can result in disconnection from the DBU network and disciplinary action. DBU staff may monitor e-mail and internet access on the Dallas Baptist University computer network at any time.

Setup and Authorized Use

Each semester, a student must register with the Information Technology department to have access to the DBU network.

The Information Technology (IT) department can offer assistance in purchasing, installing, or configuring a student's computer with the staff resources available at that time. If assistance is needed in any of these areas, phone support will be available. In addition, help sheets are available in the Academic Computer Lab containing general information. Students assume all responsibility and liability for the use of either the help sheets or any recommendations offered by the IT staff. If a problem with an internet connection is suspected, a member of the Information Technology staff will test the connection in a timely manner to verify a working connection. The DBU user is responsible for his/her actions while using campus computer network services including the internet and e-mail. No other individual is allowed to use a student's registered DBU internet connection. The person to whom an account is assigned will be held responsible for activities that take place with that account.

Students living on campus are not permitted to have 2.4 GHz and 5 GHz cordless phones in their campus residence due to interference with the wireless network frequencies.

Use of the DBU computer network, including access to the Internet, is a privilege, not a right, which may be revoked at any time for misuse. Examples of misuse include, but are not limited to, the following: any attempt to "hack" or otherwise break into or disrupt service; a deliberate act which jeopardizes the integrity of any computer equipment, systems, programs, or any other stored information, including the deliberate propagation of computer viruses; the placing of unlawful information on a system; and the use of fraudulent, harassing, racist, obscene, or pornographic messages. Such materials are not to be sent, received, printed, requested, or stored.

Copyright Information

Dallas Baptist University prohibits all users of DBU network resources from violating applicable copyright laws and encourages the use of freely available resources as an alternative to copyright infringement.

Copyright infringement is the act of exercising, without permission or legal authority, one or more of the exclusive rights granted to the copyright owner under section 106 of the Copyright Act (Title 17 of the United States Code). These rights include the right to reproduce or distribute a copyrighted work. In the file-sharing context, downloading or uploading substantial parts of a copyrighted work without authority constitutes an infringement.

Penalties for copyright infringement include civil and criminal penalties. In general, anyone found liable for civil copyright infringement may be ordered to pay either actual damages or "statutory" damages affixed at not less than $$ 750$ and not more than $$ 30,000$ per work infringed. For "willful" infringement, a court may award up to $$ 150,000$ per work infringed. A court can, in its discretion, also assess costs and attorneys' fees. For details, see Title 17, United States Code, Sections 504, 505.

Willful copyright infringement can also result in criminal penalties, including imprisonment of up to five years and fines of up to $$ 250,000$ per offense.

For more information regarding U.S. Copyright Law, please visit www.copyright.com.

Computer Use Responsibility

Your use of Dallas Baptist University computing equipment must comply with the corresponding university policies for its use. In addition, Dallas Baptist University is not legally responsible for the personal on-line activities or publications of students, faculty, and staff, which are solely a result of their individual independent judgment. By registering on the DBU network, you ACKNOWLEDGE AND AGREE that if you use the resources and equipment of DBU to personally publish any opinions, material, or other information, you EXPRESSLY ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY AND LIABILITY for that publication and waive any right to make claims against the university resulting from your use. This includes claims for libel and copyright infringement. By signing below, you further agree to HOLD HARMLESS and INDEMNIFY Dallas Baptist University for any claim that may arise out of your personal on-line activities or publications which are solely a result of your individual independent judgment including, but not limited to, personal opinions, personal emails, or other personal information.

Penalties for Misuse

Students who are suspected of violating policies regarding computing equipment will be confidentially reported to the appropriate faculty, supervisors, Academic Computer Lab staff, Department Chair, and the Dean, and may be referred to the Vice President of Student Affairs. Disciplinary action will be taken in accordance with the provisions of the DBU Student Handbook and this access policy. Any violation of these policies can and may result in disconnection from the DBU network.

Activities Specifically Prohibited Include, but are not Limited to, the Following:

- Viewing Internet material deemed inappropriate by Dallas Baptist University;
- Attempts to find out another user's password or attempts to break into or hack another user's account. A computer, computer account, or electronic mail account assigned to an individual must not be used by others without explicit permission from DBU. You are responsible for proper password protection;
- Attempts to circumvent authentication procedures;
- Use of another user's connection to the DBU network;
- Use of any equipment which interferes with or disrupts the use of the DBU network services of other users;
- Any attempt to hack or otherwise break into or disrupt service;
- Deliberate acts which jeopardize the integrity of any computer equipment, systems, programs, or any other stored information, including the deliberate propagation of computer viruses;
- Attempts to make unauthorized copies of software or otherwise violate applicable copyright laws;
- Disconnection, connections, or switching of any DBU equipment including printers, servers, etc.;
- Failure to follow the university e-mail and Internet policies; conduct which violates the DBU Student Handbook;
- Fraudulent, harassing, or obscene messages and/or materials are not to be sent, viewed, or stored;
- Electronic communications facilities (such as e-mail) are for university related activities only. E-mail and Internet access can be monitored by the university at any time. Chain letters and other forms of mass mailings are not allowed;
- Loading or installing personal software onto the network;
- Use of DBU computers, printers and other equipment or accounts for commercial or non-university related purposes;
- Modifying or tampering with network services, wireless access points, wiring, and ports in your room or elsewhere on campus without explicit written permission. This includes extending the network beyond the single network outlet (using a hub, wireless access point, remote access servers, routers, etc.);
- Establishing a server (for example, game servers) or providing a service that utilizes the shared university bandwidth;
- Registering an outside domain host name that refers to an IP address within the dbu.edu domain;
- Only certain wireless devices are allowed on our network at this time, please check with Information Technology for the currently accepted wireless devices;
- Any wireless device or other network device found in unauthorized usage on the DBU network will be confiscated without notice and held pending disciplinary action;
- No system or network files may be copied from the DBU servers to your DBU personal account or removable media;
- No system or network files may be copied from external sources to your DBU personal account or into the DBU file servers, or run from removable media;
- No broadcast messages may be sent from your DBU e-mail account to anyone through the use of any system message utility;
- No student will be allowed to configure any part of their system for sharing with another student. This includes hard drives, printers and other such resources;
- No global e-mail messages can be sent without approval;
- No sending or downloading large files that could impede or disrupt network speed for other campus users;
- No changing of your IP address to anything other than the one assigned to you by Information Technology;
- No using any file sharing applications. This also includes file and print sharing.
- Due to wireless interference, it is prohibited to have a 2.4 GHz phone in your residence hall or apartment. If you are found with this device it will be confiscated.

Electronic Mail Policy

The DBU e-mail system is limited to staff, administration, faculty, and enrolled students. All students are required to have a DBU email account. Its misuse can result in the loss of access to e-mail and/or other resources. Violations of this policy will be dealt with in the same manner as violations of other university policies and may result in a disciplinary review. In such a review, the full range of disciplinary sanctions is available including the loss of information system usage privileges, dismissal from the University, and legal action. Violation of some of the policies may constitute a criminal offense(s). The purpose of the e-mail policy is to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of communication, if used appropriately.

The following policies and guidelines are intended to promote responsible use of e-mail:

1. All e-mail should relate to University matters. Limited personal communication is permissible, but items such as chain letters, fund raisers, commercial use, and mass national efforts are not allowed.
2. The DBU campus e-mail system, or any other form of DBU electronic communication (i.e. Blackboard, class discussion, Wimba Virtual Classroom), may not be utilized as an avenue to advertise the selling of goods or soliciting of donations from students, faculty, staff, or members of the University community.
3. Fraudulent, harassing, obscene, or pornographic messages and materials are not to be sent, received, printed, requested, or stored.
4. Any communication that violates DBU policies and/or local, state, or federal laws and regulations is prohibited.
5. The content, confidentiality, and maintenance of an electronic mailbox is the responsibility of the person to whom the email account is assigned.
6. Each person is responsible to eliminate from the file messages no longer needed. Accounts accumulating excess e-mail will be reviewed and addressed by the Vice-President for Technology.
7. Be aware of forged mail. If a person has acquired another individual's password, forged mail could be sent. Also, e-mail that originates from outside DBU may not be subject to strict security. If a message appears out of character for the sender, it may be a forgery, and you should contact the sender by another means for verification.
8. Although students have individual access passwords to voice-mail, e-mail, and computer network systems, these systems are accessible at all times to and by the University and may be subject to periodic, unannounced inspections for University business purposes. Backup copies of e-mail and voice-mail may be maintained by the University and may be reviewed for business, legal, and/or other reasons.

Academic Probation, Suspension, and Withdrawal

All students of the University are required to meet certain academic standards. Regulations regarding academic probation, suspension, and withdrawal are designed to provide close supervision of the program of study and progress of students. Failure to meet standards will place students on academic probation or suspension. The minimum satisfactory standard of achievement is a grade point average of 2.00 .

Each student's transcript will be evaluated at the end of the fall and spring semesters. Because all students are expected to maintain an overall grade point average of at least 2.00 , which is a requirement for graduation, any student whose cumulative grade point average is less than 2.00 will be placed in one of the following categories:

1. Academic Probation

Students whose overall grade point average is less than the appropriate level indicated below are placed on academic probation. Semester Hours Attempted Required Grade Point Average

| $0-29.5$ | 1.60 |
| :---: | :--- |
| $30-59.5$ | 1.80 |
| 60 or more | 2.00 |

Academic probation will be imposed only after the student has attempted a minimum of 12 semester hours. While on academic probation, the student, with the approval of the Registrar, will be allowed to register only for 13 hours or less.

- Academics in Motion Admission: The academic progress of students who are admitted through the AIM program will be evaluated after each semester of enrollment until they have completed 16 hours at DBU. All AIM students who fall below a 2.0 grade point average during the first 16 hours at DBU will be placed on Academic Probation with additional requirements from the Registrar. Should a student who has been placed on Academic Probation not reach a GPA of 2.0 by the end of the semester following being placed on probation status, the student will be placed on Academic Suspension.

2. Academic Suspension

Any student on academic probation whose cumulative grade point average falls below the appropriate level indicated below will be placed on academic suspension and removed from the University for the following long semester (fall/spring):

Semester Hours Attempted Required Grade Point Average
0-29.5
1.40

30-59.5

60 or more

NOTE: A student notified of academic suspension who has earned a grade point average of 2.50 or better in his/her last 12 semester hours of work attempted may apply in writing to the Registrar for an extension of probation in lieu of suspension.

Suspended students wishing to return to DBU must have their file reviewed by the Registrar and the Admissions Committee for a determination of their eligibility to reenroll. Students should contact the Registrar no later than three weeks prior to registration to have their file reviewed. The Registrar will send a recommendation to the Admissions Committee. In no instance is a student to assume that readmission is automatic after having been placed on suspension for failure to meet minimum academic standards.

Reinstated students will be placed on academic probation during the first long semester of reinstatement and must remove the grade point deficiency within two long semesters or be subject to a second suspension. Students placed on academic suspension for the second time will not be eligible to reapply and reenroll for 12 months. In no instance is a student to assume that readmission is automatic after having been placed on suspension a second time for failure to meet minimum academic standards. A student placed on academic suspension for a third time will not be readmitted to the University.

3. Administrative Withdrawal

The Provost, and/or the Vice President for Student Affairs reserve the right to withdraw a student from classes and/or the University for non-disciplinary reasons if such action is deemed in the best interest of the student and/or the University.

Academic Regulations

Application for Graduation

The student is cautioned that: (1) application for graduation must be made before the published deadline (See Academic Calendar) and preferably at least one semester before the semester of graduation, (2) all grades must be officially transmitted to the Registrar's Office at least four days prior to the date of graduation, (3) applicants who apply for graduation and fail to meet requirements must reapply for graduation.

Class Absences

Attendance in class is considered a necessary factor in the learning process. Therefore, absences for all reasons must be kept to a minimum and should not exceed 25 percent of the total class time. Students are held responsible for all academic work required or performed during their absence regardless of the reasons for those absences. Students who register late are responsible for work missed. The policy concerning class attendance for individual courses, seminars, or other guided learning experiences will be determined by the faculty members in charge of such course, seminar, or learning experience; and this policy will be communicated to the students in the course syllabus.

POLICIES

Chapel Policy

Chapel attendance is a required part of the educational experience at Dallas Baptist University. Chapel programs are presented on Monday and Wednesday at 10:00 a.m. for all students and Friday at 10:00 a.m. for first year students who have not completed 30 hours or two long semesters (Fall/Spring) of University course credit at DBU or in transfer [not counting dual credit, CLEP, or AP credit]. Each non-exempt student must enroll in the chapel course each fall and spring semester. The only students exempt from Chapel are:

1. Students 25 years of age or older as of first class day of first enrolled semester at DBU
2. Graduate students

Credit for the course will be given on a credit / noncredit basis. Students must have their valid DBU student I.D. with them during Chapel in order to scan their I.D. and receive credit for that day. First year students are required to attend thirty-three Chapel services each semester, while upperclassmen must attend twenty-two for credit. Responsibility for making sure the Chapel requirements have been met and duly recorded rests solely upon each student. Students arriving late for Chapel will not receive credit for that day's Chapel service.

Students who come to DBU with 0-14 hours [not counting dual credit, CLEP, or AP credit] are required to attend 8 semesters of Chapel in order to graduate. Transfer students will receive credit for Chapel according to the scale below. A transfer student is defined as one who has been out of high school for at least one long full semester (fall/spring) and has attempted some college or university work for credit [not counting dual credit, CLEP, or AP credit].

| Credit hours transferred | Remaining semesters of Chapel required |
| $1-14$ | 8 |
| $15-29$ | 7 |
| $30-44$ | 6 |
| $45-59$ | 5 |
| $60-74$ | 4 |
| $75-89$ | 3 |
| $90-104$ | 2 |
| $105+$ | 1 |

In some instances students may qualify for a Chapel Waiver for a specific semester. For example, part-time students may wish to apply for a waiver if they will not be taking any classes on Monday, Wednesday, or Friday. To be waived from Chapel for a semester, a student must submit a Chapel Waiver Form online from WebAdvisor. After evaluating each waiver, Student Affairs will notify the student after the 10th class day regarding their request via e-mail. Students are encouraged to keep a copy of the e-mail for their records. Students should continue to attend Chapel while their petition is being considered. Chapel Waivers will be granted in only the most imperative circumstances. Excuses such as work schedule, driving distance, or excessive class or workload are not acceptable excuses to receive a Chapel Waiver. Students must re-apply for a Chapel Waiver every semester in which they wish to be considered. Students must also register for Chapel every semester regardless of waiver application.

Day Student Registration Policy

The Day Student Registration Policy restricts undergraduate traditional program students with less than 45 college credit hours from taking evening classes after 5:00 p.m. during the fall and spring semesters. Undergraduate students enrolled through the College of Professional Studies are excluded from this policy.

Traditional Age Online Policy

(Effective Spring 2013)
DBU undergraduate resident students with 24 or more hours may register for two additional online classes per semester, provided that the undergraduate student enrolls or maintains enrollment in at least 12 hours of on-campus classes in the regular semester, not including mini-terms.

Undergraduate commuter students (non-PRST) with more than 24 hours of college credit may enroll in online classes.
Undergraduate resident and commuter students may take online classes during the winter and summer terms, regardless of the number of credit hours earned, after the first semester of enrollment.

Concurrent Registration

After matriculation, a student may transfer a maximum of 12 credit hours to DBU.
A student enrolled at Dallas Baptist University who wishes to enroll for a course at another college must secure the written permission of the Registrar at Dallas Baptist University two weeks before registering for the course. Failure to obtain this approval in advance will result in the refusal of this University to accept credit earned at other institutions. Students should seek full understanding of the conditions under which transfer credit is accepted. A Permission Request form may be obtained from the student advisor.

NOTE: Graduating students are not allowed to transfer hours taken at another institution if the hours are taken during their final semester at Dallas Baptist University.

Concurrent Graduate Coursework

Senior DBU undergraduate students who have been accepted into the Graduate Programs at Dallas Baptist University pending completion of their undergraduate degree and who possess a 3.0 or greater cumulative GPA are allowed to register for up to 12 graduate credit hours in the final semester of their undergraduate degree at DBU. Any student registering for any combination course load exceeding 12 -credit hours must have the approval of the Director of Graduate Programs and the appropriate academic Dean.

Continuous Progress Course (CP)

This is a non-traditional system of course progress for students who have been admitted to the University. There are no regularly scheduled class meetings; all necessary conferences are scheduled individually between the student and the instructor. The following policies apply to Continuous Progress Courses:

1. Only students who have been admitted to the University may register for these courses during the regular registration period as published and must complete the course before the end of that semester.
2. Course work cannot begin until enrollment is completed and course fee paid.
3. There is a $$ 100.00$ fee per course over and above the regular tuition for each CP course. Refunds and withdrawal policy are based on the standard refund schedule and withdrawal policies as published in this catalog.
4. Authorization to take CP courses will not be given except in extenuating circumstances.
5. The dean of the college involved will approve both the student and the faculty instructor for all CP courses.

Registering for a Continuous Progress Course. In order to register for a CP course, a Continuous Progress Form must be completed for each course listed in the section of this catalog titled "Course Descriptions." The form must state the definite plan for accomplishment of the course objective. The plan must include the course syllabus and work schedule, defining blocks of material to be completed in specified times.

After the Continuous Progress Form has been completed by the instructor and signed by the student, it is then submitted by the student for approval to the dean of the college in which the course will be taught. Upon final approval by the dean of the college, regular registration procedures are followed.

Independent Study/Research Courses

Whereas students at any level may take Continuous Progress Courses, only juniors or seniors are allowed to take Independent Study/Research courses. In addition, while regular course numbers should be used in the case of CP courses, only experimental numbers (courses with a " 9 " as the third digit) may be used in Independent Study/Research courses. Finally, no limits are placed on the number of CP courses a student may take, yet limits are placed on the number of Independent Study/Research courses that may be taken.

Resident Study Programs (3190-3390) and Research Problems (4190-4690) are regulated by the following:

1. Resident study programs are available only to juniors and seniors with the exception of the foreign language department.
2. Research problems are available only to seniors.
3. The student must have a minimum GPA of 2.50 in the field of study for 3190-3390 and 4190-4690 courses.
4. The student must have a minimum of nine hours in the field of study for 3190-3390 courses.
5. The student must be a major in the field of study for 4190-4690 courses.

Students will be limited to nine hours per discipline in any combination of independent study courses. In no case will the student be permitted to accumulate more than six hours of independent study courses per discipline. In any case, the student will be limited to 12 overall credit hours in any combination.

Guidelines:

1. No faculty member should accept a combination of more than five students for Continuous Progress, Independent Study, or Research courses during one semester.
2. The Independent Study/Research Course Form must be used to report enrollments in 3190-3390 and 4190-4690 courses.
3. Enrollment for Independent Study/Research Courses can be accomplished only during registration periods.
4. The original form for Independent Study/Research is taken to the Registrar's Office when the student registers. A copy is provided to the student, the professor, and the dean of the college.

The basic difference between the Continuous Progress Courses and the Independent Study/Research Courses is that CP courses are regularly scheduled courses that students may not be able to take because of a conflict in their schedules, whereas Independent Study/Research Courses are devised by professors to permit students to explore material not offered in regularly scheduled courses, or to do guided research on their own in a given discipline.

Correspondence Work

A maximum of 30 credit hours of correspondence work will be considered for transfer toward degree requirements at Dallas Baptist University, as long as the work comes from another regionally accredited institution. After matriculation, a student may only transfer a total of 12 credit hours to DBU. The acceptance of the correspondence work is subject to prior approval of the Registrar. Final determination regarding acceptability of transfer course work will be made within each discipline when questions arise.

Advanced Placement (AP)

Dallas Baptist University participates in the Advanced Placement (AP) Program of The College Board. Credit will be awarded for the AP tests listed in the following chart. No credit will be awarded for AP tests that are not listed. Letter grades are not given in any course for which credit is granted. These credits may be used to satisfy degree requirements, but do not apply to the 25-percent-credit-hour residency requirement.

College Level Examinations Program (CLEP)

Students may seek college credit by either satisfactorily completing the Advanced Placement Examination or the College Level Examinations Program (CLEP) of the College Entrance Examination Board for the subject area in which credit is sought, and/or by making satisfactory scores on tests administered by the individual discipline offering the course. Letter grades are not given in any course for which credit is granted by examination. General examinations of CLEP, USAFI, etc., are not acceptable for credit. Students may receive credit for a maximum of 15 hours through the College Level Examination Program (CLEP).

CLEP credits may be used to satisfy degree requirements, but do not apply to the 25 -percent-credit-hour residency requirement. In addition, these credits may be used to meet prerequisites for advanced courses. Students who have failed a class are not eligible to 98

Spring/Summer 2015 Undergraduate Catalog take a CLEP exam for that same course. A student may not receive credit for a CLEP exam for a course in which a grade has already been earned at Dallas Baptist University. Graduating seniors are not allowed to take CLEP exams during their final (graduating) semester.

Credit by examination secured by students transferring to Dallas Baptist University will be accepted only if the examinations and resulting scores meet specified requirements.

- Scores are computed by tallying the number of correct answers. There is no deduction for unanswered questions. The results are converted into scaled scores within a range of 20-80.

Note:  DBU essay required in addition to objective CLEP exam. A student must pass both the CLEP exam and the essay (with a score of C or higher) to receive credit for English 1301.

Note: The number of hours accepted from any combination of College Level Examination Program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP), and International Baccalaureate (IB) is limited to thirty hours.

Student Records

Following the recommendations of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers' (AACRAO) guide for the retention of records, the Registrar's Office retains the following documents in a student's permanent academic record: academic appeals, competency assessments, change of grades, degree plan, disclosure of information forms (until terminated), final academic transcript, grades, graduation audit, narrative evaluations, registration appeals, and transcript evaluations.

The following is a list of various records maintained on each student and where they are housed. Original documents submitted to the University become a permanent part of a file and will not be returned to the student or sent elsewhere. The University adheres to the privacy of student records as required by the Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act (FERPA).

Academic Records. The official transcript and grades are maintained in the Registrar's Office by the Registrar.
Admissions Records. Records are transferred from the Admissions Office to the Registrar's Office when the admission process is complete. Completed records are maintained in the Registrar's Office by the Registrar.

Advising Records. Advising records are maintained by the student's assigned advisor in the advisor's office.
Discipline Records. Discipline records are maintained in the Office of Student Affairs.
Financial Aid and Placement Records. Financial aid and placement records are maintained in the Financial Aid Office by the Director of Financial Aid.

Access to Student Records

Each year this institution gives notice of the various rights accorded to students pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). You are hereby notified of the following:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the University receives a request for access.

Students should submit written requests that specifically identify the record(s) they wish to inspect to the Office of the Registrar. The Registrar's Office will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.

Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should notify the Registrar's Office of this request, clearly identifying the part of the record which they are requesting to be changed and specifying why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University determines that the record will not be amended as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of that decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

One such exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as an auditor, attorney or collection agent); a member of the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official University committee or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibilities. Upon request, the University also discloses education records without consent to school officials of another institution in which a student seeks or intends to enroll, or where the student is already enrolled so long as the disclosure is for purposes related to the student's enrollment or transfer.

Another exception which permits disclosure without consent is for the disclosure of a student's directory information.
"Directory information" is defined as a student's:
(a) Name;
(b) address;
(c) telephone number;
(d) e-mail address;
(e) date and place of birth;
(f) major field of study;
(g) enrollment status (full-time, part-time, undergraduate, graduate);
(h) participation in officially recognized activities and sports;
(i) weight and height (if an athletic team member);
(j) dates of attendance; degrees, honors, and awards received; most recent previous educational agency or institution attended; photographic, video or electronic images that are taken and/or maintained by the University; and
(n) other similar information.

A student may request that directory information, in part or in whole, be withheld from disclosure by providing a specific written request to the Office of the Registrar on or before the last day of late registration each term. Such a request is valid until revoked in writing by the student. If no request is filed with the Registrar's Office, the University may release directory information to the general public upon inquiry.
4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by Dallas Baptist University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office U.S. Department of Education 600 Independence Avenue, SW Washington, D.C. 20202-4605

Pursuant to FERPA, an institution of higher education may disclose to a parent or legal guardian of a student information regarding any violation of any federal, state, or local law, or any rule or policy of the institution, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance regardless of whether that information is contained in the student's education records if, (a) the student is under the age of 21 ; and (b) the institution determines that the student has committed a disciplinary violation with respect to such use or possession.

Change of Name or Address

A student who, after registration, changes a local or home address, or a student who marries (documentation required) after enrollment at Dallas Baptist University, is expected to notify the Registrar of this change immediately. Any communication from the University which is mailed to the name and address on record in the Registrar's Office is considered to have been properly delivered, and the student is responsible for the information contained therein.

Current and former students of Dallas Baptist University may request a change of name on their student records, including but not limited to academic transcripts, with appropriate documentation. Current and former students who request a change of name on their records must provide to the Registrar's Office, in person, the original legal document which verifies the change of name requested. These original legal documents would include a valid marriage license issued by a county or city clerk, a divorce decree from a court of law and/or a change of name decree from a court of law. A copy of this original document will be made by the Registrar's Office and retained in the student's file.

For those current and former students who are unable to produce an original legal document to the Registrar's Office in person, a legally certified copy of the original document verifying the change of name may be mailed to the Registrar's Office. The certified copy will be retained by the Registrar's Office in the student's file.

Official Communications

A request that a student report to an administrative office or faculty office may be made in person, by e-mail, by mail, or by telephone. Failure to comply with such a request immediately may result in disciplinary action.

Communications to the entire student body are considered properly delivered when they are sent to the student's DBU e-mail account, placed on official campus bulletin boards, in the campus newsletter, in the student's campus mailbox, or sent to the student's address on record in the Registrar's Office. Each student is responsible for checking their DBU e-mail account, bulletin boards, mailboxes, and the newsletter regularly, and giving proper heed to such communications.

Transcript of Credits

The transcript of college credits is an official copy of the student's permanent record, bearing the school seal and the signature of the Registrar. Copies of the student's transcript are available on the student's written request from the Registrar's Office. Transcripts are $$ 5.00$ each. Payments are made in advance to the Cashier's Office.

A student, who is clear of all university holds, should allow a minimum period of one business day for delivery of the transcript after the request has been submitted either in person or in written form. Students requesting transcripts at the close of a semester should allow for delays in receipt of transcripts due to the posting of grades.

Transcripts will not be released if the student has outstanding financial, academic, or administrative obligations to the University except as occasionally required by law. This policy includes, but is not limited to, the Cashier's Office, the bookstore, athletic department, or any other department or agency considered a part of the University. Transcripts will also not be released until the student is clear with the Financial Aid Office.

Undergraduate Certificate Programs

DBU Undergraduate Certificate Programs have been designed to provide additional knowledge and skills for individuals seeking to prepare for new careers, to qualify for promotions, to gain or refine expertise in a particular area of study, to enhance educational or professional credentials, or to pursue a course of study simply for self-enrichment.

The programs are planned with working adults in mind, so courses are scheduled at convenient times and locations, and in cases where a cohort group can be established, courses may be scheduled at the workplace. DBU is an innovative leader in distance education and many courses are available online.

The curriculum for an certificate program will typically consist of four to eight courses, excluding prerequisites, in a specified field of study. Each course in a certificate program earns two to three credit hours and may be applied toward an associate's or bachelor's degree. Students enrolled in a certificate program are eligible to use University facilities such as the Computer Lab, the Vance Memorial Library, and the John G. Mahler Student Center.

The University has established certain policies as the context through which the academic endeavor will be completed. These policies seek to aid students in their progress toward an academic experience that is both effective and efficient. Students enrolled in certificate programs should become familiar with University policies as stated here, in the Undergraduate Catalog and in the current DBU Schedule of Classes. Students should seek full understanding of, and are responsible for, adherence to all University policies.

Academic Standards

Course transfer is limited to one course, in addition to prerequisites for a required course in a certificate program. Only one course which satisfies undergraduate degree requirements for a major, minor, or concentration may be applied toward a certificate program.

Students granted admission to DBU Undergraduate Certificate Programs must satisfy the program requirements as listed in the published catalog for the term in which they register for the first course in a certificate program. However, under extenuating circumstances, the dean of the college from which the certificate course is offered may authorize course substitutions. No waiver of the total number of required courses is permitted.

Certificates must be completed within a period of six years.

Only students granted admission to the DBU Undergraduate Certificate Program are eligible to be awarded a Certificate of Completion. To earn a Certificate of Completion, students must achieve at least a 2.0 overall cumulative grade point average (GPA) for undergraduate certificate programs.

At the completion of all certificate program course requirements, students are responsible for requesting a certificate of completion from the Certificate Programs Department which is housed in the Office of Graduate Programs. Request forms are available through this department, all academic advisors, and online.

Completion of a Dallas Baptist University certificate program will signify that the certificate holder has acquired knowledge and proficiencies in a specialized area of study. The certificate alone does not guarantee a specific level of performance, but does signify that the individual has been provided with knowledge and skills that if appropriately applied will produce improved performance. It is important to note that certain professional associations and state agencies often rely on certificates as evidence that an individual is eligible for a specific licensure of position. A DBU certificate does not guarantee licensure, employment, or promotion unless it has been identified as the sole prerequisite for such. Dallas Baptist University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. Contact the Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation of Dallas Baptist University.

Admission Requirements: Undergraduate Certificate Program

- Completed Certificate Program Application
- Non-refundable $$ 25$ application fee. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
- Official high school transcript or GED certificate or Official college/university transcripts
- Letter of Intent (typewritten) stating:

1) which certificate you would like to earn and why you selected that program
2) what you personally hope to accomplish during this program
3) why you have chosen to attend Dallas Baptist University

- Minimum 2.5 GPA
- Current professional resume
- Successfully complete all certificate course prerequisites
- Evidence of sound moral character and compatibility with DBU's mission
(Undergraduate certificate programs are ineligible for federal financial aid unless the student is in a bachelor's degree program).

The Associate Degree

Dallas Baptist University offers six two-year associate degree programs: Associate of Arts, Associate of Arts (Teacher Certification Preparation), Associate of Biblical Studies, Associate of Business Administration, Associate of Christian
Studies, and Associate of Science. The associate degree is designed to aid those who may need to enter the business world more quickly than a four-year degree program would allow.

The associate degree programs are designed to provide a strong foundation in the liberal arts, business, or church-related ministries and to prepare students for future academic success. Additionally, the academic program of the associate degrees offers a sound foundation which helps prepare students to live their adult lives as mature, intellectually-integrated persons. All instruction is presented with a commitment to the students' intellectual and spiritual growth through the integration of faith and learning.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR AN ASSOCIATE DEGREE

Dallas Baptist University offers programs leading to the Associate of Arts, Associate of Arts (Teacher Certification Preparation), Associate of Biblical Studies, Associate of Business Administration, Associate of Christian Studies, and Associate of Science degrees. A student may elect to graduate under the degree requirements of the official catalog of any year in which the student is enrolled for classes and receives credit, provided that the period between initial enrollment and graduation does not exceed six years. The six-year time frame begins at the final semester covered by the chosen catalog. The University reserves the right to change the requirements for graduation at the beginning of any semester. Such changes will appear in the next edition of the official catalog.

All candidates for an associate degree must fulfill the following requirements as a minimum:

1. Complete a minimum of 62-75 credit hours, including the General Studies requirements.
2. Complete at least 30 credit hours in residence at Dallas Baptist University.
3. Complete 30 of the last 36 credit hours with courses offered by DBU. If up to six of the last 36 credit hours are taken elsewhere, prior approval of the subject area dean and the Registrar must be given.
4. Earn a minimum of 2.00 grade point average in all courses taken. DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
5. Meet the requirements for a prescribed degree curriculum and be recommended by the Associate Degree Department for graduation.
6. Participate in the graduation program of the University unless approval is obtained from the Registrar to be graduated in absentia.
7. Complete one-half of the Chapel credits required for a bachelor's degree candidate. (See section under Academic Policies for Chapel requirements.)

No student will be allowed to participate in the graduation exercises of the University until all of the above requirements for graduation have been completed.

Developing A Christian Mind

Required of all traditional students enrolling at DBU from fall 2004 forward. This course, built on a biblical foundation, is designed to introduce students to the lifelong goal of developing a Christian mind, and in the process, to impart to them a solid understanding of the larger purposes of Christian higher education and the educational vision of Dallas Baptist University. Topics addressed include Christian mind and worldview development, the problem of dualism, Christian liberal arts education, integrating faith and learning, the life of the mind, calling, and the implications of Christian faith across the whole spectrum of life.

Foundations for Excellence

One semester of the course Foundations for Excellence (FOUN 1101) is required of all freshman and transfer students who enroll with fewer than 15 credit hours. (AP, CLEP, IB, or dual/concurrent credit earned while in high school does not count toward these 15 credit hours.)

Degree Plan

It is the student's responsibility, as soon as possible after entering the University, to meet with an associate degree advisor to develop a plan of study leading to a specific degree. With the assistance of the advisor, the student outlines the courses needed to complete the degree. The degree plan developed between the student and advisor is only a guide. The student must complete all degree requirements as stated in this catalog. A degree plan becomes official when it has been approved and signed by the advisor, the program director, the student, and the Registrar.

The degree plan will outline the requirements for the associate degree program selected by the student. Additional courses (credit hours) needed to complete the minimum 62-75 credit hour graduation requirement may be selected by the student as electives. Electives are courses that can be taken for credit on the selected degree plan but are not specifically named. These elective courses can enrich the program of study and allow students to explore new interests and fields.

General Studies Requirements

The General Studies requirements are designed to develop the basic understanding and skills needed by broadly educated men and women in a democratic society. The General Studies involve a concern for students' intellectual, spiritual, emotional, and physical growth. In addition, they provide the core of degree requirements for all associate degrees. General Studies courses are listed at the 1000 and 2000 levels.

Religion Requirements

The General Studies religion courses provide students with a general orientation to Christian life, increase the students' knowledge of the Bible, and provide an avenue for the development of a maturing Christian faith. All students are required to take RELI 1301, Old Testament Survey, and RELI 1302, New Testament Survey.

eMAT Advising Tool

Every student who has not completed the general studies mathematics requirements for his or her degree plan upon enrolling at DBU will be required to take the eMAT Advising Tool instrument. No student will be advised for or permitted to register in any mathematics course other than MATH 1101 until after having completed this instrument. Students will be permitted to register for general studies math courses required for their degrees upon passing the qualifying segments of the eMAT.

Any student who does not satisfactorily complete the Arithmetic Skills portion of the eMAT will be required to enroll in MATH 1101. Any student whose degree plan requires MATH 1303 and whose performance on the Basic Algebra portion of the eMAT is not satisfactory will be required to take MATH 1300. The eMAT is free and available on the DBU secure website called "webreg." The eMAT consists of three tests and their respective study guides. The student must read carefully the homepage of the eMAT. For example, a specific internet browser is required.

Current students must contact their advisor for the web address. New students will be contacted by the Admissions Office. The eMAT is an advising tool for all undergraduate advisors and students. Each test may be taken a maximum of three times and the honor code must be followed. Contact the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics at 214-333-5303 with any questions.

Computer Literacy Requirement

All DBU students are required to develop computer skills. The educated person of today must learn to handle computerized information, to identify the source of the information, to recognize its validity, to understand the assumptions that were made to generate the information, and to use the results to make decisions. DBU provides students the opportunity to begin building life-long skills for using the computer in a modern world.

Students will have access to computers for use in computer science and other courses which stress computer applications. These computers and computer software are in the Academic Computer Laboratory in the Collins Learning Center.

Associate of Arts

The Associate of Arts degree gives the student a strong core of study in the liberal arts and helps equip the student for the broad challenges of the twenty-first century.

The Bachelor's Degree

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS FOR A BACHELOR'S DEGREE

Dallas Baptist University offers undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Arts and Sciences, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Business Studies, Bachelor of Music, Bachelor of Music Education, and Bachelor of Science degrees. The University, through its seven colleges, offers 69 undergraduate majors leading to the bachelor's degree.

A student may elect to graduate under the degree requirements of the official catalog of any year in which the student is enrolled for classes and receives credit, provided that the period between such dates does not exceed six years. The six-year time frame begins at the final semester covered by the chosen catalog. The University reserves the right to change the requirements for graduation at the beginning of any semester. These changes will appear in the next edition of the official catalog. A student in the teacher education program must meet requirements of the Texas Education Agency to receive a teaching certificate from the State of Texas.

All candidates for a bachelor's degree must fulfill the following requirements as a minimum (refer to specific programs for exact requirements):1. Complete a minimum of 120 credit hours of work.

2. Complete at least 42 credit hours of upper-level work (3000-4000 level courses).
3. Complete a minimum of twenty-five percent ( $25 \%$ ) of credit hours in residence at Dallas Baptist University (e.g. for a 120-credit hour degree program, the residency requirement is 30 hours).
4. Complete 30 of the last 36 credit hours with courses offered by DBU. If up to six of the last 36 credit hours are taken elsewhere, prior approval of the Registrar must be given.
5. Complete the prescribed General Studies requirements as outlined in this catalog.
6. Complete an approved major program of study consisting of a minimum of 24 credit hours with a 2.0 grade point average or above in the major field, including at least 12 credit hours earned in courses numbered 3000 and above. At least 12 credit hours in the major program must be completed at Dallas Baptist University, including nine upper-level course hours.*
7. If completing a minor, a minimum institutional GPA of 2.0 or above must be earned in the minor field of study. At least 6 upper level hours in the minor program must be completed at Dallas Baptist University. *
8. Earn a minimum of 2.0 grade point average in all courses taken. DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.*
9. Meet the requirements for a prescribed degree curriculum and be recommended by the faculty for graduation.
10. Complete the Chapel requirement.

* Minimum GPA Required for Graduation from Dallas Baptist University

DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
NOTE: It is recommended that credit toward graduation be given for no more than 42 credit hours in the major field of study or any one discipline in the B.A. or B.S. degrees.

No student will be allowed to participate in the graduation exercises of the University until all of the above requirements for graduation have been completed and all financial obligations have been met.

Developing A Christian Mind

Developing A Christian Mind (DCM 2301) is required of all traditional students. This course, built on a biblical foundation, is designed to introduce students to the lifelong goal of developing a Christian mind, and in the process, to impart to them a solid understanding of the larger purposes of Christian higher education and the educational vision of Dallas Baptist University. Topics addressed include Christian mind and worldview development, the problem of dualism, Christian liberal arts education, integrating faith and learning, the life of the mind, calling, and the implications of the Christian faith across the whole spectrum of life.

Foundations for Excellence

One semester of Foundations for Excellence (FOUN 1101) is required of all freshmen and transfer students with fewer than 15 credit hours. (AP, CLEP, IB, or dual/concurrent credit earned while in high school does not count toward these 15 credit hours.) It is expected that this course be taken during the student's first semester at DBU. A staff mentor will be assigned to each group of students.

This course helps students learn to excel in whatever task God calls them to, working with all of their hearts as serving the Lord and not men. Seminars to encourage development of time management and study skills are included along with seminars to aid spiritual growth (with special emphasis on developing a servant's heart). Students will have the opportunity to have their interests and aptitudes tested to determine the majors and careers for which they are best suited.

Second Bachelor's Degree

To qualify for a second bachelor's degree, a student must complete all the degree requirements as stated in this catalog for that degree, and in no instance may the student complete less than 30 credit hours beyond those required for the bachelor's degree previously earned. The additional hours must be taken in residence at Dallas Baptist University.

Degree Plan

It is the student's responsibility, as soon as possible after entering the University but no later than the end of the sophomore year, to meet with his/her advisor to develop a plan of study leading to a specific degree and major.
With the assistance of the advisor, the student outlines the courses needed to complete the degree. The degree plan developed between the student and advisor is only a guide. The student must complete all degree requirements as stated in this catalog. A degree plan becomes official once it has been reviewed and signed by the student, advisor, and dean.

The degree plan will outline the requirements for the chosen bachelor's degree program. To the General Studies courses required for the degree will be added the courses required for the student's selected major. In most cases, the total credit hours for these two groups of courses will not add up to 120 credit hours. The additional courses (credit hours) needed to complete the minimum 120 credit hour graduation requirement may be selected by the student as electives. Electives are courses that can be taken for credit outside the requirements for General Studies and the student's major. These elective courses can enrich the program of study and allow students to explore new interests and fields. Students also may complete these additional hours by electing to earn a minor.

Religion Requirements

The General Studies religion courses provide students with a general orientation to Christian life, increase the student's knowledge of the Bible, and provide an avenue for the development of a maturing Christian faith. Students are required to take the following hours of credit in religion courses according to their entrance level: Freshman and Sophomore - 9 credit hours; Junior and Senior6 credit hours. College of Education and Department of Music students should refer to their specific programs for their religion requirements.

All students are required to take course work in both Old and New Testament:

Six credit hours must be RELI 1301 and 1302. For students with a 9-credit-hour requirement, the third course may be any course in religion (RELI) except RELI 1310 or any course in Christian Studies (CHST) or Intercultural Studies (Missions) (INCS).

eMAT Advising Tool

Every student who has not completed the general studies mathematics requirements for his or her degree plan upon enrolling at DBU will be required to take the eMAT Advising Tool instrument. No student will be advised for or permitted to register in any mathematics course other than MATH 1101 until after having completed this instrument. Students will be permitted to register for general studies math courses required for their degrees upon passing the qualifying segments of the eMAT.

Any student who does not satisfactorily complete the Arithmetic Skills portion of the eMAT will be required to enroll in MATH 1101. Any student whose degree plan requires MATH 1303 and whose performance on the Basic Algebra portion of the eMAT is not satisfactory will be required to take MATH 1300. The eMAT is free and available on the DBU secure website called "webreg." The eMAT consists of three tests and their respective study guides. The student must read carefully the homepage of the eMAT. For example, a specific internet browser is required.

Current students must contact their advisor for the web address. New students will be contacted by the Admissions Office. The eMAT is an advising tool for all undergraduate advisors and students. Each test may be taken a maximum of three times and the honor code must be followed. Contact the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics at 214-333-5303 with any questions.

Computer Literacy Requirement

All DBU students are required to develop computer skills. The educated person of today must learn to handle computerized information, to identify the source of the information, to recognize its validity, to understand the assumptions that were made to generate the information, and to use the results to make decisions. DBU provides students the opportunity to begin building life-long skills for using the computer in a modern world.

Students will have access to computers for use in computer science and other courses which stress computer applications. These computers and computer software are in the Academic Computer Laboratory in the Collins Learning Center.

General Studies Requirements

The program of General Studies comprises those learning experiences common to all students at Dallas Baptist University. They are completed for the most part in the student's freshman and sophomore years.

The General Studies requirements are designed to develop the basic understanding and skills needed by broadly educated men and women in a democratic society. They involve a concern for the student's intellectual, spiritual, emotional, and physical growth.

These courses are listed at the 1000 and 2000 level except in the Religion Department. If a student's degree plan requires more than six hours of religion, then upper-level religion and Christian Studies classes will be allowed to satisfy this General Studies requirement.

The following chart outlines the specific General Studies requirements for each of DBU's bachelor's degrees. All requirements are to be met from 1000 and 2000 level courses with the possible exception of religion. Students must also complete the required number of Chapel attendances. Each discipline may specify the courses listed within the discipline that may be used to satisfy the General Studies requirements. Students should carefully study the General Studies requirements for the degree they plan to pursue. Students interested in pursuing teacher certification should refer to the College of Education section of this catalog for specific General Studies requirements.

Academic Programs

Dallas Baptist University offers a wide variety of majors and programs which reflect the comprehensive nature of the liberal arts curriculum. Major programs of study require specific course work to insure the depth of knowledge and breadth of understanding necessary to build a foundation for future vocational, occupational, and educational goals. The following pages feature descriptions of the majors, minors, and pre-professional programs offered by DBU through its seven colleges.

Major Field of Study

Students select a primary field of study in which they concentrate the larger portion of the learning experience during the junior and senior year. The requirements for a major in each academic field are outlined in the Academic Programs section of this catalog. Within their major, students complete a sequence of at least 24 required credit hours of which 12 credit hours must be upper level. Requirements vary with the major selected. A minimum 2.0 grade point average or above must be earned in the major field of study. DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.

Minimum GPA Required for Graduation from Dallas Baptist University

DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
Dallas Baptist University offers a variety of disciplines in which students may major. Additional disciplines are offered to support these various majors. Majors leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Music, degrees include:

The Optional Academic Minor

A student's program of study must include courses in General Studies and the academic major, and may also include electives and an optional minor. A student may minor in any department of the University that offers the required number and level of courses. A carefully chosen minor provides substantial grounding in a field other than that of the student's major and adds breadth and depth to the educational experience.

The number of hours required for a minor at Dallas Baptist University will be no less than 15 credit hours in one subject matter area. Of the total required hours, there must be a minimum of 9 hours distinctive to the minor, separate and apart from general studies and major core hours. A minimum GPA of 2.0 or above must be earned in the minor field of study. At least 6 upper level hours in the minor program must be completed at Dallas Baptist University. The amount of upper-level credit hours is determined by the appropriate college. Several minor programs require additional hours and specific course work (For specific information, refer to the college offering the minor program). The student should consult his/her advisor regarding declaration of a minor. DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.

Concentration

Students may have the opportunity for intensive study within their majors or minors. A concentration generally requires a minimum of 12 credit hours, although requirements vary with the concentration selected.

Maximum Hours in Discipline

It is recommended that credit toward graduation be given for no more than 42 credit hours in the major field of study or any one discipline in the B.A. or B.S. degrees.

Double Major

A student may secure a degree with a double major by fulfilling all course requirements as stated in this catalog for both majors, as long as both majors fall within the same degree. If both majors share common course requirements, there must be a minimum of 18 hours distinctive to the second major, separate and apart from the first major. (The student must determine which is to be the first major and which is to be the second major). Nine of the 18 hours must be upper-level and nine of the 18 must be in residence. A minimum of 12 hours of residency is required in any major. A minimum GPA of 2.0 must be achieved in both majors. DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.

University Honors Program

To be recognized as a University Honors Program graduate at DBU, a student must have successfully completed a minimum of 24 hours in honors classes, including a minimum of at least 15 hours in Perspectives courses. Students majoring in departments administered by the Colleges of Business, Education, Music, or Natural Science and Mathematics may elect to take four Perspective courses and an additional upper-level honors course, preferably within the major. All students must also regularly enroll in Honors Enrichment and complete an enrichment event portfolio before completing the Senior Thesis or Project. University Honors Program students may take no more than six honors hours per semester. Freshmen entering the UHP may only take three hours per semester in the Freshman year.

College of Business

College Mission Statement

The College of Business at Dallas Baptist University provides an exceptional educational experience in order to prepare traditional age and adult students for the global business environment. Central to this educational experience is the integration of the Christian faith and Biblically-based values with the study of the various disciplines of business. As a result, students are expected to develop into servant leaders who are able to make significant and sustainable contributions in their service to others through their chosen careers.

Description

Dallas Baptist University, through its College of Business, is nationally accredited by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs to offer the following business degrees:

- Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) with majors in:

Accounting
Entrepreneurship
Finance
Hotel and Hospitality Management
Management
Management Information Systems
Marketing
Music Business

- Bachelor of Business Studies (B.B.S.) with majors in:

Accounting
Business Administration
Finance
Hotel/Hospitality Management
Management
Management Information Systems
Marketing
(The B.B.S. is offered through the College of Professional Studies).

- Master of Arts in Management (MAM)
- Master of Business Administration (MBA)
- Accelerated Bachelor's & Master's Degrees -

B.B.A./MBA in Finance
B.B.A./MBA in Management
B.B.A. in Music Business/MBA
B.B.S. in Business Administration/MBA
B.B.S./MBA in Management

A student who graduates with a Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) from the College of Business will have demonstrated competence in the foundational areas of business, as well as the technical skills and knowledge in a chosen major area. This level of competence in the business disciplines will enable the student to assume entry-level roles and assignments in their chosen career.

College of Business goals are supportive of the Critical Performance Indicators in the Continuous Improvement Plan by the:- Enhancement of faculty qualifications and scholarship;

- Enhancement of business programs through curriculum, enrollment, technology, co-curricular activities, and recognition;
- Enhancement of student performance, satisfaction, and support;
- Enhancement of our Alumni connection through support, involvement, success, and satisfaction;
- Enhancement of integration of faith and learning through service, service learning, and an in-depth study of character/ethics based on Biblical principles.

Competencies

Several core competencies are considered essential for the student to complete a program in the College of Business at Dallas Baptist University. Every student who graduates from the College of Business should be able to demonstrate the following:

- An appreciation of the importance of character, competence, and personal faith in the handling of ethical issues confronting business leaders and managers in today's organizational environment.
- A clear understanding of the role that business plays in the development of the economic structures of the United States and international markets.
- An understanding of the principles of the free enterprise system and its relation with the legal, social, and political systems and environments of the United States.
- A fundamental knowledge of the principles of the essential business disciplines of accounting, economics, finance, management, management information systems, and marketing.
- The ability to use business research methods and analyze research data and information in order to develop business plans and strategies and make effective and efficient business decisions.
- A practical understanding of the dynamic business environment and successful adaptation to organizational and industry changes as a business professional and resource.
- Effective written and verbal communication and interpersonal skills.

The Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) degree is offered in eight major fields: Accounting, Entrepreneurship, Finance, Hotel and Hospitality Management, Management (behavioral management, general management, entrepreneurship), Management Information Systems, Marketing, and Music Business. Double majors are possible. A 33-credit-hour business core is required of all B.B.A. candidates. Students are strongly encouraged to seek the advice of their academic advisor early in their program of study to develop a degree plan and ensure the correct sequencing of courses.

Business Core Classes

All B.B.A. students, regardless of their major field of study, are required to take the 33-credit-hour business core. These courses are foundational prerequisites to other higher-level courses in each area.

| ACCT 2301 | Principles of Financial Accounting |
| :--- | :--- |
| ACCT 2302 | Principles of Managerial Accounting |
| FINA 3301 | Corporate Financial Management |
| MANA 3301 | Principles of Management |
| MANA 3305 | Managerial Statistics |
| MANA 3306 | Management Communication |
| MANA 3308 | Business and Public Law |
| MANA 4301 | Operations and Quality Management |
| MANA 4320 | Strategy and Problems in Management |
| MISM 3301 | Information Systems for Management |
| MRKT 3301 | Principles of Marketing |

MANA 4320, Strategies and Problems, is a capstone course and should be taken during the student's last semester in residence. Refer to the course description for prerequisite requirements for this course. Students are required to take the Major Field Test (MFT) as part of MANA 4320. Students will prepare for the exam through completion of the coursework of MANA 4320.

Students are strongly encouraged to complete the B.B.A. math requirement (MATH 1307 and 1308) their freshman year because they are prerequisite requirements to many of the upper level business courses. Likewise, students are strongly encouraged to complete the accounting and economics requirements by the end of their sophomore year. After a student has completed approximately 55 hours of course work, he/she should concentrate on completing the 3000/4000 level courses in the business core. An academic advisor will offer direction regarding majors as will various business faculty and mentors from within the College of Business. The student is responsible for sequencing his or her studies correctly to ensure that prerequisite requirements are met. Attention to the requirements set forth in this catalog and consultation with an academic advisor will eliminate any difficulties.

Minor in Business

For a general business minor, the student must take 21 semester hours including the following business courses:

| ACCT 2301 | Principles of Financial Accounting |
| :--- | :--- |
| ACCT 2302 | Principles of Managerial Accounting |
| ECON 2301 | Principles of Macroeconomics |
| or |  |

| MRKT 3301 | Principles of Marketing |

Accounting

The BBA accounting curriculum is designed to prepare the student for a career as professional accountants. Students are encouraged to declare their intention to major in accounting as early as possible after enrolling at DBU. A full-time accounting professor will counsel with each declaring student individually to develop a semester-by-semester degree plan to assure proper sequence of courses. Students may not continue as accounting majors unless they maintain a Grade Point Average of 3.0 in their upper-level accounting courses.

Mission Statement:

The purpose of the Accounting Program of Dallas Baptist University is to provide a Christ-centered, high quality, accounting education by focusing on faith-integration, excellence in classroom instruction, and competence-building activities in order to produce servant leaders.

Programs:

BBA Accounting Degree:

Graduates with a BBA in Accounting will demonstrate competence in the foundational areas of business and possess the technical skills and accounting knowledge necessary to assume an entry-level accounting role in whatever business they choose. The BBA degree alone does not qualify a student to register for the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination. Students enrolled in the BBA degree program are required to complete a minimum of 120 credit hours.

The BBA accounting major prepares students for careers as professional accountants in business. In addition to the eleven common-core courses required of all BBA degree programs, which include 6 hours of principles level accounting courses, accounting majors complete nine required upper-level accounting courses and one upper level business elective.

Retention in and Graduation from the Accounting Program

Students must fulfill the following conditions to continue enrollment in the 4 -year BBA accounting major and graduate from the program:

- Students must maintain an overall institutional GPA of 3.0 and an institutional GPA of 3.0 in upper-level accounting coursework.
- Students must be advised by a full-time accounting professor before enrollment each semester.

College of Christian Faith

The Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith fulfills a significant role in the curriculum of Dallas Baptist University through the course offerings in biblical studies, Christian studies, Greek, philosophy, camp/sport leadership, and intercultural studies (missions). It provides general studies courses in biblical studies for all students, a program of courses for majors and minors in biblical studies, Christian studies, philosophy, intercultural studies (missions); a major in camp/sport leadership; and electives for all students who desire them. The general studies courses in biblical studies are designed to give students a working knowledge of both the Old and New Testaments and to help students see the relationship between the Bible and Western Civilization. Non-Biblical studies majors may use RELI 1301 and 1302 as part of the general studies religion requirements.

Mission Statement

The purpose of the Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith is to provide for all students of Dallas Baptist University a working knowledge of both the Old and New Testaments in order that they may have a biblical foundation for all their life experiences; and to provide a program of study for majors and minors in Biblical studies, Christian studies, and Philosophy to equip them for Christian leadership and graduate study in these fields.

Goals of the College

- To equip students with the ability to articulate a general knowledge of the Bible, including for some, a knowledge extending to the original Biblical languages.
- To produce students who will become skilled servant leaders in ministry, reflecting the spiritual values of the historic Christian faith.
- To provide a foundation of high-quality academic training for ministry, enabling students to serve as pastors, teachers, missionaries, and in other positions of Christian leadership; and enabling students to excel as graduate students at seminaries and universities in their chosen field.
- To guide students in developing a Christian theology, philosophy, and world view.
- To expose students to the premises of various world and life views that are distinctly different from the Christian perspective.
- To instill in students a commitment to a biblically-based philosophy of Christian education, including a commitment to personal evangelism and the global mission of the church.

Biblical Studies

The program of study for a major in Biblical studies is designed to prepare students for further seminary or university studies, or for a lifetime of study and service without further formal training. The Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith encourages on-the-job training for Biblical studies majors in cooperation with local churches, hospitals, missions, and other religious institutions.

Greek is not required for a major in Biblical studies but is strongly recommended. The second year of Greek will count as part of the general studies foreign language requirement.

Goals of the Biblical Studies Major

- To equip the student with the ability to articulate a general knowledge of the Old Testament and New Testament.
- To provide a foundation of high quality academic training for ministry, equipping students to serve as pastors, teachers, missionaries, and in other positions of Christian leadership.
- To provide the academic foundation that will enable our graduates to be accepted in and graduate from graduate theological programs.
- To enable the student to ponder the ultimate questions of life, to develop a strong, maturing, distinctively evangelical faith, and present an apologetic to competing views.
- To lay a biblical foundation for the student's task of integrating faith and learning.
- To integrate the Biblical studies discipline with God's truth wherever it is found.

Philosophy

The program in philosophy is dedicated, on the foundation of the Christian faith, to the pursuit of an understanding of reality, both infinite and finite; to the systematic study of ideas and a reasoned pursuit of truth; to an examination of the principles of moral conduct and aesthetic experience; and overall, seeks to understand the world and human life from the perspective of the Christian world view. The goals of this department are to acquaint the student with the main philosophical subdisciplines (metaphysics, epistemology, ethics, aesthetics); to learn to think, speak, write, and evaluate logically and critically; to understand the main problems of philosophy and the solutions proposed to them; to trace the development of the history of philosophy, and to become familiar with the main philosophers and their systems of thought which have contributed to this history. Those majoring in philosophy will be prepared for graduate school and/or careers in law, ministry, teaching, business, and writing, as well as pursuing philosophy itself professionally. Students may pursue either a B.A. or a B.S. in philosophy.

Goals of the Philosophy Major

- To enable students to obtain a general understanding of the methods, vocabulary, and content of the discipline of philosophy.
- To train students in the basic principles of sound reasoning and critical thinking.
- To expose students to the essential tenets of fundamental world views, including a biblical vision of reality, and training them in the art of thinking presuppositionally.
- To teach students how philosophic thought has unfolded throughout the centuries by becoming familiar with the main ideas of key philosophers who have contributed significantly to the development of the Western intellectual tradition.
- To impart to students enhanced expertise in the research and writing process through the composition of a senior project on a topic of historic or contemporary philosophical importance.

College of Education

For information on teaching in the state of Texas go to: http://www.thecb.state.tx.us/Partnerships/teachprep.htm

The Dorothy M. Bush College of Education has offered fully accredited educator preparation programs since 1966. The college offers programs of study at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Professors of the college integrate faith and learning from a biblical worldview in every class. Graduates of our programs are in high demand by area school districts and private schools.

The DBU Educator Preparation Program provides students with rich field-based experiences in public and private, urban and rural, large and small school settings. Our student teacher preparation can include observation of master teachers and involvement with before and after school care.

Representatives from various academic disciplines of the University and administrators are selected to serve on the Educator Preparation Program Committee which functions as an advisory group for the education program. The Educator Preparation Program at Dallas Baptist University is accredited by the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and approved by the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) to prepare, train, and recommend teacher, school counselor, diagnostician, reading specialist, principal, and superintendent candidates for certification. The Kinesiology Department is also part of the College of Education.

Mission Statement

The Dorothy M. Bush College of Education is dedicated to quality, Christ-centered preparation of learner-centered educators for servant leadership in private and public schools. Professors have vital concerns for the total development of individual students, helping them learn ways to become loving, caring educators as they fulfill the important task of equipping children, youth, and adults to become lifelong learners and productive citizens.

Goals of the College

The goal of the Educator Preparation Program is to prepare candidates who have the following competencies: (Based on the InTASC Core Standards in addition to five standards specific to the State and Institution.)

1. Learner Development. The candidate understands how learners grow and develop, recognizing that patterns of learning and development vary individually within and across the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical areas, and designs and implements developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.
2. Learning Differences. The candidate uses understanding of individual differences and diverse cultures and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.
3. Learning Environments. The candidate works with others to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning, and that encourage positive social interaction, active engagement in learning, and self-motivation.
4. Content Knowledge. The candidate understands the central concepts, tools of inquiry, and structures of the discipline(s) he or she teaches and creates learning experiences that make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful for learners to assure mastery of the content.
5. Application of Content. The candidate understands how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving related to authentic local and global issues.
6. Assessment. The candidate understands and uses multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the candidate's and learner's decision making.
7. Planning for Instruction. The candidate plans instruction that supports every student in meeting rigorous learning goals by drawing upon knowledge of content areas, curriculum, cross-disciplinary skills, and pedagogy, as well as knowledge of learners and the community context.
8. Instructional Strategies. The candidate understands and uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections, and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.
9. Professional Learning and Ethical Practice. The candidate engages in ongoing professional learning and uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professionals, and the community), and adapts practice to meet the needs of each learner.
10. Leadership and Collaboration. The candidate seeks appropriate leadership roles and opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals, and community members to ensure learner growth, and to advance the profession.
11. Legal and Ethical Aspects. The candidate understands the legal aspects of teaching including the rights of students and parents/families, as well as the legal rights and responsibilities of the educator. The educator will commit to uphold the Texas Educator Code of Ethics.
12. Educator Excellence. The candidate understands characteristics of educator excellence as defined by Texas approved appraisal systems.
13. College/Career Readiness through the Use of State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness (STAAR) and End of Course Exams (EOC). The candidate understands and is able to implement the state standards for what students should know and be able to do and implements the Texas curriculum standards to advance the mission of Texas: college and career ready students. (STAAR, EOC)
14. Texas Examination for Educator Standards (TExES). The candidate understands and demonstrates competencies related to their field of study by successful performance on state certification exams.
15. Service-Learning. The candidate understands the relevance of DBU service-learning in enhancing student learning, fostering civic responsibility, and developing servant leaders.

Educator Preparation Program

The College of Education offers routes to educator certification for Early Childhood through Grade 6 Generalist (EC-6), Grades 4-8, Grades 7-12, and Early Childhood through Grade 12 (EC-12) certification. Students who pursue educator certification do not declare a major in "education." Students seeking EC-6 Generalist or Grades 4-8 certification are "interdisciplinary academic" majors. Students pursuing Grades 7-12 certification will major in one of the following disciplines/teaching fields: biology, English, history, mathematics, natural sciences, or speech communication. Students pursuing 8-12 computer science will major in computer science. Students pursuing EC-12 certification must choose a major in either physical education or music. All students seeking certification must meet State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) and university Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree requirements, or Bachelor of Music Education (B.M.E.) degree requirements for EC-Grade 12 Music Education Teacher Certification (Choral).

Required scores, as determined by the College of Education, on the Texas Higher Education Assessment (THEA) test over the basic skills of reading, writing, and mathematics must be achieved prior to admission to the Educator Preparation Program. No education courses (EDUC, ECHE, READ), with the exception of EDUC 3313 may be taken without the approval of the academic advisor, until the student is accepted into the Educator Preparation Program.

Certification is available for post-baccalaureate students through the Pathways to Teaching Program in the College of Education. See the Master of Arts in Teaching program in the Graduate Catalog for further details.

Admission to the Educator Preparation Program

Freshman and transfer students are encouraged to declare their intention to work toward educator certification as early as possible after enrolling at DBU. A College of Education advisor counsels with each student individually to develop a semester-by-semester degree plan to assure proper sequence of courses. Students wishing to officially enter the Educator Preparation Program should make application to the program during the sophomore year (after 45 semester hours) or transfer students after one semester of residence at DBU. Applications to the program will be considered based on the following criteria:

- Required level of performance on all three sections of the THEA test with minimum scores of $\mathbf{2 6 0}$ on the reading section, and 240 on each of the writing and math sections.
- An application of petition filed with the College of Education requesting admission to the Educator Preparation Program. Approval also must be provided by the student's College of Education advisor.
- Completion of an interview with a College of Education faculty member.
- Three letters of recommendation must be submitted: (1) from the College of Education and (2) from their content area.
- Completion of at least 45 semester hours with a minimum overall Grade Point Average of 3.0 and a minimum 3.0

Grade Point Average in the teaching field/academic concentration at the time of application to the program. The $\mathbf{3 . 0}$ GPA criteria must be maintained to remain in the program. Transfer students must meet these same requirements and apply after a semester of residence at DBU.

- Prior to application to the Educator Preparation Program, a degree plan must be selected by the student and a College of Education advisor and filed with the Registrar.
- Completion of the following courses: EDUC 3313 and MATH 1303.
- Evidence of the personal qualities and characteristics desired in a teacher as judged by the Educator Preparation Program Committee.
- Signed Revised Code of Ethics and Standard Practices for Texas Educators must be kept in the student file.
- Math and Science certification majors must have completed 15 credit hours prior to admission to the Educator Preparation Program. All other content areas must have completed 12 credit hours prior to admission to the Education Preparation Program.
- Upon receipt of a letter of admission to the Educator Preparation Program, candidate must provide a written response acknowledgement of acceptance of admittance to the program.

Other Requirements

Students admitted to the Educator Preparation Program are required to attend a minimum of ten Student Education Association (SEA) meetings before graduation. Students transferring to DBU with 60-89 semester hours are required to have eight SEA attendances, while those with 90 or more hours need four attendances. A record of SEA attendances is maintained in the student's file to determine eligibility for certification.

Candidates in the educator programs are required to purchase a TaskStream account. TaskStream is used to create an e-Portfolio.

Retention in the Program

Students must fulfill the following conditions to continue in the Educator Preparation Program:

1. Students must maintain and graduate with an overall institutional GPA of 3.0 and must maintain and graduate with an institutional GPA of 3.0 in his or her teaching field/academic concentration.
2. Students must be advised by a College of Education advisor before enrollment for each semester. Additional conferences may be required by the advisor.
3. Personal conduct must be in harmony with university standards.
4. Students must reflect those personal qualities and professional characteristics identified by the Educator Preparation Program Committee which are conducive for employment in a teaching position.
5. A professional attitude must be developed and maintained during the sequence of professional educational courses.
6. Students are required to take the appropriate Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES) to be eligible for recommendation to SBEC for certification. These tests include a pedagogy and professional responsibilities test and a content area test. All of the following must be fulfilled regarding the TExES:
a. Students must enroll in and attend Educator Preparation Seminars, and pass a practice TExES test(s).
b. Students will not be approved to take TExES tests until they have scored 85 percent or above on the appropriate practice test given by the University.
c. Students are permitted to take only one TExES test per test administration. Secondary students may take their subject area TExES after all course work in that field is completed and they have scored 85 percent or above on the university practice test.
d. Students who do not achieve a passing score on the TExES test(s) will be required to attend TExES study sessions before being approved to retake the test(s). Students may also be required to seek help from professors in their teaching field/academic concentration.
7. Students must complete three days of pre-student teaching observation at the beginning of the public school year in which they are scheduled for student teaching. This includes those students who are scheduled for student teaching during the spring or fall semesters.
8. Students will report to their first supervising teacher. Students will observe and assist the supervising teacher and keep a journal of their experiences.
9. All students seeking educator certification must complete the program of study for educator certification in their subject area as approved by the Educator Preparation Program Committee, the University, and the State Board for Educator Certification.

Admission to Clinical Teaching

The following list identifies the criteria for admission to clinical teaching:

- Admitted to the Educator Preparation Program.
- Maintain a minimum institutional overall Grade Point Average of 3.0 and a minimum institutional 3.0 Grade Point Average in the teaching field/academic concentration.
- Application should be made during Field-Based I classes.
- Evidence of the personal qualities and characteristics desired in the "Code of Ethics and Standard Practices for Texas Educators."
- TExES practice tests (content and the pedagogy and professional responsibilities) are given in the Educator Preparation Seminars. Teacher candidates must pass both TExES state tests in order to be permitted to be admitted to Clinical Teaching.

Teacher Candidates will take the content and pedagogy and professional responsibilities TExES seminars during their field-based experience. Teacher candidates are not approved to take a state test until the teacher candidate has successfully passed the appropriate practice test. Teacher candidates must pass the first state test before being allowed to register for a second (different) test. Both state tests must be passed prior to the clinical teaching experience.

- Students must pass both TExES state test(s) to be permitted to student teach.

Policy Regarding Releasing a Clinical Teacher for Full-time Employment

The College of Education faculty has determined that clinical teaching is a critical component and the culminating experience of educator preparation. Therefore, the COE has established the following standards for releasing a student teacher for full-time employment at the request of a school district:

1. The clinical teacher must have completed a minimum of eleven weeks in the student teaching assignment.
2. The request must originate from the district where the clinical teacher is student teaching.
3. A committee consisting of the following individuals will be involved in determining if the clinical teacher will be permitted to sign a contract with the school district to be placed in a classroom as a regular teacher: On-site principal, On-site cooperating teacher(s), DBU's supervising professor(s), Dean of the College of Education.

Should a clinical teacher elect to ignore these guidelines, the student shall be withdrawn from clinical teaching and thus not be eligible to receive a teaching certificate from the state with the approval of Dallas Baptist University and the College of Education.

In addition, this would prevent an undergraduate student from receiving a degree unless a General Studies degree requirement could be met without the six hours of clinical teaching.

Redirection from the Program

In the event a student becomes ineligible to continue in the Educator Preparation Program, the student will be redirected through consultation with a faculty advisor in the College of Education and/or the Dean of the College of Education. Every attempt will be made to effect such redirection as early as possible so that the student may experience a minimum of inconvenience in the total program.

Early Childhood through Grade 6 Generalist Teacher Certification

Students planning to be certified to teach early childhood through grade 6 (EC-6) will secure an interdisciplinary academic major and meet the appropriate general studies requirements. To be eligible for Texas certification, students will follow the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) EC-6 standards. Students follow a course of study which includes the following components: (1) General Studies, (2) Professional Responsibility, and (3) an Interdisciplinary Academic Major which includes 42 upper-level semester hours. Students must be admitted into the Educator Preparation Program according to the policies set by the College of Education.

Grades 7 through 12 Certification

Students planning to be certified to teach Grades 7-12 will secure a major in either biology, English, history, mathematics, natural science, or speech communication. To be eligible for Texas certification, students will also follow the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) standards for Grades 7-12.

Students follow a course of study which includes the following components: (1) General Studies, (2) Professional Responsibility courses, (3) major in either biology, English, history, mathematics, natural sciences, or speech communication, and (4) sufficient electives to complete the 123-credit-hour minimum for the bachelor's degree, which includes 42 upper-level semester hours. Students must be admitted into the Educator Preparation Program according to the policies set by the College of Education.

Retention in the Educator Preparation Program:

Students must maintain and graduate with an overall institutional GPA of 3.0 and must maintain and graduate with an institutional GPA of 3.0 in their teaching fields/academic concentrations.

Grades 8 through 12 Computer Science Certification

The B.A./B.S. in Computer Science 8-12 Teacher Certification (Interdisciplinary Academic Major) is designed for students who want to obtain Texas certification to teach computer science related courses in grades 8-12. The Computer Science major prepares students to plan, organize, and direct learning activities for the secondary computer science studies classroom. To be eligible for Texas certification, students must follow the guidelines set by State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) for grades 8-12.

Students pursuing the Computer Science academic major follow a course of study which also includes required components in General Studies and Professional Responsibility. Students must be admitted into the Educator Preparation Program according to the policies set by the College of Education.

Department of Kinesiology

The Kinesiology Department is concerned with the total development of each individual student taking part in the kinesiology program. Of special concern is the development of an appreciation and respect for the human body as the earthly temple of God. Thus, becoming good stewards of this earthly temple is a major goal of the Department of Kinesiology. The goals of the physical activity requirement are twofold:

1. The student will participate in organized exercise to offset the amount of time that is necessarily sedentary due to sitting in the classroom or studying. Thus, the student will attain or maintain a minimum amount of fitness, and the student will have an outlet for stress.
2. The student will be exposed to physical activities that he/she will want to continue throughout life--as a social and emotional outlet and as a vehicle to fitness and total wellness.

Each student is required to register for two 1 -credit-hour activity courses to complete the kinesiology requirement. These required courses should be taken during the freshman and sophomore years. Juniors and seniors are encouraged to elect additional activity courses in order to maintain a healthy lifestyle and enjoy physical activity with their fellow students.

The following are exceptions to the two 1 -credit-hour requirement, but do not reduce the total number of semester hours required for a degree:

1. A student 25 years of age or older prior to enrollment at DBU will be exempt from required kinesiology courses.
2. A student who presents adequate documentation of two years on active duty in any branch of U.S. military service will be exempt.
3. Students with temporary or permanent physical limitations should seek advisement from the Kinesiology Department on course selection during their first semester on campus or soon after the physical limitation occurs.
4. Members of the ROTC are exempt from kinesiology provided they have successfully completed MILS 0180 and 1142, pass the annual physical fitness test, and participate in the weekly physical fitness program.

Kinesiology Activities Program

Kinesiology activity courses (KNES 1101 through 1122) are designed to emphasize the development of physical fitness and proficiency in team and lifetime sports. Students are encouraged to take activity classes that are unfamiliar to them in order to have a variety of activities from which to choose in their pursuit of a wellness lifestyle.

Kinesiology

The purpose of the Kinesiology Department is to develop the minds and bodies of men and women in preparing them to become servant leaders in teaching, coaching, and other health- and sports-related fields. The Department of Kinesiology offers a program leading to a major in kinesiology or a kinesiology major with either an exercise science or sport performance concentration. A major in sport management is also offered. A specialization in exercise science is recommended for those students who wish to pursue careers in corporate fitness, health club work, cardiac rehabilitation, physical therapy, and related areas. A major in sport management is recommended for those students who wish to pursue positions in a myriad of sports-related careers.

Teacher certification in EC-12 Physical Education is available to the kinesiology major. Certain general studies requirements differ for students seeking teacher certification. Therefore, those interested in teacher certification should consult the College of Education.

College of Fine Arts

Mission Statement

The purpose of Dallas Baptist University is to provide Christ-centered higher education in the arts, sciences, and professional studies at both the undergraduate and graduate levels to traditional age and adult students in order to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings. The College of Fine Arts is charged with the responsibility of aiding the university in that mission through the creation and development of highly trained and skillful artists committed to excellence in the visual arts, communications, and music, focused in their individual fields of artistic endeavor and dedicated to servant leadership in the church and community.

Description

The College of Fine Arts provides a curriculum that offers broad aesthetic experiences in art, communication, music, and music business for Fine Arts majors and the general student. In addition to the course work that introduces the student to the fine arts, many creative activities and programs are offered each year. Regular performances are presented by the DBU Grand Chorus, University Concert Chorale, University Ringers, and Legacy. Student and faculty art displays, together with musical and dramatic presentations, provide ample opportunity for participation and enjoyment.

The University also houses outstanding works of art permanently displayed on the DBU campus. These include three bronze sculptures by Max Greiner entitled "The Divine Servant," "Fishers of Men," and "The Great Commission." In the lobby of the Student Center is an original oil painting named "The Patriot" by Bruce Marshall. In addition, a series of artworks of the Twelve Disciples, Jesus, and Paul by artist Kenneth Wyatt are displayed in the foyer of the Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel.

Dallas Baptist University is uniquely situated near the cultural centers of Dallas and Fort Worth. There are numerous excellent galleries and museums in the area such as the Dallas Museum of Art, Kimbell Art Museum, Fort Worth Art Center, African American Life and Culture Museum, and the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art. In addition, students can enjoy performances by the Fort Worth Symphony, the Fort Worth/Dallas Ballet, the Dallas Symphony Orchestra at the Meyerson Symphony Center, and various performances at the Bass Performance Hall.

The College of Fine Arts offers undergraduate majors in the fields of art, communication, music, and music business. The curriculum may serve as preparation for specialized graduate study, as background training for a career in the arts, or when coordinated with supporting courses in education, as preparation for teacher certification.

Goals of the College

The college is committed to training students who will be capable of the necessary skills and proficiencies to make a significant contribution in the fine arts (art, communication, and music), and to provide courses which give support in general studies as required by the University and various degree plans.

Goals of the College of Fine Arts:

- All general studies students enrolled in courses offered by the College of Fine Arts will have an acceptable knowledge and appreciation of all the fine arts.
* The College of Fine Arts faculty will demonstrate excellence in teaching, engage in meaningful participation in professional, scholarly, and service activities, as well as serve as servant leadership role models for students and peers.
- All College of Fine Arts graduates will be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of mastery in their major area which will make them competitive with their peers from other comparable programs in the fields of art, communication, and music.
- The College of Fine Arts graduates will be prepared either to enter the job market in their chosen field or be qualified to enter graduate study.
- All College of Fine Arts graduates will have a thorough knowledge of the history, fundamentals, and basics of their field, as well as develop adequate performance skills in their area of expertise to pursue a profession in their chosen field of service.

Department of Art

The mission statement of the Department of Art is to prepare servant leader visual art students for a professional career in the visual arts and to offer avenues of creative fulfillment for all students of the university. This aim is to be accomplished through the pursuit of excellence and artistic achievement within a Christian context.

The goals of the visual art program are to enable the students to develop skills and understanding in the foundations and principles of art, gain knowledge of historical and contemporary art, develop aesthetic judgment, and creatively produce and use their artistic abilities on the basis of mature Christian ethics.

Offering a wide variety of work areas, the program provides practical experience in drawing, painting, design, pedagogy of art, sculpture, crafts, visual communication, art history, advertising, photography, museum studies, studio art, and internships. The program also maintains a permanent collection of outstanding works by students. In addition to student art shows, professional artworks and professional artists are also featured.

Courses with no prerequisites are open to all students regardless of ability or previous training. The program recommends taking additional advanced hours as art electives if the student plans to enter graduate school in art.

The goals for those granted a bachelor's degree in art are:

Educational Goals

To enable students to:

- Cultivate a broad knowledge of the history and visual arts fundamentals.
- Gain experience in two- and three-dimensional art.
- Develop a workable knowledge of many art fields so the student can develop artistically as well as make a living.
- Have training in the cutting edge of art.
- Present a portfolio and senior exhibition at the highest artistic level possible.

Ministry Goals

To enable students to:

- Prepare with how to deal with challenges in art and culture without compromising faith.
- Have opportunities to experience and share ideas on how to use art in Christianity and society.
- Establish a servant leadership presence within the Christian and secular art world.

Jury of Artwork and Portfolio Review. The portfolio will be received for review before the senior exhibit is to be presented. The exhibit should exemplify quality, good judgment and taste that is consistent with DBU's Christian message and the Department of Art mission statement. It is essential to continuously prepare the portfolio with samples of the best work to show potential clients, art directors, agencies, and any person interested in your work.

Critiques and Exhibits. Critique sessions throughout the course of study will enable the student to share work with other class members and participate in discussion regarding artwork. Constructive criticism and positive, helpful observations will be shared with one another. Selected work should be completed, neatly presented, and prepared for exhibition. Three-dimensional work should be prepared for exhibit with an appropriate base support.

Internship in Art. This is designed to give the student actual field experiences in art. Through the professional cooperation of area art agencies, museums, galleries, studios, and schools, the student will report to a place of employment for a minimum of 90 hours per semester over a 15 -week period. This opportunity gives the student a transitional experience between academics and the reality of the work environment in the specialized areas of art in which he/she is considering for a career.

Senior Solo Exhibition. Each graduating senior is required to present a Senior Show of original artwork, digital portfolio, and an Artist Talk. It should exemplify the best efforts in excellence in every aspect. All art should be carefully selected, prepared, and presented. The work presented may be from any phase of your life as long as it is original. One artwork is to be given to the Art Department for the permanent collection.

Art Scholarships. Art scholarships require the application form, letters of recommendation, portfolio review, and interview. They are based on art demonstration, future potential, commitment to the Department of Art, and need.

Art

A. BASIC CORE

The Basic Core of the Art Major is fulfilled by completing 24 hours: Design I, Design II, Drawing I, Drawing II, Art History Survey I, Art History Survey II, The Arts and the Creative Process, and completing the Senior Capstone in Art. The Senior Exhibition and Portfolio Presentation are required for graduation. Check the DBU catalog that you entered the University under for class and graduating requirements

B. ART MAJOR CONCENTRATION

The major area of art concentration requires 15 semester hours. Students are encouraged to determine the art degree emphasis from: Advertising and Visual Communication, Art History/Museum Studies, Drawing and Painting, Photography, or Studio Art. Art Majors have a basic art core of 24 semester hours and can choose between a BA or BS degree. In addition, the art degree must contain six upper level art electives. At least 21 of the total 45 art hours must be upper level.

C. ART ELECTIVES

Six additional semester hours of upper level art electives are required to fulfill degree requirements. These upper level art electives should represent and strengthen the art degree concentration.

D. ELECTIVES

Sufficient electives are required to complete 120-credit-hour minimum for the bachelor's degree, including 42 upper-level semester hours. Art courses, a concentrated minor in another course of study, or other university courses may be selected.

Communication

The communication major is designed to enable the student to develop the skills necessary for effective communication in a technological world, including the following:
B.A./B.S. in Communication: Broadcast/Digital Media
B.A./B.S. in Communication: Communication Theory
B.A./B.S. in Communication: Graphic Design

Speech Teacher Certification

B.A./B.S. in Speech Grades 7-12 Teacher Certification (Communication Studies academic major)

Students interested in studies to teach speech in grades $7-12$ should check the speech teacher certification program listed in the Dorothy M. Bush College of Education section of this catalog. For specific questions regarding the Communication Studies major, students may contact the Department of Communication.

Educational Goals

To enable students to:

- Gain a sound background in the major areas of communication theory, broadcast/digital media, and graphic design.
- Develop a variety of skills upon which to build professionally.
- Gain practical experience and proficiencies in several areas of the communication field.

Ministry Goals

To enable students to:

- Be prepared to serve as servant leaders and communication specialists in the church.
- Be prepared to serve effectively as servant leaders and communicate the "good news" of Christ.

Spiritual Goals

To enable students to:

- Develop ways to accomplish creative communication with God and with others.
- Understand self as a communicating, relational creation.

Department of Music

Department of Music Mission Statement

The central mission of the Department of Music is to educate students in order that they might engage the global society and industry through transformational musical performance, scholarship, and service so they might be servant leaders in their chosen professions. In addition, musical offerings including ensemble, faculty, guest, and student performances enhance the total university liberal arts experience and give opportunity for creative fulfillment.

A thorough understanding of music theory, history and literature is required of the student majoring in music, and a high priority is given to general musicianship and the development of the highest level of artistic achievement within the student's chosen area of applied music. All courses and degree plans are designed to satisfy the requirements for music accrediting agencies. The Department of Music is accredited with the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM). In 1998, the Department of Music was given a commendation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC). Degree programs leading to state certification in music education (choral) conform to the requirements of the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC).

The music program is an integral part of Dallas Baptist University. Students enrolled in regular coursework are governed by the same rules and regulations for attendance, discipline, and examination as those who apply to the institution as a whole.

Educational Goals

To enable students to:

- Gain an overall knowledge of music theory, forms, and structure.
- Develop a workable knowledge of the history of Western music and cultivate an awareness of the influence of music upon culture.
- Cultivate an awareness of non-Western indigenous music.
- Present public performances at the highest artistic level possible.
- Possess proficient keyboard, conducting, critical thinking, and improvisational skills.
- Be prepared to earn a living in a chosen field of music.

Ministry Goals

To enable students to:

- Understand that music is a gift from God the Creator and is an art form that helps to make us fully human.
- Utilize music as a vehicle of worship.
- Recognize music as a tool for worship, evangelism, edification, training, and recreation in order to meet the spiritual, intellectual, and physical needs of the students.

Entrance Requirements in Music

All incoming freshman and transfer music students must formally audition for admission into the Department of Music. Audition dates are posted on the DBU Department of Music website (www.dbu.edu/fine_arts/event_calendar.html). Prospective music students should call the College of Fine Arts Office at 214-333-5316 to secure an audition time. Upon request, printed materials outlining the acceptance process are available to help each student prepare for the audition. This audition will also serve as a scholarship audition for the student seeking financial aid. The student will be notified in writing of his/her acceptance into the Department of Music, which will be contingent upon acceptance to the University.

Music Theory Placement Exam (M.T.P.E.)

All entering freshman music majors/minors, transfer students, and students pursuing the BBA in Music Business must take an examination called the Music Theory Placement Exam (M.T.P.E.) before registering for theory, aural skills, piano, and private music lessons. The M.T.P.E. will be administered as part of the admission audition. The test is used by the faculty to determine the course of study most conducive to the student's present level of understanding. Any student who does not pass the basic written, eartraining, and sight-singing skills included in the placement exam will be required to enroll in MUSI 1300 (Fundamentals of Music). No freshman will be permitted to enroll in any music theory course other than MUSI 1300 until having completed this exam. The student who passes the placement exam will be allowed to enroll in Theory I (MUSI 1311), Introduction to Aural Skills (MUSI 1100), and Aural Skills I (MUSI 1111). Transfer students who are not able to pass the M.T.P.E. may be required to take appropriate remedial theory courses.

Piano Placement Tests

All entering freshman and transfer music majors and minors must meet with the Program Director of the keyboard division to determine the appropriate piano level assignment. Results of the Music Theory Placement Exam will be considered in addition to a final piano placement decision.

All non-keyboard music majors must fulfill piano proficiency requirements as designated in their specific degree plans. These levels are based on cumulative skills development which should be completed prior to the junior year. Students must continue to enroll for applied piano instruction until this requirement is met.

Applied Music and Achievement Tests

At the end of four semesters of study, each student majoring in music will be advised as to their progress through a faculty sophomore review. All music students taking applied music for course credit must take an achievement test (Jury Examination) at the conclusion of each semester of study. Vocal Performance and Piano Performance majors and concentrations must pass a division barrier examination at the conclusion of the sophomore year of study. The student may not advance to junior-level applied study without successfully completing this examination.

All music majors must pass a piano proficiency examination appropriate to the specific degree requirements. The student must continue to enroll in applied piano each semester until the proficiency requirements are met. A description of the level of achievement required is available to the student in the Department of Music Handbook or in the College of Fine Arts Office. The student pursuing the Bachelor of Music Education (BME) degree in Music Education (Choral) with Teacher Certification must successfully pass the piano proficiency examination before the student-teaching semester. All other music majors must pass the piano proficiency examination prior to the semester of graduation.

All music majors' academic progress will be monitored through the Sophomore Review at the conclusion of four semesters of study. The faculty will make recommendations and suggestions regarding the student's progress and future as a music major.

Transfer Credit in Music

Credit in music courses earned at accredited institutions is accepted for transfer, subject to the following provision:

- The minimum grade accepted for transfer is 2.0.
- Credit in applied music toward a major in performance is accepted only after a performance test to determine the actual accomplishment of the student in technique and repertoire is taken.
- Credit for Aural Skills (MUSI 1111, 1112, 2111, 2112), and Music Theory (MUSI 1311, 1312, 2311, 2312), Introduction to Music Literature and Fine Arts (MUSI 2305), and Music History and Literature (MUSI 3204, 3205, 3206) will be transferred only if each course has been completed with a minimum grade of 2.0. A placement test will be given to determine the DBU course(s) for which the student is prepared (e.g., a student wishing to transfer freshman theory will take a test to determine his/her readiness for sophomore theory).

Recitals and Seminar/Performance Lab

All music majors are required to have credit for eight (8) semesters of Seminar/Performance Lab (MUSI 1000 (S-L)/1001) in order to be certified for graduation; seven (7) semesters are required of the music education students due to the student-teaching semester. This course requires all music majors to attend $75 \%$ of all faculty, student, and guest designated recitals during each semester. All students taking applied music courses should expect to perform in Seminar/Performance Lab. Performance majors and students concentrating in voice, piano, and guitar are required to perform at least once during the course of each semester of study.

Individual recitals are required of all music majors in varying degrees of involvement. Performance majors in Voice or Piano are required to present a half-hour Junior Recital and a full-hour Senior Recital. Students majoring in Music Education with Teacher Certification (Choral) or Church Music are required to present a half-hour recital in the area of applied concentration. Students must be enrolled for a minimum of one semester hour of applied instruction in their performance area during the semester in which the recital is presented.

Theory/Composition majors are required to present a thirty-to forty-five minute recital during the senior year. The recital will consist of original compositions and arrangements by the student for a variety of voicings or instruments. The prerequisites for this recital are completion of MUSI 4240.

Applied Music

Private lessons are offered in voice, piano, composition, organ, guitar, and brass instruments. One (1) semester hour is given for one half-hour of private instruction each week. Two (2) semester hours are given for one hour of private instruction each week.

Music Ensembles

Creative involvement in musical ensembles is available to all qualified students. Any student who meets audition requirements may participate in a musical organization. Music majors must enroll in at least one major ensemble appropriate to their applied music concentration and/or area of teaching certification every semester until graduation, regardless of the number of ensemble credits accumulated. Students in music education must follow this policy with the exception of the student-teaching semester. Performing ensembles include the University Concert Chorale, DBU Grand Chorus, Legacy, University Ringers, Music Theater Practicum, and Opera Theater.

Music Scholarships

In addition to the financial aid programs administered by the University, numerous music scholarships are available. Qualifications are established primarily on the basis of performing ability and academic record and are awarded by audition or competition. Scholarships are awarded for one academic year. Renewal is not automatic and is subject to the regulations stated in the music scholarship agreement signed by the student. For further information regarding music entrance/ scholarship auditions please contact the College of Fine Arts office 214-333-5316, or see the DBU Department of Music website.

Music Business

The Business of Music . . .

At first, "Music Business" seems like a contradiction of terms. But the truth is, the success of any professional musical venturewhether commercial or classical-involves business. And it also involves a lot of people, doing a lot of different things. A musical concert, for example, requires a promotion team, an agent, a manager and stage crew (including lights and sound) before the first note of music is played. Similarly, a single CD represents the work not only of the artist and supporting musicians, but also studio engineers, producers, technicians, visual and graphic artists, photographers, lawyers, marketing strategists, distributors, retailers and the list goes on.

Great career potential . .

Yes, the commercial music industry offers an impressive diversity of career opportunities. And the Industry's continuing expansion and increasing complexity has created the need for a new professional-one who understands not only music but also administration, accounting, marketing, entrepreneurship and law.

To prepare students looking for a career in today's music business, the DBU College of Fine Arts and the College of Business have joined forces to create specialized degrees in music business at DBU. In addition to general studies requirements, each degree features studies in music, general business, and specific aspects of the music industry. A solid foundation for a successful career.

And that's not all...
The Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex commands national attention in the entertainment business. In addition to both television production and state-of-the-art recording studios, booking agents, concert promoters, commercial production houses and major performance venues are located in the area. Because of DBU's close proximity to the DFW music industry, our degrees in music business offer students the opportunity of actually working in the industry. During the senior year, music business majors may apply for an internship with a local business that matches their area of interest. It's a distinct advantage.

For more information on the music business programs at DBU, contact Dr. Terry Fansler, director of music business studies at 214-333-5316.

Minor in Music Business

A minor in Music Business combines a comprehensive examination of the commercial Music Industry and the basic elements of business to provide the student with integrated study in the continually expanding and complex field of Music Business.

The Music Business minor explores:

- the business practices, procedures, technologies and career opportunities within the commercial Music Industry
- the history of both Western music and Commercial (popular) music
- the development and inner workings of the recording industry
- the fundamental concepts and principles of economics, accounting and marketing
- the management of a successful freelance career in the music business

The Music Business minor is designed to complement and enhance a variety of academic majors and offers the student a field of study that is marketable, diverse, exciting and fun!

College of Humanities and Social Sciences

Believing that the basis of a quality higher education in the liberal arts relies upon a solid foundation in the humanities and social sciences, the College of Humanities and Social Sciences offers courses that provide all university students, regardless of major, a broad foundation in the traditional liberal arts. Encompassing a variety of courses in a core curriculum of General Studies requirements, this foundation includes English, history, political science, psychology, and sociology. For students pursuing a Bachelor of Arts degree, basic courses in foreign languages are also provided. The college enhances students' educational experiences through this General Studies curriculum and through additional elective credit. The college offers majors leading to either a Bachelor of Arts degree or a Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice, interdisciplinary studies, history, political science, psychology, and sociology, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in English. Minors are also offered in all these areas except for interdisciplinary studies. A minor in Spanish is also offered for faculty-approved students. Courses in Chinese and French are also offered.

Mission Statement

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences, believing that both faith and learning are lifelong experiences, strives to expose students to the contents and methods of the humanities and social sciences while developing the patterns of academic excellence and scholarship representative of a commitment to the perpetual experience of education. Because the college is committed to the integration of faith and learning, the studies provided in the humanities and social sciences encourage students to understand, to analyze, and to participate in the interaction between faith and the disciplines. Such learning should equip students to become effective servant leaders who understand the essential connection between personal faith and lifelong learning and service.

Goals of the College

- Learners in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will demonstrate skills in analysis and critical thinking.
- Learners in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will demonstrate servant leadership through involvement in internships and service-learning projects in each of their majors.
- Learners in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will demonstrate the ability to integrate faith and learning by testing the creative insights gained through studies in the humanities and social sciences against the standards of divine truth exemplified in the text of the Bible and as represented by historic Christian doctrine.
- Learners in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will discover servant leadership and exemplify the character of Christ through excellence in student-teacher relationships.
- Learners in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences will demonstrate knowledge of the U.S. Constitution, American Government, and the requirements of city government in the United States.

Criminal Justice

The purpose of Dallas Baptist University is to provide Christ-centered quality higher education in the arts, sciences, and professional studies at both the undergraduate and graduate levels to traditional age and adult students in order to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings.

Criminal Justice is the study of crime and of the agencies concerned with its prevention and control. We, as a Christ-centered educational institution, are dedicated to integrating faith and learning with professional knowledge and skills. Students will be trained to enforce the law not only on a fair and just basis, but also under the guidance of Biblical standards and in the scope of God's love,

Goals of the Criminal Justice Major

- Provide students with knowledge of the general scope of crime in America and of the criminal justice system.
- Prepare students for their careers in areas of law enforcement, the judicial system, corrections, homeland and organizational security, social services, and juvenile justice or preparation for competition at the graduate level or law school.
- Instruct students in the societal standards of ethics along with divine truth and Christian doctrines and how these principles apply to the enforcement of law in practice.
- Have in-service Christian instructors to provide a variety of disciplines, cases, and experiences as a reference, so that students may successfully cultivate Christ-centered servant leadership in their careers of protection and service.
- Recruit Christian students with a vision and burden to enter this field. Also, recruit qualified in-service officers for our program to be trained as criminal justice agents who are Christ-centered with a servant attitude.

English

The Department of English embraces the integration of faith and learning as a life-long experience. The department strives to equip students who major or minor in English and those who take English classes as a general studies requirement with essential knowledge and skills in language, literature, and communication.

Goals of the English Major

The Department of English desires to give its learners competencies in English studies and strives to produce graduates with the ability to apply these competencies in their chosen careers. It also strives to produce graduates who integrate their own personal faith with these competencies. The following list delineates the traits we hope our students will demonstrate:

- Students will demonstrate an understanding of humanity and culture through critical reading and response to literary texts.
- Students will possess the ability to write proficiently using a variety of approaches and rhetorical devices.
- Students will demonstrate skills in literary interpretation.
- Students will conduct and document scholarly research.
- Students will understand the application of a Christian world view to the study of literature.

History

The mission of DBU's history program is to foster in students the understanding of the events and eras in history from the perspective of a Christian worldview, and for students to realize their responsibilities as citizens. Courses in history emphasize critical thinking through the examination of significant historical literature and practical techniques of research, writing, and criticism.

Goals of the History Major

- Students will possess a strong contextual structure through which they can understand the flow of American and world history, including a knowledge of significant dates.
- Students will demonstrate an understanding of cultures, societies, and major reform movements in American and world history.
- Students will exhibit an understanding of the political institutions and military conflicts in American and world history.
- Students will be familiar with significant individuals in American and world history.
- Students will be proficient with the tools and knowledge needed to be successful in undergraduate historical research, as well as in preparation for future graduate studies.
- Students will understand a Christian world view perspective in the study of history.

Interdisciplinary Studies

A major in Interdisciplinary Studies allows a student and a faculty advisor to design a program from a range of possible courses. Interdisciplinary Studies majors may be pursued within the requirements of either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degrees. Interdisciplinary Studies requirements (1000-2000 level courses) must be met in each degree as well as the "Minimum Requirements for the Bachelor's Degree" as stated elsewhere in this catalog. An Interdisciplinary Studies major is not applicable to the Bachelor of Business Administration or Bachelor of Music degrees.

Political Science

The purpose of Dallas Baptist University's political science program is to foster an appreciation for the study of government and politics and to encourage students to become informed and concerned participants in a democratic society. To achieve this purpose, the program offers a broad introduction to political institutions, processes, and behavior. In doing so, the program seeks to produce servant leaders who have the ability to integrate faith and learning through their respective callings.

Goals of the Political Science Major

- Expose students to foundational courses in American national government and state and local government.
- Offer a variety of upper-level courses in the areas of American government, comparative governments, international relations, political theory, constitutional law, and public administration.
- Provide a broad liberal arts background for those students intending to enter public service, to attend law school, or to pursue graduate study.
- Encourage students to take advantage of practical learning opportunities through internship programs.

Pre-Law Program Most law schools have no specific requirements for the pre-law curriculum. A broad liberal arts background, however, is recommended. Emphasis is placed upon courses from diverse fields, which may help a student develop specific skills necessary for the successful practice of law. While no particular major is specified, the following courses are strongly recommended by many law schools: accounting, economics, finance, history, political science, psychology, English, oral communications, and philosophy. Students should consult the pre-law advisor for assistance in planning their pre-law course of study.

Psychology

In accordance with the DBU mission statement, the undergraduate psychology discipline seeks to provide Christ-centered quality higher education in the field of psychology and to encourage students to integrate the subject matter of psychology with the teachings of Christianity.

A major in psychology provides the student with an overview of the field of psychology and an in-depth study of selected areas and subjects in this multi-faceted discipline. The psychology curriculum features courses in both counseling and in more technical or research-oriented subjects. While the integration of psychology and Christianity is a vital concern in each class, a whole course also is devoted to this issue. Graduates with a major in psychology are equipped for entry-level positions in business, education, industry, the mental health field, and other areas where a psychology background is either required or enhances the individual's qualifications for employment. They also are prepared for graduate work in psychology or counseling which can lead to professional careers in those fields.

Goals of the Psychology Major

- Students will have an in-depth understanding of the nature and functioning of the human being from the viewpoint of psychological research and literature.
- Students will have an understanding of psychology and its application to addressing problems and improving the human situation.
- Students will be able to integrate the principles of psychology with those of Christianity.
- Students will be prepared for entry-level positions in careers related to the field of psychology and/or for graduate work in the fields of psychology and counseling.

Minimum GPA Required for Graduation from Dallas Baptist University

DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
DBU also offers an Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program (B.A./B.S. in Psychology/M.A. in Counseling) for qualifying undergraduate students. For degree plan requirements, refer to the Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs section in this catalog.
(S-L) $=$ Course(s) with field-based service-learning component.

Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC): Aerospace Studies (Air Force ROTC)

Dallas Baptist University offers Air Force ROTC through a cross-enrollment agreement with Texas Christian University. What this means is that you register for Air Force ROTC just like you do for the rest of your classes at DBU, you pay your tuition at DBU, and your DBU transcript will show those classes, but you will attend classes at Texas Christian University or in accordance with your schedule.

Aerospace Studies

The U.S. Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps (AFROTC) provides women and men at Texas Christian University, Texas Wesleyan University, Dallas Baptist University, University of Texas at Arlington, Weatherford College, and Tarrant County College the education and training necessary to develop the management and leadership skills vital to professional Air Force officers.

Enrollment in the General Military Course (first two years) is voluntary for eligible students and does not obligate non-scholarship students for further military service. The Professional Officer Course (last two years) is also voluntary but competitive. Because the Professional Officer Course leads to a commission in the U.S. Air Force, those selected to continue training in the POC will incur military obligation.

Aerospace studies courses are taken concurrently with other degree programs. No degree is offered in aerospace studies, but up to 24 semester hours may be earned in aerospace studies over the four-year period. Some of the classes may be used to meet major elective requirements; students should see their academic adviser for confirmation. Students who enroll in aerospace studies classes must attend both classroom and leadership laboratory classes at TCU. The laboratory classes give students first-hand experience in developing leadership and organizational skills while preparing them for enrollment in the Professional Officer Course.

Aerospace Studies Program Requirements

Four-Year Program (that can be completed in as little as three years)
This program enables students to take advantage of four years of Aerospace Studies courses. Each semester, for the first two years, cadets take a one-credit hour academic class and a one-credit hour Pass/No-Credit Leadership Laboratory (LLAB). The first two years collectively are referred to as the General Military Course (GMC). Upon successful completion of the GMC, cadets are selected for continuation in the program will attend a paid, four-week, field training course. After completing field training, cadets enroll in the final two years, referred to as the Professional Officer Course (POC). Each semester in the POC, students take a threecredit hour academic class and a one-credit hour Pass/No-Credit LLAB. AFROTC uniforms and textbooks are issued by the unit for all GMC and POC cadets.

More detailed information about the Air Force ROTC Program is available through the Department of Aerospace Studies. The department is located in office 247 of the Rickel Academic Wing. Please visit www.afrotc.tcu.edu or call 817.257 .7461 with any questions.

Aerospace Studies General Qualifications

Please call 817.257.7461 or visit www.afrotc.tcu.edu for up-to-date entry requirements.

AFROTC Program Benefits

As Air Force ROTC cadets, students are entitled to selective benefits. Social and co-curricular activities, together with leadership and academic training, are all part of Air Force ROTC. All scholarship cadets and also non-scholarship POC cadets receive a nontaxable subsistence allowance each month during the school year. Drill team, honor guard and Arnold Air Honor Society are just a few social outlets for the cadets. Summer opportunities for cadets can include a paid visit to a military installation for two weeks, freefall parachuting, combat survival training, flight nurse shadowing and duty as a cadet training assistant at field training.

AFROTC Scholarships

Air Force ROTC offers scholarships that vary in length of award and amount based on academic major and applicant qualifications. All awarded scholarships pay a stipend for textbooks and fees, plus a monthly, nontaxable, stipend during the school year. Scholarship awards are based on specific academic majors related to the needs of the U.S. Air Force. The scholarship opportunities for in-college students are determined at the national level by Air Force ROTC Headquarters and are subsequently administered by the detachment/Department of Aerospace Studies. Scholarship applicants are selected using the whole-person concept, which includes objective factors (i.e., GPA, standardized test scores (SAT/ACT), and physical fitness test) and subjective factors (i.e., personal evaluations).
Because the scholarship program varies according to budget and needs of the Air Force, interested applicants should contact the Department of Aerospace Studies at 817.257.7461 or www.afrotc.tcu.edu for specifics.
High school students may apply for a four-year scholarship during their high school senior year. High school students who are offered an AFROTC scholarship to TCU may also qualify for a four-year TCU room and board grant. Those who receive a threeyear scholarship, in addition to the room and board grant, will likely be eligible for a one-year TCU tuition grant to make up for the "missing" year from their AFROTC scholarship. These TCU grants are in addition to the AFROTC scholarship are only available to scholarship recipients who attend TCU for their degree.

AFROTC Commissioning

Upon successful completion of the AFROTC Program and baccalaureate degree, a student is commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. In some instances, entry onto active duty can be delayed by students continuing in post-baccalaureate degree programs.

Aerospace Studies Courses

AEST 10001 - Leadership Lab

The Leadership Laboratory (LLAB) includes studying the culture of an Air Force officer and learning about opportunities available to commissioned officers. LLABs also include interviews, guidance, drill, customs & courtesies and other information aimed at increasing understanding, motivation, and performance as AF officer candidates. The AS 300 and AS 400 LLABs consist of activities classified as leadership and management experiences. They involve the planning and controlling of military activities of the cadet corps; and the preparation and presentation of briefings and other oral and written communications. (This course is only offered as P/NC.)

AEST 10211(fall)/10221(spring) - Foundation of the United States Air Force

A survey course designed to introduce students to the U.S. Air Force and Air Force ROTC. Featured topics include: mission and organization of the Air Force, officership and professionalism, military customs and courtesies, Air Force officer opportunities, group leadership problems, and an introduction to communication skills. In addition, Leadership Laboratory is mandatory for all Air Force ROTC cadets and complements this course by providing cadets with followership experiences. LLAB is only for cadets; it is not for special students (non-cadets) who are only attending AEST classes as electives (i.e. not pursuing a commission into the USAF).

AEST 20211(fall)/20221(spring) - The Evolution of USAF Air and Space Power

A survey course designed to examine general aspects of air and space power through a historical perspective. Utilizing this perspective, the course covers a time period from the first balloons and dirigibles to the space-age global positioning systems of the Persian Gulf War. Historical examples are provided to extrapolate the development of Air Force capabilities (competencies), and missions (functions) to demonstrate the evolution of what has become today's USAF air and space power. Furthermore, the course examines several fundamental truths associated with war in the third dimension: e.g. Principles of War and Tenets of Air and Space Power. As a whole, this course provides the student with a knowledge level understanding for the general element and employment of air and space power, from an institutional, doctrinal, and historical perspective. In addition, the students will continue to discuss the importance of the Air Force Core Values with the use of operational examples and historical Air Force leaders and will continue to develop their communication skills. In addition, Leadership Laboratory is mandatory for Air Force ROTC cadets (not special students), and complements this course by providing cadets with followership experiences.

AEST 30113(fall)/30123(spring) - Leadership Studies

Case studies are used to examine Air Force leadership and management situations as a means of demonstrating and exercising practical application of the concepts being studied. In addition, Leadership Laboratory is mandatory for Air Force ROTC cadets (not special students), and complements this course by providing advanced leadership experiences in officer-type activities, giving students the opportunity to apply the leadership and management principles of this course.

AEST 40113(fall)/40123(spring) - National Security Affairs/Preparation for Active Duty

Special topics of interest focus on the military as a profession, officership, military justice, civilian control of the military, preparation for active duty, and current issues affecting military professionalism. Within this structure, continued emphasis is given to refining communication skills. In addition, Leadership Laboratory is mandatory for Air Force ROTC cadets (not special students), and complements this course by providing advanced leadership experiences in officer-type activities, giving students the opportunity to apply the leadership and management principles of this course.

Military Science (Army ROTC)

MILS 0180 Leadership Laboratory

The study of time management skills, basic drill and ceremony, physical fitness, repelling, leadership reaction course, first aid, making presentations and marksmanship. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 leadership lab and mandatory participation in independent physical fitness training, plus optional participation in a weekend field training exercise.

MILS 1142 Introduction to Leadership

1 semester hour. Application of principles of leadership through participation in physically and mentally challenging exercises with upper division ROTC students. Course focuses on communication skills, organizational ethics, and study and time management techniques. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 leadership lab and mandatory participation in individual physical fitness training, plus optional participation in a weekend field training exercise.

MILS 2251 Individual/Team Military Tactics

2 semester hours. Introduction to individual and team aspects of military tactics in small unit operations. Includes use of radio communications, making safety assessments, movement techniques, planning for team safety/security, and pre-execution checks. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 leadership lab and mandatory participation in individual physical fitness training, plus optional participation in a weekend field training exercise.

MILS 2252 Individual/Team Military Tactics

2 hours credit. Introduction to individual and team aspects of military tactics in small unit operations. Includes use of radio communications, making safety assessments, movement techniques, planning for teach safety/security, and pre-execution checks. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 leadership lab and mandatory participation in individual physical fitness training, plus optional participation in a weekend field training exercise.

MILS 2291 Conference Course

2 semester hours. Independent study. Designed to supplement the military science curricula by a student's concentrated study in a narrower field of military skill or subject matter. May be repeated for credit. Does not count for PE credit.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 2343 Leadership Training Camp

3 hours credit. A rigorous five-week summer camp conducted at an Army post, stresses leadership, initiative and self-discipline. No military obligation incurred. Completion of MILS 2343 qualifies a student for entry into the Advanced Course. Three different cycles offered during the summer, but spaces are limited by the Army. Candidates can apply for a space any time during the school year prior to the summer. Open only to students who have not taken all four of MILS 1141, 1142, 2251, and 2252, and who pass an ROTC physical examination. P/F grade only.

MILS 3341 Leadership I

3 semester hours. Development of ability to evaluate situations, plan and organize training, learn military tactics, review case studies in leadership management, and develop teaching and briefing skills. Concurrent enrollment in Leadership Lab MILS 0180 mandatory. Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 3342 Leadership II

3 semester hours. Practical application of squad and platoon leadership in tactical situations; operation of small unit communications systems. Development of the leaders' ability to express themselves, analyze military problems, and prepare and deliver logical solutions. Demanding physical fitness training and performance-oriented instruction, in preparation for Summer Field Training. Concurrent enrollment in Leadership Lab MILS 0180 mandatory. Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 3443 Leadership Development Assessment Course

4 semester hours. A five-week off-campus field training course stressing the practical application of leadership management, with emphasis on tactical and technical military field skills. Open only to students who have successfully completed MILS 3341 and 3342, P/F grade only. Prerequisite: MILS 3341, MILS 3342.

MILS 3495 Nursing Advanced Summer Training

4 semester hours. Seven-week off-campus internship at a major U.S. Army hospital for ROTC nursing students. A nursing practicum with the focus on providing the student with hands-on experience which integrates clinical, interpersonal, and leadership knowledge and skills. Practical experience and familiarization with Army nursing in a variety of clinical tasks in the areas of medical-surgical nursing, pediatrics, obstetrics, and, in some cases, intensive care in ICUs. May be used for partial credit for NURS 3647 or NURS 3347 with prior arrangement and approval of the U.T.A. Dean of Nursing. Dallas Baptist University does not have a School of Nursing. Prerequisite: Completion of the junior year of a baccalaureate nursing program and permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 4341 Advanced Leadership I

3 semester hours. Stresses leadership qualities necessary for Command and Staff functions and operations. Plan and conduct meetings, briefings, and conferences. Introduction to the Army Logistical System and the Personnel Management System.
Preparation of after-action reports. Plan and conduct physical training programs. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 mandatory. Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 4342 Advanced Leadership II

3 semester hours. Provides students with a basic working knowledge of the Military Justice System with emphasis on company-level actions and requirements, including Law of Land Warfare. Examines the ethical standards, professional roles, responsibilities, and uniqueness of the profession of officership. Concurrent enrollment in MILS 0180 mandatory.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

MILS 4391 Conference Course

3 semester hours. Independent study on an individual basis on current topics in military science. Performance will be assessed by oral examination, written test, or research paper as arranged. May be repeated for credit.
Prerequisite: Permission of the Professor of Military Science.

Sociology

The sociology major equips students for entry-level positions in the field of human services, for example: child and family services, social work, and Christian ministry where a background in sociology is either required or enhances the individual's qualifications for employment. Courses in sociology emphasize the dynamics of contemporary social life as these impact individuals, families, and society at-large in a culturally diverse and global environment. Students apply written and verbal communication skills, as well as research methods in problem solving, within a social science context.

In the development of the sociology program, the focus has been to enable the student to understand and predict human behavior and social phenomena within the context of a Christian worldview. The sociology major equips students for entry-level positions in the helping professions: for example, child and family services, social work, public policy, and Christian ministry where a background in sociology is either required or enhances the individual's qualifications for employment.

Students apply written and verbal communication skills, as well as research methods in problem solving, equipping them for a wide range of careers as well as graduate programs including sociology, law, urban planning and administration, social work, counseling, Christian ministries, and business. Courses in sociology emphasize the dynamics of contemporary social life as these affect individuals, families, and society at-large in a culturally diverse and global environment.

Goals of the Sociology Major

- Students will demonstrate a basic understanding and global perspective of human interaction, social group relationships, and societal systems based on sociological research and literature.
- Students will be able to think with a sociological imagination, having enhanced awareness of other cultural and socioeconomic perspectives.
- Students will be prepared for entry-level positions in careers related to the field of sociology and/or for graduate work in their respective callings.
- Students will incorporate a Christian worldview and demonstrate servant leadership through involvement in internships and service- learning projects.

Modern Languages - Chinese/French/Spanish

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences offers courses in Chinese, French, and Spanish. These courses have three basic objectives:
(1) to develop competence in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing modern languages other than English,
(2) to cultivate an appreciation for the culture and civilization of the people whose language is being studied, and
(3) to provide guidance for students who are preparing for careers in various language fields.

Advanced placement with academic credit will be granted to superior students satisfactorily completing the CEEB Advance Placement Examination in the 2000 level and above. Foreign students whose native language is not English may choose to take 12 additional hours in English in lieu of the regular foreign language requirement. Students who have had two or more years of Spanish in high school may apply for either AP credit for AP courses taken in high school, take the Spanish CLEP test for beginning Spanish, or take the SPAT [the Spanish Advising Tool] administered by the Spanish instructor.

College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics

Mission Statement

The College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics is committed to the goals of faith and learning: faith in order to provide a spiritual foundation that harmonizes work and quality of life; learning to develop a lifelong pattern of scholarship and application of knowledge in a constantly changing technological society; faith and learning to enhance service-learning for all majors in the college.

The requirements for any of the offered majors (biology, cell biology, computer information science, computer science, environmental science, macrobiology, mathematics, natural sciences) are appropriate for students to enter into industry, teaching, or to do graduate work in their major area of study. The college also provides the pre-professional courses necessary for entrance into professional schools in dentistry, nursing, medicine, occupational therapy, optometry, pharmacy, physical therapy, physician's assistant, and podiatry.

Goals of the College

The college is committed to the education of learners of all ages to enable them to function successfully in the academic programs of the college or in other respective majors for which general studies support courses are required.

- All general studies students enrolled in the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics will be able to demonstrate an acceptable level of mastery in their respective course(s) and social and intellectual competencies required for broadbased effective performance in their chosen majors.
- All graduates of the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics will receive an education at Dallas Baptist University which makes them competitive with peers with similar degrees from other comparable major programs in biology, cell biology, macrobiology, mathematics, computer science, computer information science, natural sciences, and environmental science.
- The faculty in the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics will demonstrate excellence in teaching and meaningful participation in professional, scholarly, and service activities.
- The faculty and staff of the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics will effectively satisfy the general studies program and service needs of all our students.

Biology

Course offerings in the biology curriculum are designed to: (1) provide pre-professional training for students planning careers in the biological sciences, dentistry, medicine, nursing, and other health sciences, (2) prepare students for teaching biology or science in the elementary or secondary school, and (3) provide the basic foundation for graduate study in biology.

Mission Statement
The biology program at Dallas Baptist University is designed to produce knowledgeable individuals who have an understanding of the basic biological tenets of God's creation. The academic information is presented in a Christian context to enhance the students' ability to become responsible, caring citizens in society.

Goals of the Biology Major

The biology program seeks to meet the following goals to provide courses with content appropriate to forming a strong foundation in biology:

- To meet the needs of students who are preparing for vocations in the health field and environmental science.
- To provide an adequate foundation for students intending to continue in graduate work in biology.
- To meet the needs of those preparing for a teaching career with biology as a teaching field.
- To provide skills needed by those students who elect biology as a major in order to prepare for employment in a biologically related field.
- To graduate students from the program who are well prepared and who reflect the proficiencies of the field.
- To enable students to make wise ethical and moral decisions concerning issues that affect humans and their environment.

Cell Biology

A Bachelor of Science in Cell Biology from Dallas Baptist University prepares students desiring to pursue graduate work in natural sciences, medicine, or employment in entry-level positions in biotechnology or applied science. Pursuit of a Cell Biology major will provide students with the fundamental concepts associated with recent and emerging technological advancements in cell and molecular biology of organisms.

Mission Statement

The biology program at Dallas Baptist University is designed to produce knowledgeable individuals who have an understanding of the basic biological tenets of God's creation. The academic information is presented in a Christian context to enhance the students' ability to become responsible, caring citizens in society.

Goals of the Cell Biology Major

A cell biology major seeks to meet the following goals:

- To understand underlying principles of the cell and how they apply to medicine and biotechnology.
- Provide an understanding of how mechanisms of the cell relate to emerging and recent technologies.
- Prepare students interested in pursuing medicine, graduate work, or biotechnology.
- To enable students to make wise ethical and moral decisions concerning issues that affect humans and their environment.
- To provide students with opportunities to apply academic experiences within the community.

Computer Information Science

The mission and goals of the Computer Science Department are stated in the Computer Science major. The Computer Information Science major provides computer training that can be utilized in many fields of employment. The major is structured in such a way that the student can easily earn a second major and thereby apply the computer expertise in another field of choice. Computer Information Science requires 34 core credits plus a 12-credit upper-level concentration in any applied field approved by the Dean of the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, such as business, computer security, education, or mathematics.

Computer Science

The Computer Science discipline provides opportunities for students in all majors to learn necessary computer skills to be able to function in the world of today as servant leaders.

Mission Statement

The mission statement for the Computer Science Department reflects the DBU mission statement in its goal to produce servant leaders. The Computer Science Department of Dallas Baptist University is committed to providing a high-quality education that stresses excellence in work performance, scholarship, ethical application of knowledge, and logical and practical skills for dealing with a society that is dependent upon constantly changing computer-related technology. This will be accomplished within a Christian environment that provides a spiritual foundation.

Goals of the Computer Science Major

The computer science program seeks to:

- Conform to the Association of Computing Machinery (ACM) current academic guidelines.
- Establish a working relationship with local businesses.
- Provide opportunities for student research.
- Provide internship opportunities.
- Provide up-to-date equipment and software for hands-on learning.
- Provide an opportunity for charitable computer work.
- Provide a diversity of computer platforms.
- Sponsor an on-campus computer club.

The computer science major prepares students for careers in which the computer plays a central role. A major in computer science requires a minimum of 40 semester hours in computer science plus a 12-credit-hour (upper-level) concentration in any approved applied field such as business, computer security, education, or mathematics. More than the minimum requirements in computer science will be necessary for students wishing to pursue graduate work in a related field. All computer science majors are required to take MATH 2309, 3302, and PHYS 1401, 1402.

Students who choose to have a mathematics concentration are encouraged to consult their advisor regarding a double major in computer science and mathematics.

Expected Educational Results

- Majority of students demonstrate proficiency by passing the GRE Computer Specialization Test.
- Employment for graduates in computer-related careers.
- Graduates pursuing advanced degrees.

Environmental Science

Environmental Science Program

The DBU Environmental Science Program, leading to a Bachelor of Science degree, includes a range of courses which prepare graduates for a career in environmentally related problem-solving vocations. This is a science degree providing a systematic study of God's created environment. It includes courses in math, chemistry, physics, biology, air, soils and water pollution to provide an overall understanding of the many factors which lead to environmental issues and their solutions. Since most environmental issues deal with human activities, study of economics, Christian ethics, law and social sciences will be covered in conjunction with the required science topics.

Environmental Science Mission Statement

The Department of Environmental Science will provide an academically enriched environment in order to partner with the students in their intellectual and spiritual development to acquire a sense of personal responsibility for their success in academics and in Christian stewardship of sustainable environmental systems throughout God's creation. The Department will identify ongoing emerging Environmental Science knowledge, principles, and applications to prepare scientific scholars grounded in spiritual principles and who are thus able to excel and serve in their chosen field.

Goals of the Environmental Science Major

The DBU Environmental Science degree includes a range of courses which prepare graduates for a career in environmentally related problem-solving fields.

- To meet the needs of students who are preparing for vocations in the Environmental Science field.
- To provide an adequate foundation for students intending to do graduate work in Environmental Science and related academic fields.
- To enable students to make wise and ethical moral decisions in a Christian context concerning issues that affect humans and their environment.

Minor in Environmental Science

For a minor in Environmental Science, the following courses are required:
BIOL 1405, BIOL 1406, CHEM 1401, CHEM 1402, MATH 1303, ENSC 1401, ENSC 2305, ENSC 2306 and 6 additional upper level hours in ENSC.

Minimum GPA Required for Graduation from Dallas Baptist University
DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
$(S-L)=$ Course(s) with field-based service-learning component.

Macrobiology

A Bachelor of Science in Macrobiology from Dallas Baptist University prepares students desiring to pursue graduate work in natural sciences, medicine, or employment in entry-level positions in biotechnology or applied science. Pursuit of a macrobiology major will provide students with the fundamental concepts associated with the various phyla and research that involves the individual organism, the niche of the various organisms, and the genetic identity of the organisms.

Mission Statement

The biology program at Dallas Baptist University is designed to produce knowledgeable individuals who have an understanding of the basic biological tenets of God's creation. The academic information is presented in a Christian context to enhance the students' ability to become responsible, caring citizens in society.

Goals of the Macrobiology Major

A macrobiology major seeks to meet the following goals:

- To understand underlying principles of the cell and how they apply to the increasing complexity of the organism through tissues to total organism.
- To produce a graduate that understands the mechanisms of the ecosystem and the role that the organism plays within that balance.
- To produce a graduate who understands the current research involving various organisms and can actively participate in the research process as they develop a high level of critical thinking.
- The end product will be students interested in pursuing medicine, graduate work, or employment in the scientific arena, who are well prepared to handle the intellectual requirements of their chosen field.
- To enable students to make wise, ethical, and moral decisions concerning issues that affect humans and their environment.

Mathematics

The course offerings for the mathematics major provide a basic foundation for entry into careers requiring mathematical training, for teaching mathematics at the secondary level, or for graduate study in mathematics or related fields. The curriculum also provides courses which support study in computer science, business, the natural and social sciences, nursing and pre-medical studies, and teacher preparation.

Mission Statement

The mission of the DBU mathematics department is to provide a Christ-centered quality undergraduate mathematics major and to produce mathematically trained servant leaders who demonstrate an understanding of the fundamental concepts of pure and applied mathematics and the Christ-centered servant leadership required in the pursuit of their respective callings.

Goals of the Mathematics Program

The overall goals of the Mathematics Department for its majors are:

- To produce graduates who are satisfied with the quality of their academic experience.
- To produce graduates who demonstrate an understanding of the practical Christ-centered servant leadership required in the pursuit of their respective callings.
- To produce graduates who demonstrate an understanding of the fundamental concepts of pure and applied mathematics required in the pursuit of their respective callings.
- To produce graduates who are able to use appropriate technology to model and solve real world problems by applying theory and applications.
- To produce graduates who demonstrate the skills necessary to complete projects, work in teams, and make presentations.
- To produce graduates who demonstrate specific soft skills (such as problem solving, work ethic, and communication) in order to be effective servant leaders in the workplace.

Minor in Mathematics

The minor program in mathematics is available and serves to enhance the mathematical foundations of any major as well as forms the basis of a second teaching field in mathematics for secondary certification (Option II). The mathematics minor requires the completion of 21 hours of mathematics which include the following courses: MATH 1405, MATH 1406, MATH 2309, MATH 2407, MATH 3301 or MATH 3302, and MATH 3308.

Minimum GPA Required for Graduation from Dallas Baptist University

DBU requires a minimum institutional cumulative, major, and minor GPA of 2.0.
(S-L)=Course(s) with field-based service-learning component.

Natural Sciences

The course offerings in the Natural Sciences curriculum are designed to introduce students to a wide variety of science courses, including biology, chemistry, geology, and physics.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Natural Sciences Department at Dallas Baptist University is to produce knowledgeable individuals who understand and appreciate the field of science as it manifests the power of God through His natural laws, and who are equipped to share that knowledge. The academic information is presented in a Christian context to enhance the ability of the students to serve as servant leaders in their field.

Goals of the Natural Sciences Major

The students majoring in natural sciences should be able to:

* Process an understanding of the key science concepts in the four primary fields of science.
* Understand the interrelationships between the fields of science and the impact that these interrelationships have on society and the individual.
* Communicate their understanding both verbally and in written form in such a way that others gain an understanding as well.
* Appreciate the field of science as a manifestation of the power of God and His natural laws.

Physics

A minor program is available in physics. The minor program seeks to develop the student's knowledge concerning the fundamental laws of the universe: the structure of matter, the nature of energy, and the interaction of matter and energy.

| To minor in physics, a student must complete the following: |  |
| :--- | :--- |
| PHYS 1401 | General Physics I (Prerequisites: MATH 1303 and 1304) |

Pre-Dental and Pre-Medical Programs

The pre-dental and pre-medical programs are designed to prepare students for entrance to medical and dental schools. Qualified Dallas Baptist University students have been very successful in gaining admission to these schools. Students planning a career in medicine or dentistry should earn the bachelor's degree before beginning professional study. The student may major in any discipline, taking as electives the courses needed to meet entrance requirements of schools of dentistry and medicine. A sound liberal arts education is a common prerequisite for admission to professional schools.

The following courses meet the requirements for entrance to medical and dental schools in Texas:

| BIOL 4403 | Histology |

Students interested in entering the pre-dental or pre-medical program should confer with the pre-professional advisor as early as possible for assistance in planning schedules to meet the pre-professional requirements.

Nursing Program

Dallas Baptist University is committed to producing servant leaders who have the ability to impact the world of health care for Christ. Building on the excellence of our biology and pre-medical programs, DBU has established a Transfer Student Articulation Agreement with Baylor University Louise Herrington School of Nursing in Dallas.

The program provides DBU pre-nursing students with a clear path to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing. These students have the opportunity to complete their education from two respected institutions who both educate within a Christian environment, while training for God's call on their lives.

Through this special program, qualified pre-nursing students attend DBU to earn the first 70 hours of coursework before transferring to Baylor's School of Nursing to complete their Bachelor of Science in Nursing. DBU students may remain in DBU housing, while completing their degree in nursing at Baylor.

Additional Pre-professional Programs for the Health Professions

Additional pre-professional programs are available in pharmacy, physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician's assistant, optometry, and veterinary science.

Upon completion of the pre-professional course of study at Dallas Baptist University, the student is eligible to seek admission to a health professions school for completion of the professional degree. The student should consult the DBU pre-health sciences advisor for specific requirements for admission to these programs.

To learn more about any of the Pre-Professional Program, contact the College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics: 214.333.5303 or

College of Professional Studies

You're an adult. Working full time. Perhaps with children. Balancing many commitments. Though your life may be challenging, you want to get your bachelor's degree. That's why DBU created the College of Professional Studies over 40 years ago to meet the special demands of adult learners like you.

DBU is a comprehensive liberal arts university. Our commitment to Christ-centered scholarship uniquely blends academic learning with Biblical faith to enrich your educational experience while enhancing your spiritual development.

We've helped thousands of adult learners obtain a bachelor's degree. Now it's your turn to take those first steps toward realizing your career, life, and spiritual goals. We're ready to help you do it!

Professional Studies students start by taking the following course:

- PRST 3301: Lifelong Learning

This course lays the foundation for the adult degree program by enhancing academic study skills, examining the philosophy of Christian higher education, introducing critical thinking skills and the concept of servant leadership, and exploring nine major worldviews. PRST 3301 is taken by adult students during their first term of classes at DBU.

Inverted Degree Program

Have you completed at least 24 hours of technical or occupational studies in a specific concentration? Then the Inverted Degree Program may be for you.

If you previously specialized in a subject during your prior college years, you now must complete your remaining general studies and major core requirements.

As with all other adult students, as an Inverted Degree Program student, you will take PRST 3301: Lifelong Learning. The minimum requirement of $\mathbf{4 2}$ hours of upper-level credit is waived.

For further information please e-mail us: professional@dbu.edu.

Gaining Additional College Credit

You may earn college credit through two other methods:
Credit by Examination. College credit can be earned in specific subject areas through the satisfactory completion of College Level Examination Program exams and/or by satisfactory scores on tests administered by individual university departments. CLEP credits may be used to satisfy degree requirements but do not apply to the 25 -percent-credit-hour residency requirement.

Military or Corporate Training. Military or corporate training that has been recognized by the American Council of Education (ACE) is another avenue for earning college credit toward completion of an Professional Studies degree. Typically, ACE credits satisfy elective requirements, but do not apply to the 25 -percent-credit-hour residency requirement.

The Online Connection

DBU offers individual classes and fully accredited degree programs via the Internet. Using the latest technologies, students and faculty converse through discussion threads, e-mails, and group chat rooms to make our online classes dynamic and interactive. Discover our extensive selection of individual online courses and review our "start to finish" online degree programs. If you have the organizational skills and the self-discipline, our online courses are for you!

Weekend College

The Weekend College offers a viable opportunity for academic and professional development for those students who find it difficult to attend college in a traditional time frame. The Weekend College offers majors that can be completed entirely on the weekends (Friday nights and Saturdays). Specifically designed to fit the busy lifestyle of working adults, the Weekend College offers many outstanding features including:

- Some courses offered on an alternating weekend schedule.
- Some courses offered on four weekends during the semester.
- A full complement of student services.
- Undergraduate degrees with majors in Business Administration or Management.
- Master of Business Administration degree with a Management concentration.
- Professional education with a liberal arts foundation, building the knowledge, skills, and character needed for comprehensive success.
- The integration of Christian faith and quality education, preparing students to make a positive difference in today's global market.

Bachelor's Degree Program

The Weekend College offers the opportunity to complete fully a Bachelor of Business Studies degree with a major in Business Administration or Management. This bachelor's degree requires 120 semester hours with a minimum of 30 of the last 36 hours and a minimum of 30 hours in residence. DBU accepts an unlimited number of transfer hours from four-year colleges and universities and up to 66 hours from two-year institutions. Transfer hours must have a grade of " 2.0 " or better and be a college-level course from a regionally accredited institution.

Credit by Examination

College credit can be earned in specific subject areas by satisfactory completion of College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams and/or by satisfactory scores on tests administered by individual university departments. Students may receive credit for a maximum of 15 hours through the CLEP. Graduating seniors are not allowed to take CLEP exams during their final (graduating) semester.

Military/Corporate Training

Military or corporate training that has been recognized by the American Council of Education (ACE) is another avenue for earning college credit toward completion of an Professional Studies degree.

Getting Started

First Steps

1. Complete the admissions application form
2. Submit a non-refundable $$ 25$ admission application fee, made payable to DBU. The fee is waived if the online application for admission is submitted.
3. Write and submit a 250 -word essay (typewritten) explaining why you want to attend DBU.
4. Submit an official transcript from all colleges/universities previously attended.
5. If you have completed less than 30 hours of college credit, you must submit your official high school transcript including the official seal of the school or your official GED scores. If you are less than 25 years of age on the first day of classes and are transferring in less than 30 hours of previous college credit, you are required to submit ACT or SAT scores.

NOTE: Applicants must have a minimum grade point average of 2.5 on all previous college work or a score of 21 or higher on the ACT or 1020 or higher on the SAT.

Transferring Hours

At DBU, you can initially transfer an unlimited number of hours from regionally accredited four-year institutions, or up to 66 hours from regionally accredited two-year colleges. (No course with a grade of "D" or "F" will be accepted in transfer.) Please recognize that academic advising is unofficial until an official transcript evaluation form and official degree plan have been approved by the Registrar's Office. Additionally, other guidelines may apply.

Gaining Additional College Credit

Credit by Examination. College credit can be earned in specific subject areas through the satisfactory completion of College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams and/or by satisfactory scores on tests administered by individual university departments.

Military or Corporate Training. Military or corporate training that has been recognized by the American Council of Education (ACE) is another avenue for earning college credit toward completion of an Professional Studies degree.

Financial Aid

Many students take advantage of financial aid programs to make their educational goals a reality. Financial aid is available in two forms:

Gift Aid (does not have to be repaid)

Church matching gift programs and corporate reimbursement programs

Self Aid (must be repaid)

Credit financing, payment plans and student loans
The primary sources that provide loans to our students are the federal government, local lending institutions, and DBU through its payment plans. Financing your college education can be a challenge, but DBU is ready to help make it easier for you. Go to dbu.edu/financialaid to find out more about your options, or contact our financial aid specialists by e-mail at finaid@dbu.edu or at (214) 333-5363.

Graduation Requirements

- Complete a minimum of 120 credit hours
- Complete 30 hours in residence at DBU
- Complete 30 of your last 36 hours in residence at DBU
- Fulfill a minimum of 42 upper-level hours (waived for inverted degree students)
- Minimum of 2.0 in institutional cumulative GPA
- Complete a minimum of 12 residency hours in major ( 15 hours for Interdisciplinary Studies major)
- Minimum of 2.0 GPA in institutional major and institutional minor

Frequently Asked Questions About Professional Studies

What Professional Studies degrees are available?
The Professional Studies program at DBU leads to one of four baccalaureate degrees - Bachelor of Arts and Sciences (BAS), Bachelor of Business Studies (BBS), Bachelor of Arts (BA), or a Bachelor of Science (BS).

How many transfer hours will DBU accept from other colleges?
DBU will initially accept an unlimited number of hours in transfer from regionally accredited four-year institutions and up to 66 hours from regionally accredited two-year colleges. All classes must carry a grade of a "C" or higher and be college level courses.
Selected hours from non-accredited institutions or training programs may also be accepted as credit. Check with a College of Professional Studies academic counselor for more information.

What is the Inverted Degree Program?

Students who initially transfer at least 24 hours in a specific concentration in a technical, occupational, or academic field of study may qualify for the Inverted Program. The benefit of this program is the 42 -hour upper level requirement is waived.

How long will it take me to finish my degree at DBU?
At DBU, it's up to you! While you might typically take six or nine credit hours during a traditional semester (Fall, Spring, Summer), our condensed semester options enable you to schedule classes in a concurrent, overlapping, or linear fashion throughout the year. Talk with your academic counselor to determine the pace that's right for you.

Since I live far from DBU and often travel for my company, what are the alternatives to taking classes at DBU's main campus?
DBU North in Plano and DBU Hurst-Colleyville offer a full complement of student services and a wide variety of courses leading to bachelor and master's degrees. DBU also offers online courses. You can complete a bachelor's degree in several majors entirely over the Internet. Other alternatives to classroom time are CLEP tests and departmental examinations.

When and where can I go to get information?

DBU makes it easy for you to attend information sessions, schedule meetings with academic counselors, or complete registration at either the main campus, DBU North, and DBU Hurst-Colleyville.

- Full-Service Saturdays. Open from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on the second Saturday of each month.
- Online Transactions. Conduct enrollment, payment, and textbook ordering business via the Internet.

\section*{Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs}

The accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree programs at DBU provide a means for highly motivated individuals with clearly defined career goals to attain knowledge and skills from both undergraduate and master's degrees in a single accelerated process. Combining the degrees provides a faster track to graduation, proves to be more cost effective, and gives the student the opportunity to enter the workforce sooner with a competitive advantage.

\section*{Permission to Pursue an Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program}

\section*{B.A.S., B.B.A., B.A., or B.S. Program:}

Students wishing to enter an accelerated program should file a Statement of Commitment with their academic advisor. Permission to pursue the program will be considered based on the following criteria:
- Completion of 75 semester hours (see individual degree requirements) with a minimum overall GPA of 3.0 at the time of filing a Statement of Commitment. The 3.0 GPA criteria must be maintained to continue in the program.
- The Statement of Commitment must be approved and signed by both the undergraduate advisor and the Master's program director. At that time, a new degree plan must be completed, approved, and signed by both the undergraduate advisor and the Master's program director.
- At the completion of 90 semester hours (to include 12 institutional hours with a 3.0 GPA ) students must apply for admission to the Master's program. Students pursuing the B.B.A. Accounting/MBA Accounting must apply at the completion of 96 hours.
- Upon acceptance into the Master's program, students may take 5000 or 6000 level courses as prescribed by their degree plan.

\section*{B.B.S. in Management or B.B.S. in Business Administration Programs:}

Students wishing to enter an accelerated program should file a Statement of Commitment with their academic advisor. Permission to pursue the program will be considered based on the following criteria:
- A minimum overall Grade Point Average of 3.0, with a minimum Grade Point Average of 3.0 in the upper-level coursework comprising a major.
- Successful completion of PRST 3301.
- The Statement of Commitment must be approved and signed by both the student's undergraduate advisor and graduate program director. At that time, a new degree plan must be completed, approved, and signed by both the undergraduate advisor and the Master's program director.
- At the completion of 90 semester hours (including current enrollment and with at least 12 institutional hours with a 3.0 GPA), students must apply for admission to the Master's program.
- Upon acceptance into the Master's program, students may take 5000 or 6000 level courses as prescribed by their degree plan.

Note: Permission to pursue an accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program does not guarantee admission to the Master's program. All requirements for admission to the Master's program must be met. Students may not enroll in 5000 or 6000 level courses prior to admission to the Master's program.

\section*{Retention in and Graduation from the Program}

Students must fulfill the following conditions to continue enrollment and graduate from an accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program:
- Students must maintain an institutional GPA of 3.0 at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and at the undergraduate level, an institutional GPA of 3.0 in coursework comprising the major or in all teacher certification coursework.
- A minimum 3.0 GPA is required to graduate with a master's degree.
- Students must be advised by both their undergraduate advisor and their graduate program director/advisor prior to enrollment each semester.
- Transfer students must meet the residency requirement for the bachelor's degree of a minimum of 30 hours. Shared courses at the graduate level are considered to be part of the undergraduate residency requirement. They also apply toward the undergraduate requirements of 42 upper-level credit hours and 30 of the last 36 credit hours in residence at Dallas Baptist University.
- If the student decides not to complete the Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program, he/she must work with the undergraduate advisor in order to meet the degree requirements for the non-accelerated Bachelor's degree in order to graduate.

\begin{abstract}
The Bachelor of Arts Early Childhood - Grade 6 Generalist Certification and the Master of Education in Reading and English as a Second Language degree program (BA EC-6/MEDRE) is a 159 -hour program ( 167 hours if foreign language courses are needed). Graduates from the program will receive both a Bachelor of Arts and a Master of Education in Reading and English as Second Language. This non-thesis program is designed for those seeking initial teacher certification and enhanced expertise in the areas of teaching literacy and English as a second language. Once candidates have completed their initial teaching certification and required coursework in this degree, and if they have passed the appropriate state certification (TExES) tests, candidates will receive their EC-6 Generalist Certification and English as a Second Language Endorsement/Certification. After teachers graduating from this program have completed two years of teaching experience, and if they have passed the appropriate state certification (TExES) tests, they will also earn the Reading Specialist Certification and the Master Reading Teacher Certification.

Students will complete state requirements for initial teacher certification in the area of EC-6 Generalist. Students completing this program will learn and demonstrate how to serve as an effective literacy teacher and leader through synthesis and application of knowledge regarding the interrelated components of reading, writing, speaking, and listening across developmental stages of oral and written language. Degree candidates will also learn and demonstrate sufficient theoretical and experiential knowledge for serving as an ethical and effective teacher, advocate, and leader for culturally and linguistically diverse students.

Students completing this Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's degree program will take the following courses at the graduate level as substitutes for their undergraduate cross-listed course requirements, thereby requiring 27 instead of the regular 36 graduate hours for the program beyond the regular undergraduate degree requirements.

\section*{Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program:}

\section*{B.A./B.S. Early Childhood-Grade 6 Generalist Certification/MED in Special Education}

The Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Early Childhood Grade 6 Generalist Certification and the Master of Education in Special Education degree program (BA/BS EC-6/MEDSE) is a 165 -hour program (B.A.) ( 173 hours if foreign language courses are needed) or 159 -hour program (B.S.). Graduates from the program will receive both a Bachelor of Arts and a Master of Education in Special Education or Bachelor of Science and Master of Education in Special Education. This non-thesis program is designed for those seeking initial teacher certification and enhanced expertise in the area of special education.

The MED in Special Education prepares the knowledge, understanding, and abilities in the field of special education K-12, providing the framework for effective communication and partnership, personnel management, assessment instruction, and compliance with federal and state regulations. Once candidates have completed their initial teaching certification and required coursework in this degree, and if they have passed the appropriate state certification (TExES) tests, candidates are eligible to take the Special Education TExES for/Certification.

\section*{B.A. in Biblical Studies (Applied Ministry)/M.A. in Children's Ministry}

The B.A. in Biblical Studies (Applied Ministry)/M.A. in Children's Ministry is an accelerated bachelor's and master's degree program jointly sponsored by the Mary C. Crowley College of Christian Faith and the Graduate School of Ministry. The program is designed to prepare students to serve in a variety of church and church-related vocational contexts, church staff positions, para-church ministries, and denominational service. The accelerated degree will provide students a seamless interface between undergraduate and graduate degrees. Through Christ-centered, quality higher education, students will focus on the theological biblical, historical, and practical dimensions of Christian ministry for the \(21^{\text {st }}\) Century.

Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program:

B.A./B.S. in Christian Studies (Applied Ministry)/M.A. in Children’s Ministry

The Accelerated B.A./B.S. in Christian Studies/M.A. in Children's Ministry degree plan is designed to equip childhood ministers to understand the needs of children, explore the principles of best strategies in teaching and reaching children, and implement ministry that impacts not only the child, but the family. The program provides foundations in theological, educational, and practical programming for effective childhood ministry. It combines academic training and practical ministry application that focuses intentionally on the world children live in and the faith they need to follow Christ for the rest of their lives.

\section*{Master of Arts in Counseling/Master of Education in School Counseling Agreement Contract:}

Newly admitted students will meet with the Program Director, at which time the Master of Arts in Counseling/Master of Education in School Counseling Agreement Contract will be explained and discussed. By signing this agreement contract, new students are stating their willingness to be evaluated on nine characteristics deemed necessary for the development of an ethical and competent counselor. These characteristics are implied from the expectations of professional and personal competence and responsibility and are as follows: openness, flexibility, positiveness, cooperativeness, willingness to use and accept feedback, awareness of impact on others, ability to deal with conflict, ability to accept personal responsibility, and ability to express feelings effectively and appropriately. In addition, the student's signature on the contract expresses agreement to attend eight counseling sessions during the first two semesters in the M.A. in Counseling/M.Ed. in School Counseling programs. No student will be allowed to register for practicum until all sessions are complete.

\section*{Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's Degree Program: BBA in Accounting/MBA Accounting}

DBU offers an accelerated BBA/MBA accounting degree for qualifying undergraduate students. Graduates of this program will demonstrate competence in the foundational areas of business, possess the technical skills and knowledge in accounting, and meet the education requirements of the Texas State Board of Accountancy necessary to register for the CPA examination.

Students enrolled in the Accelerated Bachelor's and Master's BBA/MBA accounting degree program are required to complete a minimum of 150 credit hours. The BBA/MBA accounting major prepares students for careers as professional accountants in public practice. In addition to eleven common-core courses required of all BBA degree programs, which include 6 hours of principles level accounting courses, and seven common-core courses required of all MBA degree programs, accounting majors complete fourteen required upper-level accounting courses.

\section*{Retention in and Graduation from the Program}

Students must fulfill the following conditions to continue enrollment in the 5 -year BBA/MBA accounting major and graduate from the program:
* Students must maintain an overall institutional GPA of 3.0 and an institutional GPA of 3.0 in upper-level accounting coursework.
* Students must be advised by a full-time accounting professor before enrollment each semester.

\section*{Course Descriptions}

\section*{COURSE CODING AND NUMBERING SYSTEM}

A four-digit numbering system is used to identify courses. The first digit designates the level of the course.
1 = Freshman
2 = Sophomore
3 = Junior
4 = Senior
The second digit designates the number of credit hours the course offers. The third and fourth digits are specific course identification numbers used for each department's course listing.

To illustrate this system, consider a course numbered 3312 ; this means the course is of junior level, worth 3 credit hours, and is a course identified by the number " 12 ".

The three figures in parentheses after the number of each course indicate the number of credit hours for the course, the number of lecture hours each week, and the number of laboratory or activity hours each week, respectively. Example: (3-2-2) means 3 credit hours, 2 lecture hours, and 2 lab hours.

Cross-listed courses in other departments are listed in parentheses following the course title. Semester and/or years that courses are offered follow the course descriptions and are subject to change. Check with the specific department for changes. Certain departments of the University offer learning opportunities on an individual-student basis. These courses require approval of the department and are restricted to juniors and seniors.

3194-3694 Selected Topics
4194-4694 Selected Topics
Organized classes for specific program needs and student interest. Limited offering basis. May be repeated for credit when topic changes. Prerequisite: Instructor approval.

\section*{4190-4690 Research Problems}

The student will conduct an independent research project; selection of the project will be determined by student interest and instructor approval. Prerequisites: Senior standing, a minimum G.P.A. of 2.5, and majoring in the field of study.

Experimental courses may also be designed with a " 9 " as the third digit. These courses may be offered three times before they must be reviewed as a regular departmental offering.
*Dallas Baptist University is a participant in the Texas Common Course Numbering System that was designed to facilitate the transfer of lower-division academic courses between colleges and universities in Texas. Please refer to the listing at the end of this catalog of DBU courses that have been determined to be substantially equivalent to the common course shown beside it.

A study of the conceptual framework of accounting theory. The course focuses on analysis of recent pronouncements of the Financial Accounting Standards Board and investigation of potential theoretical problem areas in the application of accounting principles. Fall Hybrid. Prerequisite: ACCT 3302.

\section*{AIM Program}

AIM 10.501/10.502 Success in College
This course is an overview of the procedures, processes, skills and resources necessary for success in college. Material covered will include practical strategies related to time management, test taking, note taking, communication and critical thinking. Enrollment will be limited to students in the AIM Program. Requirements will include an individual weekly meeting with an assigned mentor. This course will be repeated for credit every semester a student is on academic probation or until a cumulative grade point average of 2.0 is reached. One-half (.5) credit hours.

\section*{Art}

\section*{ART 1301 (3-2-1) Design I}

An introduction to the vocabulary and principles of two-dimensional design: line, value, color, shape, form, and spatial devices in unified and varied organizations. Individual media exploration and creativity is encouraged through readings and design problems in the above areas. Field Trip Required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 1302 (3-2-1) Design II}

An introduction to the vocabulary and principles of three-dimensional design: mass, volume, plane, line, texture, and color in unified and varied organizations. Individual media exploration and creativity is encouraged through readings and design problems in the above areas. Lab fee. Field Trip required. Spring.

\section*{ART 1303 (3-2-1) Drawing I}

Drawing I is a studio course designed to improve the student's motor drawing ability and perceptual drawing skills, explore the potentials of drawing media, and to introduce the elements of art in the context of vocabulary and the drawing experience, with emphasis on black and white. Museum Field Trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 2303 (3-2-1) Drawing II}

Drawing II is a studio course designed to improve on the student's perceptual drawing skills to further explore the potentials of drawing media with experimentation in color, to develop original conceptual skills and visual thinking in the context of drawing, and to enhance knowledge of vocabulary, critiques, and historical and contemporary trends in drawing. Museum field trip required. Lab fee. Spring, Summer.
Prerequisite: ART 1303.

\section*{ART 2310 (3-2-1) Painting I}

Painting I is a studio course exploring the potentials of painting media with emphasis on color, composition, self expression, and vocabulary. Museum field trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 2311 (3-2-1) Sculpture I}

Introduction to sculpture. Introductory problems in sculpture, including analysis of form, theory, and technical processes, including exploration in different media. Museum field trip required. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 2313 (3-2-1) Crafts I}

Design and creation of art forms in various selected crafts media and techniques: weaving, jewelry, glass, paper, clay, painting, sculpture, or textiles. Emphasis is on craftsmanship, creativity, experimentation, and technique. Lab fee. Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 2314 (3-2-1) Photography I}
(COMA 2314)
An introduction to the use of the camera and basic vocabulary. Fundamentals of exposure, development and printing. Photographic composition, creativity, readings, and critiques are included. Students are expected to provide their own digital camera. Field trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 2318 (3-2-1) Basic Digital Design (S-L) (COMA 2318 (S-L))}

Fundamentals of digital design are covered utilizing standard graphic software applications for PC and Macintosh platforms. Proven methods of effective communication through typography, layout, and design are discussed. Computer lab projects include creative design and cost-effective production of camera-ready art for posters, newsletters, reports, and display advertising. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{ART 2319 (3-3-0) Art History Survey I}

Art History Survey I presents a chronological examination of Western painting, sculpture, architecture, and related visual arts from prehistoric times to the end of the Gothic Period. This course includes films, visuals, readings, study guides, and museum visits. Fall.

\section*{ART 2320 (3-3-0) Art History Survey II}

Art History Survey II presents a chronological examination of painting, sculpture, architecture, and related visual arts from the early Renaissance to the present. This course includes films, visuals, readings, study guides, and museum visits. Spring.

\section*{ART 3151 (1-1-0) Visual Art for Teaching}

A course that gives a more in-depth learning experience to prospective art teachers. This course emphasizes the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills and National Visual Art Standards. Periodically.

\section*{ART 3173 (1-1-0) Art Practicum}

A course in practical art experiences - either on campus or off campus, in the areas of travel study, publicity, graphic design, exhibit implementation, theatre arts, art galleries, museums, art tours, or specialized study. This can be taken for 1 hour (3173), 2 hours (3273), or 3 hours (3373). Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 3273 (2-2-0) Art Practicum}

A course in practical art experiences - either on campus or off campus, in the areas of travel study, publicity, graphic design, exhibit implementation, theatre arts, art galleries, museums, art tours, or specialized study. This can be taken for 1 hour (3173), 2 hours (3273), or 3 hours (3373). May be repeated if topics vary. Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 3303 (3-2-1) Drawing III}

Drawing III is a studio course in advanced drawing techniques to improve the student's drawing abilities, creativity, perceptual drawing skills, and individual expression. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 2303 or instructor approval.

\section*{ART 3310 (3-2-1) Painting II}

A further investigation of painting with emphasis on individual expression. Museum field trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 2310.

\section*{ART 3311 (3-2-1) Sculpture II}

Intermediate problems in sculpture, including analysis of form, theory, and technical processes. Basic construction techniques in selected materials will be explored. Museum field trip required. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 3313 (3-2-1) Crafts II}

A continuation of Crafts I with more individual opportunity for selection of materials and techniques. Emphasis is on personal style, experimentation, craftsmanship, and creativity. Lab fee. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: ART 2313.

\section*{ART 3314 (3-2-1) Photography II \\ (COMA 3314)}

Advanced photographic skills developed through photography projects enhanced by digital imaging software and techniques. Students will learn to apply a state of the art digital graphics program and selectively modify, enhance, and combine photographs to create images that communicate aesthetically and effectively. Students are expected to provide their own SLR camera. Students may use a digital camera, but it is not required, as negatives or photographs may be scanned. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: ART 2314.

\section*{ART 3316 (3-2-1) Media Graphics}
(COMA 3316)
Development of skills and concepts necessary to produce art works for use in the various media. Study and application of the basic materials, techniques, and vocabulary of the graphic and digital art field. Lab fee. Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 3317 (3-2-1) Contemporary Advertising}

\section*{(COMA 3317)}

Advanced study of basic visual communication design including typography, layout, illustration, graphic reproduction processes, rough art, finished art, camera ready art, and digital art applied to specific design projects. Lab fee. Periodically.

\section*{ART 3318 (3-2-1) Web Design \\ (COMA 3318)}

Web publishing techniques are covered utilizing web-authoring software for PC and Macintosh platforms. Proven methods of effective communication through typography, layout, and design are discussed including creative uses of digital illustrations and photography. Computer lab projects include creative design and cost-effective production of various types of web pages. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: ART 2318 (S-L) or COMA 3321.

\section*{ART 3319 (3-3-0) Visual Communication}
(COMA 3319)
Skills in interpreting the visual messages viewed in print and digital media are essential in our media saturated world today. This course focuses on the development of visual literacy by helping students develop skills to critically examine the visual messages used in a variety of channels that impact our communication. Students also learn the Adobe Creative Suite \(®\), including Illustrator®, Photoshop®, and InDesign®, the industry standard in graphic software. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: Graphic Design, Broadcast/Digital Media, or Art major.

\section*{ART 3321 (3-3-0) Graphic Design I}

\section*{(COMA 3321)}

This studio course emphasizes the solving of graphic communications problems as it specifically relates to identity design in print form. Students gain a strong working knowledge of current computer art and layout applications, such as Adobe InDesign® and lllustrator®, and apply it to viable design assignments. Logo, letterhead and poster design are a few of the formats explored. Students are also challenged with basic typographic and layout principles in conjunction with these projects. Fall. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 3319 Visual Communication.

\section*{ART 3322 (3-3-0) Graphic Design II}

\section*{(COMA 3322)}

In this studio course graphic design students continue their in-depth study of two-dimensional design principles as they apply it to formats such as package design and annual reports. An emphasis on preparing print documents for output or reproduction is emphasized. Students will also improve their skills with Adobe Photoshop® as they create artwork and page comps for Web sites and other digital media. Spring. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 3321 Graphic Design I.

\section*{ART 3325 (3-3-0) Lettering and Typography}

Students will learn to consider three major things as they design with type: the form, direct and secondary meanings, and graphic impact of a particular typeface. The subtle relationship of type and visuals in a design solution, and how type can be used creatively and expressively by itself. In addition, technical typographic principles such as line, letter and word spacing, type alignment, classifications and styles will be explored through historical studies and class projects. Spring. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 3321 Graphic Design I.

\section*{ART 3350 (3-3-0) Pedagogy of Art}

An introduction to the key aspects of art for grades K-8: art production, aesthetics, history, and criticism. Study of TEKS, vocabulary, elements, principles, philosophy of art, and creative growth of the child. Art activities for various levels and practical application in presenting a program of current art studies. Museum field trip required. Periodically.

\section*{ART 3373 (3-3-0) Art Practicum}

A course in practical art experiences - either on campus or off campus, in the areas of travel study, publicity, graphic design, exhibit implementation, theatre arts, art galleries and museums, art tours, or specialized study. This can be taken for 1 hour (3173), 2 hours (3273), or 3 hours (3373). Fall, Spring.

\section*{ART 4301 (3-3-0) Internship in Art (S-L)}

This course is designed to give the student actual field experiences in art. Through the professional cooperation of area art agencies, museums, galleries, and studios, the student will report to a place of employment for a minimum of 30 hours per credit hour selected agency over a 10-12-week period in order to receive "hands on" experience in a specific field of art. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring. May be repeated if internship placement varies. Prerequisites: Senior level in art and recommendation from the department chairperson.

\section*{ART 4303 (3-2-1) Drawing IV}

Drawing IV is to provide each student with specific drawing media experiences, original problem solving in terms of drawing media, and development of theme revolving around a specific idea or image. Composition will also be stressed. Critiques. Lab fee. Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 3303 or instructor approval.

\section*{ART 4304 (3-3-0) Aesthetics}

\section*{(PHIL 4304)}

An examination of the principles involved in the production, interpretation, and criticism of works of art, as well as basic principles of Christian aesthetic theory. Illustrative material from various artistic disciplines will be utilized. Spring, evennumbered years. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

ART 4306 (3-3-0) Visual Faith: The Arts in Worship
Application and study of religious themes in art: symbols, design, and color. Use of religious arts for worship, promotion, advertising, teaching, and publicity. Study of Christian values as related to art in history and contemporary society. Field trips required. Spring.

\section*{ART 4309 (3-2-1) Painting III}

Advanced creative painting. Emphasis is given to personal style and expression, content, and mastery of the media. Exploration of such issues as realism and abstraction, perception, the nature of art, and current trends in art making are encouraged. Critiques. Museum and/or gallery field trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 3310.

\section*{ART 4310 (3-2-1) Painting IV}

A continuation of Painting III (4309). Personal growth, painting style, and the development of an individual aesthetic is encouraged by experimentation and critiques. Museum and gallery field trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 4309.

\section*{ART 4311 (3-2-1) Sculpture III}

Advanced continuation of sculptural exploration in selected problems and materials. Analysis of form, theory, and technical processes. Museum field trip required. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: ART 3311.

\section*{ART 4313 (3-2-1) Crafts III}

Advanced craftsmanship, skill, and development of individual style in selected media. Lab fee. Fall, Spring.
Prerequisite: ART 3313.

\section*{ART 4314 (3-2-1) Crafts IV}

A continuation of advanced craftsmanship, skills, and development of individual style in selected media. Lab fee. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: ART 4313.

\section*{ART 4315 (3-2-1) Sculpture IV}

\section*{ART 4317 (3-3-0) Advertising and Visual Communication Practicum}

Practical application and direct experiential involvement in the field of commercial art. Involves scheduled seminars, projects, and work for commercial art firm(s) or non-profit agencies. Periodically. Prerequisite: ART 2318 (S-L) or 3318.

\section*{ART 4318 (3-3-0) History of Graphic Design I}

\section*{(COMA 4318)}

History of Graphic Design presents a chronological examination of western graphic design and covers each era of visual communication including early cave painting through the illuminated manuscripts, a Graphic Renaissance, the Industrial Revolution, the Modernist Era, and the Age of Information. This course includes films, visuals, readings, study guides, and museum visits. \($ 35\) fee. Required for Graphic Design major, elective for other majors. Fall.

\section*{ART 4319 (3-3-0) Modern Art}

Study of selected movements within \(19^{\text {th }}\) and \(20^{\text {th }}\) century art and culture. Field trips required to museum. Fall, Online.

\section*{ART 4320 (3-3-0) Special Topics in Art}

This course will offer students an opportunity to explore a cross-section of subjects focused on art history, studio art, or design. May be repeated for credit when content changes. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{ART 4321 (3-3-0) Advertising Design (S-L)}

\section*{(COMA 4321)}

This course engages the service-learning aspect of the Graphic Design concentration as students utilize their skills to aid a ministry, new or existing, by creating an entire identity campaign for them over the course of a semester. The campaign will include creating such promotional pieces as logos, newsletters, magazine ads, Yellow Page ads and brochures, to name a few. Each student will communicate and work with ministry directors in order to meet specific needs. This course contains a fieldbased service-learning component. Fall. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 3322 Graphic Design II.

\section*{ART 4327 (3-3-0) Color and Composition}

\section*{(COMA 4327)}

Color and Composition is a painting course that explores the potentials of painting in acrylics with emphasis on color, composition, expression, and technique as it relates to poster painting as it has been manifested over the past two centuries. The techniques of German 'plakatstil" or hard-edged "poster style" causes each student to break down the compositional surface of a painting so that eye flow is deliberate. The rule of thirds, balance, and visual hierarchy are also addressed. $35 lab fee. Summer.

\section*{ART 4328 (3-3-0) Illustration I}
(COMA 4328; MALA 5336)
Students in this course are introduced to the methods of illustration, old and new, through a limited survey of the history of American Illustration. Each student is required to choose an abridged classic manuscript supplied by the instructor and a total of three major illustrations must be completed for that story. A research notebook compiling the students' favorite illustrators will also be completed. Spring even-numbered years. Prerequisites: ART 1302 and ART 2303 or Graphic Design Major and ART 1303.

\section*{ART 4329 (3-3-0) Illustration II}

\section*{(COMA 4329; MALA 5337)}

Students in this course will continue to develop the style and formulaic approach explored in Illustration I. Traditional and digital methods of illustration are all options for this course. Various forms of illustration, including black and white, editorial, and children's book will be explored. For digital illustration, Adobe lllustrator and/or Photoshop will be utilized. A research notebook compiling the student's favorite illustrators will also be completed. Spring, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 4328 Illustration I. Lab Fee.

\section*{ART 4338 (3-3-0) History of Graphic Design II}

\section*{(COMA 4338)}

History of Graphic Design II presents a chronological examination of western graphic design and covers the modern era of visual communication from c. 1880 until present day; including Pictorial Modernism, the Bauhaus, the New York School, Corporate Identity, Postmodern Design and the Digital Revolution. This course includes films, visuals, reading, study guides, and museum visits. Spring.

\section*{ART 4341 (3-3-0) Business of Photography \\ (COMA 4341)}

An introduction to the business of photography. A study of professional photography practices and the various avenues within which a photographer can work. Includes photography on the web and how to have an online presence that is beneficial in the photography business. Studio lighting will be explored as well as the basics of how to get a business started. Fall.
Prerequisites: ART/COMA 2314 and ART/COMA 3314.

\section*{ART 4353 (3-3-0) Fine Arts in East Asia \\ (MUSI 4353)}

An overview of the visual and performing arts of East Asia. Field trips to art museums and cultural events will be required. Spring, Online.

\section*{ART 4380 (3-3-0) The Arts and the Creative Process (COMA 4380; MUSI 4380)}

Analysis of the visual and performing arts including the study of art critical thinking and creativity. The study will include perception, criticism, and factors which integrate, influence, and create the arts. Field trips are required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

Senior capstone course. Each student initiates a comprehensive exhibit of selected work in a solo exhibition. Final portfolio, exhibit, and résumé are required. This course focuses on personal philosophy, current art trends, and professional problems of artists. The student should select a work to be retained by the Department of Art for its permanent collection. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: Senior level in art and final semester.

BIOL 1001/1002/2001/2002/3001/3002/4001/4002 (0-1-0) Science Boot Camp: Development of Biology Scholars
The objective of this non-credit course is to engage the freshman biology student in a faculty-facilitated program. This course is designed to enhance the learning experience of all biology majors through the tools of online activities, faculty lectures/seminars, group activities, and service-learning opportunities. Within the discipline of biology and the objective of developing scientific scholars, a progressive range of topics will be covered, including: introduction to the scholastic community of University life, introduction to service-learning concept, individual learning styles assessment, study skills, and introduction to SURF Programs (Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships). The course is required for all freshman and transfer students majoring in Biology and Natural Sciences and students in a pre-allied health track. Successful completion of the course upon successful completion of the assessment tools incorporated into the class and on faculty evaluation of students. Fall, Spring.

\section*{BIOL 1401 (4-3-2) Principles of Biology}

Introductory course dealing with the basic principles applicable to all living organisms. Includes the study of ecological concepts and the structure and function of the various kingdoms within the ecosystem. Specific groups examined will include bacteria, fungi, algae, plants, and animals, with an overview of the human body systems. Cell structure and function, and genetics will also be examined. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{BIOL 1405 (4-3-2) Modern Concepts in Biology I}

An introductory course on the unifying principles common to all levels of biological organization. Emphasis will be placed on cell biology and general physiology. This will include energy metabolism, photosynthesis, biochemistry, genetics, systematic and taxonomy of viruses, prokaryotes, and protista. Required of all biology majors, natural science majors, and pre-allied health majors. Lab Fee. Fall.

\section*{BIOL 1406 (4-3-2) Modern Concepts in Biology II}

A continuation of the study of biological concepts, with an emphasis on plant and animal anatomy and physiology. This includes systematic and taxonomy of phytoprotists, fungi and animals, anatomy and physiology of plants and animals, and ecology. Required of all biology majors, natural science majors, and pre-allied health majors. Lab Fee. Spring.

\section*{BIOL 2302 (3-2-2) Medical Terminology for Health Professions}

An introductory course in the language of medicine and health care. The course will be structured on the foundational use of suffixes, prefixes, and root words and explore terminology of micro and macro anatomy, basic disease processes, surgery, and pharmacology as utilized in health-related professions. This course will not satisfy the general studies natural sciences laboratory requirements. Lab Fee. Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

\section*{BIOL 2305 (3-3-0) Introduction to Nutrition}

An introductory level course investigating the scientific approach to the essential nutrients for human growth and development with an emphasis on clinical application. Nutrition is the study of nutrients and their ingestion, digestion, absorption, metabolism and storage. Students will also investigate food choices and the impact on wellness and health as well as sources, functions, and interactions of nutrients and other health promoting substances. This course will not satisfy the general studies natural sciences laboratory requirement. Fall, Spring.

\section*{BIOL 2405 (4-3-3) Human Anatomy and Physiology I}

Study of the structure and functions of the systems of the human body. The course will cover the anatomy and physiology of the cell, tissues, and organs, an introduction to the body, and the integumentary, skeletal, and muscular systems. Lab Fee. Fall.

BIOL 2406 (4-3-3) Human Anatomy and Physiology II (S-L)
Continuation of BIOL 2405. Study of the structure and functions of the systems of the human body. The course will cover the nervous, circulatory, digestive, respiratory, endocrine, and reproductive systems, as well as the development of the human body. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Lab Fee. Spring. Prerequisite: BIOL 2405).

\section*{BIOL 3101 (1-1-0) Introduction to Scientific Literature}

Introduction to various sources and types of scientific articles. Both oral and written critiques of assigned articles will be required. Lab Fee. Spring, Periodically. Prerequisites: Science major and completion of 16 credit hours of biology courses.

\section*{BIOL 3301 (3-3-0) Immunology}

An introduction to the principles and concepts of immunology including the basic elements of innate and acquired immunity. Fall, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

\section*{BIOL 3401 (4-4-0) Biochemistry \\ (CHEM 3401)}

This course pertains to the study of cellular chemistry: including presentation of solutions, thermodynamics, kinetics of enzymes, the structure and metabolic pathways of carbohydrates, nucleic acids, proteins, and lipids, cellular membrane composition and function, and the storage and utilization of genetic information. Fall. Prerequisite: CHEM 3403.

\section*{BIOL 3402 (4-3-3) Ecology (S-L)}

A study of the interrelationships between plants and animals and their environment with emphasis on ecosystems, energy flow, populations, and community structure and function. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Lab Fee. Fall, Periodically (every \(3^{\text {rd }}\) semester). Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

BIOL 3403 (4-3-3) Vertebrate Embryology
Study of the early developmental processes of representative vertebrates with major emphasis on human embryonic development. Lab Fee. Periodically. Prerequisites: BIOL 1406 and 2406 (S-L).

BIOL 3404 (4-3-3) Genetics (S-L)
Study of the principles of heredity including classical and molecular genetics. This course contains a field-based servicelearning component. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

\section*{BIOL 3406 (4-4-0) Pathophysiology}

An introduction to pathophysiological changes that occur in all major body systems. Common disease processes will be included as examples. Fall, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 2406 (S-L).

\section*{BIOL 3407 (4-3-3) General Botany}

Study of the structure, function, reproduction, and economic importance of representatives of each of the major plant groups with emphasis on the vascular plants. Lab Fee. Spring, Periodically (every \(3^{\text {rd }}\) semester). Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

\section*{BIOL 3408 (4-3-3) General Zoology}

A systematic study of the structure and functions of representative members of the major phyla in the animal kingdom with emphasis on invertebrate and vertebrate animals. Lab Fee. Periodically (every \(3^{\text {rd }}\) semester). Prerequisite: BIOL 1406

BIOL 3409 (4-3-3) Microbiology
Study of the morphology, metabolism, cultural characteristics, and taxonomy of microorganisms with major emphasis on disease-producing bacteria. Lab Fee. Fall, Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406.

BIOL 4011 (0-3-0) Life Science 7-12 Seminar
This required course is designed to help students prepare for the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES). The course will focus on content and sample questions from state authorized preparation manuals distributed by the National Evaluation Systems, Inc. Information will also be gleaned from the state publication Proficiencies for Teachers in LearnerCentered Schools and other appropriate sources. Students must score a minimum of \(85 \%\) on the TExES post-test in order to be authorized by the College of Education to take the TExES examination. Fall, Spring.

\section*{BIOL 4301 (3-1-6) Senior Project}

An upper-level course designed to instruct the student about procedures and methodologies involved in biological research. The course will include learning how to review research literature, design and develop experimental research protocols, analyze data collected, and write and present the student research in a scientific format. Fall, Periodically.
Prerequisites: Science major, junior or senior status, and faculty approval.
BIOL 4303 (3-3-0) Cell Biology
This course is designed to introduce science majors to the basic elements of Cell Biology. Major concepts to be discussed include the cellular processes of transcription, translation, protein interactions, and cell structure. Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406 and CHEM 1402.

\section*{BIOL 4305 (3-3-0) Nutrition}
(KNES 4305)
Study of the six classes of nutrients and their effects on health. Special emphasis on personal dietary practices and on current issues in nutrition including weight control, fad diets, dietary aspects of cardiovascular disease, and sports nutrition. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: BIOL 2406 (S-L) and CHEM 1401.

\section*{BIOL 4310 (3-1-6) Applied Bioinformatics}

Practical application of Bioinformatics tools, including molecular genetics techniques and online tools to solve various research projects. Research projects are either part of an internship or lab-based, to be determined in collaboration with the instructor. Lab fee.

\section*{BIOL 4401 (4-3-3) Vertebrate Physiology}

Study of the basic functions of cells, tissues, and organ systems of vertebrates. Lab Fee. Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 2406 (S-L).

BIOL 4402 (4-3-3) Molecular Genetics
A course on the unifying principles of genomics, proteomics, and bioinformatics. This will be a practical course to teach the techniques needed for research in modern molecular biology. Techniques will include cloning, transformation, Southern blot, PCR, DNA sequencing, protein isolation, Western blot, and 2-D gels. Required for Bioinformatics Concentration. Lab Fee. Fall. Prerequisites BIOL 1405/14L5, MATH 1303 or 1307 or 1405, and an additional 3-4 hour course in Biology for Biology majors, Computer Science for Computer Science majors, or Math for Math majors.

BIOL 4403 (4-3-3) Histology
Study of the microscopic anatomy of vertebrate tissues with emphasis on the human. Lab Fee. Fall, Periodically. Prerequisite: BIOL 2406 (S-L).

\section*{Camp/Sport Leadership}

\section*{CPSL 3310 (3-3-0) Recreation Leadership (KNES 3310)}

A study of recreation problems and the development of competence in leadership techniques in recreation programs. Spring. Prerequisites: Graduating seniors. Instructor approval required.

CPSL 3320 (3-3-0) Principles of Camp/Sport Leadership
Students will explore various recreational elements including, but not limited to, camps and retreat centers, local and international sports ministries, camping, athletic team chaplaincy, adventure recreation, and physical fitness ministries. Special attention will be given to the philosophy of recreational ministry and the role of a recreational minister. In addition, students will explore the benefits of using various forms of recreation to reach a variety of ages with the Gospel. Fall.

\section*{CPSL 3330 (3-3-0) Facilities and Logistics for Camps/Sports}

This course covers the planning, design, construction, and maintenance of buildings and recreational components of camps, parks, and recreational components used in the field of camping and sports programs. Students will tour various facilities to discover the skills needed to develop and successfully operate facilities, and the logistics involved behind the scenes. Periodically.

\section*{CPSL 3340 (3-3-0) Outdoor Education Leadership}

This course teaches students the fundamentals of instructing outdoor educational activities through a Biblical Christian worldview. Students will learn to instruct activities, including but not limited to backpacking, camping, hiking, and orienteering Students will learn to plan, implement, assess for risk management, and evaluate an outdoor educational experience. Periodically. Prerequisites: Graduating seniors. Instructor approval required.

CPSL 4308 (3-3-0) Practicum in Camp/Sport Leadership (S-L) Internship training program for Camp/Sport Leadership majors supervised by the professor and a staff person of an organization relating to Camp/Sport Leadership. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Summer. Prerequisites: Camp/Sport Leadership major. Junior or senior status.

CPSL 4309 (3-3-0) Strategies and Practices of Camp/Sport Leadership
A comprehensive study of Camp/Sport Leadership that assimilates the entire coursework to challenge the students' knowledge and ability to manage a camp/sport ministry. Students will create a business plan for a camp/sport ministry, including strategies in ministry, marketing, finance, employment, and development. In groups, students will present completed business plans at the end of the semester. Spring. Prerequisites: Graduating seniors. Instructor approval required.

\section*{Chapel}

\section*{CHAP 1000 (0-3-0) Chapel}

A distinctive quality of DBU is the emphasis placed on the spiritual life and growth of its students. The chapel program is considered an important element in the desire to encourage the spiritual development of community members. Chapel is held in the Patty and Bo Pilgrim Chapel at 10:00 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Fall, Spring.

\section*{Chemistry}

\section*{CHEM 1301 (3-2-3) Chemistry and Society}

A survey of elementary chemical principles for the non-science major, with illustrations of the daily importance of chemistry from organic chemistry, polymers, farming, foods and food additives, household medicines and drugs, and similar topics. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{CHEM 1401 (4-3-3) General Chemistry}

Introduction to theories on the properties and structure of matter; atomic and molecular structure; properties of gases, liquids, and solids; properties of solutions; and chemical equations. Lab fee. Fall, Summer. Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra or MATH 1301.

\section*{CHEM 1402 (4-3-3) General Chemistry}

Continuation of CHEM 1401, including chemical equilibrium and equilibrium constants, energy changes, electrochemistry, radioactivity, descriptive chemistry of chosen elements, and an introduction to organic chemistry. Lab fee. Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: CHEM 1401.

\section*{CHEM 3401 (3-4-0) Biochemistry}
(BIOL 3401)
This course pertains to the study of cellular chemistry: including presentation of solutions, thermodynamics, kinetics of enzymes, the structure and metabolic pathways of carbohydrates, nucleic acids, proteins, and lipids, cellular membrane composition and function, and the storage and utilization of genetic information. Fall. Prerequisite: CHEM 3403.

\section*{CHEM 3402 (4-3-3) Organic Chemistry I}

Study of compounds of carbon, classes of compounds and their typical reactions, theories, reaction mechanisms, and synthesis. Lab fee. Fall. Prerequisite: CHEM 1402.

CHEM 3403 (4-3-3) Organic Chemistry II
Continuation of CHEM 3402. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: CHEM 3402.

\section*{Chinese}

\section*{CHIN 1401 (4-3-2) Elementary Chinese I}

A course for students who want to develop general speaking, listening, writing, and reading ability in Chinese. This course thoroughly covers basic structures for the entry level of Chinese and provides a solid foundation for further studies. Lab fee. Fall.

\section*{CHIN 1402 (4-3-2) Elementary Chinese II}

A continuation of CHIN 1401. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: CHIN 1401 or equivalent.

\section*{CHIN 2301 (3-3-0) Intermediate Chinese I}

A course for students who want to continue to develop speaking, listening, writing, and reading ability in Chinese. This course will further cover the grammar, characters, and composition of Chinese and the continuation of spoken Chinese through video devices, reading, and discussions of Chinese literature and culture. Fall. Prerequisite: CHIN 1402 or equivalent.

\section*{CHIN 2302 (3-3-0) Intermediate Chinese II}

A continuation of CHIN 2301. Spring. Prerequisite: CHIN 2301 or equivalent.

\section*{CHIN 4358 (3-3-0) Essentials of East Asian Language}

\section*{(MAGL 5358, MALA 5309)}

For students involved in East Asian language immersion, this course provides introductory knowledge of essential survival phrases, vocabulary and grammar to communicate at a basic level for living necessities and simple conversations as cultural learners. Fall.

\section*{Christian Leadership}

CLSC 1002 (0-1-1.5) Christian Leadership
Mandatory for Christian Leadership Scholarship program recipients during their first year at DBU. Designed to increase the students' effectiveness as servant leaders, to help them understand more about their accountability before God, to increase their intimacy with God, and to help them develop healthy and Biblical self-images, learning to rely on God's strength in their lives and ministry. Fall, Spring.

\section*{Christian Studies}

CHST 3301 (3-3-0) Survey of Christian Education This course is an overview of Christian education including foundations, history, components, and leadership. Emphasis is placed upon the development of Christian education as a vocation. Fall, Online.

\section*{CHST 3304 (3-3-0) Religion and Older Persons}

A study of the relationships between religion and the lives and needs of older persons. This study will include an examination of the attitudes toward and the treatment of older persons in the Judeo-Christian and other selected religious traditions. Periodically.

\section*{CHST 3309 (3-3-0) Spiritual Formation for Christian Ministry}

The course is designed to overview the student's resources for spiritual growth and examine various methods of discipleship, including Bible study, prayer, and scripture memorization. The student will learn to nurture interdependent spirituality within the context of our contemporary culture. Fall, Online. Prerequisite: RELI 1301, 1302, and instructor approval.

\section*{CHST 3372 (3-3-0) Church Administration}

A study of the principles, structure, and function of church administration. Students will be exposed to methods for administering personnel, financial, and physical resources of the church, as well as various aspects of church governance and planning. Fall, Online.

\section*{CHST 4301 (3-3-0) Teaching Ministry of the Church}

This course is a study of the biblical basis, curriculum development, educational principles, and instructional methods of the teaching ministry of the local church. Emphasis is on preschool, children, youth, and adult groups. Spring.

\section*{CHST 4302 (3-1-2) Practicum in Christian Studies (S-L)}
(RELI 3382 (S-L))
Internship training program to be supervised by a professor and an official in the local church or church-related institution. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring, Online. Prerequisite: Biblical Studies or Christian Studies major or minor, junior or senior status and faculty approval.

\section*{CHST 4306 (3-3-0) Children's Ministry in the Church}

A study of children, ages 6-12, from a biblical and present-day perspective and the church's opportunity to build foundations for faith through effective Bible teaching, ministry to needs, and outreach to the home. Considerations will be given to the church learning environment, effective methods of teaching children, leadership enlistment and development, and curriculum for children's organizations in church. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Online.

\section*{CHST 4307 (3-3-0) Youth Ministry in the Church}

A study of the social and spiritual development of youth. The course will seek to equip the youth minister with cognitive skills, resources, and techniques for ministry with young people through the church. Emphasis will be placed on the planning and administering of a youth ministry in the local church. Spring, Online.

\section*{CHST 4312 (3-3-0) Biblical Servant Leadership}

\section*{(MACE 5302)}

This course will explore the practice of leadership from a Biblical servant leader point of view and the various styles of leadership. Students will be encouraged to develop a personal set of leadership principles reflecting those of a servant. Considerations will also be given to the developing people skills, team building skills, and conflict management skills. Fall, Online.

\section*{Communication}

\section*{COMA 1261, 2261, 3261, 4261 (2-1-4) Opera Workshop}
(MUSI 1261, 2261)
The study and performance of scenes from great operas throughout history. This is an elective class and requires an audition. Fall.

COMA 1302 (3-3-0) Fundamentals of Speech Communication
Introductory theories and applied experiences in speaking and listening will range from interpersonal relationships and audience awareness to preparation and delivery of platform speeches. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

COMA 1302HR (3-3-0) Honors Fundamentals of Speech Communication
Introductory theories and applied experiences in speaking and listening will range through interpersonal dyads, triads, and small groups to preparation and delivery of platform speeches. The Honors Program curriculum supplements and complements the traditional curriculum of this course. Prerequisite: Admission to the Honors Program.

COMA 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371 (3-1-3) Theater Practicum
(MUSI 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371)
Practical, technical experiences in areas of stage craft, lighting, costuming, properties, house management, and makeup. Offered periodically.

\section*{COMA 2050 (1-0-0) Sophomore Portfolio Review}

Graphic Design students are required to submit their portfolios for a sophomore review. Multiple evaluators, with field experience, will review each portfolio to discern whether or not the student is suited for a graphic design career. Students will receive a grade of pass, fail, or probation. Prerequisite: Second semester sophomore graphic design concentration.

\section*{COMA 2301 (3-3-0) Introduction to Journalism}

Surveys the journalism profession--the expanding function of print and broadcast media in democracy. Also includes the study of newsgatherings and writing styles for newspapers, radio, and television journalism. Spring.

COMA 2302 (3-3-0) Voice and Articulation
Paralanguage code study of voice and articulation, the vocal mechanism, and phonetics. Exercises will add the nonverbal voice code to printed texts for oral performance experiences. Fall, Spring, Online. Prerequisite: COMA 1302 or instructor approval.

\section*{COMA 2304 (3-3-0) Introduction to Broadcast/ Digital Media}

Study and use of the fundamentals of video production techniques, tools, and equipment used throughout the video industry. Emphasis will be placed upon church implementation. Fall, Spring.

\section*{COMA 2305 (3-3-0) Interpersonal Communication}

Focus on communication theory and principles for the field of interpersonal communication, with additional studies in group dynamics, value systems, and transactional analysis. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{COMA 2314 (3-2-1) Photography I}
(ART 2314)
An introduction to the use of the camera and basic vocabulary. Fundamentals of exposure, development, and printing. Photographic composition, creativity, readings, and critiques are included. Students are expected to provide their own camera. Field Trip required. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{COMA 2318 (3-2-1) Basic Digital Design (S-L)}

\section*{(ART 2318) (S-L)}

Fundamentals of digital design are covered utilizing standard graphic software applications for PC and Macintosh platforms. Proven methods of effective communication through typography, layout, and design are discussed. Computer lab projects include creative design and cost-effective production of camera ready art for posters, newsletters, reports, and display advertising. Lab fee. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.
Prerequisite: Concentration other than graphic design.
COMA 3301 (3-3-0) Nonverbal Communication
Nine important code systems (excluding words) used daily will be studied in theory and in practice. Research project from print and societal observation is required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{COMA 3302 (3-3-0) Public Forum Debate}

Students study debate principles, conduct research, formulate and evaluate arguments, and participate in team debates using the Public Forum Debate format. Topics will come from current events and debate propositions for academic use. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: COMA 1302.

\section*{COMA 3303 (3-3-0) Small Group Communication}

Students will learn how small groups serve at least three common functions in American culture: (1) by organizations to accomplish tasks, make decisions and solve problems; (2) by educators to facilitate learning; (3) by churches and other organizations to find community. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{COMA 3304 (3-3-0) Writing Across Media}

Students in this course will develop writing skills used within a variety of media outlets. Students will become better writers/journalists by studying newsgathering and writing styles for newspapers, radio, television, magazines, the internet and beyond. An emphasis will be placed upon Internet integration. Project presentations are required. Spring. Prerequisite: COMA 2304 or ART/COMA 3319.

COMA 3307 (3-3-0) Film and Electronic Cinematography
A study of the history of filmmaking and new advances in electronic media related to this medium. This study emphasizes the techniques used by great cinematographers and directors of both the present and the past. Reviewing many classic films for analysis will provide insight and a basis for discussion. This class is all lecture and no lab. Spring.

\section*{COMA 3308 (3-3-0) Persuasive Communication}

This course focuses on persuasion theory and its practical application. Basic components of the persuasive process and strategies used by persuaders are examined. Persuasion theory, analysis of persuasive messages in a variety of formats and contexts and the formation of effective, ethical persuasive messages will be emphasized. Fall, Spring, Online. Prerequisites: COMA 1302 and junior standing.

\section*{COMA 3314 (3-2-1) Photography II}
(ART 3314)
Advanced photographic skills developed through photography projects enhanced by digital imaging software and techniques. Students will learn to apply a state of the art digital graphics program and selectively modify, enhance, and combine photographs to create images that communicate aesthetically and effectively. Students are expected to provide their own camera, film, and paper. A digital SLR (Single Lens Reflex) camera is required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: COMA 2314

\section*{COMA 3316 (3-2-1) Media Graphics}
(ART 3316)
Development of skills and concepts necessary to produce art works for use in the various media. Study and application of the basic materials, techniques, and vocabulary of the graphic and computer art field. Lab fee. Fall, Spring.

\section*{COMA 3317 (3-2-1) Contemporary Advertising}
(ART 3317)
Advanced study of basic visual communication design including lettering, layout, illustration, graphic reproduction processes, rough art, finished art, camera ready art, and computer art applied to specific design projects. Lab fee. Online.

\section*{COMA 3318 (3-2-1) Web Design}
(ART 3318)
Web publishing techniques are covered utilizing web-authoring software for PC and Macintosh platforms. Proven methods of effective communication through typography, layout, and design are discussed including creative uses of digitized illustrations and photography. Computer lab projects include creative design and cost-effective production of various types of web pages. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: COMA 2318 (S-L) or 3321 (S-L).

\section*{COMA 3319 (3-3-0) Visual Communication} (ART 3319)
Skills in interpreting the visual messages viewed in print and digital media are essential in our media saturated world today. This course focuses on the development of visual literacy by helping students develop skills to critically examine the visual messages used in a variety of channels that impact our communication. Students also learn the Adobe Creative Suite®, including Illustrator \(®\), Photoshop \(®\), and InDesign®, the industry standard in graphic software. Prerequisites: COMA 1302 and 3301 or Communications major with concentration in Graphic Design.

\section*{COMA 3321 (3-3-0) Graphic Design I}
(ART 3321)
This studio course emphasizes the solving of graphic communications problems as it specifically relates to identity design in print form. Students gain a strong working knowledge of current computer art and layout applications, such as Adobe InDesign \(®\) and Illustrator®, and apply it to viable design assignments. Logo, letterhead and poster design are a few of the formats explored. Students are also challenged with basic Typographic and layout principles in conjunction with these projects. Prerequisites: ART 1301, ART 1303, COMA 3319.

\section*{COMA 3322 (3-3-0) Graphic Design II}
(ART 3322)
In this studio course graphic design students continue their in-depth study of two-dimensional design principles as they apply it to formats such as package design and annual reports. An emphasis on preparing print documents for output or reproduction is emphasized. Students will also improve their skills with Adobe Photoshop® as they create artwork and page comps for Web sites and other digital media. Prerequisite: COMA 3321.

\section*{COMA 3325 (3-3-0) Lettering and Typography}
(ART 3325)
Students will learn to consider three major things as they design with type: the form, direct and secondary meanings, and graphic impact of a particular typeface. The subtle relationship of type and visuals in a design solution, and how type can be used creatively and expressively by itself. In addition, technical typographic principles such as line, letter and word spacing, type alignment, classifications and styles will be explored through historical studies and class projects. Spring. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 3321 Graphic Design I.

COMA 3340 (3-3-0) Video Production
This course will study the fundamentals of video production techniques, tools and equipment used through the video industry. Emphasis will be placed upon secular and ministry application. Fall. Prerequisites: COMA 2302, COMA 2304, COMA 3304.

COMA 4300 (3-3-0) Portfolio Research
In this course students prepare a marketable graphic design portfolio, both physical and digital, of the work they have created throughout their college career. In addition to this, an effective resume is also developed in order to prepare for future job interviews. Students receive individualized attention as they prepare for their senior portfolio exhibit. Every student is required to present a portfolio exhibit in one of their last two semesters of their senior year. Prerequisite: Credit for or concurrent enrollment in COMA 4321 and senior graphic design concentration.

\section*{COMA 4301 (3-3-0) Readers Theater (S-L)}

Groups will perform selections of prose, poetry or scripture. Literary analysis will precede the addition of voice and body cues to emphasize meanings. Major project is to adapt a selection for the group to perform. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring.

\section*{COMA 4302 (3-3-0) Introduction to Linguistics (ENGL 4301)}

An introduction to the core linguistic areas of morphology, phonology, pragmatics, semantics, syntax, and related topics - with an emphasis on syntax and its application in stylistic analysis. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: ENGL 1301, 1302, and 2301 or 2302, or equivalent. It is strongly recommended that ENGL 3305 (S-L) be completed prior to this course.

COMA 4303 (3-3-0) Video Editing (S-L)
Basic camera techniques and composition will be reviewed. Individuals will study various editing technologies and styles. Digital videography, linear and non-linear editing will be taught and practiced. Additional technical fee required. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Periodically.

\section*{COMA 4308 (3-3-0) Audio Production}

This course will study the fundamentals of audio production techniques, tools and equipment used throughout the production industry. Emphasis will be placed upon production techniques using ProTools. Fall. Prerequisites: COMA 2302, COMA 2304, COMA 3304.

\section*{COMA 4309 (3-3-0) Radio Formats}

\section*{COMA 4310 (3-3-0) Internship in Communication}

A supervised field placement in some phase of the communication industry. The course provides the opportunity for the students to integrate theory and classroom learning with practical experience. Interns are required to work 50 hours for each credit hour earned. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Evaluation by both the field supervisor and the program director.

\section*{COMA 4315 (3-3-0) Political Communication}
(POLS 4315)
A study of new-style American political campaign tactics with an emphasis on how political consultants inform and persuade voters. Fall, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: 6 hours in Political Science or Communications.

\section*{COMA 4318 (3-3-0) History of Graphic Design I}
(ART 4318)
History of Graphic Design presents a chronological examination of western graphic design and covers each era of visual communication including early cave painting through the illuminated manuscripts, a Graphic Renaissance, the Industrial Revolution, the Modernist Era, and the Age of Information. This course includes films, visuals, readings, study guides, and museum visits. \($ 35\) fee. Required for Graphic Design major, elective for other majors. Fall

\section*{COMA 4319 (3-3-0) Communication Styles: A Key to Business Success (MANA 4319)}

An in-depth investigation of various communication, leadership, and personality styles and how they affect one's competency rating in the world of business. Students will be encouraged to discover how they interact with others as well as learn how their communication strengths and weaknesses affect interpersonal relationships in the workplace. Assessment will use varied personality inventories. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{COMA 4320 (3-3-0) Technology in Communication}

This course is designed to expose students to the technology currently available. Students will get hands-on experience on all current technologies and participate in class discussions based on advantages and disadvantages of each. Trends and futuristic applications of technology also will be discussed. It is important to note that there are no computer prerequisites for this course. Fall, Spring, Online.

\section*{COMA 4321 (3-3-0) Advertising Design (S-L) \\ (ART 4321)}

This course engages the service-learning aspect of the Graphic Design concentration as students utilize their skills to aid a ministry, new or existing, by creating an entire identity campaign for them over the course of a semester. The campaign will include creating such promotional pieces as logos, newsletters, magazine ads, Yellow Page ads and brochures, to name a few. Each student will communicate and work with ministry directors in order to meet specific needs. This course contains a fieldbased service-learning component.

COMA 4322 (3-3-0) Leadership Communication (S-L)
This course focuses on the further development of public speaking, written communication, and group facilitation skills to prepare students for leadership roles for a variety of communication contexts and purposes. A service-learning project will be an integral part of the curriculum. Speaking and interacting from a servant leader perspective will be emphasized to prepare students for civic engagement in a democratic society. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring, Online. Prerequisites: COMA 1302 and junior standing.

\section*{COMA 4325 (3-3-0) Communication in the Digital Age}

New and emerging communication technologist are drastically changing the nature of communication. This course will blend theory and practice to provide students with a communication-based perspective of current and future trends and issues associated with the digital age from a biblically-based perspective. At the same time, it will give the opportunity to sharpen critical thinking skills and further develop communication skills associated with the digital age. Fall, Online.

\section*{COMA 4327 (3-3-0) Color and Composition}
(ART 4327)
Color and Composition is a painting course that explores the potentials of painting in acrylics with emphasis on color, composition, expression, and technique as it relates to poster painting as it has been manifested over the past two centuries. The techniques of German "plakatstil" or hard-edged "poster style" causes each student to break down the compositional surface of a painting so that eye flow is deliberate. The rule of thirds, balance, and visual hierarchy are also addressed. \($ 35\) lab fee. Summer.

\section*{COMA 4328 (3-3-0) Illustration I}

\section*{(ART 4328; MALA 5336)}

Students in this course are introduced to the methods of illustration, old and new, through a limited survey of the history of American Illustration. Each student is required to choose an abridged classic manuscript supplied by the instructor and a total of three major illustrations must be completed for that story. A research notebook compiling the students' favorite illustrators will also be completed. Spring even-numbered years. Prerequisites: ART 1302 and ART 2303 or Graphic Design Major and ART 1303.

\section*{COMA 4329 (3-3-0) Illustration II}

\section*{(ART 4329; MALA 5337)}

Students in this course will continue to develop the style and formulaic approach explored in Illustration I. Traditional and digital methods of illustration are all options for this course. Various forms of illustration, including black and white, editorial, and children's book will be explored. For digital illustration, Adobe Illustrator and/or Photoshop will be utilized. A research notebook compiling the student's favorite illustrators will also be completed. Spring, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: ART/COMA 4328 Illustration I. Lab Fee.

\section*{COMA 4323 (3-3-0) Communication Theory}

The course introduces students to communication as a field of study. Major theories and models related to the study of communication are presented to provide a framework for communication coursework. Applications of the major communication theories will enable students to gain experience and proficiency in evaluating communication in a variety of contexts and situations. Spring. Prerequisites: COMA 1302 and junior classification.

\section*{COMA 4330 (3-3-0) Special Topics in Communication}

This course will offer students an opportunity to explore a cross-section of subjects focused on enhancing oral, interpersonal, and nonverbal skills. The exploration of basic communication concepts and application will offer students a hands-on approach to learning. May be repeated for credit when content changes.

\section*{COMA 4338 (3-3-0) History of Graphic Design II} (ART 4338)
History of Graphic Design II presents a chronological examination of western graphic design and covers the modern era of visual communication from c. 1880 until present day; including Pictorial Modernism, the Bauhaus, the New York School, Corporate Identity, Postmodern Design and the Digital Revolution. This course includes films, visuals, reading, study guides, and museum visits. Spring.

COMA 4340 (3-3-0) Broadcast/Digital Media Practicum (S-L)
The broadcast/digital media practicum provides students the opportunity to apply and integrate knowledge acquired through coursework. Specifically, this course will practically apply all broadcast/digital media information through the production of live events for the purpose of developing and refining necessary competencies and skills for the students proposed career objectives. (Course is repeatable). This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: COMA 2302, COMA 2304, СОMA 3304, СOMA 3340, COMA 4308.

\section*{COMA 4341 (3-3-0) Business of Photography}
(ART 4341)
An introduction to the business of photography. A study of professional photography practices and the various avenues within which a photographer can work. Includes photography on the web and how to have an online presence that is beneficial in the photography business. Studio lighting will be explored as well as the basics of how to get a business started. Fall.
Prerequisites: ART/COMA 2314 and ART/COMA 3314.

\section*{COMA 4365 (3-3-0) Practicum in Cross-Cultural Communication}

The practicum will have two components. The first will consist of classes in relevant concepts of worldview and culture, the methodology of teaching English as a Second Language (ESL), class management, and the development of skills in crosscultural communication, and Christian ministry. During the second component, which is field-based, students will teach for three to five weeks in an ESL program overseas. This may in certain sites be to teach Vacation Bible School or in communitybased English programs. This course can be used to fulfill a three-hour, upper-division, communication course requirement. Summer

\section*{COMA 4380 (3-3-0) The Arts and the Creative Process}

\section*{(ART 4380; MUSI 4380)}

Analysis of the visual and performing arts including the study of the human process involved in the creation of the Arts. The study will include perception, criticism, and factors which integrate, influence, and create the arts. Field trips are required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

\section*{Computer Science}

COSC 1301 (3-3-0) Introduction to Computers
An introduction to the science of computing, with emphasis on the history and terminology of computer construction, operation, and data processing. Ethical standards for computing are stressed. Homework assignments develop skills in computer operation, Word processing, Spreadsheets, Databases, and Presentation software, and can be completed on either the student's personal computer or an on-campus laboratory computer. Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer, Online.

COSC 1302 (3-3-0) Introduction to Computer Science and Programming
An introduction to the discipline of computer science. Topics include algorithms, data representation and storage, hardware and software organization, networking, the Internet, computer security, ethical and social issues, and fundamental problem solving and programming skills. This course also includes an introduction to programming concepts and skills with a modern programming language such as Python. Spring

\section*{COSC 1405 (4-3-2) Foundations of Computer Science I}

Computer programming in a high-level, block structured language. Basic concepts: the role of algorithms in the problem-solving process; basic data types and variables; memory usage; control structure (sequential, selection, repetition; functions and parameter passing); recursion; console and file input/output. Lab fee. Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 or Math Advising Tool for entrance into MATH 1405.

\section*{COSC 1408 (4-3-2) Foundations of Computer Science II}

Introduction to object-oriented programming. Basic concepts: abstract data types; encapsulation; classes; inheritance; polymorphism; dynamic function binding; strings, stacks, queues, lists, and trees; event handling in modern languages; introduction to modern APIs. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: COSC 1405.

\section*{COSC 2306 (3-3-0) Data Structures}

Design and analysis of algorithms with an emphasis on data structures. Basic concepts including: identifying differences among best, average, and worst case behaviors; algorithmic strategies such as brute-force and divide-and-conquer; fundamental computing algorithms, including searching, sorting, and recursive algorithms; and data structures such as lists, trees, hash tables, and graphs. Spring. Prerequisite: COSC 2403

\section*{COSC 2403 (4-3-2) Object-Oriented Analysis and Design}

Provides practical skills in the latest object-oriented analysis and design methods using the Unified Modeling Language (UML) and Java programming language. Basic concepts: Use case diagrams; object models; packages and subsystems; classes, object behavior and attributes; encapsulation and interfaces; inheritance and composition; polymorphism and collections. Lab fee. Fall. Prerequisite: COSC 1408.

\section*{COSC 2405 (4-3-2) Programming Languages}

An introduction to the syntax and semantics of programming languages. Basic concepts: evolution of procedural languages; object-oriented paradigm and languages; declarative (non-algorithmic) languages; scripting paradigm and languages. Actual programming languages are used to illustrate the concepts and virtual architectures of procedural, functional, and objectoriented languages. Lab fee. Periodically. Prerequisite: COSC 1408.

\section*{COSC 3301 (3-3-0) Database Systems}

Introduction to the design and implementation of database systems. Topics include data modeling, database normalization, SQL database definition/manipulation language, stored procedures, transaction management, database applications, and database security. Fall. Prerequisite: COSC 2306.

\section*{COSC 3305 (3-3-0) Computer Organization and Architecture}

Basic structure of digital computer hardware and hardware-software interface. Computer organization, including simple digital logic building blocks, such as logic gates, flip-flops, registers, logic expressions, and computer arithmetic. Fundamentals of computer design, such as main memory organization, memory hierarchy, instruction set architectures, assembly languages, multiprocessing and multicore, and pipelining. Basics of input and output, including interrupts, buses, DMA (Direct Memory Access), and storage technologies. Fall. Prerequisite: COCS 1408.

\section*{COSC 3306 (3-3-0) Networks and Telecommunication}

Design and analysis of computer networks. Basic concepts: background and architecture of the Internet; five-layer and sevenlayer reference models; TCIP/IP; packet switching; transport protocols; flow control; congestion control; local area networks; routing; network application architectures such as client/server. Spring. Prerequisite: COSC 3305.

\section*{COSC 3408 (4-3-2) Computer Security I}

This course provides an introduction to principles and practices of computer security, from the perspective of both system designers and system maintainers. Topics include network security, intrusion detection, attack types, system vulnerabilities and exploits, securing and hardening individual systems, and password security. Labs will include material such as network scanning, vulnerability exploitation, intrusion detection systems, and password attacks. Lab fee. Fall, Periodically. Prerequisites: COSC 2306 or instructor approval. COSC 3306 or concurrent enrollment recommended.

\section*{COSC 3410 (4-3-2) Web Site Development and Programming}

Hands-on experience in the design and development of professional Web content. Basic concepts: Web site design considerations (user profiles, user platforms, design concepts) HTML, DHTML and XML fundamentals; Cascading Style Sheets (CSS); JavaScript (programming model, animation and graphics, browser events, cookies, security, controlling Java). \section*{COSC 4305 (3-3-2) Computers for the Teacher}

A study of computers and their role in education, including design of curriculum materials for courses in computer science and computer-related mathematics; paradigms for teaching essential elements; and evaluation and selection of hardware and software. Lab fee. Periodically. Prerequisite: COSC 2306.

COSC 4308 (3-0-6) Senior Project in Computer Science (S-L)
Detailed design, implementation, and testing of a system or component under the guidance of a faculty member. Specific technical requirements will be set up by the individual faculty member teaching/supervising the course. All students must submit a written report and make an oral presentation at the culmination of the project. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Spring, Fall. Prerequisites: Completion of COSC core courses and senior standing.

\section*{COSC 4311 (3-2-2) Database Management Design and Programming}

The course is a formal treatment of relational database design. A major group project involves the structured design and development of a database system application, including the use of SLQ for distributed database access. Lab fee. Periodically. Prerequisites: COSC 3301 and 1405.

\section*{COSC 4401 (4-3-2) Operating Systems}

An introduction to fundamental concepts in operating systems, their design, implementation, and usage. Basic concepts: process management - concurrency and scheduling; main memory management; virtual memory; input/output and device drivers; file systems; secondary storage management, security and protection; real-time systems. Lab fee. Spring, Periodically. Prerequisite: COSC 2403.

COSC 4402 (4-3-2) Software Engineering (S-L)
Introduction to software life cycle models, software requirements Engineering, formal specification and validation. Basic concepts: software metrics (product and process metrics); introduction to software standards and documentation; software quality assurance; configuration management and control Project planning and risk management; software estimation; software maintenance and re-engineering. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Lab Fee. Spring.
Prerequisite: COSC 2403.

\section*{\(\operatorname{COSC} 4408\) (4-3-2) Computer Security II}

This course provides detailed coverage and understanding of principles, technologies, and practices of computer security. Indepth coverage of topics such as network and wireless network security, system vulnerabilities and exploits, cryptography, and hardening computer systems. Introduction to recent topics such as mobile device security. Labs will include material such as network scanning, vulnerability exploitation, wireless security, forensic analysis, and intrusion detection systems. Lab Fee. Periodically. Prerequisites: COSC 3306 (Networking), COSC 3408 (Security I), and COSC 4401 (Operating Systems) or concurrent enrollment.

\section*{EDUC 4301 (3-3-0) Internship in Teaching I}
(EDUC 5321)
Designed to meet the state guidelines for educators who are working toward teacher certification, but are not enrolled in the traditional student teaching program. Interns are individuals who are currently employed as "teachers of record" by their respective school district/districts and assigned a regular classroom under the supervision of a mentor and a DBU supervising professor. Periodically. Prerequisite: Approval of the Dean is required.

\section*{EDUC 4302 (3-3-0) Internship in Teaching II \\ (EDUC 5322) \\ A continuation of Internship in Teaching I. Periodically. Prerequisite: Approval of the Dean is required.}

\section*{EDUC 4303 (3-3-0) Developmental Stages of Early Childhood Through Adolescence (EDUC 5303)}

The course includes an examination of the psychosocial development of the child from conception through adolescencenoting physical, intellectual, emotional, social and moral factors. Respected age-appropriate theories of education and their practical application are studied. Curriculum and materials are examined and evaluated as related to state standards and a developmentally appropriate approach to the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS). Observations in local schools are required. Pathways to Teaching Students Only. Fall, Summer, Online.

\section*{EDUC 4312 (3-3-0) Teaching Special Populations (S-L)}

This course will prepare the teacher candidate to work with special populations including, but not limited to, English Language Learners, Special Education students (including gifted and talented), 504 Student, diverse socio-economic groups, and diverse cultural groups in the regular classroom. The teacher candidate will develop lesson plans addressing the needs of these special populations using effective strategies developed through appropriate educational research. This course contains a fieldbased service-learning component. Fall and Spring. Prerequisites: Students must have been accepted into the Educator Preparation Program and successfully completed Field Base 1 course work.

\section*{EDUC 4313 (3-3-0) Discipline and Classroom Management in Culturally Diverse Settings (S-L)} (EDUC 5313)
This course focuses on research-based strategies in elementary, middle school, and secondary classrooms designed to create positive learning environments in culturally diverse field-based settings. Emphasis is given to strategies that promote the organization and management of classrooms, the response to disruptive behaviors, and the improvement of instruction. Observation in local schools is required. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: Educator Preparation Program admission.

\section*{EDUC 4314 (3-3-0) Best Practices in Teaching}

The focus of this course is to investigate the principles of brain based learning and apply them to the classroom. Students will learn about the best practices for teaching students in order to promote effective learning. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: Students must have been accepted into the Educator Preparation Program and successfully completed Field Base 1 course work.

\section*{EDUC 4316 (3-3-0) Studies in Classroom Management, Instruction and Assessment (EDUC 5316)}

The course focuses on research-based strategies in elementary and secondary classrooms designed to create positive learning environments, to organize and manage classrooms, to respond effectively to disruptive behaviors, to improve instruction and accomplish effective assessment. The Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) will be used to plan instruction. Observation in local schools is required. Each student will be required to compile a portfolio using the learning outcomes of the course. Pathways to Teaching Students only. Fall, Spring, Online.

\section*{EDUC 4318 (3-3-0) Pedagogy of Math}

This course will provide the students with information about the best practices for teaching mathematics to students in grades EC-8. The students will investigate the research that confirms how students learn best and how to apply that information to the math classroom. In addition, the students will receive practical strategies, approaches, and techniques to use in a future classroom. Finally, the course will encourage students to create classrooms that maintain a positive and encouraging environment for the study of math. Fall, Spring.

\section*{EDUC 4319 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy}

The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in content discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in his/her content using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisites: EDUC 1301, 3312.

\section*{EDUC 4320 (3-3-0) Instructional Technology}

This course is designed to expose educators to the technology currently available for the educational environment. Students will get hands-on experience on all current educational technologies and participate in class discussions based on advantages and disadvantages of each. Trends and futuristic applications of technology will also be discussed. It is important to note that there are no computer prerequisites for this course. Fall, Spring.

\section*{EDUC 4333 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy for Computer Science \\ (EDUC 4335, 4336, 4337, 4338)}

The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in computer science discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in computer science at his/her certification level using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisite: EDUC 3313 Introduction to Teacher Certification.

EDUC 4334 (3-3-0) Pedagogy of Fine Arts and Movement in the Elementary Classroom
This course is required by all EC-6 certification students in the College of Education. The teacher candidate will explore music, visual arts, and movement and their impact on instruction and learning in a regular classroom setting. Spring.

\section*{EDUC 4335 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy for Math \\ (EDUC 4333, 4336, 4337, 4338)}

The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in math discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in math at his/her certification level using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisite: EDUC 3313 Introduction to Teacher Certification.

\section*{EDUC 4336 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy for English, Language Arts, and Reading} (EDUC 4333, 4335, 4337, 4338)
The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in English, language arts, and reading (ELAR) discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in ELAR at his/her certification level using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisite: EDUC 3313 Introduction to Teacher Certification.

\section*{EDUC 4337 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy for Science \\ (EDUC 4333, 4335, 4336, 4338)}

The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in science discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in science at his/her certification level using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisite: EDUC 3313 Introduction to Teacher Certification.

\section*{EDUC 4338 (3-3-0) Secondary Pedagogy for History (EDUC 4333, 4335, 4336, 4337)}

The teacher candidate will explore teaching strategies that will engage secondary learners in history discovery. The teacher candidate will plan lessons in history at his/her certification level using various teaching strategies. Spring. Prerequisite: EDUC 3313 Introduction to Teacher Certification.

\section*{EDUC 4608 (6-0-0) Clinical Teaching}

This course provides students seeking certification the opportunity to observe, assist, and teach under the supervision of experienced teachers in locally accredited schools. Students will be required to (a) provide their own transportation to the schools, (b) participate in pre-service training during the Fall semester of the school year (including those students who will student teach during the Spring semester of the academic year), and (c) successfully complete student teaching for a minimum of twelve weeks. This course must be taken as part of the clinical teaching semester. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: All courses on a student's degree plan are prerequisites for student teaching.

\section*{English as a Second Language}

\section*{ESLS 4304 (3-3-0) Methods in Teaching ESL}
(ESLS 5304)
Students will explore the primary approaches and methods for teaching ESL as well as social and cultural factors that influence ESL students' learning. Students will develop teaching strategies for promoting ESL students' reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills as well as facilitating comprehension and critical thinking in content areas. Emphasis will be placed especially on a communicative approach. Students will analyze, select, and modify materials to facilitate learning in ESL students with diverse characteristics and needs. Students will consider published materials and campus, Internet, and community resources that can enhance instruction. Online.

\section*{General Science}

Prerequisite: MRKT 3301.

\section*{MRKT 4346 (3-3-0) Customer Satisfaction}

Providing excellent, efficient, and timely customer service is necessary in today's business world to remain competitive. This course will include methods for managing a company's customer base and for keeping customers in order to increase profits for the company. Students will be given both the customer's and the provider's perspective of this important aspect of conducting business in the global marketplace. Special emphasis will be placed on the company's role in creating the best environment for customer/provider interaction. Periodically. Prerequisite: MRKT 3301.

\section*{MRKT 4347 (3-3-0) Special Topics in Marketing}

A study of a selected topics, strategies, or problems facing the marketing decision-maker today. Examples are business development strategies, marketing for nonprofit organizations, creativity in marketing, fashion merchandising, physical distribution, advanced marketing research, new product management, services marketing, and power retailing strategies. Periodically. Prerequisites: MRKT 3301 and permission of the instructor.

\section*{Math}

MATH 1101 (1-2-0) Pre-College Mathematics
A careful review of elementary mathematics from the arithmetic of integers through basic mathematics, designed for students who are not adequately prepared for college mathematics. Required of all students who have not passed the arithmetic skills segment of the Math Advising Tool. The course is offered on a Credit/No Credit basis. No grade points will be awarded for its completion, and it may not be used to satisfy any mathematics requirement for graduation. Fall, Spring.

\section*{MATH 1300 (3-3-0) Intermediate Algebra}

An introductory course in algebra which includes the study of fundamental algebraic operations, factoring, algebraic fractions, equations and inequalities, and exponents and radicals. Required of all students who have not passed the basic algebra section of the Math Advising Tool. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. (This course may not be used to satisfy any mathematics requirement for graduation.) Fall, Spring.

\section*{MATH 1301 (3-3-0) Math for Liberal Arts}

Designed to meet the general studies requirements for the B.A. and B.A.S. degrees. Sets, logic, number bases, elementary algebra, geometry, statistics and graphs, consumer math, and use of a scientific calculator. Fall, Winter, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: eMAT Advising Tool (Arithmetic Skills).

\section*{MATH 1303 (3-3-0) College Algebra}

Linear and quadratic equations and inequalities, roots of polynomials, functions and graphs, exponential and logarithmic functions, systems of equations, sequences, series, and the binomial theorem. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: eMAT Advising Tool (Basic Algebra),

\section*{MATH 1304 (3-3-0) Trigonometry}

Trigonometric functions, logarithms, solutions of triangles, trigonometric identities and equations, inverse trigonometric functions, and an introduction to complex numbers. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 or equivalent.

MATH 1307 (3-3-0) Finite Math for Business Analysis
Brief review of algebra, exponents and logarithms, mathematical models for finance, systems of linear equations and inequalities, linear programming, matrices, simplex method, and probability. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online (in Summer). Prerequisite: eMAT Advising Tool (Basic Algebra).

\section*{MATH 1308 (3-3-0) Calculus for Business Analysis}

Limits, differentiation, graphing, and integration with applications to business problems. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 or 1307.

\section*{MATH 1405 (4-4-0) Calculus and Analytic Geometry I}

Introduction to analytic geometry, functions, limits, and continuity; the derivative and applications; the antiderivative; definite integral, and applications. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall. Prerequisite: eMAT Advising Tool (Advanced Algebra) or MATH 1303, and knowledge of trigonometry

MATH 1406 (4-4-0) Calculus and Analytic Geometry II
Techniques of integration; applications of the definite integral; parametric equations and polar coordinates; infinite sequences and series. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 1405.

\section*{MATH 2301 (3-3-0) Elementary Probability and Statistics}
(POLS 2303; PSYC 2301; SOCI 2303)
Introductory course including elements of probability to support statistical theory. Topics include theoretical distributions, discrete and continuous variables, and tests of hypotheses. Suggested for majors in the social and behavioral sciences. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Prerequisite: MATH 1301 or 1303 or 1307 or 1405.

\section*{MATH 2309 (3-3-0) Introduction to Linear Algebra}

An introduction to the fundamentals of linear algebra, including Gaussian elimination, solution of systems of linear equations, finite dimensional vector spaces, matrices, and determinants. The main emphasis of the course is on applications and computational methods, with a view to facilitate the use of linear algebra in computer science and the natural and social sciences. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 or 1307 or Math Advising Tool.

\section*{MATH 2407 (4-4-0) Calculus and Analytic Geometry III}

Solid analytic geometry, differential calculus of vector-valued functions, calculus of functions of several variables, including partial derivatives, double integrals, and line integrals. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 1406.

\section*{MATH 3101 (1-2-0) Mathematics Seminar}

A seminar designed to expose the mathematics student to the broad range of applications of mathematical concepts and methods from a current or historical perspective. Periodically. Prerequisite: Permission of instructor.
MATH 3301 (3-3-0) Elementary Foundations of Mathematics
Topics include: standard methods of proof, set theory, symbolic logic, relations, functions, and cardinality. Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 1406 or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 3302 (3-3-0) Discrete Mathematics}

A study of the basic techniques and modes of reasoning of combinatorial problem solving. Sets, functions, and algorithms; counting methods and recurrence relations; graph theory; trees; network models; Boolean algebra and combinatorial circuits. Fall. Prerequisites: MATH 1303, 2309, and COSC 1405, or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 3303 (3-3-0) Math Content I}

A study of systems of numeration and properties of number systems from whole numbers through real numbers. Special attention is given to mathematical reasoning and problem solving. Fall, Summer. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 3304 (3-3-0) Math Content II}

A continuation of MATH 3303. Additional topics include properties of real number systems, metric, non-metric, and coordinate geometry, probability, and statistics with a continued emphasis on problem solving. Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: MATH 3303 or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 3305 (3-3-0) Differential Equations}

Differential equations of the first order with geometric and physical applications; analysis of differential equations of second and higher orders and their solutions. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 2407.

\section*{MATH 3307 (3-3-0) Introduction to Numerical Methods}

An introduction to numerical methods, both the mathematical methods for solving equations numerically and the programming of these methods on computers. Topics include interval-halving, Newton's and Bairstow's methods for a single equation; Gaussian elimination and Gram-Schmidt orthogonalization for solving systems of linear equations; interpolating polynomials; and methods of numerical differentiation and integration. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Spring, odd-numbered years. Prerequisites: COSC 1405 and MATH 1405.

\section*{MATH 3308 (3-3-0) Introduction to Probability and Statistics}

A representative introduction to both the data-oriented nature of statistics and the mathematical concepts underlying statistics. Topics include data gathering and experimental design, organizing and describing data, classical probability theory, and statistical inference, probabilistic modeling methods applied to the analysis of biological sequences such as DNA and proteins, and DNA sequence structure, and homology modeling. TI-83/84 Plus graphing calculator required. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 1405.

\section*{MATH 3309 (3-3-0) Essential Knowledge of Geometry}

A thorough treatment of the principles of Euclidean geometry, and a study of non-Euclidean geometries. Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 1406 or MATH 3304 or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 3310 (3-3-0) Problem Solving in Mathematics}

Problem solving techniques applied to various topics in mathematics. Problems will be investigated in the areas of relations, functions, algebra, geometry, probability, and logic using various problem-solving techniques. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 1406 or MATH 3304 or permission of instructor.

\section*{MATH 4010 (0-3-0) Math 4-8 Seminar}

This required course is designed to help students prepare for the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES). The course will focus on content and sample questions from state authorized preparation manuals distributed by the National Evaluation Systems, Inc. Information will also be gleaned from the state publication Proficiencies for Teachers in LearnerCentered Schools and other appropriate sources. Students must score a minimum of \(85 \%\) on the TExES post-test in order to be authorized by the College of Education to take the TExES examination. Fall, Spring.

\section*{MATH 4011 (0-3-0) Math 7-12 Seminar}

This required course is designed to help students prepare for the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES). The course will focus on content and sample questions from state authorized preparation manuals distributed by the National Evaluation Systems, Inc. Information will also be gleaned from the state publication Proficiencies for Teachers in LearnerCentered Schools and other appropriate sources. Students must score a minimum of \(85 \%\) on the TExES post-test in order to be authorized by the College of College of Education to take the TExES examination. Fall, Spring.

\section*{MATH 4301 (3-3-0) Linear Algebra}

An introduction to the fundamentals of linear algebra, including Gaussian elimination, solution of systems of linear equations, finite dimensional vector spaces, matrices, and determinants as well as a study of vector spaces, linear transformations, invariance, and the theory of matrices. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 2407.

MATH 4302 (3-3-0) Abstract Algebra I (S-L)
This course covers functions, operations, equivalence relations, divisibility, groups, homomorphisms, quotient groups. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall. Prerequisites: MATH 3301.

MATH 4303 (3-3-0) Analysis I (S-L)
Selected topics from number systems, set theory, limits and continuity, theory of calculus, sequences and series, and vector analysis. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 3301.

\section*{MATH 4306 (3-3-0) Abstract Algebra II}

Fundamentals of ring and field theory. Topics include polynomial rings and field extensions. Periodically in the Spring. Prerequisite: MATH 4302.

\section*{MATH 4307 (3-3-0) Analysis II}

Selected topics from differential and integral calculus, infinite series, sequences and series of functions, and metric spaces. Periodically in the Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 4303.

\section*{Music Business}

\section*{MUSB 2301 (3-3-0) Introduction to the Music Business}

A survey of the history, structure, business practices, procedures, economics, technologies and career opportunities within the commercial Music Industry. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{MUSB 3213 (2-2-2) Critical Listening for Recording Engineers}

Advanced ear training skills for audio professionals. Using state-of-the-art analysis tools, students learn the skill of critical listening beginning with the guided analysis of major commercial audio recordings in which elements contributing to the success of each recording are identified. The process continues with exploration into more advanced aspects of music creation and production such as frequency and pitch recognition, panning, equalization, compression, distortion and phase coherence. B.A. or B.S. Music Business majors only. Spring, Fall.

\section*{MUSB 3301 (3-3-0) History of Commercial Music}

An examination of popular music in America from 1840 to today, including the socio-musical influence of the commercial song. Beginning with the birth of American popular music in the songs of Stephen Foster and minstrels, the course explores the development of ragtime, blues, jazz, the crooners, American musical theater, country, Latin, rock & roll, rock, and contemporary Christian music. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 2305 Introduction to Music Literature and Fine Arts.

\section*{MUSB 3310 (3-3-0) Inside the Recording Industry}

The development of the Recording Industry in America, including the history of recording, establishment of the major labels and the inner workings of the industry that drives the Music Business. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: MUSB 2301 Introduction to the Music Business.

\section*{MUSB 3311 (3-2-1) Introduction to the Recording Studio}

An overview of the technology and techniques involved in modern multi-track recording and mixing through hands-on studio instruction. Lab fee. Fall, Spring. Music Business majors only or permission of instructor. Prerequisites: MUSB 3310 Inside the Recording Industry and the successful completion of two semesters of required Music Theory and Aural Skills.

\section*{MUSB 3312 (3-3-6) Advanced Recording Techniques}

The course provides in-depth, hands-on instruction in a working recording studio environment, introducing the study of microphones, analog and digital processing equipment, and advanced production and mixing techniques. Includes the second level of Digidesign certified Pro Tools instruction. Weekly lab requirement. Lab fee. B.A. or B.S. Music Business majors only. Prerequisites: MUSB 3311, MUSI 1112 and MUSI 2311 (Note: MUSI 2311 must be taken concurrently). Fall, Spring.

\section*{MUSB 3320 (3-3-0) Introduction to Songwriting}

A study in the craft of songwriting, including the history of songwriting, songwriting as a career, the disciple of creating art, finding ideas for songs, releasing writing blocks, accessing inspiration, and working with a collaborator. Also included is a review of basic poetic rhyme schemes as applied to the creation of song lyrics, basic melodic design, the concept of the "hook" and an examination of the basic song forms. The class features a workshop format in which students are expected to actively participate both as solo writers and co-writers. Open to all students. Spring.

\section*{MUSB 3321 (3-3-0) Advanced Songwriting Techniques}

Applied study of the musical tools used by the professional songwriter. The course features advanced study in melodic construction, harmonic progression, unusual song forms, and enhancement of the song through the addition of solo orchestral instruments. The course features both group and individual instruction. B.A. or B.S. Music Business majors only. Fall. Prerequisites: MUSB 3320 and MUSI 2311 (Note: MUSI 2311 may be taken concurrently).

\section*{MUSB 3380 (3-3-0) Copyright and Intellectual Property Law}

An introduction to the fundamentals of copyright law, its application to the protection of sound recordings, musical compositions, motion pictures and other creative works, and its impact on the distribution of intellectual property, including record piracy and the delivery of music via the Internet. Included also is a review and application of the principals of trademark, trade secret and patent law to the business of music and entertainment. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Music Business majors only or permission of instructor. Prerequisite: MANA 3308 Business and Public Law.

MUSB 4171 (1-3-0), 4271 (2-3-0), 4371 (3-3-0) Special Topics in Music Business
Examination and critical evaluation of current issues related to the Music Business. Subject matter varies; therefore, credit hours (from 1 to 3 hours) to be determined with each offering. Course may be repeated for credit as topic changes. Periodically.

\section*{MUSB 4275 (2-2-0) Songwriting Practicum}

Experiencing first-hand the career of the professional songwriter by learning to create common commercial projects such as radio jingles and TV spots "on demand," then by working in the recording studio producing demos and finished recordings of commercial projects and original songs. B.A. or B.S. Music Business majors only. Periodically. Prerequisite: MUSB 3321.

\section*{MUSB 4301 (3-3-0) Music Publishing}

The history, functions and operations of music publishing, including copyright acquisition, songwriter contracts, performance licensing, mechanical licensing, print publishing and synchronization rights. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online. Music Business majors only or permission of instructor. Prerequisites: MUSB 3380 Copyright and Intellectual Property Law.

\section*{MUSB 4310 (3-3-0) The Musician as Entrepreneur}

The development and management of a successful freelance career in the Music Business, including the basics of running a one-person business, lifestyle considerations, personal and professional financial management, and the exploitation of potential income streams. Spring. Prerequisites: Must be a senior with a minimum of 90 credit hours completed. Course to be taken during the final year of study.

\section*{MUSB 4320 (3-3-0) Launching an Entrepreneurial Venture in the Music Business}

The development of a successful entrepreneurial enterprise in the Music Business through examining the nature and history of entrepreneurship in the Music Business, recognizing and creating opportunity, establishing a business model, understanding the product or service risks and benefits, determining start-up resources, establishing a founding team, crafting a business plan, analyzing legal risks and benefits, considering ethics and social responsibility and designing an entrepreneurial marketing plan. Music Business majors only or permission of instructor. Fall. Prerequisites: Must be a senior with a minimum of 90 credit hours completed. Course to be taken during the final year of study.

\section*{MUSB 4375 (3-3-9) Music Production Practicum}

Taught entirely in the recording studio, the course offers in-depth experience in the Music Production process, with emphasis on pre-production, programming, loop-based production techniques, advanced Pro Tools techniques, instrumental and vocal tracking, editing, pitch correction, mixing and mastering. Includes the third level of Digidesign certified Pro Tools instruction. Weekly lab requirement. Lab fee. B.A. or B.S. Music Business majors only. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSB 3213.

\section*{MUSB 4380 (3-3-0) Seminar in Music Business}

A study of selected fields in the Music Business based on the individual interest of the student. The content of each field of study is to be developed through primary research, consisting of visits to the various businesses of interest (such as recording companies, talent agencies, production houses, etc.) and personal interviews with the appropriate personnel in each organization. This course is designed as an alternative to MUSB 4385 Internship in the Music Industry I (S-L) for those students who either do not qualify for an internship or do not wish to participate in an internship project. Periodically. Music Business majors only or permission of instructor. Prerequisites: Admission to candidacy, Senior level status (90 hours), completion of required Music courses, required Music Business courses, required Business courses (last semester courses may be taken concurrently), and approval of intern coordinator. A letter grade of " C " or better is required in all prerequisites. Minimum 2.0 cumulative G.P.A. required.

\section*{MUSB 4385 (3-3-0) Internship in the Music Industry I (S-L)}

A formal intern educational project in which the qualifying student participates in a business organization as an intern for a selected period(s) of time. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisites: Admission to candidacy, Senior level status (90 hours), completion of required Music courses, required Music Business courses, required Business courses (last semester courses may be taken concurrently) and approval of intern coordinator. A letter grade of " \(C\) " or better is required in all prerequisites. Minimum 2.0 cumulative G.P.A. required.

MUSB 4386 (3-3-0) Internship in Music Industry II
A continuation of MUSB 4385 (S-L), which may be applied as a 3 -hour Music Business elective. Periodically. Prerequisite: MUSB 4385, Internship in the Music Industry I (S-L)

\section*{Music}

This course is a scheduled opportunity for all music majors to develop attendance of lectures, recitals, and concerts in order to promote the performance and critical listening skills of future professional musicians. The course is required each semester and credit is given based upon the student attending a minimum number of daytime and evening events during a semester. Music majors are required to have eight (8) semesters of Seminar/Performance Lab credits to graduate (seven for music education students due to student teaching). This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Fall, Spring.

MUSI 1100 (1-2-0) Introduction to Aural Skills
An introduction to sightsinging and ear-training. A prerequisite course for MUSI 1111. Does not count as credit toward a degree with a major in Music or Music Business. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{MUSI 1101 (1-2-0) Class Voice}

Designed to develop the basic vocal skills needed in order to begin private voice study. Students will cover posture, breathing, support, tone resonation, pronunciation in English and possibly Italian, and basic interpretive skills used in the performance of solo vocal literature. Students will also learn and perform standard vocal repertoire from classical to musical theater. The course is open to both music majors and non-music majors. Fall. Prerequisite: Approval of Program Director of Vocal Division.

\section*{MUSI 1111 (1-2-0) Aural Skills I}

A skill-building course in sightsinging and ear-training, to include solfège singing of major and minor melodies in both simple and compound meters, aural and rhythmic reading exercises, and melodic and harmonic dictation. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisites: MUSI 1300 or a passing score on the Music Theory Placement Exam; and MUSI 1311, or concurrent enrollment in MUSI 1311.

MUSI 1112 (1-2-0) Aural Skills II
A continuation of MUSI 1111. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisites: MUSI 1111, 1311, 1312, or concurrent enrollment in MUSI 1312.

MUSI 1201 (2-2-0) Foundations and Principles of Music Education
A course designed to introduce the undergraduate student to the foundations and principles of music education in schools and how these include aural skills, notational literacy, vocal and instrumental performance practice, creative expressive skills, and knowledge of music's varied historical and cultural expression. Fall.

\section*{MUSI 1206 (2-2-0) Diction I}

A course in the fundamentals of Italian and English diction for vocal music students or non-music majors utilizing the International Phonetic Alphabet. The course will also include basic principles of Latin diction which are essential to the choral conductor. Fall.

\section*{MUSI 1207 (2-2-0) Diction II}

A course in the fundamentals of German and French diction for vocal performance majors utilizing the International Phonetic Alphabet. Spring.

\section*{MUSI 1300 (3-3-0) Fundamentals of Music}

A course especially designed for students who have a limited background in music or who are placed in the course by the results of the Music Theory Placement Exam. It includes a study of scales, rhythm, meter, key signatures, musical terminology, intervals, chord construction, and an introduction to solfege sightsinging. No credit for music majors. Fall, Spring, Summer.

MUSI 1311 (3-3-0) Music Theory I
A step-by-step study of the basic organization of music, from scale and chord structure to traditional four-part harmony. Students develop skills in analyzing music, writing elementary tonal music and improvising written harmonizations to melodic lines. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: MUSI 1300 or a passing score on the Music Theory Placement Exam.

\section*{MUSI 1312 (3-3-0) Music Theory II}

A continuation of MUSI 1311. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: MUSI 1311.
MUSI 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371 (3-1-3) Theater Practicum
(COMA 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371)
Practical, technical experiences in areas of stage craft, lighting, costuming, properties, house management, and makeup; organizational and operation. Periodically.

\section*{MUSI 2111 (1-2-0) Aural Skills III}

A continuation of MUSI 1112. A skill-building course in solfege sightsinging and ear-training. Emphasis will be placed on sightsinging and aural exercises that involve chromaticism, altered chords, and modulations. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisites: MUSI 1112, 1312, 2311, or concurrent enrollment in MUSI 2311.

MUSI 2112 (1-2-0) Aural Skills IV
A continuation of MUSI 2111. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisites: MUSI 2111, 2311, 2312, or concurrent enrollment in MUSI 2312.

\section*{MUSI 2305 (3-3-0) Introduction to Music Literature and Fine Arts}

A course designed to guide students in the development of the "art of listening." Basic concepts of music design and style are studied through the music of selected composers from each of the historical periods. An overview of all of the fine arts will be covered in this course. Designed for, but not limited to, music majors. Fall, Spring. Prerequisites: MUSI 1111 and 1311.

\section*{MUSI 2307 (3-3-0) Introduction to Church Music/Worship}

This course will provide an introductory survey of the philosophy and study of church music and worship. Students will examine the development and functional use of music in worship in the Old Testament, New Testament, and throughout Christian history, including modern usage and its various applications in the local church. Fall. Prerequisites: FINE 1306 or MUSI 2305, or by permission.

\section*{MUSI 2311 (3-3-0) Music Theory III}

The study of advanced harmony (including larger Baroque and Classical forms, modulations, altered chords, and the harmonic vocabulary of the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries) with emphasis on analysis, part-writing, and improvisational composition projects in various styles. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 1312.

\section*{MUSI 2312 (3-3-0) Music Theory IV}

Continuation of MUSI 2311. The study of late nineteenth-century and twentieth-century compositional techniques with emphasis on analysis, and improvisational composition projects in various styles. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 2311.

\section*{MUSI 3089 (0-0-0) Junior Recital for Performance Majors}

Student will enroll using this course number in the semester he/she desires to present a 25 -minute recital as a performance major, or equivalent completion of required levels for performance majors, subject to successful completion of a recital hearing Student must also enroll in at least one credit hour of his/her applied instrument. Fall, Spring. Prerequisite: Non-performance majors must seek approval of Applied Program Director to enroll in this course.

MUSI 3100, 3103, 4100, 4103 (1-1-2) Accompanying Practicum
Designed to provide piano majors/concentrations with practical experience in accompanying soloists, students are required to accompany 3-5 vocal students in lessons and performances according to the supervising professor's evaluation of repertoire involved. Format includes observation of lessons by the supervising professor, submission of song analysis forms, performances in MUSI 1000: Seminar/Performance Lab (S-L) and periodic appointments with the supervising professor to discuss progress and challenges encountered. One semester required for Piano Performance Majors as an ensemble credit. (Fall 3100/4100, Spring 3103/4103). Prerequisite: Completion of MUSI 3215.

\section*{MUSI 3189 (1-1-0) Junior Recital}

Student will enroll using this course number in the semester he/she desires to present the recital. Student must also enroll in at least one credit hour of his/her applied instrument. Fall, Spring, Summer.

An in-depth study of the analysis of musical forms, including sonata form, rondo, sonata-rondo, classical concerto, Baroque variation forms, and fugue. Fall. Prerequisite: MUSI 2312.

\section*{MUSI 3202 (2-2-0) Advanced Analysis}

\section*{MUSI 3203 (2-2-0) Keyboard Skills}

A practical course for the development of keyboard skills including melody harmonization, modulation, transposition, sight reading, and improvisation from lead sheet symbols and from Roman numerals. Spring, odd-numbered years. Prerequisites: Theory III, Piano Level 4, and permission of instructor.

\section*{MUSI 3204 (2-2-0) Music History and Literature I}

A study of the development of music from its beginnings through the Renaissance period, with emphasis on recognizing style characteristics by examining scores and listening to music. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 2305.

\section*{MUSI 3205 (2-2-0) Music History and Literature II}

A study of the development of music in the Baroque and Classical periods, with emphasis on recognizing style characteristics by examining scores and listening to music. Fall. Prerequisite: MUSI 2305.

\section*{MUSI 3206 (2-2-0) Music History and Literature III}

A study of the development of music from the Romantic period through the present day, with emphasis on recognizing style characteristics by examining scores and listening to music. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 2305.

\section*{MUSI 3207 (2-2-0) Basic Conducting}

Study toward mastery of basic skills in choral and instrumental conducting, and study of rehearsal and performance techniques. Fall. Prerequisite: MUSI 2312 or permission of instructor.

MUSI 3208 (2-2-0) Advanced Choral Conducting
Study toward mastery of advanced skills in choral conducting and study of rehearsal and performance techniques. Spring.
Prerequisites: MUSI 3207 and junior standing.
MUSI 3215 (2-2-0) Accompanying Skills
A course involving the study of basic pianistic skills required to function as an accompanist for solo and ensemble situations. Special units will be devoted to vocal coaching, improvisational skills, and worship accompaniment. Required for piano performance majors. Offered Fall, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: Completion of Level VI Piano Requirements.

\section*{MUSI 3217 (2-2-0) Jazz Improvisation}

An introduction to jazz improvisation with an emphasis on performance and piano voicings. Spring, even-numbered years. Prerequisites: MUSI 1112, 1312, Class Piano II, and Jazz Theory.

\section*{MUSI 3311 (3-3-0) Elementary Music Methods}

Emphasis is on the teaching of musical concepts (rhythm, melody, texture, timbre, dynamics, form) through musical activities (singing, playing instruments, moving). Course includes teaching general music from kindergarten through \(5^{\text {th }}\) grade, utilizing various pedagogical approaches. Prerequisites: MUSI 1311 and 1111 (Theory I and Aural Skills I) or by special examination in music theory.

\section*{MUSI 3312 (3-3-0) Secondary Music Methods}

A study of teaching music at the middle and high school levels. Emphasis on choral, instrumental (band and orchestra), music theory, music literature, and general music education in secondary schools. Spring. Prerequisite: MUSI 3311 or consent of the professor.

\section*{MUSI 3316 (3-3-0) Jazz Theory}

Basic musical concepts related to the jazz idiom, such as scales, harmony, rhythm, melody, and styles. Fall. Prerequisites: MUSI 1112, 1312, and MUSI 1118.

\section*{MUSI 4010 (0-3-0) Music All-level Seminar (S-L)}

This required course is designed to help students prepare for the Texas Examination of Educator Standards (TExES). The course will focus on content and sample questions from state authorized preparation manuals distributed by the National Evaluation Systems, Inc. Information will also be gleaned from the state publication Proficiencies for Teachers in LearnerCentered Schools and other appropriate sources. Prerequisite: Completion of four semesters of applied piano (including MUSI 1117: Class Piano I or MUSI 1118: Class Piano II) and the completion of all degree-specific proficiency requirements MUSI 2023A: Piano Proficiency Level III and/or MUSI 2023B: Piano Proficiency Level IV, MUSI 2023C: Sophomore Barrier for Piano Majors/Concentrations, or MUSI 3023 Piano Proficiency Level V.

\section*{MUSI 4220 (2-1-0) Applied Piano}

Private instruction in piano for 50 minutes per week. This number designates the seventh or eighth semester of piano study. The semester culminates in a jury evaluation by a panel of piano faculty members. The student will pursue the completion of specific upper level piano proficiency requirements as described in the student's specific music degree plan. Students who have completed all proficiency requirements will study and perform repertoire as determined by the instructor. (Applied Music fee required.) Fall, Spring, Long Summer. Prerequisite: Completion of six semesters of applied piano (including MUSI 1117: Class Piano I or MUSI 1118: Class Piano II) and the completion of all degree-specific proficiency requirements MUSI 2023A: Piano Proficiency Level III and/or MUSI 2023B: Piano Proficiency Level IV, MUSI 2023C: Sophomore Barrier for Piano Majors/Concentrations, or MUSI 3023 Piano Proficiency Level V.

\section*{MUSI 2023A (0-0-0) Piano Proficiency Level III}

The student will enroll in this course number concurrently with Applied Piano (MUSI 1120, 1220, 2120, or 2220) while attempting to pass Piano Proficiency Level III. MUSI 2023A serves as transcript verification for mastery of the following keyboard skills: major and minor pentascales, specific major and minor chord progressions, major scales, harmonic minor scales, transposition and harmonization of a simple melody, improvisation of accompaniment for a simple melody, and sight reading from a prescribed Level III Hymn List. The student must also perform two memorized repertoire pieces in contrasting styles. One piece must be a movement from a sonatina. The student will perform for a faculty jury. The average of the jury grades must be \(70 \%\) or higher to constitute completion of the level. A deficiency in any skill area may result in an average below \(70 \%\). A jury average below \(70 \%\) does not constitute completion of the level; therefore the student will receive a grade of NC (No Credit). A jury average of \(70 \%\) or higher constitutes successful completion of the level and the student will receive a semester grade of CR (Credit). The student must enroll in MUSI 2023A until the level is completed successfully. Fall, Spring, Long Summer. Prerequisite: Approval of Program Director of Keyboard Division.

\section*{MUSI 2023B (0-0-0) Piano Proficiency Level IV}

The student will enroll in this course number concurrently with Applied Piano (MUSI 1120, 1220, 2120, or 2220) while attempting to pass Piano Proficiency Level IV. MUSI 2023B serves as transcript verification for mastery of the keyboard skills listed under MUSI 2023A: Piano Proficiency Level III as well as the following: specific black-key major scales played hands together, an original improvisatory arrangement of "Happy Birthday" with accompaniment for practical use, a memorized performance of "Star-Spangled Banner," sight reading from a prescribed Level IV hymn list as well as two memorized repertoire pieces of contrasting style. The student will perform these skills for a faculty jury. The average of the jury grades must be \(70 \%\) or higher to constitute completion of the level. A deficiency in any skill area may result in an average below \(70 \%\). A jury average below \(70 \%\) does not constitute completion of the level; therefore the student will receive a grade of NC (No Credit). A jury average of \(70 \%\) or higher constitutes successful completion of the level and the student will receive a semester grade of CR (Credit). The student must enroll in MUSI 2023B until the level is completed successfully. Fall, Spring, Long Summer. Prerequisite: Completion of MUSI 2023A: Piano Proficiency Level III.

The student pursuing a piano concentration or piano performance major will enroll in this course number while in the fourth semester of Applied Piano (MUSI 2120 or 2220). Ideally, the piano performance major or concentration is in the second semester of level VII at the time of this exam. Each student will be evaluated regarding his/her progress in the program. This constitutes a Sophomore Barrier Jury Exam that evaluates the student's current level while also evaluating the student's progress and potential for successful completion of their stated degree program. Transfer students who have already completed four semesters of study will be evaluated in the same manner after one or two semesters of study at DBU at the discretion of his or her current applied professor. At the conclusion of the exam, the piano faculty will make a recommendation regarding the student's continued pursuit of his or her current degree program through the average of the grades for the Sophomore Barrier Exam. The jury average communicates the following: Bachelor of Music in Piano Performance is recommended for an average of 92-99; Bachelor of Music with piano concentration is recommended for an average of 80-91; repetition of the exam is recommended for an average of \(70-79\). An average below 70 will result in a recommendation to explore other degree options. Fall, Spring, Long Summer. Prerequisite: Completion of four semesters of Applied Piano.

MUSI 3023 (0-0-0) Piano Proficiency Level V
The student will enroll in MUSI 3023 concurrently with Applied Piano while attempting to pass Piano Proficiency Level V either after completing MUSI 2023A and MUSI 2023B or as a freshman piano concentration or piano performance major. MUSI 3023 serves as transcript verification for mastery of the keyboard skills listed under MUSI 2023A: Piano Proficiency Levels III and IV as well as the following that is specific to Piano Proficiency Level V: all major and harmonic minor scales played hands together for four octaves in sixteenth notes, all major and minor arpeggios played hands together for four octaves in sixteenth notes, and memorized performance of three repertoire pieces. For the student who attempts MUSI 3023 in the first semester of the freshman year, the student completes the material above that is specific to Level \(V\) with modifications in order to incorporate the functional piano skills that are required in Levels III and IV. In order to accommodate the additional preparation required for mastering those skills, the repertoire requirements is reduced from three pieces to two pieces. The skills incorporated from Levels III and IV include transposition and harmonization of a simple melody, improvisation of accompaniment for a simple melody, sight reading from the Level IV Hymn List, and an original improvisatory arrangement of "Happy Birthday" with accompaniment for practical use. The student will perform the repertoire pieces and skills for a faculty jury. The average of the jury grades must be \(80 \%\) or higher to constitute completion of the level; therefore the student will receive a grade of NC (No Credit). A jury average of \(80 \%\) or higher constitutes successful completion of the level and the student will receive a semester grade of CR (Credit). The student must enroll for this course number until the level is completed successfully. Fall, Spring, Summer. Prerequisite: Approval of Program Director of Keyboard Division.

\section*{MUSI 3320 (3-1.5-0) Advanced Applied Piano}

Private instruction in piano for one hour and 20 minutes per week or one \(\mathbf{5 0}\) minute lesson and all studio classes as scheduled TBA. This number designates the fifth or sixth semester of piano study for piano performance majors. The student will pursue the completion of specific upper level piano requirements as described in the student's specific music degree plan. A select handbell organization of students performing a variety of handbell literature. The group will concentrate on ringing techniques and training for handbell leadership in the church and school. Concerts on and off campus. Open to all students by audition.

MUSI 1261, 2261, 3261, 4261 (2-1-4) Opera Workshop
The study and performance of scenes from great operas throughout history. This is an elective class and requires an audition. Fall.

MUSI 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371 (3-1-3) Theater Practicum
(COMA 1371, 2371, 3371, 4371)
Practical, technical experiences in areas of stage craft, lighting, costuming, properties, house management, and makeup. Offered periodically.

MUSI 3167 (1-1-1) Piano Ensemble
This course will explore piano repertoire written for more than one pianist. Students will rehearse and perform collaborative piano works by composers from standard and contemporary classical literature. One semester required for Piano Performance Majors as an ensemble credit. Prerequisites: Completion of Piano Level VIIB or approval of Program Director of Keyboard Division. Fall.

\section*{Philosophy}

PHIL 2301 (3-3-0) Introduction to Philosophy
An introduction to basic philosophic concerns such as metaphysics, logic, epistemology, ethics, and aesthetics, including a survey of major philosophic problems and the answers proposed by various major philosophers. A biblical and theological framework for thinking Christianly about philosophy will be presented. Fall, Spring, Online.

PHIL 2302 (3-3-0) Introduction to Logic
A study of the principles of correct thinking. This course examines the laws of logic, inductive and deductive reasoning, and shows the relevance of sound argumentation to philosophic, scientific, academic, and personal enterprises. The nature of formal and informal logical fallacies is considered. The course is designed to help students obtain proficiency in critical thinking. Spring, odd-numbered years.

PHIL 2303 (3-3-0) Introduction to Worldviews
An introduction to the nature, definition, and importance of worldviews in general and to basic worldview systems in particular (e.g., theism, deism, naturalism, pantheism). This course will highlight the importance of thinking "worldviewishly" by giving special attention to the role of assumptions and presuppositions in the academic disciplines, in the diversity of cultures, and in personal life. Fall.

\section*{PHIL 3301 (3-3-0) History of Philosophy I: Classical and Medieval}

A survey and critique of the major Western philosophers and their ideas in the Ancient, Christian, and Medieval Periods (i.e., from the pre-Socratic philosophers to Thomas Aquinas). Fall. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

PHIL 3302 (3-3-0) History of Philosophy II: Modern and Postmodern
A continuation of PHIL 3301 consisting of a survey and critique of the major Western philosophers and their ideas in the Modern and Contemporary or Postmodern Periods (from the Renaissance to the present). Spring. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

\section*{PHIL 3303 (3-3-0) Philosophy of Religion}

A critical examination of the nature and validity of religious experience and the place of religion in human life. Spring, Online. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301.

\section*{PHIL 3304 (3-3-0) The Christian Worldview}
(RELI 3374)
A description of the concept of worldview in general and the content of the Christian world view in particular, focusing on the Biblical themes of creation, fall, redemption, and their implications in the totality of life including spiritual experience, education, the arts, vocation, the family, etc. Periodically.

\section*{PHIL 3370 (3-3-0) The Philosophy of Science and Technology}

An investigation of the characteristic issues which arise when serious attempts are made to integrate twentieth century science and the Christian worldview in a constructive manner. The study will focus on how theological/scientific concerns have interfaced historically with the central philosophical categories of ontology, epistemology, ethics, and aesthetics as well as emphasize what these concerns contribute to contemporary technologies. Spring, odd-numbered years.

\section*{PHIL 4301 (3-3-0) Metaphysics}

A study of issues which arise from an attempt to understand reality and its manifestations, both infinite and finite. Topics include God and Trinitarianism, substance and accidents, space and time, possibility and necessity, causality, mind and body, and universals. Fall, odd-numbered years. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

\section*{PHIL 4302 (3-3-0) Epistemology}

A study of the nature, source, types, justification, and limits of human knowledge with a focus on the Contemporary Period. The role and importance of the concept of biblical revelation will be included. Spring, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

\section*{PHIL 4303 (3-3-0) Ethics}

A survey of the development of ethical thought, both ancient and modern. Various ethical systems and their proponents, including alternative Christian perspectives, will be covered along with a discussion of contemporary ethical problems such as abortion, homosexuality, war, ecology, business ethics, social justice, etc. Fall, even-numbered years. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

\section*{PHIL 4304 (3-3-0) Aesthetics}

\section*{(ART 4304)}

An examination of the principles involved in the production, interpretation, and criticism of works of art, as well as basic principles of Christian aesthetic theory. Illustrative material from various artistic disciplines will be utilized. Spring, evennumbered years. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

PHIL 4305 (3-3-0) Senior Project (S-L)
A sustained, scholarly treatment of a topic of philosophical interest to the student, guided by the student's advising professor in tutorial fashion, required as a capstone to the major. The thesis should be at least 30 pages in length and must be defended orally before a review committee. As needed. This course contains a field-based service-learning component. Prerequisites: PHIL 2301, 2302, 2303, 3301, 3302, and at least two of the following: PHIL 4301, 4302, 4303, or 4304.

PHIL 4352 (3-3-0) History of East Asian Philosophy and Religion (HIST 4352, RELI 4352)
This course will explore the history of East Asian philosophy, religious beliefs, and practices from the area's prehistory to the present. Periodically.

\section*{PHIL 4374 (3-3-0) Christian Apologetics \\ (RELI 4374)}

A survey of representative approaches to Christian Apologetics from the Greek fathers to the present. These will be analyzed in the light of biblical revelation, and a comprehensive Christian apologetic will be attempted. Periodically. Prerequisite: PHIL 2301 or instructor approval.

\section*{Physical Science/Physics}

\section*{Physical Science}

\section*{PHSC 1401 (4-3-2) Physical Science I}

A lab-oriented investigation into the nature of solid matter and the physical universe, emphasizing the necessity to ask questions and the importance of scientific hypothesizing. The course includes the study of laws regarding mechanics, matter, heat, energy, and wave motion. The study of matter in the astronomical realm also may be included. The course is designed for the non-science major. Lab fee. Fall, Spring, Summer, Online.

PHSC 1402 (4-3-2) Physical Science II
A lab-oriented investigation into the nature of solid matter and the physical universe, emphasizing the necessity to ask questions and the importance of scientific hypothesizing. The course includes the study of electricity and magnetism, light, energy, atomic and nuclear physics, and relativity. Matter in the geological realm may also be studied. The course is designed for the non-science major. Lab fee. Note: PHSC 1401 is not a prerequisite for PHSC 1402. Fall, Spring, Summer.

\section*{Physics}

\section*{PHYS 1401 (4-3-3) General Physics I}

Introductory study of the principles and application of mechanics, wave motion, and sound, with emphasis on fundamental concepts and problem solving. Lab fee. Fall. Prerequisite: MATH 1303 and 1304.

\section*{PHYS 1402 (4-3-3) General Physics II}

Continuation of PHYS 1401, completing the survey of physics. Emphasis includes electricity, magnetism, optics, atomic structure, and nuclear physics. Lab fee. Spring. Prerequisite: PHYS 1401.

\section*{PHYS 3301 (3-3-0) Classical Mechanics}

Kinematics and dynamics of classical systems. Topics will be chosen from among kinematics, dynamics, oscillations, gravitation, Lagrangian and Hamiltonian dynamics, non-inertial reference frames, rigid bodies, coupled oscillations, and special relativity. Periodically. Prerequisites: PHYS 1401 and MATH 1406.

\section*{PHYS 3303 (3-3-0) Modern Physics}

Emphasis is placed on the social aspects of dying and the different settings in which deaths occur in relationship to Christian ministry. Spring. Prerequisite: SOCI 1301 or PSYC 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4301 (3-3-0) Multicultural Perspectives}

\section*{(PSYC 4301)}

A social, historic, and demographic analysis of ethnic groups. The study is designed to examine the complex patterns of each group as they respond to contemporary issues and to the dilemmas which are common to man. Conservative and liberal views are contrasted within a biblical framework. Fall, Spring, Online. Prerequisite: SOCI 1301 or PSYC 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4302 (3-3-0) Sociological Theory}

A critical survey of the foremost paradigms in contemporary sociological theory. The course emphasizes the historical intellectual location of major theoretical traditions, especially the works of Durkheim, Marx, and Weber. Contemporary schools of thought include functionalism, conflict, and rational choice theories, symbolic interactionism and dramaturgical analysis, phenomenology and ethnomethodology, structuralism, feminist theories, and postmodernism. For each, special attention is given to how to evaluate theories and how theoretical paradigms are linked to empirical research within the frame of a Christian worldview. Spring, Online. Prerequisites: Six hours sociology, including SOCI 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4303 (3-3-0) Social Psychology}
(PSYC 4330)
An analysis of behavior of individuals in group processes with special attention to the sociocultural context of behavior. Spring, Online. Prerequisite: SOCI 1301 or PSYC 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4304 (3-3-0) Social Change}

An analysis of viewpoints concerning social change, including the study of collective behavior and social movements as they reflect the changing structure and function of society. Periodically. Prerequisite: SOCI 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4305 (3-3-0) Sociology of Religion}

Religions exist within societies and among social groups. This course will study the social aspects of religion and the way religion influences and is influenced by society and culture. Periodically. Prerequisite: SOCI 1301.

\section*{SOCI 4307 (3-3-0) Criminology}

\section*{(CRJS 4307)}
